

University of Southern Maine
Department of Theatre
presents

by Maria Irene Fornes directed by Assunta Kent

In the spring of 1938, an American engineer finds his Hungarian "Eve" in a sidewalk cafe. But is this well-meaning American bringing the wave of the future? Or will his technology sweep away all vestiges of old world civility? Come celebrate Earth Day 1998 with our eco-fable of cross-cultural love and contamination on the banks of the Blue Danube.

Main Stage, Russell Hall, USM Gorham

7:30 p.m.                      April 24, 25, 29, 30, May 1, 2

5:00 p.m.                      April 26 & May 3

$8 general; $6 seniors/faculty- staff; $4 students

An art exhibit and reception will precede the April 26 performance.

Post-show discussions on April 26 and 30.

for reservations please call: 780-5151

USM Department of Theatre
37 College Avenue
Gorham, ME 04038

Nonprofit Organization
U.S. Postage
PAID
Portland, ME 04101
Permit No. 370