Les Petites Nouvelles

L'Église catholique en Amérique.

À la fin du mois dernier, il y avait une réunion de la Commission nationale de l'Église catholique en Amérique, qui a pour but de faire connaître les difficultés et les peines que présenté l'Église catholique en Amérique. Cette réunion s'est tenue à Washington, et a été présidée par le cardinal John J. Hanley, qui a été choisi par le pape comme représentant de l'Église catholique en Amérique. Le cardinal Hanley a fait知道, que l'Église catholique en Amérique est en grande difficulté, et que les peines qu'elle présente sont presque insurmontables. Il a ajouté, que l'Église catholique en Amérique a besoin de la collaboration de tous les catholiques, pour surmonter ces difficultés. Le cardinal Hanley a fini en demandant que tous les catholiques s'efforcassent de soutenir l'Église catholique en Amérique, et de faire preuve de patience et de courage dans la lutte contre les difficultés.
