Nov. 4-1936

Dear Charlotte,

Frances Hawkins lent me this while I was in New York. Please read it and return it to me. There is information between the fun.

I do so want you to get rousingly well acquainted with the modern dance. It bites you at first. The way it bit you, I can see you're going to like it sooner or later.

John Martin was awfully pleased to have your stories. How about that idea of getting him to deliver one of his lectures in your town? Of getting up a Martha Graham concert? And later, following with the Humphrey-Weidman grand productions? Or in Portland?

How easy it is to be ambitious for other people. A writer cannot be expected to go in for promotion, I know. But through your own column you can do a lot.

Tell me about yourself - and send me some new clippings.

Margaret Lloyd

I saw the Symphonie Fantastique twice. (See Monitor Nov. 3) Had to rush to get it in. It would be worth your coming to Boston for, Nov. 28.

Also saw Ballet Caravan N.Y. debut. And found them more than I expected.

How do you like the election returns?

ML
