Dear Professor Giguere:

The intermediate degree mentioned in Columbia Reports has not yet been approved by the New York State Education Department; we expect that approval by the end of this academic year.

At that time we will set up procedures by which those former students who had completed all the requirements for the Ph.D., except the preparation and defense of a dissertation, might apply for the new degree (to be called Master of Philosophy). When these procedures are worked out, Dean Mintz will notify you and advise you how to apply for the degree.

Sincerely yours,
