MISS ELIZABETH SAWYER

Dedication

To Miss Sawyer:

Whose courage and dauntless spirit are typical of New England. She has been an inspiration to teachers and students alike, and has given to us an ideal we shall always cherish.

I am a Teacher

Humbly,
 As one stands
 Before an altar,
 I teach.
 I must return
 Each searching challenge
 With truth,
 Unveil to wakening minds
 The world of beauty,
 Stir youthful hearts
 To joy of service
 Tempered with sympathy
 And understanding.
 To me
 Are eager hands outstretched,
 Waiting to build
 A world.

Proudly,
 As one bears a flag
 On high,
 I teach.
 I have seen
 Children's eyes
 Alight with joy
 Of creation.
 I have felt
 Their hushed expectancy
 Before a great concert,
 Watched their genial
 Give-and-take
 At sports,
 Known their secret
 Fears and dreams,
 And aided
 Their fulfillment.
 Of all these,
 And the world they build,
 I am a part.
 I am a teacher.
 I hold the world in my hands.

Freshmen

The game's just starting; we're all set to go;

With work and play we'll conquer the foe.

So we're just beginning the game? Well do we realize this very fact when we consider all that is involved in being a Freshman! But what a glorious game; it's a game of working steadily with high stakes in the balance; a game of learning to live with our fellow students; a game of fun and fellowship with everyone on our hill-top campus.

Do we like the game? How often have we been asked that this year? Of course we like it! Although in September it might have been a debatable question when there were weary, determined Freshmen valiantly swishing butterfly nets through thin air with nary a catch! That bit of exercise merely put us in trim for the rest of the years ahead. We count that as one of our first rules of the game—make everything count and help toward chalking up the final score.

There being 120 in the class of 1951, the Civic Council allowed us considerable time for the players in this game to become acquainted and determine the potentialities of the team. Finally, on December 1, 1947, Harold Houston of the Civic Council called a meeting of all freshmen for the purpose of electing officers. We cued off by having Robert Greaney of Portland elected as President; Albert Hague of Gorham, Vice-President; Carolla

HELLO, MOM?

WHAT NEXT?

Haglund of Waterville, Secretary; Charles Andre of Bath, Treasurer; Thomas Gagnon of Millinocket, representative on the Civic Council.

Prior to this time, however, many of our number had already been involved in the functions of our College. The Men's Glee Club certainly has been bolstered and padded by the influx of freshmen songsters; the Girls' Glee Club has nearly twenty freshmen assisting in the upper registers. Let's take a look at the Dramatic Club program for "Arsenic and Old Lace." Ten of the cast of fourteen were freshmen and eleven of the Class of '51 were working behind the scenes. Several of the fellows heard there was to be a basketball team. As they really knew something of this game they have ably assisted in building up a top-notch hoop-net aggregation. These are only a few organizations which have felt the impact of new thoughts and actions in their midst.

The table is becoming less complicated in its pattern for clear shots. We still like the game! Impressions? "I liked it the first week and that surprised me because I didn't think I would." Another, "The longer we're here, the better it gets." Our cues are well balanced, the tips firmly pointed, we survey the table with a clear perspective. We are novices but we're willing to learn how to play with a cumulative purpose and intent.

William Jordan was chairman of the rally and dance held February 6th before the Willimantic vs. Gorham basketball game. Also an outdoor rally and stocking dance planned by Ruth Small was held before the Farmington game.

The spring dance and outing concluded the year's plans for the class of 1950.

SOPHOMORES AT PLAY

On September 17, 1947, the sophomores held their first class meeting in the old gym for the purpose of electing officers.

In the fall, the sophomores had a class outing on campus with games on the athletic field and a picnic in the grove.

The next thing on our agenda was the sophomore class weekend with the Tennis Court Dance as the main attraction. A highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen, Robert Davis, (Wells) and Elizabeth Taylor, (Old Orchard).

Juniors

The juniors are winning as you see here. The battle's most over; the goal is near.

At last the Junior Class has asserted itself. In the minds of all returning Juniors this year there was a determination to put on a class show since we had been unable to in past years for various reasons. Very early in the year plans were made for the show and dance which was presented November 21 as the "Gaslight Follies." Even the Juniors themselves were surprised at the talent displayed that evening. Pauline Stewart, Dot Davis, Margery Totman and Ronald Murphy unselfishly gave up other activities for this production and much of the credit for its success can be given to them.

The class has been outstanding in many fields. We are particularly proud of Estella Pederson who was the junior delegate to the Eastern State Teachers College Convention held in New York City and who was W. A. A. President. Harriet Acker was outstanding in the field of athletics. Gini Andre and Ann Alden have been important in all musical functions, while, besides those already mentioned, Jane Abbott has been an active member of the Dramatic Club. We were sorry (for ourselves) when Ronald Murphy followed Horace Greeley's advice and went West. His talent and hard work in all plays presented have been of immeasurable benefit to the school.

There are sixteen scheduled to graduate this year, but we hope that they will change their minds to remain with us to the "bitter" end.

We were fortunate to be left Mr. Woodward as our class advisor by last year's Senior Class.

Senior History

As with the preceding classes, our history begins in the old gym. That is, of course, unless you want to count the Sunday we came and got acquainted with our roommates and attempted to get acquainted with the dormitory.

The main thing we remember about those first days, however, is the old gym with Mr. Woodward introducing us to the school—and our schedules. We also had a chance to meet more of our classmates.

Schedules in hand, the next day we proceeded to classes wondering whether we would really like history or music, or psychology.

That year we elected Jean Littlejohn president, and although we tried hard we were unable as a class to do much. Every club, however, was dotted with our faces.

Our Sophomore year came quickly. Thru the Freshman year many of our classmates left for various reasons and some didn't come back after the summer vacation, thus making our class of ninety odd about sixty. This was our great year. With Nellie Ames to lead us we put on a class show, "Saddity Nite." Who can forget Joyce Philbrick as Ma, Ann McCarthy in Miss Andrews dream or Mary McCartney as the smart puppet. It went over with flying colors. Of course, we kept our individual places in the various clubs and sports.

Our Junior year saw a big return of boys to college with a few entering our class. One of these ex-G. I.'s in the person of Donald Pierce became our class president. As a class we did little, but our prominence came in the many clubs and sports of the campus. There were Alice Adams and Ann Cummings so good in sports; Bea Heal and Phyllis Foster becoming very active in the Dramatic Club; Betty Berg and Maureen Rogan shining in the Glee Club not to mention the fifty others scattered through the college life.

Before we can go further we ought to mention the good times had in the dormitory. Try mentioning mice to Perk and a real story will come out. All four years we have heard the laughter of Phyllis Clark and her jokes. When we moved to East Hall our Junior year, we brought our fun right along with us. We did have to have quiet in the right times so we also had our share of House Committee members—everyone will vouch for that.

What! don't tell me I've arrived at our Senior year already. Where has the time gone? Just imagine, we won't be with our roommates and friends many more days. Did every graduating class have the same experience as we? In the fall we were so excited about June but the nearer it came the less of a joy it became. We kept busy, though, so we didn't think about it too much. There were practicing teaching and offices of clubs to keep us running. List the Presidents of organizations and there you have most of our class. Oh yes, graduation for us starts before June. There is the ode to write, gowns to fit, and so many plans to make.

The last days are the happiest and the most sad. If you hear a "Remember that time when we were Sophomores" or "Gee, haven't we had fun" or similar quotations you will probably see Seniors close by. We certainly have had loads of fun and beautiful memories to carry away, for "that is Gorham College way."

Cheerleaders

GIVE US A G!

One afternoon in the fall there was quite a hub-bub in Russell Hall. Of all the noise! But we found out that it was just the girls trying out for cheerleading. That afternoon the W. A. A. and M. A. A. chose our second cheerleading squad and substitutes since the war.

Then the newly elected cheerleaders began frantically practicing for the first basketball game which came only too quickly. They kept some of the good, old cheers, changed only the action to some and like all good groups, brought their personality in with many new cheers.

From the sedate cheer for Coach Gilman to the vigorous G-O cheer; from the oldy G-O-R to the newest G-G cheer they were right on their toes yelling and making you yell to show the team that we all were behind them. Remember the spirit to the Fight Yell and who can forget "Ramona" on the Gorham Drag?

All season at the J. V. and the Varsity games they cheered their team on with the spirit and vigor that cheerleaders have to have.

Basketball

The G. S. T. C. basketball squad started its season on December 6 under Coach Gilman with Don Doyle as captain and Fred Sprague as manager. The first game with the Alumni proved a victory and the season was off to a fine start. The second game was a slight disappointment as were a great many of the others following, in that Gorham seemed always to be edged out by a few points. Spirits were again raised when Gorham came home from R. I. C. E. with a victorious score of 47-45. Again the scores seemed to pile up for the opposing team until our final game with R. I. C. E. at home when we came through with a glorious victory of 59-53.

Herb Lush, holding down the pivot spot, showed outstanding ability. Bob Bailey and Charlie Andre in the back court carried much of the burden on defense and both were big assets under the basket on rebounds. Keith Grant and Norm Rau with their added height flashed on occasions under the offensive basket and at times showed plenty of scoring punches. Capable reserves in Floyd Kenniston, Hal Mailman, Clayt Wentworth, and Don Doyle played equally good ball when called upon. Although the season's record was not outstanding in the Win Column, the team showed plenty of spirit and made the opponents realize they had been through a battle when the final whistle sounded.

Baseball

At the time of this writing the G. S. T. C. baseball squad was on its way for a good season. Eight lettermen reported at the first of the season so that Coach Gilman had a good nucleus to start his ball team with. The lettermen reporting were: Co-captains Joe Deschenes and Clyde Bartlett, Keith Grant, Norman Rau, Donald Doyle, Eddie Bodka, Arthur Greer, and Robert Bailey. Many new players arrived who helped in building up the strength of the club. These players are: Harold Mailman, Robert Bolduc, Norman Walker, Herbert Lush, William Jordan, Frank Henderson, Clayton Wentworth, Tinker Day, and Lenny White. This is the squad that Coach Gilman has kept as his standing team for the season.

SOCIAL LIFE

AND CLUBS

Green and White

ON GOES THE GREEN AND WHITE WITH—

The Green and White Board as usual has had a busy year under the leadership of Bea Heal and the guidance of Mrs. King. Those certain individuals in the company of Mr. Brocato and his camera who have been seen around the campus searching for unusual shots and trying to decide at which angle they should be taken have been Phyl Foster, Nellie Ames, Lois Benner, and Ruth Small, members of the photography staff. Or perhaps some of you have seen individuals dashing in and out of stores and making important business trips to Portland. Those people were Chris Crosier, Irene Belisle, Eleanor Tobey, Grace Pesilli, and Mike Anthony upholding the business part of our Green and White. Each member of the board has had his own special work to do and very often hidden talent has been discovered among the members especially among the write-up staff.

When the crucial moment finally arrived and the book was to be sent to the press, there was the usual last minute rush. However once the book was off a great sigh of relief was given by all, and with the rest of the student body we eagerly awaited its publication.

GREAT MINDS AT WORK

Outing Club

Want to be called at five-thirty tomorrow morning? Yes, Betsy Rhodes, our hiking counselor, has planned another early morning hike for the Outing Club. Breakfast will taste mighty good after Betsy has led us for a brisk tramp up Fort Hill.

What is that throng of fellows and gals watching on the athletic field? They are watching and taking part in the events of the Winter Carnival sponsored by the Outing Club. Whether you are a speed demon on skis or a whiz at sliding downhill on a cardboard you will find packs of fun at the Carnival.

The Outing Club, whose purpose is to sponsor outdoor activities for everyone's enjoyment, has given us all a lot of happy memories.

Future Teachers of America

WALTER E. RUSSELL CHAPTER

LOOK TO THE FUTURE—

The FTA organization is based upon the fact that the future of mankind is in the youth of today. It offers young people activities through which they can improve themselves and look forward to useful careers as teachers. The name Future Teachers of America clearly recognizes that students are concerned with the welfare of the nation as a whole. FTA makes use of the motivating power of a nation-wide outlook and a lifelong purpose. Its aim is to lay the foundation for the goal of the teaching profession which is united membership in local, state, and national education associations with every teacher at work on the problems of the profession and the nation.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A.'s yearly program actually starts off each spring at the annual Spring Retreat. Each spring the Cabinet spends a week-end away from Campus in worship and study. At this retreat the preceding year's program is evaluated. This is followed by serious thought and planning for the coming year. Some questions which the Cabinet considers are: What type of program should an organization such as ours sponsor on our campus? What should our purpose be for the coming year? What will our emphasis be for the coming year?

At this retreat we chose our major emphasis for this year. It is "Christian Ideals in Action." By our program we hoped to show that a Christian person is one who lives a well-rounded life.

Some of the highlights of our program this year were as follows:

1. In the fall our energies were concentrated on directing Freshman Orientation Week; Freshman Reception; Membership Week and the annual candlelight service.

2. Delegations sent to the O-At-Ka and Maine Area Conferences.

3. Special Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter Vespers.

Speakers we have sponsored during the year: Mrs. Frederick Robie—"Experiences in Germany."

Miss Gertrude Stone—"History of YWCA at Gorham."

William Stringfellow (Bates)—Oslo Conference—World Conference of Christian Youth.

Dr. L. Foster Wood—"Marriage and The Family."

Parker Rossman (Yale)—Student Volunteer Movement.

R. Elizabeth Johns—Executive Director of New England—S. C. M.

Faculty — Student Government

PLANNING THE DANCE

The Faculty-Student Government Council is the body governing all on-campus organizations and activities at the College. Representatives are elected by each class and organization on the campus.

Miss Esther Wood, history instructor, and Robert Miller, biology instructor, were faculty advisors appointed by Dr. Bailey to meet with the council.

Early in the fall the council started work on a new constitution to meet the need of the present Faculty-Student Government body and had completed the document by the midyear. During this time the Council met every Thursday afternoon from 3:45 P. M. to 5:00 or 5:30 P. M. The meetings involved lively debates and discussion as we reached final decisions about reallocation of Student Activity fees, chapel programs, planning College formals and working to carry out the wishes of the student body. A new set-up for chapels on Tuesdays and Thursdays with no announcements and assemblies on Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays with announcements was put into practice during the school quarter.

The scope and understanding of this College Council was broadened on a national basis by sending our Vice-President, Francis Lucey to Boston to the Northern New England Region of the National Students Association Conference. In the Spring Miss Marjorie Eames accompanied Miss Estella Pederson of the Junior Class and Miss Phyllis Foster, a Senior, to the Spring Conference of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers held in New York City. Miss Eames represented Dr. Bailey as Maine faculty member on the Board of Control; Miss Pederson was the Maine student member on the Board of Control; and Miss Foster gave a speech in a panel discussion. All three representatives were sent by the Council.

House Committee

The House Committee is the student government of the dormitories. It assists in the promotion of good citizenship by carrying out house regulations, by such services as collecting mail, turning out lights, ringing bells and keeping books and by encouraging quiet during study hours.

The House Committee also seeks to promote social functions and the general welfare of all women students. Once a year it sponsors an Open House with invitations extended to families and friends of the college. It has an annual Halloween party and a Christmas party in Center. With jokes, games and eats the whole dormitory has an evening of laughter and fun.

Also Center is the scene of House Meetings, where we elect officers, talk over new rules we think might be helpful, old ones we think are too old, or just brush up on the current ones.

Thus through House Committee do we govern ourselves.

Dramatic Club

ELDERBERRY WINE?

The Dramatic Association is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Its first major production of the year was "Arsenic and Old Lace," which was a spine-tingling success. "The Neighbors," a one-act play by Zona Gale, was presented in Chapel, and "The Giant's Stair" was revived, with a cast composed of some of the original actors of the previous year, with some new additions. "The Monkey's Paw" a suspense play was given, as well as several other one-act plays which were workshop projects. "Box and Cox" was presented to three local groups. Emphasis was placed on the various aspects of the drama, and the members made good use of the recording machine. Experienced students were given opportunities to develop further dramatic abilities by coaching one-act plays. Miss Phyllis Foster directed an impressive all student production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" in May.

ANY NEW BUSINESS?

Our purpose, as our name implies, is Friendship and we also strive to create an appreciation of the fine arts. Throughout the year we have speakers who enrich our interests along these lines.

December was our month to entertain the Faculty for tea. At Christmas we packed boxes for a needy family and in the Spring sponsored showers for the kitchenette.

No one will forget the parties and outings we all enjoyed. Of course, before the end of the college year came the initiation that all members new and old remember with happiness!

The Alpha Lambda Beta Fraternity was found to be small in numbers this year but strong in spirit.

Members other than officers are: Ronald Murphy, Richard Barbour, Curtis Tolman, and Donald Pierce.

The pledges were:

Robert Bolduc	Albert LaChance
Robert Davis	Robert Lawrence
David Eaton	Lincoln Libby
Robert Greaney	Lawrence Lunt
Owen Hoover	Barksdale MacBeth
Donald Hunter	Sidney Merrill
Joseph Ouellette	Blynn Roberts
Frederick Verrill

The fraternity started off the year by combining with Kappa and giving the very successful Freshman Dance and you can be sure Alpha has and will keep things popping on the hill. Initiation period was as gala as ever with maroon and gold hats and ties, doughnuts always available and gracious deeds done by the pledges. On this 20th anniversary of Alpha's founding, we look forward to many more successful years for our fraternity.

Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity

When the Iota chapter of the National Kappa Delta Phi fraternity assembled this fall, it found it had lost very few of its members by graduation. The membership roll showed 28 active undergraduate members, all looking forward to a very successful year.

We started the year by writing a letter of welcome to all of the incoming male students, followed in a few weeks by a Freshman-Get-Together held in the American Legion Hall. Various social functions were held during the year, the biggest and best being the cabaret which was held during the year in December, 1947. This proved to be so successful that the fraternity is in hopes of making it an annual event.

The men of the fraternity proved their athletic prowess by winning and placing in many of the events in the annual Winter Carnival. Many members of the fraternity are also on the varsity squad of the basketball and baseball teams and have proved themselves all-around sportsmen.

Various brothers bought the fraternity's black and gold jackets which added color to the Hill. Sixteen new members were accepted into the organization, which swelled its ranks to an all time high.

As of last year our advisor was G. Flint Taylor, a member of the faculty and an active brother.

Commuter's Club

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

With the leadership of President Virginia Martin the Commuter's Club has had an active season of varied activities. The activities began with a Hobo Party at the Lee Recreational Building in Portland. Games, a scavenger hunt, entertainment, and refreshments were the order of the evening.

Coffee was served to the members on Monday noons during the winter months and sandwiches were sold on Wednesdays between periods.

A supper was held in the Home Economics room in honor of the basketball team before the Plymouth game. Faculty members and club members attended.

In February a card party was held in Portland. Prizes were awarded in bridge, whist, and cribbage.

The Club attended the Farmington game at Farmington in a body.

Ski Club

This winter a new group was formed at school. This group of students organized with the purpose of taking skiing lessons. This they did under the able instructions of Bob Henderson of South Portland. They met every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon on Alden's Hill. They were the cause of so many interesting ski tracks in the snow at Alden's.

Those who attended were:

Barbara Seigars	Joan Cullinan
Glenys Dernley	Ruth Small
Riva Greenblatt	Nellie Page
Joyce Jepson	Ann Alden
Eleanor Nelson	Genevieve Houston
Mary Foley	Lorraine Davis
Betsy Rhodes	Robert Lawrence
Juanita Manchester	Gerald Hoar
Margaret Foley	Robert Kimball

DOWNWARD BOUND

Men's Glee Club

"Now Softly,

The Men's Glee Club is comprised of forty male voices who enjoy getting together for formal as well as informal singing. This is the first year since the war that our membership has been large enough to have a well-rounded organization.

Under the capable leadership of Miss Andrews the club combined with the Women's Glee Club to present, in Russell Hall, a Christmas Cantata, which was enjoyed by relatives and friends.

Because of forest fires in the fall a get-acquainted party was postponed but was held in the spring.

Several members of our club have participated as vocalists in chapel programs and other school functions as well as in community activities.

Because of Miss Andrews' illness in February we could not answer the invitation to sing for the Woodford's Men's Club and the Portland Rotary Club but expect to do so at a later date.

The club has enjoyed a very successful year and is looking forward to next year when we hope to be able to present a more varied program. The officers for the school year 1947-1948 were:

PEOPLE—"

The first performance of the women's glee club was a presentation with the men's glee club at a Christmas cantata on the evening of December 14th. It was The Song of Christmas by Roy Bingwald. Several members also sang solos and the joint glee clubs sang The Lost Chord as part of the program.

A representative group of the two glee clubs went into the Woodford Club and gave a program of several selections.

For the first time the glee club broadcast over a local Portland station for half an hour.

This year there were over fifty members of the glee club, including girls from each of the four classes.

Newman Club

"THIS IS MY FATHER'S WORLD"

The Newman Club is organized for Catholic fellowship. This club was organized in Gorham in 1945.

Meetings of the Newman Club were held on the first and third Tuesday of every month, a business and social meeting alternating.

This year the Newman Club has devoted one meeting a month for religious teachings under the leadership of Reverend Finn, Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Westbrook, Chaplain of the Gorham chapter. There are thirty-six members in the club.

The Newman Club organized a choir this year under the leadership of Donald Doyle, President, to sing hymns on Sundays in the Catholic Church of Gorham.

Rev. Finn's suggestion of organizing a debating club for the purpose of having religious discussions was very successful.

The members of the Newman Club, this year, took it upon themselves to collect food and clothing for the needy in Gorham.

A Splash Party was another of the club's activities.

The successful year was concluded with a communion breakfast.

WORSHIP SERVICE

At the first meeting of the Canterbury Club this year the officers listed below were elected and a calendar for the year was made. One of the first projects contained in the calendar was the visiting of churches of other faiths. The club attended services held at a Jewish Synagogue and a Lutheran Church. To end the project Father Reagen gave a lecture on the development of religion through the ages.

During the Lenten season ministers from Episcopalian Churches throughout the state held weekly services on the campus. Twice a month communion services were held.

This year the club has been very fortunate in receiving communion pieces from the Diocese. These included a chalice, a tray, linens, and vestments.

AMATEURS IN THE ARTS

The Art Club started this year off with the project of making Christmas cards. The designs for these were carved on linoleum blocks and then printed on colored paper with an original verse inside. Some of the club members tried their hands at writing poetry. The club was delighted by the success of the project.

Later the members printed Gorham book plates and sold them to the students of the college.

The Club had its annual tea on March 24 and had a special feature—the exhibition of Chinese woodcuts.

The movie "How Young America Paints" was shown in Assembly on May 12 and constituted the Art Club Chapel program for the year.

LO! HEAR THE GENTLE LARK!

President Chris Crosier:

The final meeting of the Library Club for this year will come to order. May we have the secretary's annual report.

Secretary Eleanor Tobey:

The activities of the club during the months of September, 1947 to March, 1948 have been varied. Program topics have been:

September—Photography	Mr. Martin
October—Music	Miss Eames
November—Book Week Program
January—"How Maine Towns Got Their Names"	Miss Wood
March—Report on New York Trip	Miss Eames
April—Movies
May—Casco Bay trip

The club has gained publicity and popularity by the "slumscrumptious" sandwich sales sponsored each Thursday night. The GORHAM banner was another brain-child of this small and progressive group. We enjoy our financial independence, our pleasant evenings in front of the fire, those wonderful trips Miss Eames takes us on through the magic of her camera lens, and those never-to-be-forgotten bird records. The success of the year has been due to the ceaseless efforts of

Men's A. A.

At the beginning of the season the Men's A. A. elected Tex Huston as its president with Don Doyle as vice-president, Art Greer as secretary, and Clem Coombs as treasurer.

This year a program of fund raising was executed to enable the association to buy an electric scoreboard for the gym. It was decided that the extra money left from the appropriation of the activity fee should be used for a start. Candy, soda-pop, and peanuts were sold at the basketball games to help.

Letters were written to each member of the board of trustees, the commissioner of education, and the State Director of Athletics requesting that the college be given funds for a full time athletic director.

The Ralph Hanson fund, inaugurated last year to help men pay a portion of the expenses resulting from injuries received while participating in varsity sports, was used to help Fred Sprague and Harold Mailman.

Women's A. A.

Every girl in the College is a member of the Women's Athletic Association. The association is headed by a board whose officers are elected by the student body. The other members of the board are the counsellors for the various women's sports on the campus. The board plans the schedule of the sports and determines the point system of them.

Early in the fall the W. A. A. sponsored a field day for the entire college. A picnic supper was held in the grove, and the day ended with a soft-ball game between the boys and the girls.

To raise money for the purchase of athletic equipment the board sold sweatshirts and stickers to the student body.

Another activity of the board is to choose the cheerleaders for the basketball season. Standards by which the girls were chosen were set up by the board.

The rising bell—6:30—
Time to rise and shine.
Hurry, hurry, hurry,
If we want to dine.

Tripping down to breakfast
After the last bell—

Muffins—toast as well.

Hurry, clean the room up,
Chapel time is near.
Make the beds and grab the books;
We'll be late, we fear.

Now what shall we do?
Tennis, town, or ping-pong,
And then there's softball too.

6:00 o'clock and supper,
Then a dance or two.
Study at 7:30;
We've got a lot to do.

JUNIOR HIGH
IN ACTION

Our first introduction to the Campus School comes early in our freshman year when, escorted by Miss Upton, we go past the old Industrial Arts building down the side hill to observe classes, from Miss Hay's kindergarten and sub-primary downstairs to the Junior High on the top floor.

Our second type of experience comes as sophomores when we shiver in stagefright before teaching our first lessons. It is then we discover what fun teaching really can be.

Then in our junior or senior year we teach for eighteen weeks either at the Campus School or at the West Gorham rural school. We have the thrill at last of being a real teacher. How proud we are when we realize we actually did get that lesson across to the children. We laugh with them in their fun and comfort them and help them in case of trouble. We are "their" teachers. We understand more clearly what we had vaguely been feeling as the pull of the profession we had chosen, when first we hear a proud-voiced child shout "That's my Teacher!"—and lo! he was pointing to us!

Class Ode

What is noble? To inherit
Wealth, estate and proud degree?
There must be some other merit
Higher yet than these, for me.
Something greater far must enter
Into Life's majestic span,
Fitted to create and centre
True nobility in man.

Who is noble? He whose finer-knit
Desire of mind and heart,
Linked to something still diviner
Than mere language can impart;
Is ever teaching, ever seeing
Some improvement yet to plan;
Striving still to aid his fellow-being
In the search for perfect man.

Look not in a world of fortune,
Or where labor's wheels go round;
But where little children gather,
There the noble man is found.
Though results are hard to measure,
And we may not reach our goal,
Let "together" be our watchword;
And "vision" guide our soul.

Class Ode

Amid the paisley shades of fall
The heights, the green and all
The moving music of the years,
Was there an answer to our call
Was there a beam of light so small
To hide the loneliness and fears?

(Chorus)

The nights—the lights—of every day
The halls—the music and our song,
But now the years are bound and stayed
And only time goes on.

Above the heights—the green and all
We found the light so small
That hid the loneliness and fears.
We hear the answer to our call
Amid the vibrant greens of spring,
And moving music of the years.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

To the following persons and firms who cooperated in the making of this 1948 Green and White, the editors wish to express their appreciation:

To students and faculty members who helped when photographs were being taken and information for the writeups was being assembled.

To the Portland Engraving Company, and to Mr. Cory who by taking such a personal interest in our book has contributed much.

To the Kennebec Journal and Mr. Kennison for helpful suggestions on the makeup of the book.

To the Jackson-White Studios for the individual portraits of the Juniors and Seniors.
