History of EqualityMaine (formerly Maine Lesbian/Gay Political Alliance)

EqualityMaine (EQME), founded as the Maine Lesbian/Gay Political Alliance (MLGPA), began in 1984 as a statewide organization dedicated to Maine's lesbian and gay community, focusing on advocacy, education, and lobbying efforts. (The organization officially changed its name in 2004). The tragic attack and murder of Charlie Howard in July 1984 served as the primary motivating incident for the formation of this organization in Maine. This young Bangor man was killed because he was gay, and MLGPA's founders hoped to prevent similar incidents from happening in Maine in the future. In addition, Dale McCormick returned from representing Maine at the 1984 Democratic National Convention eager to work with other openly gay Mainers to strengthen the political power of the lesbian and gay community.

The organization began with a mere $147.<sup>1</sup> Still, the organizers developed an ambitious original mission statement: "The Alliance is organized as a statewide, non-partisan organization and shall be conducted for the purpose of educating the general public, politicians, and the media concerning lesbian and gay issues, involving the lesbian and gay community in Maine's political process, promoting civil rights in Maine, developing and reviewing legislation, endorsing candidates, building coalitions and networking with state and national human rights organizations."

In order to better understand the challenges and discrimination faced by the LGBT population in the state, in 1984-85 MLGPA conducted a "Discrimination and Violence Survey of Gay People in Maine." This survey (the results of which are in Box 14 Folder 247) provided disturbing statistics documenting the need for non-discrimination protections in Maine. "Sixty-seven percent of respondents said they had concealed their sexual orientation in order to avoid discrimination on the job; almost 30 percent had been fired or denied promotions because their bosses learned they were gay. Almost one-quarter of respondents had been denied service in a hotel or restaurant, and 54 percent had been victims of violence motivated by their sexual orientation.”<sup>2</sup> MLGPA began to work towards the enactment of legislation that would protect Mainers from these types of discrimination based on sexual orientation and to make attacks on LGBT people qualify as hate crimes. Working with partner organizations, volunteers, and legislators, MLGPA helped to achieve this second goal in 1993 with an amendment to the Maine Civil Rights Act.

Enacting a non-discrimination law took even longer. After numerous earlier attempts (during the lifetime of MLGPA, bills were proposed and rejected in 1985, 1987, 1989, and 1991), this bill passed the legislature in 1993, but Governor John R. McKernan, Jr. vetoed it. It passed the legislature again and Governor Angus King signed it into law in 1997 and 2000 respectively, but each time a citizens’ referendum narrowly overturned the law. Finally, in 2005, the bill passed the legislature, Governor John Baldacci signed it into law, and Maine voters sustained the law with a 55% majority in a referendum. Thus, more than two decades after the foundation of MLGPA, Maine officially began to protect its LGBT citizens from discrimination in employment, credit, housing, public accommodations, and education. It was the last New England state to do so. (Note: The EqualityMaine Archives currently contains limited materials related to the later bills, as the bulk of the materials represent the period of 1984-1997). The appendix to this Finding Aid offers a list of the key legislative efforts with which EQME/MLGPA involved itself.

The work organized and conducted by EQME/MLGPA around these legislative issues ranged from assembling testifiers for public hearings to communicating with elected officials and the press, hosting fundraising events, polling and conducting other relevant research, coordinating coalitions of supporters, reaching out to voters, and training volunteers in appropriate advocacy methods and behaviors, among many other tasks. Rarely did EQME/MLGPA work in vacuum; generally the organization collaborated with a wide range of like-minded groups and individuals, both within and outside of Maine. Often they were the organization that took the lead, but for some major battles they were one part of a larger coalition formed exclusively to fight for/against a particular bill or referendum. The primary example of this latter arrangement occurred during the 1994-95 fight against Question 1, a referendum that would have limited the protected classes in Maine’s Human Rights Act to those already included, precluding the addition of sexual orientation (and any other new category) to the Act, and making illegal any local ordinances that already included protections based on sexual orientation. During this period, MLGPA was closely associated with Maine Won’t Discriminate, the organization formed specifically to encourage Maine voters to vote no on Question 1.

In addition to its legislative efforts, EQME/MLGPA also participated in the electoral process. Often in conjunction with its participation in the Dirigo Alliance – a coalition of organizations working to advance a progressive issue agenda in Maine through organizing coalitions, developing grassroots leadership, and articulating a public policy message – MLGPA surveyed candidates for local, state, and national government offices and endorsed those it felt would be most supportive of issues important to the organization. On multiple occasions, MLGPA organized forums at which candidates for office presented their views to the public and answered questions about issues of equality and discrimination.

EQME/MLGPA also organized numerous fundraising events throughout its history, the most important being the Annual Awards Banquet, held each year from 1985 to the present. This event not only generated income for the organization, but also provided an opportunity for members and other invested individuals to gather each year, celebrate recent accomplishments, and honor the contributions of individuals and partner organizations through a series of annual awards. EQME/MLGPA printed a program for each of these events, with advertisements from supportive organizations and businesses, and these programs serve as useful documents of annual activities, in many instances including timelines and lists of Board members. (See Box 14 Folders 258-261 and Box 15 Folders 262-263 for programs from 1991-2002 and 2004-09).

Description of the Archives

The EqualityMaine Archives consists of materials that document the existence of EQME/MLGPA from 1984-2009, with the bulk of the materials representing 1984-1997. Because the contents came from several different sources, not only EQME, original order could not be determined, so the collection has been organized around three major series:

Administrative files
 Activities and programs
 Resource materials

Series 1. Administrative Files

The materials in this series include documents that describe the organization, evolution, and basic functions of EQME/MLGPA.

These files are divided into subseries for “Organizational History” (1.1), “Board and Committees” (1.2), “Finances” (1.3), “Correspondence” (1.4), and “General Materials” (1.5).

“Organizational History” includes information about the founding and development of the organization, such as by-laws, chronologies, policies and procedures, lists of Steering Committee/Board of Directors’ members, fundraising materials, and employment and tax issues. “Board and Committees” includes meeting announcements, agendas, notes, and minutes, arranged chronologically within categories (such as Board, Executive Committee, and Annual Meetings). Some general notes also reside here.

“Finances” contains Treasurer’s Reports. This subseries also includes the financial records of the organization, arranged chronologically and broken down into categories such as bank statements and cancelled checks; receipts, bills, and reimbursements; deposits; and ledgers. Financial records related to other affiliated organizations – particularly Pinetree Political Action Committee (PAC), Maine Diversity Alliance, and Yes on 6 Campaign (2000) – are present as well. “Correspondence” consists of correspondence to/from Board members, correspondence with members/requests for contributions, newsletters, and general correspondence not identified with a specific activity. “General Materials” includes form templates and equipment manuals.

Series 2. Activities and Programs

This series contains materials that document the organization’s major initiatives/efforts, in keeping with its mission to serve the LGBT community in Maine.

Subseries within this series include “Legislation” (2.1), “Elections” (2.2), “Research” (2.3), “Discrimination Documentation” (2.4), “Events” (2.5), and “Other Activities/Projects” (2.6).

“Legislation” includes a wide range of materials – such as background information about various bills; internal correspondence, strategy documents, and notes; documentation of testimony before the legislature and lists of supporters; press clippings; voting records; research and polling; and materials from the opposition, among other items – related to the legislative efforts of EQME/MLGPA. These materials are organized chronologically by legislative effort/bill, with further breakdown by type of material as needed. “Elections” contains candidate questionnaires; information about endorsements, candidate forums, and election results; flyers; and press clippings. Arrangement of these materials is chronological with categories within each year as needed. “Research” consists of surveys of the LGBT community conducted by EQME/MLGPA. “Discrimination Documentation” includes documentation of discrimination/hate crimes perpetrated against members of the LGBT community, particularly in Maine. “Events” consists of information about the organization’s annual awards banquet, as well as other events coordinated by EQME/MLGPA. “Other Activities/Projects” contains materials related to special projects planned and/or implemented by the organization.

Series 3. Resource Materials

The materials in this series contains brochures, reports, and other materials collected from a variety of public, private, and non-profit agencies whose aims and orientations corresponded with or opposed those of EQME/MLGPA.

Subseries within Resource Materials include “Maine” (3.1) and “Non-Maine” (3.2) based on each organization’s primary place of activity or the subject of the materials. Within each subseries, the arrangement of the materials is alphabetical by the name of the organization, with general materials at the end.

Series 4. Restricted

This series consists of materials restricted from public access to guard the privacy of individuals. Listed within their regular series, they are included here to give their physical location. Materials include individual survey responses; lists of members, volunteers, donors, and other individuals with addresses, phone numbers, contribution amounts, and/or credit card or bank account information; personal information about employees; and some private correspondence.

Series 5. Oversize

This series contains materials too large or bulky to fit into regular boxes. Listed within their regular series, they are included here to give their physical location. Items include ephemera such as banners and posters, a trophy, rubber stamps, stickers, and a t-shirt. This series also includes a collection of 14 exhibition panels from the Twenty-fifth Anniversary Awards Banquet (2009), which document the history of the organization through an extensive timeline, as well as lists of Board members and Award recipients.

  - Added sexual orientation to list of groups protected from hate crimes (violence or threat of violence).

- 1993 lawsuit against the wording of a citizen-initiated referendum “An Act to Limit Classes Under the Maine Human Rights Act”
  - Maine Concerned Families put forth a ballot initiative that would have restricted the protected classes under Maine’s Human Rights Act to those already included.
  - Maine Civil Liberties Union (MCLU) and Gay & Lesbian Advocates & Defenders (GLAD) helped to file a suit arguing that the Secretary of State should not have validated the ballot initiative because of its misleading language.
  - Judge upheld the wording of the ballot initiative, ruling that the intention of the proposed law was a referendum on allowing/forbidding discrimination based on sexual orientation, but that the question did not need to reflect that fact and the Secretary of State could not describe the intent and effect in the ballot question. The decision did require a change in the title because the results would have affected laws beyond the Human Rights Act.
- L.R. 1456 – 1995 – An Act to Prevent Discrimination/Civil Rights Bill (Dale McCormick version)
  - Tabled in spring 1995 because of conflicts with referendum battle (would have been confusing to have multiple debates happening simultaneously, especially when the outcome of the referendum might affect the legality of the bill).
  - Put forward again in late 1995, but withdrawn (intention to wait until new legislature is in place). This was on the table at the same time as Senator Georgette Berube’s bill (see next).
  - Final Disposition: UNANIMOUS ONTP BY COMMITTEE, Feb 15, 1996
  - This bill was not actually a favorable one for the LGBT community. It offered very limited changes to the Human Rights Act regarding sexual orientation. Status, not behavior, would have served as the basis for protection (i.e. it would not have protected a practicing homosexual). The bill would have banned gay marriage, let employers refuse to offer domestic partnership benefits, and reinforced the myth of gay people as child molesters by exempting non-profit organizations working with youth under the age of 18.
- L.D. 310 – 1995 – An Act to Limit Protected Classes Under Maine Law
  - Final Disposition: UNANIMOUS ONTP BY COMMITTEE, May 25, 1995
  - Note: Maybe this means that they voted not to pass it without sending it out to referendum? This is the bill that became Question 1.
- Question 1 (No on 1: Maine Won’t Discriminate Campaign) – 1994-95
  - Question 1 read: “Do you favor the changes in Maine law limiting protected classifications, in future state and local laws to race, color, sex, physical or mental disability, religion, age, ancestry, national origin, familial status, and marital status, and repealing existing laws which expand these classifications as proposed by citizen petition?”
  - The voters succeeded in voting the down the referendum (53.32% to 46.68%) in November 1995.
  - If passed, it would have limited those classes protected by the Maine Human Rights Bill to those already included, thus excluding the possibility of adding sexual orientation – or other new categories – to the list and overturning existing

EqualityMaine Archives,

- local protections, like those in Portland, among other consequences.
- Decline to Sign – 1996 – Campaign in response to Concerned Maine Families’ petition drive for An Act to Protect Traditional Marriage and Prohibit Same-Sex Marriages – 1996.
    - The petition drive was eventually successful (see next).
  - L.D. 1017 – 1997 – An Act to Protect Traditional Marriage and Prohibit Same Sex Marriages
    - Final Disposition: ENACTED, Mar 26, 1997; Governor's Action: Unsigned, Mar 28, 1997
    - The Act became law without the Governor’s signature because he did not support it, but felt it was necessary to avoid another referendum battle. Governor King thought that the courts would ultimately strike down the law.
  - L.D. 1116 – 1997 – An Act to Prevent Discrimination
    - Final Disposition: ENACTED, May 9, 1997; Governor's Action: Signed, May 16, 1997
    - Overturned via special referendum in February 1998 (51.29% voted to overturn versus 48.71% to sustain).
    - Referendum question read: “Do you want to reject the law passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor that would ban discrimination based on sexual orientation with respect to jobs, housing, public accommodations and credit?”
  - L.D. 2239 – 2000 – An Act to Ensure Civil Rights and Prevent Discrimination
    - Final Disposition: ENACTED, Apr 6, 2000; Governor’s Action: Signed, Apr 7, 2000
    - Overturned via referendum in November 2000 (50.38% voted to overturn versus 49.62% to sustain).
    - Question 6 read: “Do you favor ratifying the action of the 119th Legislature whereby it passed an act extending to all citizens regardless of their sexual orientation the same basic rights to protection against discrimination now guaranteed to citizens on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin in the areas of employment, housing, public accommodation and credit and where the act expressly states that nothing in the act confers legislative approval of, or special rights to, any person or group of persons?”
  - L.D. 1196 – 2005 – An Act To Extend Civil Rights Protections to All People Regardless of Sexual Orientation
    - Final Disposition: ENACTED, Mar 30, 2005; Governor's Action: Signed, Mar 31, 2005
    - Sustained via referendum in November 2005 (55.1% to 44.9% in favor of law).
    - Question 1 read: “Do you want to reject the new law that would protect people from discrimination in employment, housing, education, public accommodations and credit based on their sexual orientation?”
