A Message From Our President

As President of the Macabee Club it is my pleasant obligation to welcome you to our second annual formal — “Basin Street”.

This year the Club faced a strange problem, not the lack of workers, for every one plugged, not the lack of ideas, for every one contributed. No, our problem is that which faces all organizations of society: it is the shackles of conformity.

The members wanted to sponsor a holiday that would literally go down in Macabee history, a weekend that would have that special something that makes one remember and smile.

What is this special something? Perhaps it is the change of the setting, the warmth of the fireplaces, or the intimacy of the atmosphere. I believe that we have solved this problem, for the finery and fancy of gaudy display can only hinder, while the simplicity and warmth of gracious surroundings fulfill all desires. With this in mind, I once again express thanks for your attendance and hope that you feel we have broken the shackles.

LARRY SHAPIRO, President
