1st July, 1947.

Dear Mr. Mayor,

I am sending you, with my sincere compliments, a Pictorial Map of London which has recently been prepared by the British Travel Association. This body is the organisation officially appointed to carry out the projection of Britain in overseas countries.

I am sure you will agree that this Map is a beautiful work, and I venture to express the hope that the gift will be welcomed by you, if only as a token of good-will from the City of London, England, over whose destinies I have the great honour to preside.

With the Map I also send you my hearty greetings, and an expression of good wishes to you personally, and to all the members of your important Community.

Yours sincerely,

Bracedell Smith

Lord Mayor of the City of London, England.
