

770 ST. MARKS AVENUE
BROOKLYN 16, N. Y.

April 20th

Summer honey: -

It was grand reading your report of the celebration of the Easter holiday. Our boys are never lost wherever they may be. You will always find those who look to carry out traditions and are sincere in their religious outbursts. You may not know this, but Mr Morris is very religious - I am told that every in duty he has not failed to pray every morning, not forgetting to use his tfillin - he would naturally be in that class that carry along a Jewish calendar so as not to miss up on any special holiday. To him it wouldn't mean the 'food' but the significance of the holiday.

I suppose you, too, can see the resemblance to Jij and yourself.

It so happens that there is a Chaplain on his ship, but he wouldn't need one to remind him of his responsibilities as a Jew. His chaplain wrote grandpa a letter telling him how faithful he is - what a fine boy he is etc, etc.

We are expecting Uncle Louis next Tuesday - he has to be at Farmingdale L. I. (ten miles from Lynbrook) to inspect plants - on Friday he must go on to Buffalo unless plans change. Everything is possible in the armed forces. However, we are looking forward to his visit.

Everyone is well - all send boundless love to you, darling.

Be well - God bless you.

Aunt Ida