who with gentleness and graciousness, sets the feet of little children on the pathway leading to good citizenship; who directs older students in ways of teaching with inspiration; and who, by her charming womanhood, lights up the paths of all who meet her; we, the Editorial Board of 1935, wholly conscious of our privilege, do dedicate this volume of the
GREEN AND WHITE

FOREWORD

We, the Editorial Board of 1935, take pleasure in dedicating this volume of the GREEN AND WHITE to Miss Lois Eleanor Pike.

Miss Pike has endeared herself not only to the little ones in the Junior Primary, but to the students in her classes in the Normal Department. We have chosen "Pathways" as our theme and art motif this year, and we believe that the pathways of all connected with the Gorham Normal School are made pleasanter and easier because of Miss Pike's leadership.

Few changes have been made in the plan of our book, but we sincerely hope that it will be of value to every student, both as a source of information about life at Gorham Normal School, and as a book of pleasant memories in years to come.

PATHWAYS

There's a pathway, leading upward,
 Shaded by majestic trees,
 To a hilltop crowned with beauty,
 Where glad voices fill the breeze,
 Where an institution founded
 On ideals both firm and high
 Points the road of joy and service
 With friends and helpers ever nigh.

Here, amid the c'ouds and sunshine,
 Singing birds and blooming flowers,
 Busy students, working, playing,
 Spend their youthful, happy hours.
 Autumn passes, winter follows,
 Spring has spent her sweet recess;
 Summer rushes on to June time,
 Queen of seasons, last to bless.

There's a pathway, leading outward,
 Through the doors of Corthell Hall,
 Down the hillside green with grasses,
 Past the pines and maples tall,
 Through a world of changing traffic,
 Disappointment and success;
 Outward, standards bravely flying,
 Gorham Normal sends her best.

Virginia Knight, '37.

TO OUR FACULTY

No inexperienced traveler would dare attempt an ascent in the Alps without the aid of a trained guide; no trek into the jungle unless accompanied by the native leader; and even a well blazed and much traveled road is made more enjoyable when there is one who is familiar with its points of interest to give advice and help along the way. The students at Gorham Normal School are fortunate in having not only one but a whole group of well trained guides who with patience and understanding give the unselfish service which characterizes a teacher. Most of the students here are desirous of some day becoming teachers themselves and each one must sincerely hope that he or she will be able to cultivate those qualities of dignity, sincerity and helpfulness which they so admire in the members of the faculty at Gorham.

WALTER EARLE RUSSELL, A. B., D. ED.

Principles of Teaching

To the Class of 1935:

Some two thousand years ago John sent two of his disciples to the Great Teacher to inquire: "Art thou he that should come or do we look for another?"

The Great Teacher kept them with him for a time, then said, "go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleaned, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the Gospel preached to them."

You notice in that list which item is given the emphasis of position. Down through the ages many have been called good teachers because of their success in teaching the three R's, but only to those who, in addition to this lesser service, have added the service of stimulating faith, of quickening hope, and of idealising love in spirits that otherwise would have been poor in vision, is due the title a great teacher.

MISS PHYLLIS LORD

Miss Lord's cheerfulness and helpfulness impressed us when we first arrived at Gorham Normal School; her friendliness and understanding impressed us as time went on; and as we continue here we appreciate her still more as a guide in our choice of pathways at Gorham.

MISS INA WOODWARD
Matron

Miss Woodward is the person who keeps life comfortable and pleasant while we are at work and play. She looks out for all of the little things of life, and does it so well and cheerfully that she keeps life worth living.

Three years ago we chose to come to Gorham Normal School where we might learn how better to serve our fellow-men. Here we have been taught the values of selecting the right pathways and the beauties of training the future citizens of our country.

This June we are being graduated, feeling better equipped to teach little children and to guide them to choose the best pathways of life that are open to them. We are certain that we cannot fail to aid mankind if we devote our lives to this work, for in our hands lies the future of the Nation. Jesus said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of God." We, too, will center our lives around the heart of the Nation — its children.

SCHOOL PLEDGE SONG

This school of ours, we love it well, its name shall spotless be.
To it we pledge with heart and hand our constant loyalty.
For this loved school, for this loved school, that shelters us today,
We pledge our constant loyalty, our loyalty for aye.
We'll strive to make each other feel the drawing of its bond;
And to its call of truth and right we'll steadfastly respond.
For this loved school, for this loved school, that shelters us today,
We pledge our constant loyalty, our loyalty for aye.

We are nearing the end of a long climb. At times the ascent has seemed discouragingly steep and tedious. We have all found that there is no royal road to the teaching profession. In this journey we have not come alone, but like Alpine mountaineers we have been banded together, ready to help the comrade who stumbled by the wayside.

Let us remember we have not finished our climb. There are new roads before us which lead onward and upward. Let us choose our pathway with care.

MID-SENIORS

President ..... JOHN HAM
Vice-President ..... REGINALD EDWARDS
Secretary ..... HELENE SMITH
Treasurer ..... ELEANOR PARKER

The Mid-Seniors are proud to have been following pathways of good learning, lasting friendships, and true citizenship in Gorham Normal School for two years, and are happy in the thought that still another year of travelling under helpful guidance of our instructors lies ahead. We realize the importance of choosing the right trail and the hardships involved in staying on it. We hope so to utilize the profits and benefits of education here, that at the end of three years we will be worthy of extending a guiding hand to others who will then be just starting on the trail.

ELEANOR PARKER.

CLASS OF 1935 ODE

(Tune: "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life")

I

Let the echoes of our song remain behind us,
Softly ringing through the years in Russell Hall,
As we sing farewell to Gorham in the springtime,
While the days which now are closing we recall.
Long the campus green and stately halls we'll cherish;
In years to come our hearts with you will often be.
Thoughts of friends and youth and quiet hours of study
Will hold you always in our memory.

CHORUS

Though our golden dreams of life are still before us,
Though what joys and strifes we'll meet we cannot tell,
Though to youth the future always seems to beckon,
Oh school and friends, how hard to say farewell!

II

Day by day within these sunny walls you taught us
All that we should know of beauty, truth, and light;
Here you gave us friends that we shall love forever,
You gave us work, and comrades true, and pleasures bright.
Oh, dear school, may we for all the things you gave us
Give a truer, finer life some future day;
May we sing your praise by living, working, winning,
And thus our days of happy youth repay!

BARBARA HOWARD.

JUNIORS

President ..... STANLEY GAY
Vice-President ..... SALLY THING
Secretary ..... EUNICE KELLEY
Treasurer ..... ALMERY HAMBLER

We, the Juniors of Gorham Normal School, have come here along the pathway marked "Ambition for richer, fuller lives." We are well started along the road that leads to the realization of this ambition. Some of us may stray into byways misled by loss of ambition or by misfortune. Those of us who continue along the journey on which we are started cannot overemphasize the importance of realizing that it is a path which never ends. The way of the teacher is one which requires constant and earnest effort, but it culminates in the enrichment of our own lives and the lives of those whom we are able to influence in our teaching. Let us strive, then, not only for ourselves, but for all humanity, to progress as far as possible along the pathways of true learning.

BEVERLY FRYE, '37.

TINSEL

It shines, it sparkles on the Christmas tree
 And glistens in the rays of brilliant light;
 A silvery line, it makes the dark boughs bright,
 The tinsel garland children like to see.
 To them it seems more gorgeous than to me.
 A beam, perhaps, to guide them in the night;
 A sign to lead their wills to do the right;
 O, tinsel, what more beautiful could be?
 Description makes great character seem less,
 "'Tis true, 'tis good and noble," we may say;
 Weak words, we search for some to use instead
 Which may suffice our feelings to express.
 'Twere better that we choose her pupil's way,
 "I call you Tinsel in my thoughts," he said.

Ethelyn Upton.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL

The Training School, with its efficient workers, offers an opportunity to Normal School students to meet and solve actual problems of the classroom under the guidance and help of the critic teachers. There are approximately three hundred children in our Training School, which includes grades from kindergarten through the Junior High School. The school is housed in a fine, modern, brick building, which contains a large auditorium in addition to the classrooms. Miss Hastings is in charge of the practice teaching, and twelve critic teachers direct the actual work. At the suggestion of the teachers and pupils of the training school, our GREEN AND WHITE this year takes pleasure in reproducing some of the work done in the grades. These typical reports have been written by the pupils themselves. Our first one, "The Three Bears," is a coöperative effort.

THE THREE BEARS (Grade One)

We made a house for the three bears. We made paper furniture. There were a table, three chairs and three beds. We made the bowls of clayola. We made the bears of clayola, too. Gladys brought a doll to be Goldilocks.

(A coöperative story relating an actual experience)

THE IGLOO (Grade Two)

On Friday afternoon we went for a walk to see the igloo that Avis Bonney made for the sculpture contest.

We had to crawl through a little tunnel on our hands and knees. When we were inside we couldn't touch the ceiling with our hands.

It looks just like the igloos in our Eskimo books.

THE BALLOON (Grade Three)

Paul's father bought him a balloon. His father told him to hang on to it or he would lose it. One March day Paul went out to play. The wind was blowing very hard. It blew so hard that it blew the balloon right out of his hand. The balloon was gone. It flew up in the air. Then it came down to the ground. A little boy found it. He blew it up and put a string on it. He was very happy because he found it. He ran and showed it to his mother. His mother said, "Where did you get it?" And he said he found it.

THE LOST POCKET-BOOK (Grade Four)

One day Betty went to the circus with her Aunt Sue. Betty was walking by the cages. Finally she came to the monkeys' cage.

"Oh, aren't they cute!" she said.

Then, knowing that monkeys liked bananas she went to get some for them. She left her pocket-book on a high shelf near the monkeys' cage. When she came back it was gone.

"Oh, where has it gone?" she cried.

"I see it," said her Aunt Sue. "See if you can find it."

Betty looked all around. Now where do you suppose it was? In one of the monkey's paws! The circus man got Betty's pocket-book from the cage and Betty went home laughing to think that the monkey had wanted her little red pocket-book.

WILLIAM PENN AND THE INDIANS (Grade Five)

William Penn had bought some land in America. He paid the King for it, but he also paid the Indians.

One day he needed more land so he called the Indians. They said he could have as much land as a boy could run around. A young boy offered to do it.

The Indians saw how fast he could run and they were angry. They said the boy had wings or he could not run so fast. They believed they were getting cheated.

A Quaker who stood nearby heard it and went to tell Penn. The Quaker said, "Why not use force on them?" But Penn said there were easier ways.

Penn went to the Indians and said, "You may go to our store and take all the things you want for your land."

The Indians understood Penn was not trying to cheat them. They went and took all the things they wanted. Then the stern and good chief said, "We must smoke the pipe of peace for you are great."

SPORTSMANSHIP (Grade Six)

People tell how much they can do but others wonder until they have proved it. A good motto showing this is, "One example is worth a thousand arguments." Once I read a story where a boy was always telling what he could do. One time he was telling how much farther he could run than the rest. At the end of the race he was the last to come in. How much better it would have been if he talked less and had done more.

GETTING A SHUTTLE TRAIN IN NEW YORK (Grade Seven)

There is always a hurry and scurry when the shuttle train appears in New York. The paper boys are shouting, and porters smashing bags around.

People are rushing, pushing, shouting, knocking each other around to see who can get to the train first, because the door is automatic and closes at a certain time. If you were caught in the door it would probably mean you would never ride in a shuttle train again. So if you are slow never ride on a shuttle train.

HOW TO MAKE A SALAD (Grade Eight)

The real secret of success in making salads is in the careful preparation of the materials. Lettuce and other greens should be carefully picked over and washed in cold water. If the vegetables are at all wilted, they should be left in cold water to become crisp, then dried by twirling in a cheesecloth bag. One of the favorite salads is peanut and pineapple salad.

First, whip one cup of heavy cream. Then add two tablespoons sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup fresh roasted peanuts and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Put in icebox until cool. Arrange six slices of pineapple on lettuce and heap dressing on top. Garnish with pieces of red cherries. This salad serves six.

Salads offer many interesting uses of left-overs. Several ingredients may be combined successfully, but care should be taken that flavors and textures are of a sort that blend well. A mixture of too many different ingredients should be carefully avoided.

THE WOODS IN A SNOWSTORM (Grade Nine)

A hoard of feathery flakes drift from the soft grey sky overhead and fall noiselessly on the untracked blanket of white. Far away a train whistles and a chick-a-dee calls to its mate in a tiny chippy voice. A branch weighted with snow is jarred by a squirrel and falls to the ground with a sound so startling that it brings your heart to your mouth. The dry snow crunches beneath your feet with a sound like straining leather. The trees look black against the whiteness. About sunset the storm ceases, and a slight breeze hums through the forest, sifting the light snow down from the tall pines. Presently the moon, like a ship blown by the wind, sails through the swiftly moving clouds.

VARSIITY SUMMARY

Dual Meet at Bowdoin, October 12—Gorham Normal, 24; Bowdoin J. V., 31.
Dual Meet at Gorham, October 17—Gorham Normal, 22; Hebron Academy, 35.
Dual Meet at Bridgton, October 22—Gorham Normal, 22; Bridgton Academy, 35.
Dual Meet at Keene, October 27—Gorham Normal, 26; Keene Normal, 29.
Dual Meet at Gorham, November 3—Gorham Normal, 28; Keene Normal, 27.
Dual Meet at Gorham, November 7—Gorham Normal, 20; Bridgton Academy, 36.

The Cross Country team completed its 1934 season of six runs with but one loss, that victory going to Keene Normal on our own course. Mr. Packard, the faculty coach, piloted the team most efficiently, and the men showed a great spirit of coöperation, both in the runs and in training. The team was characterized as a team and not as individuals, which was displayed by Ray Morton and Ken Twitchell in their hand in hand finishes.

The first meet of the year found the Gorham team on the Bowdoin Campus, where Morton and Twitchell crossed the tape hand in hand for first place. Gardner took fifth, Bean seventh, and Hamblen ninth places.

The following Wednesday found Gorham competing against Hebron Academy on the home course. The Gorham Harriers took another stride toward an undefeated season by overwhelming the visitors from up country by a score of 22 to 35.

On Monday afternoon, October 22nd, Gorham defeated Bridgton Academy, 22 to 35, at Bridgton. Morton and Twitchell again finished hand in hand for first place. This run proved much faster due to the fact that the course was much shorter than our own.

The following Saturday found the Gorham team among the New Hampshire hills at Keene Normal. Though losing first place to Keene, the Gorham team managed to hold another victory in its series with a score of 26 to 29.

Gorham's hopes for an undefeated season were shattered by the invasion of the Keene team the next Saturday. This proved to be one of the most exciting runs of the year as Gorham lost to its visitors by only one point. A course record of 17 minutes, 48 seconds was set in this meet.

The last meet of the season saw Gorham win its fifth victory by defeating Bridgton Academy, 20 to 36, on our home course. This meet saw Captain-elect "Mac" Gardner stepping up in position to finish hand in hand with Morton and Twitchell for a first place tie.

JUNIOR VARSITY SUMMARY

Dual Meet at Gorham, October 24—Gorham Normal, 47; Central York League, 16.

The Gorham Junior Varsity team completed their 1934 season of Cross Country by losing to their respective rivals four exciting and hard-fought runs. Due to inexperience and the new men which chiefly composed the team, many signs of possibilities showed up upon which Mr. Packard can build his next team. After all, score is nothing as compared with the good coöperation and sportsmanship shown by the team.

* Games away.

The first game with Fryeburg Academy was a landslide in score for the baseball fans. Due to the ability of good base running by Tarbox, Webb, and Wardwell, the Academy nine were defeated, 14-4. The second game of the season with Fryeburg was a different story. Fryeburg, still smarting from their first defeat, turned the tale by good hitting, and defeated the Normal team, 12-4.

The following two weeks the Green and White battled the St. Louis High team of Biddeford for two victories. The first game was won at Biddeford, 13-2. The return game at Gorham was a duplicate affair, with the Normal nine winning, 12-7.

The first meeting of the Women's Athletic Association was held in the old gymnasium and was well attended, as all women of the school are members of the W. A. A.

Ella Johnson, the president, took charge of the meeting and explained briefly the purpose of the group, telling also what we do in the line of girls' athletics at Gorham.

Could there be any better stimulus to participate in athletics than the hope of winning the much treasured cup which is awarded each year to the class having the largest total number of units to its credit? These points are earned in hockey, basketball, volley ball, baseball, archery and tennis.

Stars, class numerals, and a green felt monogram on a white background are won by individuals through participation in the games mentioned above.

This year, for the first time, honorary teams are chosen in each sport. These teams are selected from all the girls that are out for that particular sport. It is, therefore, an honor well worth striving for to be chosen on one of these honorary teams.

The interest shown in athletics is due in a large degree to our excellent coach and advisor, Miss Flint, who radiates enthusiasm to such a degree that it is catching.

That cup again!

"We certainly can't lose it to the Juniors," say the Seniors, and go out in earnest to prove it. The Juniors, with as much enthusiasm and spirit, set out to prove that the younger bloods are superior.

Practice began in earnest while the school was still new and a trifle strange to first year girls, while all the old girls had not even a chance to talk over the summer. Practices were great fun; the girls, evenly matched, improved rapidly, each class getting in excellent condition. It was easy to see that no class would win any game without a hard fight. Those scrimmages help to keep that school-girl complexion and figure!

Ground sticks, ground sticks, ground sticks, go! They are off in the first game of the season. Watch out, Juniors, there go the Seniors for the first goal! Fight, Juniors, are you going to let them do that again?

The game was fast, exciting, close, and sportsmanlike all the way through. The Seniors finally managed to squeeze out a victory, but they must win two games out of three before they can claim the championship.

"We simply have to win next time."

"They just can't take another game." "Come on, kids, we've got to fight," are the remarks we hear the Juniors making. That's the spirit, for while there's life there's hope.

Plenty of hard practice, and some good new recruits greatly strengthened the Junior team for the second game. This was going to be a struggle!

The game opened with both sides fully determined to win, so it was nip and tuck all the way through. Look! There is a swing of the stick that is rewarded with a resounding swat that sends the ball towards its goal. Down this way, now that, back and forth the ball races. See how center forward passes to her wing! How wing and inside zigzag it down the field. Watch halfbacks feed the forward line! Beware of those true-to-aim fullbacks. As the end draws nearer each girl tried to play harder, better, faster. Down the forward line would dash, only to be sent back by the opposing fullbacks. Players fell down, jumped up and tore on, lost the ball in the dusk found it again. Imagine the consternation of the Senior team when at the most crucial moment of shoving the ball over the goal line the opposing goaler sat down on it! What a day! What a game! Someone had to win. It was the Seniors' lucky day again.

Basketball season opened with an unusually large number of girls out for practice. Miss Flint and Ethel Chapman, the Councillor, thought the girls would be more interested if they could start playing games immediately. In accordance with this plan, all the girls were divided into teams, and so every girl had an opportunity to participate in games. These chosen teams played a Round Robin Tournament, affording much enjoyment, competition and good practice. Keen interest was the keynote of the successful tournament.

When it came time to choose class teams, it was really a problem because there were so many to choose from. It didn't seem quite fair to leave a great many out who had attended practice so faithfully. The very creditable idea of having Junior and Senior second teams solved this problem.

Junior first and second teams, Senior first and second teams, and Advanced Senior first teams were chosen. The Advanced Seniors deserve especial praise for having spirit and interest enough to have a team, having so very few to choose from. Although they were not a winning team, they made more games possible and were an asset all around.

The games were all interesting to watch and exciting to take part in. Good basketball was played in all of them, keeping the referee busy running back and forth. The Advanced Seniors were defeated by the Juniors and Seniors, the Juniors were defeated by the Seniors, who again walked away with the laurels.

The girls coming out for volley ball were divided into teams which played a tournament. The class teams were chosen from these tournament teams.

The class games were as close and exciting as could be asked for. The first game was a tie, so in order to find the winner two more games were played. The Seniors won the first, but the Juniors rallied their forces and took over the next game, so the scores were tied again. In a five-minute overtime play the Juniors won, making them the champions of volley ball.

BASEBALL

Who's up to bat? Junior, Senior, or Advanced Senior? There's sure to be plenty of action on the field anyway. Last year the Juniors carried off the cup, and will they fight to get it again! Not only is it surprising to see how far these slight girls can bat the ball, but also how fast these fat girls can get around the bases.

It's easy to see how much baseball is enjoyed by the girls when they play both after supper and after school, in order to determine the winners. After spring vacation there are so many activities going on the poor Seniors will be hard pressed for time, but it is a safe guess that they will be out to hold their own in the series of games to be played for the cup.

TENNIS

Two ladder tournaments were carried on this fall. There was a tournament for Beginners and Advanced players. The Beginners' tournament was won by Anna Burke, a Junior, while Glennis Flint, a Senior, was the runner-up. While this tournament was not extremely active, it showed interest among the prospective tennis players.

The Advanced Seniors took all the honors in the Advanced tournament as Ella Johnson was the winner and Avis Hinds was the runner-up.

It is expected that there will be a good spring tennis season in which there will be many participants.

ARCHERY

Archery is a popular sport in Gorham in both fall and spring. Many so-called Robinhoods are seen practicing on the field. At the close of the season a Beginners' and an Advanced tournament are played. Last fall Sonia Cohen won the Advanced tournament and Margery Johnson, the Beginners' tournament. The spring season may tell another story.

REPORTS OF NEW YORK CONVENTION

The opportunity to actually attend a conference of this sort is a rare privilege and one which cannot be over appreciated. Its difference lies in the fact that every student delegates to the success of the discussions by stating his own or his school's ideas and problems. In this way a constructive discussion is held in that other student delegates receive these ideas and problems solutions and carry them back to their schools.

The two student meetings this year were based on topics decided upon by means of preliminary conferences held for that express purpose.

The first student assembly, which dealt with Student Elections and Student Committee Assignments, and the Raising and Disbursing of Student Funds, was extremely interesting and it produced numerous facts which were worth bringing home to you.

Our chairman, Dr. Suhrie, introduced the first topic by saying that faulty elections are demoralizing and that they should be avoided by using approved methods. In this way they will become educative.

There were many excellent ideas presented and I sincerely hope that I have reported them in such a way as to instigate the incorporation of them into our own school curriculum.

JOHN HAM.

The second student meeting was held Saturday morning in the small ballroom of the Hotel Pennsylvania with Dr. Suhrie presiding. The topics discussed were Student Activity Program and Student Assemblies. Several new ideas were introduced that certainly have a place in the program of Gorham Normal School.

In many schools the organizations have more common interests than we. This is partly due to the works of the student council and partly to their coöperation when working on some big project. It seems that we, too, can have that coöperation if we adopt the plan of having a common organization fund to be distributed by the Civic Committee.

The address of the meeting was given by Mr. Rosco L. West, president of the State Teachers' College at Trenton, New Jersey. He said that student activity programs should lead to a more complete living and should be based on the general objective of all teacher-training institutions—the training of teachers. When this principle is applied to our social program, our athletic program, and our scholastic program, then will we be able to overcome minority participation and work for the good of all. He said the four objectives of any normal school or teachers' college should be the following:

1. To develop the cultural and liberal life of the student;
2. To develop a command of subject matter;
3. To develop a knowledge of children;
4. To develop personality traits and personal qualities that go to make desirable citizens.

A convention of this type is not only profitable to the few who attend but to the school as well; for it helps Gorham Normal School take her place at the head of the other teacher-training institutions of the country.

- October 6.* The Alpha Lambda Beta Fraternity opens the dancing season at G. N. S. for this year.
- October 8.* The Dramatic Club hold their initiation banquet in the East Hall dining-room. New club members, have you those speeches memorized?
- October 10.* Dr. Russell explains to the student body the purpose of Superintendents' and Principals' Day.
- October 10.* Junior Varsity vs. Thornton Academy. Cross Country. Good start and finish.
- October 11.* Miss Andrews chooses the orchestra members for the coming year.
- October 12.* Cross Country run at Bowdoin.
- October 12.* Again Outdoor Club picnic hike is postponed.
- October 15.* All those who plan to go to Maine Teachers' Association Convention pay their dollar to-day.
- October 15.* The pictures of the Junior Class on sale.
- October 16.* We've not been singing our hymns just right, so Miss Andrews gives us a lesson. Now see if we do better next time.
- October 16.* Question: How do all the fellows working in the shop know about the World Series Games so soon? Answer: They imported a radio expressly for that purpose.

OCTOBER—Continued

- October 16.* Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Earle Achorn went hunting and brought home a partridge.
- October 16.* Dr. Russell excuses Seeley Friday so he can get some new glasses, which break on Monday. Try rubber ones next time!
- October 17.* Hebron vs. Gorham. Cross Country. Still going good.
- October 17.* Mr. Woodward talks at the Training School on Constitution Day.
- October 17.* Soft ball baseball leagues for both boys and girls are being formed at the Junior High School.

- December 19.* Christmas Cantata.
- December 20.* Miss Lewis speaks at Christmas Y. W. meeting
- December 21.* We start home to spend Christmas.

JANUARY

- January 2.* Many empty seats in chapel tell the mournful tale of snowbound students who made vain attempts to attend classes.
- January 4.* Gorham Normal School vs. Fryeburg Academy at Fryeburg, 31-34.
- January 5.* Inter-Fraternity dance held in Center. Music furnished by "Keith's Rhythm Makers."
- January 10.* Dr. Edwards, State Director of Physical Education, speaks in chapel on Education in Maine.
- January 11.* Varsity vs. Bridgton Academy. Good basketball.
- January 12.* The Massachusetts Club gives a check dance in Center, 2c a couple, please.
- January 15.* Cornish High School vs. Junior Varsity. Excitement between halves provided by a game between the Juniors and the Advanced Seniors. We suggest helmets and shoulder guards for future games.
- January 18.* Gorham Varsity vs. Salem Teachers' College at Salem.
- January 18.* Girls aren't the only ones who have been known to skip out. Ask Buster how he happened to be caught creeping up the stairs with his shoes in his hand.
- January 19.* Gorham Varsity defeated by Keene Normal School at Keene.
- January 19.* The Outdoor Club sponsors a dance in Center.
- January 26.* Lights Out!—Lights Out, please! Aw, have a heart! It's exam time again.

- January 31.* The quarter changes.
- January 31.* The GREEN AND WHITE Board hold a banquet in East Hall dining-room. Banquet delayed by Althea Cushing and the Mr. Dooleys. Later discovered in the East Hall Reception Room!

FEBRUARY

- February 1.* Dr. Russell gives a brief résumé of the history of Gorham Normal School on this, the fifty-sixth anniversary of the opening of our school.
- February 2.* Gorham Normal School vs. Salem Teachers' College. Junior Varsity vs. Buxton High School. Both good games. The Massachusetts Club entertains the basketball boys after the game.
- February 3.* Miss Harris will eat fish but not venison, and this is her reason: "The fish can decide whether he wants to bite the hook. The deer has no choice whatsoever."
- February 4.* Is it a marcel, Mervin? Why comb it out?
- February 4.* The faculty gives Miss Upton a kitchen shower.
- February 6.* The Dramatic Club makes a hit with "Henry Tells the Truth."
- February 7.* Dr. Russell confesses to his class that to-day he was conscious for the first time.
- February 8.* The Civic Committee undertakes the work of polishing our manners. Shall we wear jewelry to class?
- February 12.* All class officers elected.
- February 12.* In chapel, the Knox County Club presents "From the Soul of Abe Lincoln," written by Mrs. Edith Walker and Miss Ann Asquith.
- February 15.* Gorham Varsity vs. Portland University. Are we proud of our team?
- February 16.* Mr. Wieden is the happiest man in Gorham, and all because the Junior Varsity defeated Gorham High School last night.
- February 16.* The Library Club held a Valentine Dance in Center.
- February 19.* The Muscanto Trio presents compositions from well-known composers.
- February 20.* The Girls' Glee Club of the Junior High School give us a treat in Chapel.
- February 20.* Emily Stiles firmly believes that if Denmark is noted for its dairy products, one would see a lot of pigs there.
- February 21.* Dr. Russell leaves to attend an educational convention held in Atlantic City.
- February 21.* Miss Hastings comes to Chapel with one overshoe and one rubber on.
- February 22.* The National Honor Society Club presents Chapel program. A fine broadcast!
- February 22.* "Lollipops! Lollipops! Who wants a lollipop?" is the cry of the Art Club.
- February 22.* Many graduates visit us to-day.
- February 23.* Library Club food sale. Everyone come and buy a cake that Miss Jencks made herself!
- February 23.* What has come over our faculty? Miss Pike was seen with one glove and one mitten on.
- February 24.* Earle Achorn makes another announcement in Chapel.
- February 24.* The faculty gives Miss Upton a birthday party in East Hall dining-room.
- February 25.* Dick Barbour was so overcome by the charms of Ruth Bailey that he forgot his music class.
- February 27.* Mrs. Burrill fell down five times on the way to school. She said so!

MARCH

- March 1-2.* The Annual Small Schools Basketball Tournament was held. Cape Elizabeth came forth the winner.
- March 1.* Dr. Russell tells us of the new Normal school at Trenton, New Jersey. We're all going to transfer next year.
- March 1.* Mr. Ham takes the English Methods class to visit the Lincoln Junior High School in Portland.
- March 3.* The faculty gives Miss Hastings a birthday party, which was held in East Hall dining-room.
- March 4.* The Y. W. C. A. presents a candelight service in Chapel.
- March 5.* "Come to see the volley ball game between the Bops and the Cops. Admission—2 for 5," announces Monroe Bean.
- March 5.* "Silence, Please!" reads the new sign outside the Library door.
- March 6.* Miss Keene's Industrial Arts Classes have turned constructive and have built sand tables. The fishing village is a real New England inspiration.
- March 9.* The girls played against the boys in a game of indoor baseball. After the game everyone comes over to Center to dance.
- March 10.* Miss Lewis goes home to spend her birthday.
- March 11.* Miss Sleeper was seen walking around the halls with a flag of Bulgaria pinned to her back. Was Mervin responsible?
- March 11.* Mr. Wieden appears with a new pair of rubbers.
- March 12.* Dr. Russell tells us of the convention he attended in Atlantic City.
- March 13.* Ranks for the second quarter are out.
- March 13.* Who is responsible for the mouse secreted in Dr. Russell's drawer?
- March 14.* An atmosphere of mystery pervades the school. What does Dr. Russell want of those people he asked to stand in Chapel?
- March 15.* One of the Y. W. C. A. groups present the "Cure All" in Center.
- March 15.* The student body elect John Ham and Frances Huse as our delegates to the Eastern States Conference.
- March 16.* The Massachusetts Club holds a St. Patrick's Dance in Center. It lasted till 11 P. M. Just feature that!
- March 18.* If you want an A in Literature, just bring Miss Lewis a dust cloth, and you're all set.
- March 21.* Spring is here!
- March 23.* A Barnyard Dance given by the Knox County Club.
- March 27.* The Junior Primary Rhythm Band entertain the faculty and students in Chapel.
- March 27.* Miss Upton buys a new automobile. What have you named it, Miss Upton?

APRIL

- April 1.* Semester exams. What do we care, though, only four more days to vacation.
- April 4.* "In An Antique Shop" was presented by the combined Glee Clubs. Excellent entertainment.
- April 4.* Buster Webb, wearing a very red face, presented the basketball men with their letters. The graduating team gave Paul Flaherty an award.
- April 5.* Vacation. Home again!
- April 15.* Back once more and ready for the best quarter of the year.
- April 18.* An Easter Chapel Program was presented by the Dramatic Club.
- April 19.* Patriot's Day. No school.
- April 23.* The combined Bird Study classes presented a Chapel Program.
- April 24.* Miss Lewis gave a style show exclusively for members of the GREEN AND WHITE Board. We all liked the dress.
- April 25.* Mildred Stevens must have a grudge against Mr. Wieden. When told that Murder was always played at the GREEN AND WHITE Board Party, she asked, "Is Mr. Wieden coming?"
- April 27.* GREEN AND WHITE Board held its annual party at the home of Eleanor Parker. Mr. Wieden was not murdered, but Miss Lewis was!

MAY

- May 1.* Chapel Program presented by Outdoor Club depicted May Festivals.
- May 2.* Maybe it's just a coincidence that Sam and Norman should arrive for breakfast at six, but we think Beanie knows more about it than he should.
- May 3.* The Double Mixed Quartette broadcasted over WCSH.
- May 3.* G. N. S. won the first baseball game of the season over Fryeburg.
- May 6.* Many went to the State Theatre to hear the Male Quartette take part in an amateur program.
- May 7.* The Male Quartette won third third place, so everyone met in Robie Hall Library to hear them sing over the radio.
- May 8.* G. N. S. versus Bridgton Academy. Better luck next time.
- May 9.* Who is going to have the measles for the May Dance?
- May 10.* Mother's Day Chapel Program presented by the Poetry Club.
- May 11.* In a galaxy of rainbow colors the festive occasion of the year took place. The annual May Ball was held in Russell Hall.
- May 11.* G. N. S. versus St. Louis team of Biddeford.
- May 12.* Poetry Club Program repeated by request.
- May 15.* Baseball team of Keene came to Gorham for a 12-inning win, 5-4.
- May 18.* The Poetry Lovers of Miss Lewis' distinguished club were suddenly brought to reality as they plunged into the cold waters of Sebago Lake where they went on their annual picnic.
- May 18.* G. N. S. played a return game with Fryeburg Academy.
- May 22.* G. N. S. versus Portland University.
- May 24.* The Library Club must have its turn, too. Today they held their Spring Picnic.
- May 25.* The baseball boys journeyed to Keene for the final game of the season.
- May 29.* House Committee presented a very suitable Memorial Day Chapel Program.
- May 30.* Memorial Day. Outdoor Club Picnic was held at Old Orchard Beach, and sore noses and backs were the main results. What do we care? We had a grand time.

JUNE

- June 1.* Glee Club ended a successful year by going to Portland on a Theatre Party.
- June 2.* At the end of the House Committee's Treasure Hunt was not a pot of gold, but a basket of nourishing eatables. The hunt was very successfully led by Barbara Fisher.
- June 4.* Chapel Program sponsored by the Massachusetts Club.
- June 8.* Sunburns and shiny noses are now seen on all the girls because the Fraternities have just had their annual outings.
- June 14.* All Juniors rode merrily home for the summer.
- June 15.* The busiest day of the year for the Seniors. Alumni Banquet at noon in East Hall dining-room.
- June 15.* Reception and Tea given by Dr. and Mrs. Russell.
- June 15.* Senior Play, "The Lamp and the Bell," was presented in Russell Hall.
- May 16.* Mr. Stewart preached a very interesting Baccalaureate Sermon.
- June 17.* The dawn of this day brought about the grand finale in the careers of the Seniors at G. N. S.
