DEDICATED to the future...

We dedicate this twenty-third volume of the GREEN AND WHITE to the future of Gorham Normal School. Here are our reasons.

Our school is in its sixty-second year. During this time it has been noted for its high scholastic standing among other Normal schools. When it was founded in 1879 by Dr. Corthell, it had as its curriculum a two-year course with ninety-seven students enrolled. Today we have an enrollment of three hundred and twenty-five future teachers. The "School on the Hill" is climbing upward under the able guidance of its past and present leaders and is being successful in its aim to serve Youth.

We hope to preserve the ideals of Gorham Normal School that have been instilled in us during our training. We hope to return to our school in the future and be able to find in it and among its students the same friendly spirit. While we are here and when we are on our own in the professional world, we shall always be striving to widen our scope of knowledge and influence.

We have all added four new friends to our circle this year. We feel sure that under their guidance, we shall attain the standards set up for us—loyalty, honor, and friendship. Dr. Francis Bailey, our principal, with the aid of our faculty and its new members, Dr. Eleanor Duley, Dean of Women, Mr. Raymond Bassett, Dean of Men, and Mr. Richard Savage, head of the Industrial Arts Department for the State of Maine, will continue to improve our school. With the hope and strength of youth we shall soar upward and reach for the heights.

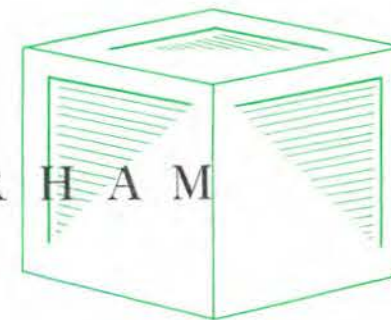

So, here's to the future of our school.

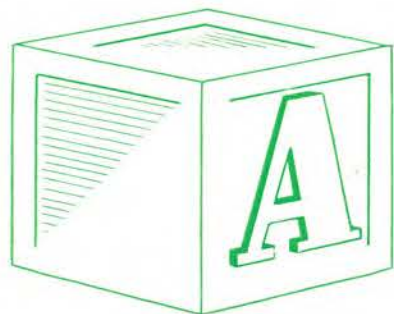

Here's to the new members of the faculty. Long may they teach their well formed ideals. "One at a time, two at a time, we're all of us friends together, that is Gorham Normal's way."

If we were to make a lesson plan on the dedication of this volume of the GREEN AND WHITE, it would look like this:

- Subject: Dedication of the GREEN AND WHITE.
Topic: The future of Gorham Normal School.
Classes: All those to come.
Type: You guess.
Our Aim: To preserve the ideals of our school.
Your Aim: To accept these ideals instilled in us by our faculty.
To become a friend of the new faculty members.
To do your best to help in the improvement of our school.
To support social and athletic activities.
- Results Expected:
That you will attend Chapel regularly.
That the alumni will return frequently, especially on Back to Gorham Day.
That you will raise even higher the standard of the "School on the Hill".
That you will turn back these pages and remember the happy times in preparing to teach.
- Bibliography:
The past, present, and future history of G. N. S.
- Summary: The GREEN AND WHITE is yours for criticism and for approval.

G O R H A M

In the creation of this volume of the GREEN AND WHITE, custom has inevitably predetermined our work. Yet we have made changes, keeping in mind that nothing is too good for Gorham Normal School. We have hoped, planned, and worked to give you the "Best Year Book Ever". If we have succeeded, we are more than satisfied.

During the past school year, 1940-1941, we have witnessed a number of changes made in our school including faculty, students, and property. Most of these changes have resulted in greater convenience and happiness for us. We have made note of these changes, taken pictures of them, and now give them to you bound up in this book. Our collection is by no means complete. Many incidents have slipped by unrecorded, but we feel that we have included those which will serve to recall others. Not only have we noted the changes, but also those activities which take place each year without which our school would be incomplete.

We welcome the new members of our faculty and hope that they are as pleased with us as we are with them. We are sure that they will stay and play a part in the future of this institution. The girls especially welcome the kind and careful guidance of our new Dean, Dr. Duley. The athletic department and the N. Y. A. workers are enthusiastic in their welcome to Mr. Bassett, our instructor who has interesting arguments in Economics, Tests and Measures, and Sociology. Mr. Savage has already received his welcome by the shop boys and students.

We greet the Freshmen. What do you think of our school? You were a fine looking industrious group when we first saw you, and you have fulfilled all requirements. We hope that you will take an active part in the organizations and become leaders in our activities.

We also greet the members of the fourth year class who have come back with us to work for a degree. Good luck in your teaching career!

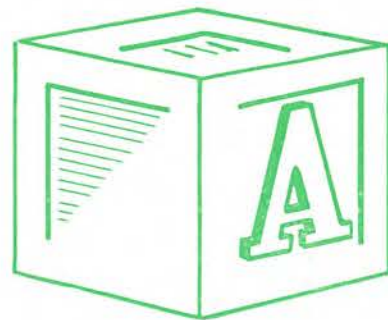

Our years of teacher training are those which we will always want to have close to us. In the present and future, we hope that you will derive a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction by looking through the pages of this volume.

DEMONSTRATION

Miss Hastings, Director of Observation

On the fringe of the Gorham Normal School Campus we find the Demonstration School. Indeed, it should stand close to the Normal School for it is closely integrated with our student life here. It is in this building that through the Observation classes of Miss Hastings and efficiency of Mr. Anderson, we are introduced to the intricacies and difficulties of putting into practice the methods we are taught in the classrooms. Later some of us return here to do our student teaching under the ever patient and helpful Demonstration School staff.

The Demonstration School is a two-story brick building sheltering children from the four-year-olds in Kindergarten to the, so thought, grown-up ninth graders.

In this school we find the blending of the modern and traditional trends in education. Its teachers are willing to accept the approved new and yet not ready to do away with traditional, just because it is old in years. Here are seen children's activities in projects.

One such activity can be seen in Miss Frost's fifth grade room, where the children with the help of their teacher, have redecorated their library corner. They did a neat and attractive piece of work using barrels, cloth, paint, and a little work. The materials were bought with money that the children saved from apple sales.

A new development of education that has become prominent here this year is visual education. Through Mr. Anderson's efforts this efficient method has progressed from an academic theory to an accepted classroom practice.

Another project, that is carried on very successfully, is the hot noon lunches which are prepared and served under the capable supervision of Miss Littlefield with the aid of the girls training there.

ART - MUSIC - EDUCATION

When we came to Gorham Normal School, we entered with the ambition to become successful teachers. Little did we know of the various subjects we were to take. During our study here we have realized the importance of these courses.

Our Freshman year we had loads of fun creating paper furniture, carving soap images, and pasting color wheels. We improved our handwriting and learned how to cook lunches. In our Sophomore that our future school reporters for Journalism were discovered. How nervous we were when it was time to speak before the class in Oral English! We studied Library Science and collected pictures for Children's Literature.

Little did we know of the stars and our earth until we took the course in Science. We learned how to make a barometer for year, we built sandtables, made notebooks, valuable desk sets, trays and jewelry, and studied famous artists. Some of us learned to harmonize and play a tune on an instrument.

Music was one of our favorite periods, but wasn't it hard to transpose "America"! There we learned how to use the pitch pipe, conduct a group, and appreciate our best composers and their music.

We received valuable training in word study and grammar. It was in this course our class room, how to identify rocks and birds, and how to read the heavens.

We also studied nature and spent valuable time in Biology.

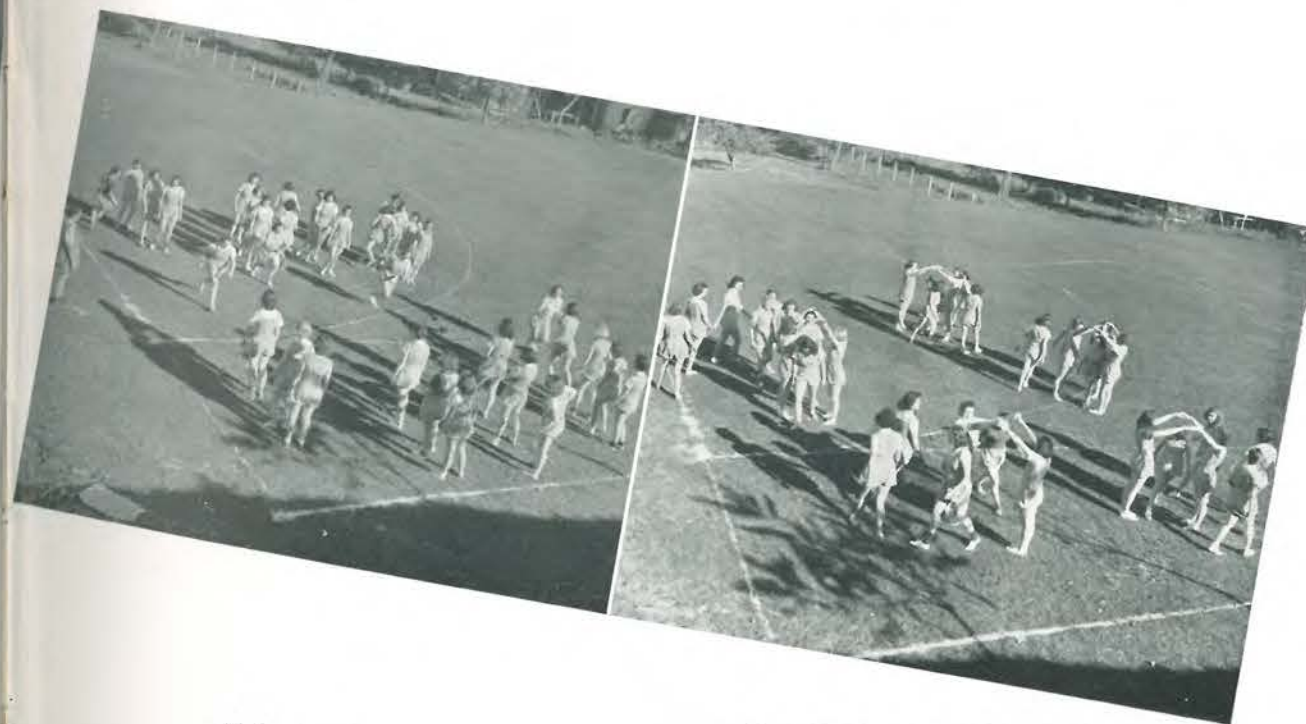

In Observation we learned the value of a lesson plan, in Psychology studied the child, and in K. T. collected useful material. In I. T. we met the fathers of education. In Tests and Measures we interpreted results. Then practice teaching increased our knowledge of Child Psychology.

Taking a trip around the world

Teach your pupils the fundamentals and give them plenty of practice in these processes. We have learned to teach our pupils only the necessary and useful arithmetic. First we have to check up on ourselves. Primary Arithmetic, Advanced Arithmetic for the intermediate and upper grades, Geometry, Algebra, Trigonometry, and Calculus were studied by the majority in mathematics.

All of us took a trip around the world and knew the history of our state, country, and Europe. We all found out what constitutes a group in Sociology as well as the causes of divorce and the kinds and methods of propaganda. The law of diminishing returns is familiar to us from our course in Economics. Some of us studied Political History and learned about our government and that of other countries, while others improved their knowledge of the Bible in Bible Study.

Those of us in the Industrial Arts course spent most of our time in the Machine Shop, Drawing, Forging, Printing, studying Electricity, Metal, Cabinet, and Bench Work. Mathematics was important as well as Student Teaching.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS - PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education played an important part in our stay at Gorham. Twice a week during our Freshman and Sophomore years we rushed over to the gym for our exercise, dancing, games, showers, and student teaching. Here we learned how to play and teach games, how to dance, and above all how to be a good sport. We spent many careful hours on the tennis court learning how to serve a cannon ball and return a smash. In the spring and fall we played hockey, archery, and soccer. Softball proved that we had able athletes.

Boys practiced first aid and played touch football. In the winter most of the time was spent in the gym playing basketball or practicing for the games. Volleyball and badminton were fun to play. Most of us tried out for the track and baseball teams and although we didn't all succeed, our team did.

FRANCIS L. BAILEY, PRINCIPAL

This year we returned to school and were greeted by our new principal, Dr. Francis L. Bailey, whose quick flashing smile, sense of justice, and good fellowship soon won him the friendship of the entire student body. Dr. Bailey was for nine years the State Commissioner of Education in Vermont where he was successful in raising the standards of Normal Schools and teacher certification. His preliminary education was received at Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, which at that time was a Normal School. From there he went to the University of Michigan and then did graduate work at the University of Chicago. He received his Doctor's degree at Columbia after two years of graduate work. For his Ph. D. he wrote a book entitled, "A Planned Supply of Teachers for Vermont."

Dr. Bailey's major in college was mathematics, but later he studied administration and teacher preparation, particularly for rural schools. He taught for several years with Superintendent Washburn in the well-known progressive school at Winnetka, Illinois. In this school each child works at his own rate and not one fails. The program is enriched for the child so that he will progress at his own rate in mastering the tool subjects, and not graduate too young. The Winnetka plan is unique in that there are no report cards sent home.

Our principal believes that the ultimate aim of education should be a well-rounded, socially healthy individual. In order to achieve that end he is trying to balance the student's classroom activity with a wholesome, happy social life. Proof of this is shown in his support of the skating rink and our entertainments.

Our principal's pride is his young son, Douglas, who is a familiar figure on the campus and may be seen in his father's office practically every day during the sixth period. Mrs. Bailey is an accomplished musician and has accompanied at several of our musicals. Students and faculty are always welcome visitors at the Bailey home.

Dr. Bailey is the type of educator who is so interested in his work that he makes it his avocation as well. As a graduate student he was President of the Men's Educational Council and interested in student government. As an educator he has been connected with Scout work, Y. M. C. A. work, and active in the Rotary Club's community service program. He is a member of the National Committees on Teacher Preparation, Supply, and Certification, Publications of Rural Department, and Membership of Rural Department. He is Past President of Rural Department of National Education and Past Secretary of Chief State School officials. The Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Phi claim him as an honorary member. His other hobbies, when time permits, are such outdoor activities as hunting, fishing, and hiking.

DR. WALTER E. RUSSELL

Dr. Russell, our friend and adviser who comes to visit us often, is always willing to have alumni and students drop in for a chat at his new home. A man of broad interests and tireless energy, he has been lecturing on education at Bowdoin College. During the year our former Principal advised us how and why we should develop character in our future pupils and gave an interesting history of education in Maine for the Maine History class.

He has dedicated his life to generous and unselfish service. A man of vision, he has seen his dream of a fourth year come true. Dr. Russell is active in his profession and in the civic affairs of his community and is a guide, philosopher, and friend to all of us.

GEORGE A. BROWN

The retirement of Mr. Brown after thirty-one years of teaching brings mingled feelings of pleasure and regret; pleasure that a Gorham graduate should have such a splendid record, regret that he is leaving us.

Mr. Brown was born in New Gloucester, but at a very early age his family moved to Westbrook, where he attended school. After graduation from Gorham Normal he became shop instructor here. In nineteen hundred and thirty he became faculty sponsor of the Alpha Lambda Beta Fraternity. He has ever been a friend to all his students.

His hobbies are gardening and reading. He is devoted to his family of which he is particularly proud. He has seven children, of whom six attended Gorham Normal. Four of his children have an accumulative record of forty years of successful teaching.

Today Mr. Brown stands at the very peak of his career, highly respected by all of his students, past and present, who see not only his outward virtues, quiet dignity, cheerful optimism, and sincerity, but also his deeper qualities, his vision and his steadfastness of purpose.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Discussing new rules

CIVIC COMMITTEE

OFFICERS

Chairman	CONSTANCE FURBUSH
Vice Chairman	RAY AUSTIN
Secretary	MILDRED DOAKE
Faculty Advisors	MISS HASTINGS
	MISS UPTON
	MR. PACKARD

The Civic Committee, advisory student governing body at Gorham Normal School, meets at noon on alternate Thursdays to discuss matters both of routine school activities and major social events.

It assumes the responsibility for making preparations for Superintendents' and Principals' Day, Back-To-Gorham Day, and Etiquette or Citizenship Week. Its membership is composed of one representative from each organization and each class division in the school. Freshmen are allowed to enter at the beginning of the second semester.

One of its important duties is the drawing up of slates of candidates for delegates to the Boston and New York Conventions to be submitted to the vote of the student body. The delegates elected this year for the New York Convention were Keith Crockett, Senior, Betty Leach, Junior, and Richard Marsh, Sophomore.

This year as previously, the group has realized a large measure of success in executing its program. Superintendents' Day held in November was under the general supervision of Constance Furbush, able Committee Chairman. Back-To-Gorham Day met equal success under the direction of Alec Cumming. Etiquette Week, kept in January, achieved its worthy purpose of making the student body more conscious of the importance of school etiquette and good citizenship on the campus. Also, through the work of the Civic Committee it is possible for various organizations to arrange for the presentation of Chapel programs on special occasions. A program to welcome new members to the school is held the first day of the school year. Other groups appear throughout the year. A committee has been named to take care of the Recreation Room and to see that the rules are obeyed.

The Civic Committee

The House Committee

This year the Civic Committee is looking forward to broadening its scope of governmental influence. More duties have been entrusted to its care. At present, it is investigating the various types of student government used in other schools of our type in an effort to become a more efficient governing body.

Members:

J. Castellucci, L. Pelton, D. Meserve, J. Farwell, F. Libby, C. Welch, A. Wakefield, E. Sprowl, R. Davis, L. Whittemore, E. Hodgkins, E. Shevlin, V. Hall, E. Libby, L. Pillsbury, E. Davis, B. Robinson, J. Tibbetts, P. Tibbetts, A. Cumming, D. McCarthy, C. Campbell, M. Doe, D. Durgin, F. Griffith, B. Leach, L. Nadeau, M. Loubier, I. Berry, L. Lary, J. Bowman, P. James, R. Robinson, A. Montebello, P. Hart, and M. Storer.

Acting as the student governing body of the girls' dormitories the House Committee performs many and varied duties. Each semester the membership of the committee changes according to the will of the students. The members for the first semester of this school year were: President, Ernestine Davis; Vice President, Irene Berry; Secretary, Jeanette Farwell; Members, B. Blanchard, M. Loubier, M. Doak, M. Doe, P. DeCoster, G. White, P. Dyer, and C. Lewis. At the end of the semester Dr. Duley, our Dean and advisor, gave these members a banquet. This has been Dr. Duley's first year with us and we feel that we have progressed and accomplished much under her able leadership.

"Don't pose now!"

Every Wednesday during the Club Period, a group of students rush to room one. These are the students behind your yearbook. They may be late in attending the editorial meeting, but they are always punctual in distributing the long waited for copies.

This year the members of the board became acquainted at one of the famous murder parties. Miss Lewis was murdered and obliged with her customary gurgling yell. Some members say that even though Mr. Bassett was the detective, he was also the murderer. We'll leave that decision up to you. The game of identifying hand drawn cartoons was played. Sorry to say, a few of us discovered that a cheater never wins. Miss Lewis' famous cake was served and thanks to luck we all attended classes in the morning. We want to recommend to you our record breaking dishwashers—Etzel and "Duke."

The board members under faculty guidance have worked diligently in order to present you with a bigger and better yearbook. We hope that it meets with your approval and that you will spend many future happy hours turning back its pages.

"Just tell us what you want and we'll give it to you", has been the motto of the Oracle board this year. They have worked hard to give us an interesting lively quarterly, and we have waited eagerly for every copy. In each issue we have noticed many innovations—the clever use of song titles in describing both students and faculty—the lesson plan whose, "Results expected" (radios in the dorm) have been realized—the timely editorials—and more student and faculty pictures.

Distributing copies

Did you know the Oracle has become a member of the Associated Collegiate Press? Each issue of the paper is sent to this organization where it is judged with papers of other schools, and valuable and helpful suggestions are made. The A. C. P. also sends articles of general interest which can be used in our paper. In addition to that, the Exchange Department gives us news and views and sometimes humor from other Normal Schools and Teachers Colleges who in turn hear from us. This department also keeps track of our Alumni telling us of their whereabouts and their successes.

The Women's Glee Club is that black-dressed, white-collared and cuffed group of singers led by jovial and enthusiastic Miss Andrews, but don't let their black dresses fool you. This organization is one of the most active and happiest on the campus. They enjoy to the utmost their theatre parties and concerts.

The Women's Glee Club

After new members had been secured, they went right to work to prepare a program for Superintendents' Day. On the day before Thanksgiving recess they combined with the Men's Glee Club to present a Thanksgiving Service in Song, and later contributed much to the success of the Christmas Cantata with Irene Perreault as soloist. A few weeks later they combined with the Men's Glee Club to present a delightful radio program.

"The Evening of Music" of the year before was such a success that Miss Andrews decided to make it an annual affair.

Those weird noises emanating from Miss Andrews' room Tuesday noons are not students bemoaning their ranks. It is the Men's Glee Club. It is one of the wonders of the school that those noises become sweet harmony under the direction of Miss Andrews, but it's true. The club started the year by warming up the old tunes and learning new ones for Superintendents' Day when they appeared with the Women's Glee Club and the Orchestra. When Thanksgiving rolled around, they combined with the girls again to present a "Thanksgiving Service in Song". During the next month they entered into the spirit of Christmas by doing their share in presenting the Cantata. "Van" did an excellent piece of work in singing the Lord's Prayer. Shortly after Christmas they sang over the radio on "Maine Schools on the Air". The formal concert presented with Katherine Hatch Graffam as guest artist came in March and was a grand success.

The members of this club form one big happy family under the able guidance of Miss Lewis. The activities are many and varied. A stunt party was held in the fall. During the Yuletide season, Christmas boxes were sent to needy schools and a successful tea was held at Lowellcrest.

Poets at Christmas

A program at the Women's Club of Gorham, and one at the Demonstration School were given in February. The most important activity of the club was the reading by Mrs. Dagmar Potholm Petersen of the famous play, "Victoria Regina".

Ten minutes of each meeting is devoted to the study of a poem chosen by the chairman. The purpose of the club this year is to provide able instruction in choric reading for teacher training and enjoyment.

The snow sculpture, "Puss in Boots", won the first prize for the poets. Our carnival queen, Barbara Blanchard, is a member of the club.

This year the Art Club has a long list of ardent members and future artists. The year's activities were started off in a unique way by having a Treasure Hunt. This aroused much interest and gave the club a good start. Early in the year, a committee was selected to submit a list of projects that might be carried out. Their list included such projects as metal etching, work with sponges and cork, jewelry making, Egyptian Card weaving, Japanese prints, block prints, and many other craft projects.

An exhibition of Japanese prints was held during February in the Art Room. Members of the club took charge of the exhibition at noon. Students of the Training School were guests of the club during the interesting exhibition. At several meetings during the year different members have given special reports on subjects that interested them and that they thought would be of interest to the club as a whole. These reports seemed to be quite successful and shall be continued. Miss Gwen Dahl is the faculty advisor. Dorothy McCarthy is the representative to the Civic Committee.

Every Friday during the Club Period members of the school may be seen rushing to room six where the Dramatic Club meets. A new idea was born this year when it was decided to produce one-act plays for the purpose of giving more club members first-hand experience with actual play production. The performances were not open to the public, but were for the purpose of providing entertainment for the weekly meetings as well as experience for the members in coaching plays and managing costumes and properties. The art of makeup was also carefully studied with actual demonstration taking place. With the help of these plays and the timely hints and suggestions of their advisor, the members feel that they will be able to direct plays in a more efficient manner in the future.

The annual banquet was held in the fall. Everyone feasted and had an enjoyable evening. The Freshmen members of the club showed their ability in a one-act play.

Under the direction of Mr. Sloat as Coach, Ernestine Davis as Assistant Coach, and "Larry" Pelton as Chairman of Production, the club successfully presented "American Passport", a very modern and realistic comedy.

Members of the Library Club are so enthusiastic about their work that they decided this year to meet once a week instead of every other week as was their previous policy. Every Monday night at 6:45 the group gathers in Robie Hall Reception Room to discuss current literature, both fiction and non-fiction. The basis for their discussion is the magazine "Omnibook", to which the club subscribes. It usually contains reviews of five best sellers from which reports are made. This is by no means their entire program, however. In the fall they enjoyed a picnic at Alden's Pond and a church supper at South Gorham. Of special interest was the dinner meeting at which Mrs. Dorothy Wadman of the Porteous, Mitchell & Braun book department spoke.

During book week they gave us a unique Chapel program, which was an adaptation of the play "Book Week's Birthday Party". They also showed their versatility by entering the Winter Carnival's Snow Sculpturing Contest.

At a special meeting they entertained the fifth grade from the Demonstration School.

One of their most delightful meetings was the one held in East Hall Reception Room at which Miss Eames gave an illustrated lecture on her Florida trip.

There are few organizations on our campus that can boast of a set of higher ideals or a group of more loyal members than can Gorham Normal's Y. M. C. A. chapter. Though their membership doesn't include an exceedingly large number, its enthusiasm is all the more an intensive one.

This year the members have adopted a new program of activities. It consists of regular scheduled meetings, special functions, and various special school activities.

Student-Faculty conference

Each month two regular meetings are held. One is given to serious devotion or enlightenment led by an invited guest. The other is a brief business meeting followed by an evening of active sport and recreation in the school gymnasium. These sport periods have added many sparks of fun to the organization.

To subsidize the financial necessities of their services, they give their time and effort in selling candy bars for the student snatches. Candy is always obtainable at school games and during class hours at the Print Shop. This is but one of their special functions.

Exemplary of their school activities was their chapel devotional and typical meeting portrayal which they carried out during one daily school chapel exercise.

Being affiliated with the county unit, these young men are entitled to free access to the Portland chapter's facilities at their "Y" Building. They have taken advantage of these benefits on various occasions.

These men extend to Mr. Packard their sincere gratitude for the time and effort he has cheerfully given.

This active organization is responsible for the helpful get-together enjoyed by newcomers and old-hands alike at the beginning of the school year. Sponsor of many worthwhile activities, outside the "Y" as well as within, the group is to be congratulated on the friendly and coöperative spirit of its members in all that it does. Such a spirit is proof of its applied aims, and such is the spirit we need more of in the school today.

During the year many speakers appeared before the group and contributed much to its enjoyment and value. Dr. Duley, Mr. Woodward, Miss Lewis, and Dr. Russell have been among the speakers. High marks in the year are the banquet for old members at which time a drive for new members is started, and the impressive candlelight service at which the new members are invested.

For the last two years, the Y. W. C. A. has been proud to sponsor the International Discussion Group. This organization is limited to the third and fourth year girls who meet every Tuesday evening at 6:45 in the dormitory with Miss Wood. Current events, particularly international relationships are discussed. The chairmen are Eunice Shevlin and Janet Tibbetts. The group presented a program in Chapel based on "Who am I" questions as part of its activities for the year.

One of the major activities of the Y. W. Cabinet is its yearly retreat. At this time the new Cabinet and the old go away for the week-end to discuss the responsibilities and opportunities of the Cabinet as well as to have a good time.

The club is famous for its ice cream sales and splendid luncheons. This year the boys have distinguished themselves by sponsoring a successful apple sale.

Lunch on the lawn

One of the most important events of the year was the sleigh ride which was held at Rines' Riding Stables. After the moonlight ride, refreshments and dancing completed an evening of fun. It is customary to have an annual dance. Our famous dance in the gym will long be the talk of the campus. The 10th Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi assembled in the fall with a membership of an even thirty brothers and with Mr. Sloat, formerly known as their faculty advisor, as an active and greatly welcomed honorary member.

"Alex" Cumming, whom they had elected their president, took his chair and put forth to the fraternity those goals that both the chapter and the national committee had suggested that the fraternity strive for this year. The results were very favorable. "Curt", "Bome", and "Bones" Knapton added much to the social end of the meetings and more of the commuters attended.

The Minstrel Show as its annual entertainment was a great success. Members of the school as well as the fraternity showed their talent. The campus is still talking about it. Larry Pelton did a great job directing it, and the boys certainly appreciated it.

Off with a bang! This was the attitude of the Beta men in the fall as they went to work planning their annual picnic. It was a great success, and pupils and faculty alike considered it as one of the big events of the school year. At this picnic some of the boys discovered that they could display delightful skill in the culinary art.

Occasional meetings and informal get-togethers stimulated the fraternity through the winter months. The program included music, i. e., barbershop harmony, discussion and, in general, school friendliness. The get-together that was held for the non-fraternity members of the school, had many exciting and entertaining moments. Dr. Bailey enabled the softball game to be continued by retrieving the softball that had lodged up in the top of the gym. The new pledges were put to many diversified and exciting tests.

The spring program of activity was well rounded. After the excitement and fun of the initiation, a successful outing took place. This was one of the red letter days for all Beta men.

All men of the school automatically become members of the Men's Athletic Association upon entering Gorham Normal School. The purpose of the organization is to take care of all situations which arise in men's athletics, or which deal principally with the men of the school and are passed on to it by the Athletic Council. This year the organization has sponsored a benefit dance for two members of the school, one of whom suffered a broken collar-bone and the other an appendicitis operation. It has considered possibilities of having a track team in the spring and approved of it, subject to approval of the Athletic Council. It serves as a means of student government in other fields than athletics and is assuming even greater interests and activities.

"Get your signals, boys"

BASKETBALL

In mid-November Coach Jensen issued the call to all men interested in basketball to report for duty. There followed a period of training and elimination. On December 2nd the old hoop season was on in earnest, signalized by the comparatively new varsity edging out the Alumni by a single point. Red Austin's brother Cal and Eddie Batchelder starred for the grand old grads, while Tommy Vail, Red Austin, and Bill Piacentini did a great job for our cause. The same week the boys travelled over to Keene, New Hampshire, where they found bruised elbows, knees, sore legs, and sore backs were in order, due to spills and tumbles on an extremely slippery floor. This was a large factor in their defeat. The next day they left Keene for Castleton, Vermont. Here they found the same jinx allied with the Castleton team. This time however they overcame their opponent.

Next came the bane of collegiate ball players, exam week. This was followed by two weeks' vacation. A rest must have done them good, for they came back, trained a week and one Saturday evening defeated Rhode Island College of Education in front of the most enthusiastic group of students that ever crowded Russell Hall gymnasium. This was one of the best games of the year. After being behind sixteen points at the end of the third quarter the boys got going and during a hectic fourth period gradually whittled that lead down until finally, with a few seconds to go, Gorham scored the final basket. That was the first time that the Gorham boys had been ahead during the entire game, but it was the right time. It was Ray Austin who shot that ball through the loop for the winning point.

A week and a half later the boys with Bill Piacentini showing the way took over Portland Junior College in Portland without much opposition. Then they started the road North in Mr. Jensen's and Mr. Savage's cars to the land of snow and solitude. That is, until they got to Presque Isle where they were welcomed by an old friend, Mr. Wieden, and were entertained in his home. After spending the night at the Normal School there they left for Madawaska. The game that night was close and hard to lose. It was another one point margin.

The next evening they played Presque Isle and lost another hard-fought game by two points. Mr. Jensen reported in Chapel that all they won was the quiz contest at Presque Isle their first night there. Lowell Textile was supposed to be several notches above us in collegiate athletic rating but the boys stayed with them all the way, losing by but four points at the end.

At Rhode Island there was a fine cheering section of about forty students, including Mr. Pine. They drowned out the Rhode Island boys completely. The breaks went to Rhode Island however and our boys got the small end of the stick. Some of the boys who went down to see the game say that when in Providence look out for one-way streets. At the end of the half in the Salem game our boys were leading 20 to 19 but slowed down in the second half so that Salem took them 43 to 31.

All the games were very hard played and most of them were very close. During this season several Freshmen were discovered all of whom will make excellent stars for the next two years. Things don't appear so bad after all, everything being considered. We may take the championship next year, who knows?

CROSS-COUNTRY

During the second week of school last fall, Mr. Packard issued his annual call for cross-country prospects. About fifteen men answered his plea including: E. Hodgkins, F. Jeffery, W. Hancock, H. Benson, A. Cumming, and B. Van Blaricum, all with experience. There were several new men reporting including: D. Cameron, M. Davis, L. Eaton, R. Meserve, N. Giampetruzzi, J. Mayberry, and Freshmen J. Alden, D. Pierce, and R. Robinson.

Mr. Packard carefully coached and guided the prospective "hill and dalers" through a hard and strenuous three weeks' training session before he thought that they were seasoned enough to tackle their first opponent.

Finally, on October the 4th, Bridgton Academy's hopefuls came down for the first run of the season. The Gorham harriers were just a little too speedy for Bridgton as they got the edge 23 to 35. A large crowd of students were on hand to welcome the victorious Gorham runners home.

The Cross-country Squad

On October 9th Gorham again played the part of host. This time to an old rival, Farmington Normal School. Only five Farmington runners came down, but these five were enough to snatch the victory away. Knowls, Graham, and Paine starred for the up-staters. The final score was 23 to 34 in favor of Farmington. Again there was another large crowd on hand.

Two days later, on October the 11th, the Green and White journeyed to Brunswick to meet the Bowdoin J. V. team. Down there Gorham lost a hard fought run 25 to 32. Hillman, a national interscholastic mile champ, and Carey of Bowdoin took the first two places, but Hodgkins, Jeffery, and Hancock took the next three places not far behind them. Another fast running Bowdoin man made the finish fast and furious, resulting in the near trampling of one of the Gorham runners who was waiting for his teammates.

With revenge in their hearts the boys went up to Farmington on October the 16th. Revenge, however, was not gained. Farmington took the second run over a man-killing, hilly five-mile course 25 to 31. Knowls of Farmington toured the course in near record time with Hodgkins of Gorham finishing ten seconds behind him in a fast finish. After supper the team attended a dance. That is, all the team except Don Cameron. Don seemed to find a greater attraction downtown. When the time came to go home, lo and behold no Cameron was present. Finally he was found, after a long search, downtown with company. We believe it was the fair sex.

On October 26th the University of Maine was host to Gorham. The boys left Russell Hall at 10:00 o'clock on the 25th and arrived at Orono about 5:00 o'clock. The next morning at 11:00 the run was held. The fellows were hopeful before the run, but a flat speedy track was not to our liking. Although Eddie Hodgkins finished the last race of the season with a victory, the Pale Blue runners, by bunching six men in second place, copped the run 20 to 43. One of the Gorham runners thought that he could run a better race barefooted. Result was one blistered foot. In the afternoon they were guests of the University at the Bates-Maine football game. After the football game came the homeward trek, arriving in Gorham about 9:30. This race closed the season seeing only one win in five starts. Next year's prospects seem more encouraging as only one or two men are to be lost through graduation.

JUNIOR VARSITY

There were three junior varsity runs during the year. The first one was held with Portland High School October 8th.

"Can I help, boys?"

Portland won by a perfect score 15 to 50.

October 15th Gorham J. V.'s suffered their second as they fell under the guns of Old Orchard 20 to 38.

October 22nd saw the J. V. score its only win as Gorham High School was downed 26 to 30.

LETTER WINNERS

Varsity letters were awarded to E. Hodgkins, F. Jeffery, W. Hancock, D. Cameron, J. Alden, B. Van Blaricum, and A. Cumming.

The cross-country team wishes to thank the student body for the fine support which it received last fall.

BASEBALL, 1940

Soon after the close of all basketball activities, baseball once more made its appearance at Gorham. A good sized squad reported for loosening up exercises to Coach Jensen in Russell Gym every afternoon. Pitchers and catchers, particularly, were urged to get the kink out of their arms early. When the field was finally ready for use, the rest of the squad reported for duty. Several positions, vacated by graduates, were sought after by underclassmen, among them the vital catcher's spot. Two informal practice games were played, early in the spring, with Westbrook High School. Gorham won both of them. One of them was played at Westbrook and one was played at Gorham. In these games Coach Jensen gave each candidate a chance to show his stuff in his favorite position. This enabled him to get an early line on his available material.

The season officially got under way May 1st when the Green and White tackled a strong and experienced team from Farmington Normal School. The opening line-up found "Lefty" Wayne Bowie on the mound with "Pete" Leavitt, a converted first baseman from New York, handling his slants. Ray Austin covered first base, "Lonnie" Arnold held down second sack, "Gunk" Nadeau kept fast lines from going through short, and Joe Castellucci held down the hot corner. Way out in the pasture were Johnny Greer in right field, Will Hussey in center, and Tony Pecoraro in left field. This opening game was a well played thriller in which "Lefty" Bowie set the Farmington lads back on their heels 4 to 0.

On May 3rd the team journeyed to Massachusetts to give battle to the Salem Teachers' College outfit. It proved to be a hotly contested match, but the Salem team managed to get the edge by one run. The next game was back at Gorham with Keene Teachers' College. Here we saw another great game which ended with Ray Austin putting Gorham back in the winning column by a 7 to 5 victory. Again at Gorham on the 10th we were privileged to witness a double header with the strong Hyannis nine. As both games had to be played in one afternoon they were shorter than they had been originally scheduled to be. In the first game, Hyannis proved to be a little too strong for the Jensen men, getting the edge 3 to 2. In the second game, however, our boys retaliated to reverse the score and get the three runs, while Hyannis had to be contented with but two.

The next week-end found our boys taking a trip up state to be guests of our traditional rivals, Farmington Normal. The Farmington hopefuls out for revenge got the top honors in a loosely played high scoring game 15 to 14. The next match was an out-of-state game at New Britain Teachers' College of Connecticut May 18. Although this was Gorham's turn to win, New Britain couldn't seem to see it that way, and the Green and White lost a hard played game 7 to 3. May 22 Gorham played hosts to Salem's group of exceedingly fine ball handlers. Once more the jinx seemed to hold our boys tightly in its grip, for they came out on the short end of a 7 to 3 game.

The last game of the season was May 25. Gorham traveled to Keene, N. H. Eddie Coyne's curve ball pitching and Lonnie Arnold's signal calling, however, fooled the Keene men and enabled the Gorhamites to snatch a surprise victory 5 to 4.

The Gorham team ended up the season with 4 wins and 5 losses. A few costly errors at the wrong time accounted for most of the losses. Pitchers Ray Austin, Wayne Bowie, Eddie Coyne, and Tony Pecoraro took their turns on the mound. Pete Leavitt and Lonnie Arnold did a great job behind the plate; Johnny Greer alternated between outfield and first base with Ray Austin and Ray Knight. Eddie Coyne, Lonnie Arnold and George Albert did their stuff on second; "Gunk"

Nadeau, who kept the infield alive all season with his spirited chatter, Ralph Norton and Willard Hussey saw service at shortstop; Joe Castellucci and Bill Welton held down the hot corner; and Gerry Mayberry, Bill Welton, Will Hussey, John Greer, Ralph Norton, and Tony Pecoraro roved around in the outfield.

Alan Paine deserved a great share of the credit as he did an excellent job of managing the team. Varsity letters were awarded to Arnold, Hussey, Nadeau, Greer, Pecoraro, Austin, Leavitt, Castellucci, Bowie, Welton, and Manager Alan Paine.

Certificates were awarded to Coyne, Albert, Norton, Knight, and Mayberry.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS

President	BETTY LEACH
Vice President	GERALDINE WHITE
Secretary	RUTH DAVIS
Treasurer	EMMA LIBBY

This active organization is really the largest in the school because every girl who enters Gorham automatically becomes a member. From this group there is a representative body which supervises all women's sports of the school. It is the Women's Athletic Board. Their lively and interesting meetings are usually interrupted by Miss Flint's sudden awareness that she brought some cookies. Amid crunches and crumbs the meeting resumes.

One of the new enterprises voted in these meetings was the Campfire Leadership Training Course given by Miss Charlotte Millett of Gorham. Another course offered for the first time this year was Tap Dancing. Those who preferred skiing reported to Mary Read and Ruth Alden for lessons. Two of the projects executed by the board and enjoyed by the whole school were the new skating rink and the introduction of dances in Center after the basketball games. These have been enjoyed very much.

BASKETBALL

One of the most popular sports in the Women's Athletic program is basketball which is played on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons during the second quarter. Class teams are divided into first and second squads, first team games being at 3:30 and second team games at 4:30.

In class rivalry the Sophomores, captained by Dorothy Cole, were victorious. Jeannette Farwell's Junior-Senior team ran close second, but was defeated due to the forfeiture of a game.

Basketball queens

Two of the vigorous guards, Charlotte Douglas and Pearl Hartt, took their work so seriously that they fouled very often. Virginia Davis, Freshman captain, played so hard that she sprained her ankle.

Green and White teams were picked, but no games were played. At the end of the season, class teams called a halt to rivalry to enjoy a basketball banquet. Councillor of the group was Althea Barstow.

BADMINTON

Badminton, one of the most energetic sports on the slate, is played mostly by commuters because it is held during noon hour. This year enthusiasm ran so high that the group changed from a three to a five day schedule. The players gobble down their lunch, race to the gym, play furiously for about 45 minutes, then weak but happy, dash into fifth period class. This year the team was invited to participate in a Badminton Playday and Tea held at Portland Junior College. They enjoyed playing with teams from P. J. C. and Nasson.

VOLLEY BALL

This major sport of the third quarter filled the gym with blue-rompered girls every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. Lots of fun and laughter, stronger wrists, and plenty of healthful exercise were provided. In class games the Juniors were victorious by default. Most of the afternoons were spent in playing Green and White games. The Green Team, led by Jeannette Farwell, was victorious, winning four games over the White's two.

ARCHERY

With the opening of school in the fall and the closing of it in the spring, we find this sport ardently supported. Dorothy Oulton of the Class of 1941 holds high score, shooting 239 in the Columbia Rounds.

Because of bad weather, no Green and White tournament was held, but there was much competition between classes. The class of 1941 not only claimed the highest scorer, but also the trophy.

HOCKEY

Our fall sport seemed to be most popular this year with the Sophomore Class who had the largest teams out at practice. In fact when it came to playing games the Sophomores' only opponent was the combination Freshman, Junior, Senior, and Faculty team. Although the Sophs played well, this combination team proved to be too powerful for them. The upper-class team won the cup.

SPRING SOFTBALL

When the girls at Gorham start swinging bats, look out! It's the spring softball squad preparing for class games. Although the Seniors, captained by Jeannette Farwell, were few in number, they proved by winning the cup that quantity isn't everything. The Sophomores ran a close second. No Green and White games were played, but an honorary varsity made up of the best players from each class was chosen.
