The sophomore Owls and Eagles will be choosing Owls and Eagles for 1966-67. Applications can be picked up any time in Mr. Van Amburg's office and returned there by April 8. Candidates must have at least a 1.8 average.

Interviews will be here after vacation for all candidates. The new Owls and Eagles will be announced Maine Day, May 4.

PHYSICS PROFESSOR FROM MIT

Professor Dirk Bijl, Visiting Associate Professor of the Department of Physics at MIT, will visit UMP on March 17 and 18. Thursday at 8:00 p.m. he will deliver a public lecture on "Diamonds". On Friday at 4:00 p.m. he will give a more technical lecture on "Magnetic Resonance - A Modern Research Method". Both lectures will be illustrated with slides and will be held in Luther Bonney Auditorium.

OPERATION BULLETIN BOARD

At the suggestion of the Student Senate the bulletin board in Bonney lobby has been organized. Board I will hold personal notices, "attention students" messages, OED news and bulletins from the official channels of the university. Board II will hold club and athletic announcements, and news of general activities. Cards of the proper size will be provided in the Dean's office and the board will be updated twice a day. For more specific information on size of announcements etc., check the bulletin board - that's where all the news is.

POETRY READING

Bink Noll, the noted American poet, recently acclaimed "Professor of the year" at Beloit College, will give a public reading of his poetry in Bonney Hall Monday, March 21 at 4:00 pm.

Dr. Noll has been published in Atlantic Monthly, The Nation, and The Kenyan Review. A book of his collected poems The Center of the Circle has been recently published by Harcourt, Brace.
The Intramural League is slowly taking shape as to the various title contenders. The schedule was concocted in such a way that the closest competition will take place after spring vacation. This means that these first five weeks are to be used as a basis for drawing the teams together in expectation of close games in the last three weeks. Some students have already started picking their winners. Names such as Poor Ernie's, Eagles, Unquenchable-Humpies pop up.

Intramural Impressions: Keith Weatherbie has figured all the statistics of the League, and they are posted in the gymnasium. This is quite a job to do, especially on your own time. I wonder how many students who complain about a mistake here or there would be willing to do the work? ... No featured game this week as I can't foresee any fiercely contested games.

"Defensive Driving" was the subject of a program sponsored by the sophomore class Wednesday, March 9, in the Luther Bonney Auditorium. Guest speaker Peter A. McKenney, executive secretary of the Maine Highway Safety Committee, told students, with the help of films and recent statistics, that safe driving consists of more than blind obedience to traffic laws. Mr. McKenney hopes to create enough interest in the student body to start a driver improvement program. This program would be supervised by a trained instructor and would involve about 8 hours of class which would spread over a month's time. Anyone interested may obtain more information by contacting Chris Carland.

The Student Activities Board held a meeting on March 14 to discuss budget allotments for next year and the current set of dance rules. The Board agreed to purchase a block of tickets to the Portland Symphony, Community Concert Series, Portland Players and the Lyric Theater. These tickets will be available to the students to enable them to attend particular events without paying season tickets.

Regarding the dance rule changes proposed by the Senate, the following have so far been approved by the Activities Board for this semester only:

1. The Student Activities Board should prepare a Calendar of Events requiring chaperones by semester to aid in securing chaperones in advance. It is a recommendation that the Director of Activities keep a list of the faculty or staff who have not chaperoned at social events.

2. The sponsoring organization's advisor shall be responsible to help obtain chaperones.

3. Chaperones as representatives of the University may, in the present dance situation, reside in the Student Union and visit the dance periodically during the evening.

4. At least one (faculty or staff) representative of the University must be present at all campus social affairs as prescribed by the Student Activities Board.

5. Clubs sponsoring events requiring chaperones should obtain commitments well in advance of the event.

To the Editor:

When you return from your spring vacation on April 3rd, you will find your new University Stores awaiting your pleasure. Quickly you‘ll recognize, particularly if you’ve had the opportunity to compare, one of the finest University Stores in existence.

With this new facility you will also find changes which we hope will be for the better and to your liking. One of the major changes is a complete self-service function, which allows you to browse at your leisure or speedily make your purchase. You will also recognize price reductions which have been accomplished through a cooperative and coordinated buying program. Offerings will have increased well beyond your imagination with, alone, over 2400 different titles of quality paperbacks to choose from. As faculty help and assistance is extended, you will find that the paperback section, itself, supplements and compliments your course study. Also you will find a reference section which will contain book titles which are of a more technical and diversified nature.

Additional services will be an expansion of the used book buy and sell program, a new and complete periodical subscription service at student discounts, and complete special order facilities.

Y our University Stores is often only as good as you, the student, make it through utilization. Rest assured that the stores objective is only one of serving you to the very best of its ability. In attempting to let no stone go unturned a University Store committee has been formed and is composed of three of your faculty and four of your student body. This committee will work with the management in exchanging ideas and suggestions so that not only will the University of Maine-Portland have one of the finest physical facilities, it will also share in having one of the finest functional operations in the country.
