15 DECEMBER 2006

NEWSLETTER NEWS, NOTES & REMINDERS:

(NEWS #1:) The listing in the last issue of The FAN for the Northern Lambda Nord Disco Night was incorrectly quoted. The actual date for that event is Sunday, December 17th....NOT Tuesday December 19th as stated. See the corrected listing below.

(NOTES #1:) Clay Hill Farm in Ogunquit and The Grey Gull Inn in Wells offer a variety of reservation-only Events For Women during the year. A Valentine's Dinner-Dance, A Women's Springtime-by-the-Sea Package, A Spring Soiree, and A Fall Getaway are all in the offing for 2007. "We are committed to providing quality Social Events for Women in an elegant and comfortable surrounding. Clay Hill Farm, our award-winning 200-seat restaurant is located on 30 private acres in Ogunquit...The Grey Gull Inn, our oceanfront property, is located on Moody Point in Wells, Maine. All events are non-smoking." To be included in their confidential mailing list, write: Women's Events, Clay Hill Farm, PO Box 1730, Ogunquit, Maine 03907. Or you can contact Annette M. Titorenko at 207-646-5156. Or you can email them at info@clayhillfarm.com. You can also check out their web sites at www.clayhillfarm.com and www.thegreygullinn.com

(REMINDERS #1:) You can help the newsletter by sending me notices of upcoming GLBTI-related activities that you hear about in your area. Trust me, I would rather receive the same notice from 8 people than have everyone assume that I know about it and miss the chance to tell other GLBTI family members. Email megress@gwi.net

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

This category is for non-social notices about GLBTI community members that you think other GLBTI community members might like to know about...things like: births, deaths, adoptions, commitments, graduations, promotions, new jobs, awards, shows, ongoing classes, trying-to-start-a-group, etc.

1. As most of you are aware, your editor (Jean) took a vacation way back in October. A friend and I spent about 10 days traveling by car in Ireland. Well, sometime in the next few weeks (or so) I'm going to expand on my notes of the trip and put them into an email travelogue of our experiences, complete with lots of pictures. If anyone wants to read about our adventures and see some of what the southwest coast of Ireland looks like, just let me know and I'll include you on that mailing list. Jean megress@gwi.net

OP/EDS:

This is your chance to spout off (or offer your insightful thoughts and opinions) about ANYTHING related to the GLBTI community. Any subscriber is welcomed to submit. Please keep your thoughts as succinct (and civilized) as possible. Subscribers should be willing to allow at least their first name and an email address to be listed with the posting.

RE: "SOCIALIZING" vs "BEING SOCIAL"

I am rather new to the area and have been one of those legendary "Lurkers", reading the newsletter but not really participating. Here's why:

I think all of us have a certain amount of apprehension about meeting new people. And, like anybody new to an area, I embody the usual qualms: "Will I fit in?" "How do I break the ice?" "Will people think I'm a total numbskull?" and the ever present self doubt about my own ability to jump into a pool of people who all know each other and share a history. Not knowing the background of the other members of a group, it's impossible NOT to say or do something that someone might take as silly, naive or plain ignorant.

In addition, my tenure in Maine has taught me MOST (again, most, not all) Mainers are a bit standoffish when it comes to those from 'away'. Many a time I have found myself in social situations where a native Mainer turns to me and says, "Oh. You're from away". When I nod, the other person says something like, "Oh." Then, the conversation drops. When I have brazenly walked up to total strangers and started a conversation, I get the "Who are you? Some kind of freak?" look - which of course makes me feel like some kind of leach.

I've wanted to attend groups or get-togethers, but in my mind I see them as social functions of intense intimacy where I'm going to be crashing someone else's party. A situation brought upon myself? Probably. Realist? Totally.

So here's an idea I propose: a 'buddy' system. It's a simple idea, really, and not mine. I borrow this concept from a theatre group I joined in Sacramento. In that troupe, whenever a new actor was brought into the fold, one (or more) people took on the task of going with the 'newbie' to a party / coffee clutch / dinner and introducing the person around. It was a good way to start conversation, letting the established members of the group get to know the new kid while helping everyone avoid that awkwardness that often comes with meeting a new person.

I am thrilled to be a part of the community here and am excited to see such a close knit GLBT group. I would love to become more involved, meet more people and establish myself in my new neighborhood. But, quite frankly, I feel intimidated and self conscious because it seems so difficult for a transplant to meet the community without looking like some kind of psycho.

RE: "SOCIALIZING" vs "BEING SOCIAL"

I must tell you that I could not agree with you more, you hit that nail right on the head!

One particular example springs to mind in the form of the "social group" (ed. note: for transgendered folks) that a friend and I tried to get rolling down here. Everyone was crying for a "safe place" to go and socialize which we provided them with and then hardly anyone showed up. They all were for the idea but it was too far, wrong day, have to mow the rug, etc. I'm sure you've heard all that yourself over the years.

I honestly believe that the CIA should be hiring TG folk because we are so secretive, terminally so in my opinion. We as a community or any other body will never get anywhere, especially in the realm of public acceptance, unless we find some way to overcome this "stealth gene" that controls us.

The only flaw I would say exists in your article is in the closing paragraph. I would've liked to see you go past "being social" to each other in the GLBT world and expand that to include all areas outside the GLBT world also. I know, I know, there are big problems with that idea but at one time exposing yourself as gay held quite similar dangers. Once they decided to stand up and be seen look at what they achieved!

RE: "SOCIALIZING" vs "BEING SOCIAL"

What a great story/lesson/observation. I used to invite people to my home for dinner, drinks, a movie, or just to visit. It was a lot of fun and usually corresponded with the change in the season or a big event. It was not very expensive to do this, but it was time consuming and required work cleaning up after the event. Hours were spent trying to get the stains out of the rug after the drunken boss (or whoever) spilled their drinks. Then there was the wife of the guy who wanted to liven up her rather dull husband's love making by having sex on my bed with her best friend Barbara. What a mess of lipstick and... well, I don't think I have to say more. Anyway, the cigarette burns in the furniture, rug and curtains got to be a little expensive to have repaired, so the parties stopped and the only time we all seemed to get together for a social evening was when it was at a local fire hall, American Legion hall, Grange or Elks club.

Another problem that came up (in the late 80s early 90s) was law suits. These became a problem for anyone having friends over to party. It seems that if you offer people something to drink and they get a DUI or in an accident, you can be sued for giving them the drink in the first place.

Houses are getting a little smaller lately, and people seem to have more on there minds, like paying for heat, electric, gas, and the monthly bills and don't seem to have the extra money they had before to entertain (and repair the damage done when they do).

Also, because of the internet we seem to have more long distance social friends. My best friend is a woman who I had a relationship with when I lived in Missouri. I still talk to her on the phone and email all the time. We have a social relationship now, and it is kind of fun hearing about her exploits and having her hear my exploits and observations. We do not agree all the time, but we still call each other friend and value the other's impute.

Social things as I get older seem to involve more money and time than I want or can afford to give to them. Unless they are associated with the transsexual community that is. I enjoy the diverse group friends I now have in the TS Community and would love to have 20 over to ring in the new seasons or the holidays. Unfortunately, my home is small and not able to hold that many. Beyond that, I feel I would have to ask people to sign a waiver and bring their own booze to have a party and fear that most would not enjoy doing that and choose to stay home.

So now what is a person to do? How do we become that Social person we would like to be? Well, a friend opened up her home to a group of us (all Transsexuals) to meet once a month, and it is working well it seems. The numbers go up and down, and the faces change a little but all in all we do meet and are social and we seem to try to keep track of each other afterwards.

I guess it is a new social order. Is there anyone else who would like to present thoughts on this? I hope so.

Gay & Lesbian Advocates & Defenders (GLAD). On November 8th, Maine's voters embraced fairness for all its citizens by voting overwhelmingly to retain its anti-discrimination law. To learn about and protect your rights under this law, visit GLAD's website at www.glad.org or call the free legal hotline at 1-800-455-GLAD (1-800-455-4523). GLAD is New England's legal rights organization dedicated to ending discrimination based on sexual orientation, HIV status and gender identity and expression. GLAD's legal victories in Maine have addressed HIV discrimination, harassment of gay students, co-guardianship rights for same-sex parents, domestic partner benefits and more.

Howard Foundation. This is a foundation dedicated to building a permanent scholarship endowment for high school seniors and post secondary students. The foundation focuses on students who are entering any profession that promotes diversity and a better understanding of differences in people within our communities. Guidelines for allotting the scholarships are presently being formulated. A second goal for the foundation is to establish a 3-day festival called "Multi-Cultural Days - Bangor" which will be open to every ethnic/cultural group in Maine with a focus on education, food, music/entertainment, dancing, and inspirational speakers. People interested in being on the Planning Committee, or being involved in any way, can contact Dan Williams at 942-9319 or at knead24u@yahoo.com

Lesbian Health Project. Initiated in 1992, the Lesbian Health Project of the Mabel Wadsworth Women's Health Center seeks to promote non-homophobic health services which will provide lesbians with the ability to make the best health decisions possible based on accurate knowledge. The focus of the project is on developing educational materials for lesbians and trainings for health and social service professionals. In addition, the project sponsors a Lesbian Health Clinic at the Mabel Wadsworth Women's Health Center which provides low-cost, woman positive, lesbian-centered health care including: pelvic exams, breast exams, health education, instruction in breast self-exam, pap smears, mammography referrals, health advocacy, screening and treatment of STD's. For more information or to become involved in the work of the project contact the Mabel Wadsworth Women's Health Center at 947-5337

The Transgender Fund. With offices in Freeport, Maine, The Transgender Fund is a national, completely independent, 501(c)(3) tax-exempt public charitable foundation. It has been created by and for transgendered individuals. Our funding is derived from contributions by caring individuals of all levels of means. Our strength and independence come from the fact that there is no single benefactor who has seeded the Fund with a large amount of capital. Contributions you make are added to those of your sisters and brothers. Individually, they may seem modest, but collectively they add up to a powerful force that is reinvested in the support of projects fostering the well-being of all our gender variant minorities. FMI write The Transgender Fund, PO Box 50, Freeport, Maine 04032 OR phone 207-846-7997 OR email info@tgfund.org OR check the web site at www.tgfund.org

Admission to this group is by invitation only. The group host and moderator is Gail, but this is YOUR support group so the more input, involvement, and participation you provide the better. Internet support is fine but person to person support, validation and interaction with people who are like us can have a profound affect on our overall wellbeing and sense of self. Meetings are held the 4th Saturday of the Month, at 1 Pleasant St in Portland, ME. Call 207-233-8157 on meeting days for details. FMI and/or to join the online information group contact Gail at g_g_moreau@yahoo.com

WEB BASED MAINE GLBT LISTSERVES & EMAIL LISTS:

Maine Gaynet. One of Maine's longest running listserves for the GLBT community. Get all the info and/or join by going to www.maine-gaynet.com

Maine Gay Outdoor Network Events (MEGONE) is a yahoo group site/email list for Maine's GLBT? folks (& friends) for posting announcements of outdoor related events. It's not a formal club or organization—just an informal way to let folks know about outdoor activities that they might like to participate in—whether it's a hike, a paddle, camping trip, nature walk, or even a downtown shopping walk—it's up to you. This is not meant to compete with other groups such as the Chiltern Club—it's just an idea that some of us came up with on a recent trip to Baxter State Park :-). So, if you'd like some company the next time you take a hike, go on a bike ride, paddle, etc., just send an email to megone@yahoogroups.com to let members know the details. To join the group, go to <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/megone/> Please pass the word along to other gay-related lists/groups—the more people who join, the more opportunities there will be for connecting with like-minded folks for some great outdoor fun. Right now, the membership is "open" to anyone who would like to join....however, if we have any problems with folks who are not gay-friendly, I may change it to a process requiring membership approval. Also, people posting should use discretion regarding publicly posting time/place to meet—you may want to simply say "anyone intersted in details, please email me at _____, or call me at _____" Any questions? let me know! (mikeondavispond@yahoo.com)

Maine Lesbians listserve Anyone who identifies as a lesbian is welcome to join. The website address is: <http://groups.google.com/group/maine-lesbians> Women can request to join from the website or email me: patput@midcoast.com

THE WHO, WHAT, WHERE, WHEN, AND HOW OF THE FAMILY AFFAIRS NEWSLETTER.

All communications to FAMILY AFFAIRS should be sent to megress@gwi.net (Be sure to include the words "family affairs" in the subject line).

WHAT IS "FAMILY AFFAIRS" ?

FAMILY AFFAIRS is a free, twice-a-month, social activities newsletter for the GLBTI (gay/les/bi/trans/intersexed) community. It is sent out on the 1st and 15th of each month. It is centered in Bangor and covers a 50 mile radius around the city.

WHO CAN SUBMIT NOTICES TO "FAMILY AFFAIRS" ?

Anyone! This is your chance to organize your own activities and get some GLBTI-family company for those fun and interesting things you'd like to do. Do you want to host a potluck, attend a concert, or have someone to join you on that bus tour to Boston? Are you looking for someone to join you at the hockey or baseball games, for hiking, or to go to that special art exhibit? Are you looking for canoeing, golfing, camping, or fishing partners? This is the best place to look. Think up something fun to do, organize it, and let us know about it....it's easy!

CAN I ORGANIZE AN ACTIVITY THAT DOESN'T INCLUDE "EVERYONE" ?

Yes. People who want to organize an activity for the GLBT and/or I community are free to set whatever requirements or restrictions they want to on the activity they're organizing. If you want to organize a "women only" camping trip, a "men only" drumming night, a "youth from age 18-24 only" dance, or a day trip to a water park for GLBTI "couples with children", that would be fine.

CAN I POST A SOCIAL ITEM THAT'S NOT GLBTI FOCUSED?

But of course! Not everyone who watches women's basketball is a lesbian! If you want to organize an activity around something that is "mostly-straight-but-GLBTI-friendly", then do it!

HOW DO I GET ONTO OR OFF THE MAILING LIST ?

Just email me and ask to be put on (or taken off) the list: megress@zwi.net

CAVEATS:

All newsletters are emailed BCC, and the email list is not given out to anyone. Still, keep in mind that while this newsletter is for the GLBTI community, not everyone on the mailing list may be a "family" member. People ask to be put on the list and I put them on. There is no interview process or attempt to verify "queer" status. It's up to you to behave appropriately for whatever level of anonymity/security you feel you need.
