Friday, September 17, the UHP campus social life will be enhanced by the appearance of the singing, swinging G-Clefs. This sensational group will perform at a dance sponsored by the Sophomore class from 8-12 in the UHP gym.

The G-Clefs are a group of seven young men, Ray, Arnold, Teddy, Tim, Chris, Ronnie and Dick who have entertained countless numbers with their original interpretations of rhythm and blues, standards and folk tunes, combined with dynamic dance craze exhibitions and "show stopping" choreography. They have appeared on Maine college campuses, including Colby and Bowdoin, as well as the Yale, Dartmouth, Syracuse and Boston University Campuses.

In addition to their numerous college appearances, the G-Clefs have also performed on Dick Clark's American Bandstand, at the Peppermint Lounge in Boston, and at theaters in Toronto Canada.

For entertainment by a group that has campus appeal, be sure to attend the dance with the G-Clefs.

At 7:00 p.m. on Wed. the 22nd, AJS will hold its first meeting in rm. 100 of the Stu. U. Every woman student is invited to attend, and coffee and doughnuts will be served after the meeting.

A Credit For Enjoyment

Any of you interested in singing? The University is offering this year a one credit course Mc 01.02, University Singers, for all of you who have the inclination to sing. The time of this course will be arranged once everyone has signed up, so as to fit into the schedule of the majority of the group.

Marshall Bryant will be director of the singers. It is hoped that forty to fifty students will join. This will be UHP's first step towards an established Glee Club and will benefit the school as well as the student. So if you have a voice that will audition well (you have to audition before you can join) and would like to attend 2 rehearsals a week to pick up your credit, look into Mc 01.02 as soon as possible.

Meetings Coming Up

On Monday, Sept. 20, at 4 p.m. in East Hall there will be a Student Publications meeting for all staff members and for all those interested in joining the staff for this year. This meeting includes both yearbook and newspaper staff members and aspirants.

On Wed. Sept. 22 at 6:30 p.m. Circle K will hold its first meeting in the Student Union for all who are interested in joining.
