Dear Madeleine:

I'm still "on vacation" so forgive this note. I just wanted you to know that I mailed out the recommendation to the Columbia Placement Office (my second, I'm quite sure). I hope that you quickly line up a part-time position.

I'm glad that the thesis is "shaping up." Keep at it! Regards from Mary & the children join my own.
Sincerely,
JDh.

Take best of all good things to you!

I am genuinely happy to comply with your request for an estimate of Miss Madeleine D. Giguere, who was an assistant professor of Economics and Sociology on our staff, before she took leave to pursue advanced study. I have known her personally and professionally for the past six years.

Miss Giguere is a preeminent representative of our system of higher liberal arts education, morally, intellectually, culturally, and socially. She is an outstanding student and teacher, who has at all times evinced a truly scholarly attitude of mind, a marked ability to think independently and discriminatingly. She is, in addition, most conscientious, progressive, resourceful, and very generously cooperative.

I most enthusiastically and heartily recommend her as a most desirable candidate, by reason of the superior qualities of her mind and heart, for a place in the Social Science department of any college.
