RULES FOR DANCES

The social functions at UMP will begin this Saturday night with a dance in the recently renovated gymnasium. In view of these dances, the Student Senate, in conjunction with Dean Fink and the Activities Committee, has published a list of rules which are to be strictly enforced at these hops. The rules are as follows:

1. ID’s must be checked at all dances.
2. Policemen will patrol the parking lot and circulate around the dance.
3. Club members running the dance must be certain that there are no cans, broken glass, etc. in the parking lot or the athletic field after the dances. If necessary, this means picking up the morning following the dances.
4. Drinking is prohibited on campus; any evidence of this should be reported to the chapeters.

The Senate further ruled that the club sponsoring the dance will bear full responsibility for any infraction of these regulations. If infractions do occur, the club’s charter will be revoked, so will the dances. The enforcement of these rules depends on you - the student body. It is your dance.

HAPPINESS IS KNOWING SOMEONE AT THE HEAD OF THE FOOD LINE.
MOUNTAIN DAY

Mountain Day was held at Pleasant Mountain this year. This all-year round resort usually provides a "pleasant" day for every visitor, but on the day of our event it rained. In fact, the poor weather can be blamed for the small gathering of UHP students. Those who did make the trip to Bridgton didn't let this factor ruin their fun.

After parking their cars, the students dashed over to the apples, potato chips, and cider; then headed for the soggy chair lifts. Of course in every group there are those who are more adventurous and they started their hard climb to the top. One daring chemistry instructor at UHP was even seen riding his motorcycle (with a double 0-0 seven on the side) up the mountain with other members of his family.

Now then about that rain... One resourceful group took refuge in the upper chambers of the ski lodge only to be announced it will continue publishing the y were thrown out in the cold dampness. Alas!

But the skies cleared and the football and softball games resumed. And everyone had a good time.

FROM ORONO ...

Homecoming, one of the biggest weekends on the Orono campus, is almost here. Preparations for all the festivities are well under way. The homecoming queen candidates have been chosen from each dorm area, and their campaign workers will be out in full force all week. The queen will be chosen on Friday night after the campaign skits are presented in the field house.

The fraternity and dorm displays are another part of the Homecoming tradition. These displays must reflect one or more of three themes. The themes this year are: (1) welcome alumni, (2) farewell Dr. Elliot, (3) beat U. Conn. The masterpieces of chicken wire, papier maché, and crepe paper are judged on originality and neatness on Saturday morning by teams of one faculty member and one student.

Also on Saturday there is a football game to be played and a concert to be sung. The game - Maine vs. U. Conn., and the concert - The Four Freshmen. Operation Match has arrived at the U. of M. This is the computer date project and makes meeting your date (or mate) much easier. Everyone who lays his or her head on the 3:00 on the line is guaranteed at least five names of the people who would be his or her ideal dates... The Orono Home campus has announced it will continue publishing through the summer. This will enable the administration to get official announcements to all concerned.

Congratulations to the UHPus staff on a good newy edition last week. That's it from the northern campus.
