LOBSTER QUADRILLE: 4 hours of productions. Tuesday 6:00 - 9:00 P.M.

WMFG's popular magazine format continues. From 6 to 7 P.M., "Performance Art On the Air" brings you samples of the dynamic art sound coming out of the Bay Area and The Big Apple. This year's weekly magazine also presents the inimitable Steve Hirshon interviewing fascinating personalities from our time and place, and Lee Caron hosting a new feature called "The Arts in Our Lives." This program parallels the University of Southern Maine convocation theme for this year, and will focus on the various speakers and activities of this year's convocation. You'll also hear special reports on timely issues such as the crisis in South Africa, gay/lesbian culture, and refugee problems. And...reviews, humor, and live music from the WMFG studio. At 9 P.M. we bring you an hour of intercultural programming on "Unity and Diversity" with host Frances Langford. Featured are music from around the world and interviews with people of various backgrounds currently residing in our community.

WMFG NEWS HOUR
Weekdays 11:00 A.M. - Noon

WMFG has assembled a line-up of indepth news features which will air from 11 to 11:30, followed by local and national news.
