Historical Note

Michael Rossetti is the founder of Southern Maine Pride. He began Southern Maine Pride in 1987 as a reaction to the death of Charlie Howard who was the victim of a hate crime in Bangor, Maine in 1984 and the gay community's response to how Charlie's death was dealt with by local law enforcement. The 1987 Portland Pride march took place starting in Congress Square and went through Congress Street in Portland with a group of 200 people, straight and gay, displaying signs and banners. The focus of the first Pride march was to be a visible community in Portland. "Portland Pride" was the chosen designation in 1987 and changed to Southern Maine Pride in 1995. Rossetti was Southern Maine Pride's Director until 1999 when he chose to officially step down, although was involved in the 2000 Southern Maine Pride. Michael Rossetti received several awards during his career as Southern Maine Pride's Director including an award from the Maine Lesbian and Gay Political Alliance (now EqualityMaine) in 1987. Casco Bay Weekly interviewed the gay public in Portland who nominated individuals as the most influential in their community and in 1997 listed Michael Rossetti as one of those notables. Michael also received the Great Pioneer Award from the MLGPA in 2001 and was the Grandmaster at the 2006 Southern Maine Pride.

Description of the Collection

The collection contains materials related to Michael Rossetti's involvement with Southern Maine Pride (SoME Pride) as founder and director until roughly 2000. The collection is comprised of Michael's personal papers and collection of Southern Maine Pride papers and includes a personal history timeline titled "Lessons in Pride" and administration paperwork such as to-do lists, workbooks and email correspondence. Also included are materials put out by Southern Maine Pride such as flyers and newsletters and materials about Southern Maine Pride from the Portland Press Herald. This collection has a significant amount of objects including buttons, flags, banners, photos, posters and t-shirts from Southern Maine Pride and Michael Rossetti's personal collection of gay memorabilia.

This collection has been divided into 7 series and the groupings are as follows:

- Series 1. Administration of Southern Maine Pride (Administration)
- Series 2. Advertisements
- Series 3. Entertainment
- Series 4. Articles/Periodicals
- Series 5. Personal
- Series 6. Memorabilia
- Series 7. Oversize

Series 1. Administration of Southern Maine Pride (Administration) 1986-2001
This series contains information about the original organization of Southern Maine Pride and includes to-do lists, budget and financial paperwork, receipts from SoME Pride, legal documents, sponsor letters, guidebooks and a personal history from Michael Rossetti titled "Lessons in Pride".

Series 2. Advertisements 1987-2000
This series contains advertisements promoted by Southern Maine Pride and include taped together flyers (originals), artwork for SoME Pride, affiliation media and SoME Pride newsletters.

Series 3. Entertainment 1989-2000
This series contains folders of entertainers who either performed at Southern Maine Pride or were being considered for entertainment. There are 16 entertainer folders alphabetized by first names/group names with a collection of articles, photos and works by or about the entertainers and an additional folder with mixed artists.

Series 4. Articles and Periodicals 1984-2001
This series contains articles from the Portland Press Herald about Southern Maine Pride and individuals involved in Southern Maine Pride, a few articles from other papers and periodicals from and about the gay community that included the Community Pride Reporter, Our Paper, APEX and 10% that were removed from this collection for consolidation into the periodical collection. Periodicals that stayed in this collection include copies of Casco Bay Weekly, Our Paper, Gay Community News, March Weekly, Community Pride Reporter, The Maine Progressive, The Gay Agenda, Roar of Pride and several Pride Guides and a 1987 magazine issue of The Advocate.

Series 5. Personal 1990-2001
This series contains emails to and from Michael Rossetti regarding some personal matters and also some legal matters related to Southern Maine Pride as well as personal receipts, copies of checks, bills and statements that were Michael Rossetti's out of pocket expenses for SoME Pride primarily in 1999 and 2000.

Series 6. Memorabilia 1987-2000

This series contains objects from Southern Maine Pride and include a collection of buttons from Southern Maine Pride, other Prides and LGBT functions, foldered in the order originally received by Michael Rossetti. A photo album, 51 slides, several Southern Maine Pride t-shirts and other LGBT group t-shirts, hats and 2 flags as well as street flyers can be found in this series. Periodicals from a variety of gay news prints as well as articles about gay issues in non-gay prints and posters relating to gay issues, pride, legislature and Southern Maine Pride are also found in the oversize collection location. For a listing of the t-shirts, posters and buttons please see the finding aid appendix.

Series 7. Oversize 1984-2001

This series is comprised of 39 poster board posters, periodicals, magazines and guidebooks from Southern Maine Pride, other LGBT Prides, the gay news community and the Maine community.
