CONCERTS TO BE GIVEN THURSDAY & FRIDAY

The UMP Student Activities Board
will sponsor UMP's first public concert.
Friday, February 18, at 8:00 p.m. in IBB auditorium with Henri Honegger, the noted Swiss cellist. Admission charge is $2 per person.

A special concert will be given free of charge Thursday, February 17
at 4:00 p.m. for UMP faculty, staff
and students.

Claire Pallard will accompany Mr.
Honegger on the piano. The program will cover three periods of classical music -- Baroque, classical and Romantic.
The selections include Suite in A major
by Marin Marais, Beethoven's Sonata

No. 3 in C major, Shubert's Sonata in A minor, Five "Stucke in Volkston" by Schuman, Frank Martin's Ballade
and Romanian Dances by Bela Bartok.

MONDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES

The first in a series of art films
to be brought to UMP will be shown Monday, February 21, at 7:30 p.m.
The Bicycle Thief directed by Vittorio de Scia is considered a classic in neorealism and has been compared with those of Charles Chaplin.

The movie is scheduled for Luther Bonney auditorium for UMP students only. There is no admission charge.

THE UMPUS WOULD LIKE TO WELCOME KIE
JUNN HAHM FROM SEOUL KOREA, WHO IS NOW ENROLLED AT UMP.

WINTER CARNIVAL POST MORTEM

Some decrepit snow sculptures are all that's left to remind us of the 1966 Winter Carnival, one of the most successful in UMP's history. The school seems sort of empty and quiet without those Ice Age posters everywhere, and Student Senate members hawking tickets at every corner. So for those who were not influenced by the S.S. strong-arm methods and didn't make it, a brief wrap­ ap of the events.

Friday night's dance was one of the best of the year. Just a view of the band was well worth the price of admission. Valerie Davis was crowned Homenid Snow Bunny, and made about the best looking homoid seen lately around these parts. Two freshmen, Judy Bowen and Bob Hodges, won first prize for the best costumes.

In the Sat. morning basketball game,
the girls defeated the faculty, despite
Mr. Armentrout's unnecessary roughness, and Mr. Hall's tackles. The freshman class won the Snow Sculpture Contest with their artistically executed globe. The junior class was this year's recipient of honorable mention. The Fire Making Contest was won by the Outing Club and the class of 1968 won the Owls and Eagles plaque
for best over-all participation.

The UMP Viking basketball team traveled to Massachusetts and Vermont respectively. The team lost Friday night but rebounded (no pun intended) with a victory on Saturday night. The Vikings reached 100 points Saturday night. I understand the per game average is over 90 points, which is quite a few points to score in forty minutes. Since most college students read local newspapers, I won't bore you with repeated statistics. However, B. Francoeur pulled down 47 rebounds in these two games, which is a fantastic total in eighty minutes. And there were those people who said M. Wolford (no longer at UMP) would replace Francoeur! Scuttlebutt says that J. O'Connell and K. Weatherbie played well in both games. The loss on Friday night was attributed to poor shooting (around 30%). Overall, I would say it was a successful, initial road trip.

Commissioner Sullivan has conferred with me on the subject of the Intramural Basketball League. The deadline for team entries is Thursday Feb. 17. Play will continue for a forecasted ten teams until the middle of April. Last chance! Get those team rosters submitted!

Informative incidentals: Attend tonight's game, but don't revert to St. Francis' behavior. It does not "behoove" UMP students to regress. This is the worst of all worlds. The people who have tried out were enthusiastic about the plot as well as the characters.

MARINES TO VISIT UMF

Captain Randall W. Austin and Staff Sergeant James R. Cox of the U.S. Marine Corps will visit UMF on March 3 and 4.

Captain Austin and Sergeant Cox are members of the Officer Selection Office and will discuss any details about their programs.

S.S. TO DISCUSS CLUB FINANCES

The Student Senate is planning to call a meeting to discuss club and class finances. The presidents of the organizations concerned will receive an explanatory letter prior to the meeting.

CARNIVAL - Cont. from page 1, col. 2

The poor weather didn't stop anyone from having a great time Sunday, and lots of kids braved the storm to ski and toboggan. The more cowardly among us stayed in the lodge and ate, played cards, ate, read funny books, ate, and went home.

HEARTS AND FLOWERS AND VALENTINES

Thought you were pretty lucky 'cause you got a Valentine, huh? Some people did better than that.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the editor:

In my wanderings around this noble institute of higher learning I have noticed a definite lack of something - I think it can best be called tradition. We have no statue to throw old gum wrappers at for good luck before exams, no rock to sit on to feed the squirrels, nothing to throw old freshmen beanies at, or anything.

I think it would be a tremendous asset if we erected a scarecrow on the back forty. This could be for spring and fall when it's nice out. We could just sort of walk by and pull out a straw and take it to class to rub it. In the winter a giant icicle could hang from the overhang at the entrance to LBH.

It would only be a matter of time before we would be as steeped in tradition as West Point or Annapolis or any big university.

I recommend that a committee be formed to investigate this matter.

Yours truly,

Harold Soup
