Dear Madeline,

We are happy to announce that you have been selected from among many highly qualified applicants to attend the second annual Quebec Summer Seminar which will be held at a conference center in Cap Rouge, Quebec City from June 15-22. As part of the agreement, we will assume the room and board expenses while you are attending the seminar plus other costs including dinners, socials, etc.

A copy of the tentative program is enclosed. Please note that we are now in the process of obtaining commitments from the numerous "conferenciers" listed in the program. In the case of VIP's, we probably won't know until the last minute whether they will be able to address our group. Thus, while the individuals listed in the tentative program are not yet confirmed, the program format is set. A field trip is being planned for the last weekend (June 21-22). Unfortunately, it will not be to James Bay but other attractive alternatives are being explored. While most of the related costs will be assumed by the program it is possible that a modest supplement might have to be charged. We will be communicating with you by the first week of June with details concerning the field trip, academic program, background material, time of arrival, directions, etc.

In order to confirm your participation, please send us a brief note indicating your acceptance along with the non refundable registration fee of $40.00 made out to "Quebec Summer Seminar -- SUNY Plattsburgh." We must receive your letter and check no later than May 19; otherwise we must assume you do not wish to attend and your space will be given to someone on the waiting list. However, we would be especially appreciative if you could let us know that you will not be participating as soon as you make your decision. This will greatly facilitate the planning process.

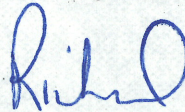

We will be able on a very limited basis to accommodate spouses (i.e., a few double rooms are available). Please note, however, provision cannot be made for spouses to attend seminar sessions. In order to make the necessary arrangements, we must know, also by May 19, of your intentions in this regard. The room and board cost for a second person will be approximately $150.00.

We sincerely hope you will be able to join us in Quebec City for what we believe will be an academically and culturally enriching experience. If you have any questions concerning any aspect of the program, do not hesitate to contact us.
