Biographical Sketch

Sumner Thurman Bernstein (1924 - 2002) grew up in Portland, Maine. His parents were both lawyers. Bernstein served in the South Pacific with the Army of the United States during World War II (achieving the rank of Captain) and attended Harvard University for his undergraduate education and for law school. In 1949, he married Rosalyne Spindel, then a student at Radcliffe College, and returned to Portland to join his father and uncle's law practice, Bernstein and Bernstein. Sumner helped this practice grow and expand into Bernstein, Shur, Sawyer and Nelson in 1964. Bernstein continued his law practice at this firm for over fifty years, until his final illness in 2002.

Bernstein was very engaged in service to his community in Portland, in addition to his professional engagements. He participated in a range of civic and Jewish community organizations, often serving as president or chair of these groups for a portion of his tenure. The organizations he was involved with include: Portland City Council; Portland School Committee; Portland Housing Authority; Downtown Portland Corporation; Maine State Bar Association; Maine Bar Foundation; Jewish Federation of Southern Maine; Temple Beth El; Maine Jewish Council; Jewish Community Center; National Council of the American-Israel Public Affairs Committee; Pine Tree Council of the Boy Scouts of America; Portland YMCA; Maine Medical Center; Portland Public Library; and World Affairs Council of Maine. Bernstein also served as an adjunct professor at the University of Maine School of Law from 1993-98, was a member of their Board of Visitors, and served as an instructor at the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute of the University of Southern Maine.

After his death, Bernstein's professional and civic legacy was honored by the creation of a Professorship of Law at the University of Maine School of Law, and the Sumner Bernstein Forum for International Understanding, an annual forum conducted by the World Affairs Council of Maine.

Description of the Papers

The Papers document Bernstein's civic work and personal life. They include correspondence, newspaper clippings, and text of his speeches and talks. Of particular interest are 25 folders of family correspondence dating from 1940 to 1945, which include letters covering Bernstein's military training and World War II service. Other records and reminiscences of his army service and Harvard education are present, as well. Newspaper clippings extensively document Bernstein's work with the Portland City Council in the late 1950's and early 1960's. The Papers also include materials related to his final illness and death, including letters of sympathy and condolence, information about contributions made in his honor, obituaries, eulogies, and other tributes, and videos/cassettes of memorial services and other celebrations of his life. The Papers include two albums – one documenting the 85-year history of Bernstein, Shur, Sawyer, and Nelson and the other a collection of notes and photos compiled for The Jewish Community Alliance of Southern Maine's Evening to Honor Sumner and Rosalyne Bernstein.

The Papers are organized into four series:

Series 1. Professional and Community Life

This series is divided into the sub-series of Bernstein, Shur, Sawyer and Nelson, Speeches and Writings, and Organizational Involvement and Honors. It contains business cards, announcements, and other materials related to Bernstein's law practice, as well as professional correspondence and written speeches and remarks made for a variety of professional and community organizations, including an article for the Portland Press Herald on Public Policy and the Middle East (Folder 12). This series also contains newspaper clippings regarding Bernstein's public service with the City Council and other organizations, and various awards and recognition of service. Sub-series 1.3 is arranged roughly chronologically.

Series 2. World War II

This series is divided into the sub-series of Correspondence and Documents. It consists predominantly of Bernstein's regular correspondence with family members during his service in the war. It also contains official military correspondence and documentation, a photograph of Bernstein in New Hebrides, and Bernstein's own written reminiscence of his time in service.

Series 3. Personal

This series contains materials related to Bernstein's education, family and general correspondence, and personal business documents. This series also contains correspondence with friends and colleagues during Bernstein's final illness.

Series 4. Posthumous

This series contains an obituary written by Bernstein's wife (Rosalyne), and other obituaries and eulogies by family and colleagues. Folder 71 contains a guest book from Bernstein's funeral home. Folder 72 contains an audio recording of Bernstein's funeral. This series also contains official memorials from the Maine State Legislature and the Portland City Council, as well as several memorial publications. Folders 81-92 contain cards and letters expressing condolence and detailing memorial contributions made in honor of Bernstein.

Series 5. Restricted

This series consists of materials restricted from public access to guard the privacy of individuals. Listed within their regular series, they are included here to give their physical location. Materials include lists of organization members with addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses; correspondence with email addresses; and personal and contact information of extended family members.
