SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT

------- by Dick Webber

Have any of you tripped over the the surveyor's chair today? What are those fellows doing out in the cold with that tripod yelling numbers back and forth to each other?

Well, it seems that U.M.P. is going to get a face lifting.
In the future new buildings are going to arise from the mager surroundings of the present campus.
U.M.P. in the not to distant future will be a very majestic campus and may even replace the U of M in Orono as the pride and joy of the state.

As of the moment what is going to happen here seems to be a deep dark secret. Everyone seems to have a different idea as to when and where the first building will be erected, how many will be built, and how long the entire project will take. It seems likely that the first building will have laboratories as that has been talked about since the school year started.

I think that what is going to be done here in the future has a great deal to do with the record that we set here in the next few years, and with the tremendous backing of President Hawk this campus will be as beautiful as any in the state.

It seems only logical that we will have a new Library, Gym, Cafeteria, classrooms and administration facilities.

In our next issue we will have in detail ( with a map ) all the proposed aspects of the development

When, where, and how long it takes will take to complete will be presented at that time. So keep your eyes open for the next issue and if you don't think that we are getting enough facilities here lets sound off and make sure that we do. It is our college so lets take an interest.

Allen Levinsky an amateur author is the proud father of a 30 page novellette. Allen wrote the story while he was in the air force in Japan.

The novellette is expected to run for the rest of the school year in several installments.

The setting for the story is elaborated in Hong Kong, China where Allen spent many of his leaves.
He has a talent for description and portrayal of action. Of course the sex element is not left out either.

Readers should find this novel-lette very interesting and we hope you will read every issue, in the NEWSANCE, beginning this week.

FRAMES ----

------- by Gene Bennett

Have you noticed that Loyld Mombouquet is always on the go?

Have you also noticed: The variety of style and color of the shoes which grace our student's feet?

That teacher's are poor dressers?

That classroom heat stimulates sleep?

The Little Italy in psych class Cavellerro, Napolitano, Romano, and Dephilliaco. Too white boy?

That Mr. McCormick has a tremendous faculty for names and faces.

That the Forest Gardens are still open?

Overheard but unimaginable-
"Mr. Jiff was at a loss for words" Just unimaginable--Mr Jaques giving "A" ranks.

What I can't imagine is the desire by some persons of obtaining a juke-box for the cafeteria. Are t those persons normal? Maybe 10 minute dances between classes would be fun, and maybe Tom Vassar and Ron Hamilton would make a cute couple, but the price of a juke-box for such treasured ideas is quite steep. If all juke-box devoeess want music; radios are available to the public now at reasonable, and Portland has music on its radio stations too.

This is one men's opinion on the subject of musical study habits.
I hadn't had any jobs for about a week and was getting tired of sitting around bars all of the time. This particular time was no exception. The bar, "Five Stars", was a typical Japanese bar designed to suit the various purposes of the G.I.'s of a nearby base. It was located in the dirty Japanese town of Yachikawa which was about twenty-five miles from where my place of business was situated at a small air port on the outskirts of Tokyo. This bar wasn't too far away and was fairly quiet most of the time, so consequently I spend a lot of time there.

I run a charter flying service and sometimes business isn't too hot. The only thing to do around here for someone of limited means is to drink, so when I'm not out on a job you can find me at the "Five Stars" nursing a bottle of Nippon beer.

The place was packed this particular night with the annual picnics of the N.C.C. and quite a few of Uncle Sam's sons trying to get rid of their payday treasures.

Suddenly, someone tapped me on my shoulder, waking me from my Nippon dream. When I turned around I almost flipped my proverbial bonnet. She was something you don't see around this part of the world very often. About five feet six, long, silky brown hair that fell below her shoulders, and piercing black eyes. It was hard to tell from what ancestry she was derived as I am both Oriental and American, I couldn't figure out which part of her to look at the most. She was "ichiban" all over. Ichiban is Japanese for number one. To make my figuring more complicated, she was wearing a baby blue sweater which was as tight on her as the failed old mixer Scrooge was with his money.

She must have been conjured up by some angelic, because I hadn't noticed her in the joint during the night. How I ever missed noticing her I'll never know. When my eyes finally receded back into their respective places of rest I was amazed that the only thing my swirling brain could produce under the circumstances.

"Well, hellllllo!"

"Hi, my name is Johnnny Mann, ex-Air Force officer, now president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and only pilot of the Mann Flying Service. I usually get flying jobs pretty regularly, but sometimes people just don't want to get in a plane or ship anything. My usual route is between Tokyo and Hong Kong. I don't stay in Hong Kong more than a day of two so I don't know too many of the joints there. That probably explains why I've never seen you before. The reason why I'm in Japan and not in the states is because I was discharged here and decided I didn't want to go back to the states yet."

SPORTS AT A GLANCE

THE FRESHMAN VIEWS

The Wrestling team will meet Thursday with Mr. Ballou to determine whether there are any logical contenders for Garnett Colpitts, who claims the school championship.

Bucky Palmer, a well-known student around the campus has taken command of this year's ski team. He is having an "uphill" drive for membership.

Coach Ballou has expressed a desire for both intramural basketball and volleyball leagues during the winter months.

Dave Powell of Norwalk, Conn., a member of the varsity basketball team has presented a few comments on hoop news to date: "Coach Ballou has set up an effective two-platoon system to replace a starting five situation. The..." cont. on page 4

Pete Panagakos, a well-known student around the school, is attempting to install a juke box in the cafeteria. In this project he has the backing of Mr. Jacques, who claims the school and Tom Vassar (who is representing him on the student council).

Dean Bonny will also lend his support providing it is proven that the music will not make it too much noise for the students who are studying.

An unofficial poll has shown that 90% of the students approve of the idea. The Seabur Company will install it and change the records every other week.

The problem still remains as we said before of discovering whether or not it will disturb the students in the cafeteria. If proven that it won't the school will have a juke box.

We wish to take a poll. Every student will pass a slip of paper into the office by Friday saying whether or not he approves the plan.

Outing Club:
The second outing club trip of the current year over the holiday weekend. This time the men took off for the wild North woods of Kingfield, Maine.

If they didn't come back with a door they were going to raid the turkey farm located in Highfield.

What did you do boys?

Sports at a Chance

The only sad note is the fact that the team has been plagued by injuries to key players. Out with broken fingers suffered in various contests are Dave Griggs and co-captain Ray McElroy while Johnny Kregdon has wrung his ankle. We hope these boys will be back in action before very long."

In a recent scrimmage with the Coast Guard Base in South Portland our team emerged victorious. Everyone played well and the score of 78-62 indicates the overwhelming team play by the Baldou boys.
