Historical Note

GAYLA is a gay men's conference who gather annually in Saco, ME at Ferry Beach. The conference began with Bob Wheatley from the Boston Unitarian Universalist Office of Gay and Lesbian Concerns, agreeing to organize this gathering. The idea for this type of conference was approached by the Ferry Beach Park Association "in response to the emphasis in the UU Association of advocating and affirming the inherent dignity and worth of all" (A Short History of GAYLA, GAYLA Archives). The original conference included gay men and lesbians and was referred to as GALA (Gays and Lesbians Affirmed). The first conference GALA was held in 1979 and gained support and new members every year. The lesbian conference attendees of GALA branched off in 1983 and left the creation of GAYLA. What started as a 12-man group in 1979 soon grew to 150+ conference group in 1990 and continues to grow each year. The men who make up GAYLA come from all regions of the United States and are of varying ages. The annual GAYLA conference hosts a variety of "traditions" to encourage the community of this group of men that include: daily Universalist Unitarian services, check-in-circles, social and intimate gatherings, picnics, grieving circles, dances, talent shows and workshops or tracks and 12-step meetings just to name a few. The members of GAYLA come from a range of backgrounds including teachers and professors, AIDS Advocates, therapists, librarians, social workers and even singers. These diverse groups of men who make up GAYLA continue to grow and multiply each year and still call Ferry Beach home for a short time every summer to host their annual GAYLA Conference.
