

We Exist Series 4:
African Americans, Maine, and Leisure Activities

Mrs. Emma Jackson

Interviewer: Maureen Elgersman Lee

“Because it wasn't ever in the - the -- the, ah, club scenes, or any scenes like that. Actually, we live, ah, a really sheltered life. We went to church. We were involved. But the church was our main focus and our main goal. And I -- and -- and our lives were wrapped -- revolved around that. So that might be -- which would be a reason why we didn't--”

Mrs. Emma Jackson (age 62; born 1941 in Atlanta Georgia; lived in Maine for 46 years; has three children)

Keywords: children's experiences, Black Families, Maine

Full Length Interview: https://digitalcommons.usm.maine.edu/aa_hiwimi/9/