NEED A SUMMER JOB?

If you are thinking about summer employment, here is an opportunity for you. There will be a meeting at 3:00 p.m. today, Thursday, April 13, 1967, to discuss openings for summer employment. This meeting will be in Luther Bonney Auditorium.

Frederick Freise, Director of Placement and Financial Aid, will make available all summer jobs of which he has been notified. Special plans for a training course for waiters and waitresses will be available. All interested students are urged to attend.

UMP TO BE REPRESENTED IN THE 38TH ANNUAL PORTLAND BOYS' CLUB PATRIOTS' DAY RACE

In the Patriots' Day Race sponsored by the Portland Boys' Club on Wednesday, April 19, UMP will have three runners. The five mile course begins and ends at the Boys' Club on Cumberland Avenue. From there, the course follows Cumberland Ave., Forest Ave., Baxter Blvd., Washington Ave., and Cumberland again.

Representing UMP are Dick Bonaventura, Al McCann, and Jim Sproul, all of whom have been training for several weeks, including vacation, when Al and Jim practiced with Coach Tom Martin at the East End Beach and Old Orchard Beach. Bonaventura, a sophomore at UMP, from South Portland, is captain of this year's outdoor track team, and holds school records in the 600 (indoor) and the 440 (outdoor). McCann, a freshman, from Cheverus, is UMP record holder in the 1000 and the mile (both indoor). Sproul, also a freshman, from Westbrook, is a trackman with much promise, only in his second year of running. Look for all three of our runners to be well up in the placing in this Patriots' Day classic.

FILM "THE BLUE ANGEL" TO BE SHOWN

On Friday, April 21, at 4:00 and 7:30 p.m., the film "The Blue Angel" (Der Blaue Engel) will be shown in Luther Bonney Auditorium - admission 75¢ for students.

"The Blue Angel", based on the famous novel by Heinrich Mann, stars Marlene Dietrich, Ervil Janning, and Hans Albert. This film classic established the careers of the director Josef von Sternberg and his protégé, Marlene Dietrich. It is a penetrating picture of social decay.

ABOUT THE OBSTACLE COURSE

If anyone has some dead horses he wants to get rid of, there are some holes in the parking lot.

CULTURE ANYONE?

The United States Navy Band will perform two concerts today at the Portland City Hall. The matinee is at 3:30 pm and the evening concert is at 8:15.

MUSIC ROOM CLOSED

Once again the Music Room is closed because a few selfish students stole a cartridge and two needles. The library has not ordered a replacement for the $35 cartridge, but it has ordered a new needle. In the meantime, the person who stole the last one might ask himself why the library and students should supply him with diamond needles.

TO THE STUDENT BODY OF UMP:

I am announcing my candidacy for the presidency of the UMP Student Senate. I believe that I am more than simply qualified for the job. My activities and interests during my three years at UMP have been many and varied. I was an Owl during my sophomore year and have maintained a Dean’s List average.

I have served on many student faculty committees of importance and responsibility. I have been on the Maine Day Committee for three years as well as presently serving as a member of the Committee on Student Affairs and the Student Union Board. In addition, I have held a vital interest in the athletic program at UMP. I was secretary-treasurer of the Strider’s Club which was important in establishing the present UMP track program. I have been the manager of various sports and am currently the Head Trainer and Student Assistant to Mr. Sullivan, UMP’s Director of Athletics.

I believe these facts and positions, both past and present, entitle me to your consideration and vote as Student Senate President.

Sincerely,

Dan Googins

Student Senate Scene: by Susan Scanlin
The first Wednesday in May, 1967

should be an interesting day for all connected with UMP. The announcement of the new Student Senate and class officers will be made, the new Owls and Eagles will be given their hats, and, of especial interest to all seniors, the Outstanding Students of the year will be named.

At the Student Senate meeting of April 6, the criteria for qualification as Outstanding Student of the year, as determined by the Committee on Student Affairs, were read. They were:

1. One man and one woman shall be chosen from the graduating senior class, including the 2-year Business Administration students.

2. They shall be selected as having contributed most to the campus life and activities during their whole college career.

3. The committee for selection shall consist of the Director of Student Affairs and of the Student Union, two faculty members, and four students - 2 juniors, 1 sophomore, and 1 freshman.

Nomination papers for class officers and student senate seats were made available April 10 in Mr. VanAmburg’s office, and must be returned by April 22.

The senate passed a motion to hold the day at Chute Homestead, alias "Splendor in the Grass," on June 1. John Andrews will be chairman of this event.

Senate President Mark Eastman appointed Ed Smith chairman of the traditional senior-sponsored outing during the afternoon of Maine Day.

Mark then announced that the first formal inauguration ceremony for the newly elected student president will be held on May 4, following a banquet honoring both the incoming and outgoing student senate.

Lawrence Taylor Awarded Teaching Assistantship:

Lawrence A. Taylor, Sr., has been awarded a teaching assistantship for the 1967-68 academic year at the University of Maine in Portland. The announcement was made by the Division of Business Administration and Economics at the Portland Campus.

The assistantship carries with it a $2,400 stipend. He will be teaching under John W. Eay assistant professor of business and economics.

In addition to his teaching duties, he will be doing work in the graduate program leading to the degree of Masters of Business Administration.

A retired coastguardsman, Taylor started college 30 years after high school and will graduate from UMP with honors this spring. He was inducted into the Phi Kappa Phi honor society last fall.

The father of three, Taylor lives with his wife, Barbara, in South Portland.

Charles Caswell Awarded Graduate Assistantship at Michigan State:

Charles D. Caswell, a senior at the University of Maine in Portland, has been awarded a graduate assistantship at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan. The announcement came from the Division of Business Administration and Economics at UMP.

The assistantship program offered by the Department of Accounting and Financial Administration at Michigan State leads to the degree, Doctor of Philosophy. Caswell, a straight A student in Business Administration and Economics at UMP the past two semesters, Caswell will receive a $2,500 stipend for his first year of study. Future stipends will be granted according to merit.

Caswell, while at UMP has continually maintained high Dean's List grades. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and is presently treasurer of the senior class.

In addition to his full-time studies at the University he is employed part-time at Woodward, Gardner & Company, a local accounting firm.

After graduation from Fennell Institute in 1958, Caswell attended Brea College, Brea, Kentucky for two years. He served with the U.S. Army from 1961 through 1964, and during that time took advantage of courses offered by the University of Texas.

Before receiving the assistantship at Michigan State he had received notice acceptance to graduate programs at the University of Texas, Louisiana State and the University of Missouri.

Caswell, 26, plans to teach on the collegiate level on completion of his study at Michigan. He is the son of William G. Caswell of Gray, Maine.

Charles Cragin and Sandy Robbins To Be Awarded Degrees After Only Three Years of College:

Two students at the University of Maine in Portland are outstanding in more ways than one. Charles L. Cragin III and Nancy "Sandy" Robbins, both students with Dean's List Averages, will be awarded degrees this spring after just two years and nine months of college work.

Cragin, a history major, is the son of Mr. Charles L. Cragin, Jr. of Portland and Mrs. Ruth C. Menna of Westbrook. Graduating from Portland High, he served three years with the U.S. Navy before attending college; he is now public affairs officer with the Naval Reserves.

While in college he has participated in many outside activities. During his freshman year he was president of his class and received the Dean's List Award. He has been active in Cirlce K, History Club, and Veterans' Club.

His sophomore year he was a member of Owls, a non scholastic honor society. Later in the year he was named Most Outstanding Male Student by the faculty. Aside from his school activities, he works part-time for WCSP radio.

Cragin lives in Falmouth with his wife Nancy Ann, a registered nurse at Maine Medical Center. After graduation, he will attend the University of Maine School of Law.

Sandy Robbins, a graduate of Falmouth High School, was named a Distinguished Maine Student upon coming to UMP. She is a participant in the university's honors program and is a member of Phi Kappa Phi.

She participated in cheering her freshman year and was head cheerleader during her sophomore year. She also is active outside of school—she enjoys sewing, swimming, and both water and snow skiing.

An English major, Miss Robbins is currently practicing teaching at Bonney Eagle High School. She plans to continue teaching after graduation while taking graduate courses at the Portland campus during the academic year and at the Crone campus during the summer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston C. Robbins of Farmingdale.

Elections at UMP:

Nomination papers for student Senate President and Campus Mayor must be turned in immediately in Mr. Van Amburg's office. The election for those offices will be held April 20-21.

The deadline for nomination papers for class officers and representatives is Tuesday, April 25. And the elections will be held May 1-2. Announcement of class officers and representatives will be made on Maine Day, May 3, and the Senate President and Mayor will be announced before April 25, so late losers may run for class officers.

Joke of the Week:

The last time a mathematics major was home from an Ivy League College, he was boasting about the intellectual brilliance of his classmates. Feeling that he was taking himself a bit too seriously, his father said, "Don't you eggheads ever have any fun?"

"Sure, we have fun," he said. "You ought to see us at the club."

"What do you do there?"

"By," he said, "we sit around a table, have a few beers, and think up off-color equations."
Journeys to UMP

Last Monday, April 10, a bus-load of members of the Faculty Council came to visit UMP. They were given a tour of the campus by some of the Owls and Eagles: Ellen Conant, Barbara Knight, Rick Bonaventura, and Ken Jones. Some of their reactions during this tour were quite interesting.

They were quite impressed by the newness of most of the buildings, and especially by the newness of the administration offices in PSH and LBH. They were surprised to find out that the classrooms are smaller than at Orono, both in physical size and in the number of students. No opposition was voiced by them to the idea of students using the elevators.

They did not seem to regard the CED program as being very important, nor were they overly impressed by the large number of students who have CED classes. They noted that our bookstore was better in one way than the one at Orono - ours has a carpet.

The music and art rooms seemed to impress them, considering the size of the campus. However, when shown the faculty lounge, they thought it was the student lounge. One of the group also took note of an abstract painting of a nude in the faculty lounge.

By far, the group was impressed by our library. Although they thought it was a little small, they said they greatly preferred the style of this library to others, with its open shelves, individual study booths, good lighting, and generally very pleasing atmosphere. It surprised them not to find many students on campus (it was around 5:30), for at Orono the campus is alive with students all day.

The most interesting subject of discussion was future expansion at UMP. When the plans for the science building, gymnasium, and law school were mentioned, the members of the Faculty Council seemed to resent the fact that UMP was getting such a "large" share of the University's money. Perhaps this is only natural for outside faculty members. Also, they seemed to view plans for expansion with a sort of skepticism. Apparently the reason they resented money going to UMP was that they were afraid that, if the Portland campus expanded and became more autonomous, the men in the Legislature would be much more likely to spend money to build a complete university located in a city, rather than out in the "sticks"; a completely new and modern university that will bring higher education in Maine into the twentieth century, rather than a partly old, partly new one that is a little out of touch with civilization and not as good a credit to education in Maine as it should be.
