Tomorrow's World

To Tomorrow's World

Greenness
Under my feet
On the Hilltop
I wait to greet
The challenge
Of the dawn.

Blueness
Of the skies
Outlines
The vaster hills
That rise
Before me
In the future.

Throwing
A backward glance
Over the hill
I see roads advance
Leaving their travelers
This hill to climb.

Teachers
Were always ready
With a hand
To pull or steady
When the climb
Seemed steep.

Embodied
In me, although
In spirit one,
Know
There are many.

The taste of war
Still
Lingers with some;
Others of the Hill
Know only peace.

Waiting
Then I stand
So I may grasp
A traveler's hand
And pull him here
Beside me.

Sometime
Then we may,
Hand in hand
On a new day
Climb the hills
Beyond
Together
And build
Tomorrow's World.

Dedication

To Miss Esther Wood, our teacher and friend, we, the class of 1947, dedicate this book. Miss Wood has been a true friend to us and we appreciate the kind guidance which she has given through our four years.

We found it hard to phrase in words what we wanted to say about Miss Wood. We wrote and discarded—and tried again—and still the words did not satisfy us. And then one student came in and, picking up the picture, casually said for us—

Think back, your memory is the album which stores those first photographic flashes of Gorham. Now you have that clear cut picture of the village. You recall that little cluster of stores, the winding hill, and your expectancy as you wanted to turn the corner for the first glimpse of your school. You caught two laughing students skipping down the road. Then . . . you drank in the hilltop bathed in Autumn.

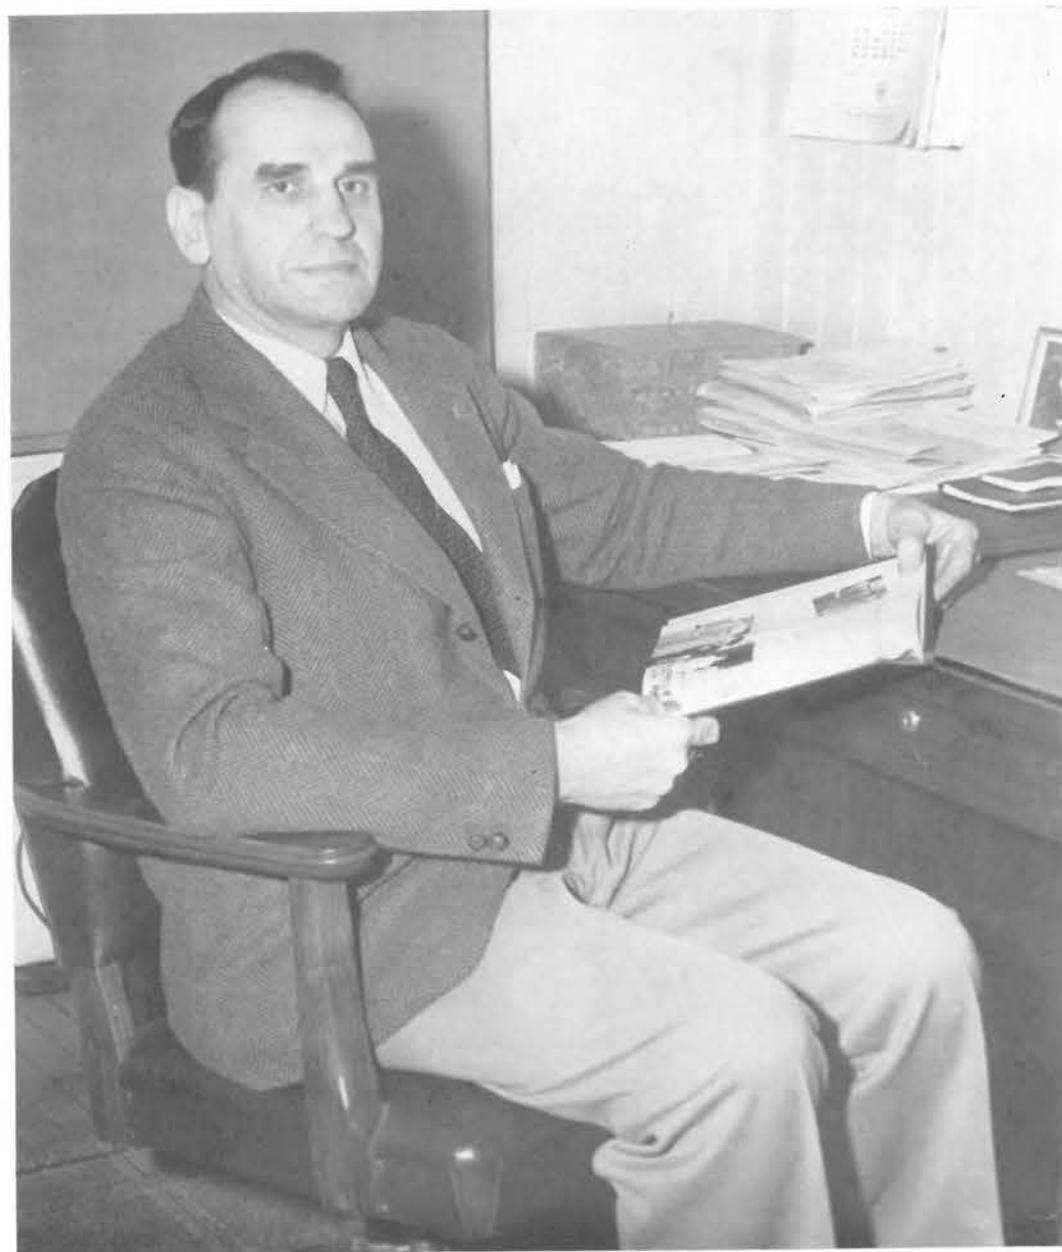

Let's stand for a moment in the keenness of first remembrances.

You think of the Sunday, when all of you—Methodists, Catholics and Congregationalists, mingled, going down town to worship. You see your church, a lattice work of sunlight and tree shadows.

Then one of the folks you met in church asked you to visit them . . . There you were on the doorstep, ringing the bell. The door opened and the odor of home cooking rushed out. Inside, you felt at home once more. During the years you got to know these people. They were interested in things going on at the Hill and you kept them posted.

You recall too, the talks and discussions you held over the Russell Bill, and the little town hall where you dropped in to watch meetings. During those four years you saw the town; its people, adults and children alike growing and building toward a democratic future—and you, you were growing too.

FRESHMAN—The Long

It would be well to introduce our class, the class of 1950, and the "Teachers of the post war era." We are the few who are ready to dedicate our lives to the future of American children. Many veterans, men and women, are back at Gorham to prepare for teaching.

They have a special contribution to make to their college and to their world. Our class is of the highest standards, educationally and physically, coming from many high schools around our state of Maine.

We are already proud of the fine educational values Gorham offers and will greedily accept all the good studies it will present to us. We give our future to America and to her children. We are striving for the complete understanding of good American citizenship and will pass the valuable information on to our future pupils.

SOPHS On Their Way

Last September the sophomores came back to Gorham with more confidence and eagerness than they had had the year before. They renewed old friendships and began new ones with the freshmen. Some class members were fortunate enough to have "little sisters" to introduce to Gorham.

At an early fall meeting Dot Davis was elected President, Bob Hubbard was elected vice-president, Eleanor Nelson secretary and Estella Pedersen treasurer. Joan Cate was elected representative to the Civic Council and Margery Totman to the W.A.A. Board. Mrs. King was chosen as the class advisor. Richard McDonald and Joan Cate were members of the advisory committee to work with the officers.

WE WHISTLE
WHILE WE WORK

At Thanksgiving time the class took the responsibility of filling a basket for a needy family in Gorham.

The sophomore class was well represented in all extra-curricular activities this year as well as last. Not only were they members, as they were last year, but they also had the responsibility of being officers and committee members in many organizations. Partly because of the great activity of so many members in leadership of other groups, no exclusively sophomore show was presented this year.

The annual outing, a class picnic, was held in the late spring.

The advisory committee and officers have made many plans for next year and next year's junior class is set for an early and enthusiastic start for another year.

After Three Years

The Junior Class returned this year with fifty-eight members. The first few days after registration we became acquainted with new faculty and student members. We also renewed friendships of past years. Our class was fortunate in receiving its share of returned veterans, from whom we chose Don Pierce as President. Other officers elected were Vice-President Betty Field, Treasurer Nellie Ames, and Secretary Maureen Rogan.

Mr. Bassett, our former advisor, was gone and we elected Mr. Martin as our new sponsor. Thus began the year we had been waiting for—we could elect the subjects of our choice. Many of us enrolled in family, poetry and U. S. history courses. As we settled in the fall a few of us invaded the seclusion of fourth floor East and today its atmosphere is one of golden silence. Ahem!

During the fall and throughout the year our classmates established themselves in sports and dormitory living. In sports we gave Nellie Ames who distinguished herself by becoming President of the W.A.A. Bea Heal was President of the House Committee and peace and quiet reigned when she walked the corridor.

Half of the year gone—back from mid-year holidays with fresh resolutions to study and—study. Some begin student-teaching—the rest, who will do our teaching next year, remained on the Hill and attended classes and helped conduct chapel.

June—a few of us leaving with treasured certificates—the rest holding out for degrees. The Junior Class today feels proud and confident that it can follow in the footsteps of the fine graduating class of 1947. Here's good luck to the class of 1948!

Four Years and a Degree

Nearin' r go'l—Largest fourth year class yet—Seventy-four members—among those most welcome are the returning vets who were called away from behind their books and put behind guns—changes made—plenty of work and not enough spares—Glad to see you back, thought you were teaching—seniors attended Halloween party in full force—papers and book reports for Mr. Taylor. With Nov. comes Harvest dance—Lucy collecting blankets—Big boss Valley—Who shall I invite and will he come?—Mr. Miller's birds scattered about—Doc at the door (to welcome us?)—Punch to refresh every pause—ice cream and cookies during intermission—soothing music for tired nerves, thus sore tootsies—cleanup committee, where are you now?—Success, what else!—let's have another. Going home for turkey—Back to Gorham for a few days then home again to greet Santa—now determined to start the New Year right—Seniors still working together—Long but rewarded hours spent on the show—class meetings called by president Max—director Hogan giving us our—where would we be without Betty at the piano!—censorship by Mr. Woodward, our advisor, our last show, a success our reputation may rest upon. Welcome back to the Hill, student teachers—let's hope these new schedules work out—high-light of winter sports, the Carnival Ball—voted for the queen—suspense until the crowning—Exams again—new sharpened pencils—burning the midnight oil—third floor in Cortell.

Finally the long awaited Friday comes and Spring vacation begins—plans are being made for our Senior outing—cold water—who would have guessed that we could consume so much food!—tired bunch but the envy of the campus—our last formal at Gorham, to us the most beautiful—flowers galore—new dresses—dances all taken, even the extras—second call for punch, good eh?—

Graduation week—choosing class gift—presentation—last chapel—trying on caps and gowns—program rehearsals—keeping in step—Baccalaureate—impressive—farewells—packing—parties—one last coke—by the way which class shall we leave the coke machine to?—greeting relatives and friends—that last walk across the stage to receive that well earned degree—candid shots—farewells drop me a line—see you at reunion—going down the drive—our last look—can we ever forget the beautiful trees on the campus?—the long awaited day is here and gone.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS IN GORHAM

Ever since 1915 when the Campfire was organized in Gorham, College girls have participated in leadership, and through its varied activities have helped girls to take their places as leaders in the community, in the nation and in the world. In September each year a registration day is held and all girls ten and older are invited to join Camp Fire. The girls learn the importance of the home and skills of home making. They give service in their community, in the Red Cross drives, Health Seal campaigns, sponsoring annual White Gift service for Gorham Welfare, assisting in Memorial Day exercises and many other activities. They learn about the out of doors through hiking, skiing and cooking meals in the open. They go on weekend camping trips and trips to nearby places of interest. In all ways they strive to follow the law which is Worship God, Seek Beauty, Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, Be Trustworthy, Hold on to Health, Glorify Work and Be Happy.

Treasurer: PATRICIA STEVENS
Advisor: MR. SAMUEL BROCATO

The Art Club this year started off in its usual lively manner, with promise of another active year. President Lucy Herrick called the first meeting to order the second week of school. After serious discussion, and with the previous year's success in mind, plans were drawn up for another puppet show. New plays were written by the members, new puppets were made and old ones rehabilitated and scenery and background constructed. It was planned to exhibit the show at schools and clubs around Gorham.

During National Art Week the club sponsored an exhibition of Arts and Crafts in the Art Room. During this week they also presented a tea which many school and townspeople attended.

The earnest zeal of the Freshmen and other members of the club has helped to make it strongly united and active. All members, both old and new, are looking forward to the banquet which comes at the end of the school year.

Miss Dickey's dinner bell plus Chris Crosier's announcement—sum total—Library Club meeting tonight at 7:00 in Robie Reception room. What will we talk about tonight—could be a movie, hmmm—could be a best seller. No matter what the topic, our local intellectuals will chew it well.

The activities this year have varied from sleigh rides to picture tinting.

Miss Eames and her book worms have enjoyed another successful year.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

This year our Girls' Glee Club boasts of fifty active members. Last year's president, Margaret Hague, was again re-elected with Margaret Lindsey as Vice-president; Dorothy Davis, Secretary; Betty Berg, Treasurer; Venita Conant, accompanist, and Caroline Wescott, representative to the Civic Committee.

Our first project for this year was the Christmas Cantata, The Story of Christmas by Alexander Matthews. With the assistance of the newly organized Men's Glee Club we presented our annual Christmas program on Sunday evening, December 15 at Russell Hall.

A small group, representing both the Men's and the Girls' Club gave a half-hour musical program at the Kiwanis Club in Westbrook.

MIRIAM E. ANDREWS
Columbia University, B.S., M.A.

Also, the Woodfords Club extended another invitation for us to sing, as we had done the year previously. A group of thirty went in to the Club and enjoyed a grand supper before our program. Several selections were given by both Clubs with special solos by Noreen Fuller, Kathleen Ouellette and John Alden.

The Portland Rotary Club requested a musical program at their luncheon on March 28. The entire Glee Club was invited. This was our last public performance.

Although Easter Sunday morning we were asked to take part in a Sunrise broadcast service at Portland, it was impossible for the Club to attend because of the school vacation.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

One lovely September morning we heard the familiar question in chapel, "Are there any faculty announcements?" and Miss Andrews' announcement that on Tuesday afternoon there would be a meeting of the Men's Glee Club. What brought about this amazing announcement? That's right! The men were attending colleges again and G.S.T.C. was no exception.

When the sound of unfamiliar male voices floated through the corridors of Corthell, faculty and students alike stopped working and—just listened to the rich, satisfying harmony. The men contributing were: Tenors Earle Young, Clinton Sampson, Donald Bisbee, Link Anderson, Francis Lucey and Donald Doyle.

2nd Tenors Richard Beard, Alfred Cereste, Joseph Dechesnes, Philip Kimball, Elwin Briggs, Charles Jorgensen, Philip James and Arthur Berry.

1st Basses Maurice Morrow, Ronald Murphy, Donald Lindsey, George Sanborn, Paul Apgar, Gerald Hoar, Robert Hogan and Frederick Bradford.

2nd Basses Arthur Greer, John Alden, Raymond Flagg, and Donald Pierce.

Faculty and students were given an opportunity to hear the men one chapel service. Later the men worked hard to get the Cantata ready for a Christmas recital, given by the combined Glee Clubs.

The men have enjoyed singing at different clubs throughout the surrounding vicinity including the Kiwanis Club in Westbrook, the Woodford's Club in Woodfords and the Lion's Club in Portland.

The Gorham Chapter of the Newman Club was organized in 1945. This club is organized for Catholic fellowship.

A new calendar of social and religious activities has been organized under the leadership of Kathleen Ouellette, President, and Reverend Finn, Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Westbrook, Chaplain of the Gorham Chapter. There are 37 active members of the club.

November 17th, Kathleen Ouellette, Irene Belisle, Florence Levin, Maxine Trafton, and Donald Cameron attended the Convention of the New England

Province of Newman Club Federation at the University of New Hampshire.

December 7th Patricia Ball and Girardina Payne represented the Newman Club at the monthly Conference at Regis College in Boston.

The social activities included weinie roasts in the campus grove, splash parties, dances, and beano games.

The club ended its year with a communion breakfast held at the Hotel Eastland, Portland.

The Young Women's Christian Association began the year of 1946-1947 with greater emphasis on the threefold purpose: "to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God, to have a part in making this life possible for all people, and to seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

A former student of Gorham, Florence Barron, returned to visit us and give us a little insight on carrying out the purpose of our organization. The three commissions: Christian Belief, World Relatedness, and Community Responsibility, have furnished some excellent programs and discussion groups. The annual projects of the Y.W.C.A., such as: Freshman Week, W.S.S.F. drive, the Bazaar, and Cabinet Retreat, were carried out successfully. Student Christian Movement conferences were attended by some of our members, with a few Freshmen already learning the workings of our association. Early in October the men of Gorham State Teachers College met in a group to reorganize the Men's A. A. which had been inactive since 1942. It took a few meetings to get the ball rolling but finally a committee was selected to write a new constitution and we sent our delegate to the Civic Council. Our next problem was the election of officers. Due to the fact that all the sportsminded upperclassmen were out practice teaching it was decided to make an exception and vote underclassmen as officers.

Harold "Tex" Huston was elected manager, with Asst. Managers Clarence Coombs and Ray Flagg. We were again in the New England Teachers Conference and also scheduled games with Portland Junior College. M.A.A. also sponsored dances after each home game with lively music by the M.A.A. band. Varsity awards were presented to the following men of G.S.T.C.: Ed.

Hadlock, Keith Grant, Norman Rau, Aubrey Lush, Don Doyle, Don Pierce, Joe Deschesnes, Bob Bailey, Fred Sprague, and Manager "Tex" Huston. Junior Varsity Numerals and certificates also were awarded "Bob" Kimball, Mitchell Salim, Arthur Greer, Arthur Berry, Raymond Flagg, and Clarence Coombs.

The purpose of the Men's A.A. at Gorham is to further sportsmanship, and to encourage interclass activities. The honorable members are Dr. Francis Bailey, Charles Martin and Everett Packard.

The "Hilltopper's" baseball team took the field decked out in new uniforms, with Coach Jim Gilman at the helm; Managers Huston and Coombs worked out the fifteen game schedule. Cross-country, track, and tennis and inter-class sports were planned.

The officers are elected by the students and a councilor is appointed to take charge of each part or activity. The board is under the guidance and direction of Miss Doris Fitz, the Physical Education Teacher. This year the board has taken on several new duties. In the fall they sponsored a Sports Afternoon. Tennis, Archery, Horseshoes, and Croquet were greatly enjoyed.

The afternoon was climaxed with a picnic in the grove followed by a softball game between the boys and girls. To everyone's surprise the boys won.

The W.A.A. took on the responsibility of selecting cheer leaders and provided the material from which the girls made new uniforms.

At the home basketball games Alice Adams and Irene Belisle sold candy and ice cream to raise money.

Outing Club

This year the Outing Club under the leadership of President Dorothy Miller played a prominent role in the college sports program.

Within the year each member is required to participate in twenty hikes, be it at dawn or dusk.

The most important function of the club, as always, was the Annual Winter Carnival and Ball held the fifteenth of February. Janice Gillis reigned as Carnival Queen over the festivities.

This year a new system of directors was instituted to organize the activities, some of which are as follows: skiing, skating, snowshoeing, tobogganing, socials, biking, publicity, hiking and a basketball tournament sponsored for the Junior High Schools for the locality.

THE GIRLS IN GREEN

Since much attention at G. S. T. C. had been concentrated on men's competitive basketball there was a need at the beginning of the season for an organized cheer-leading squad. The W.A.A. Board (Women's Athletic Association) undertook the responsibility of sifting out seven competent cheerleaders from 27 candidates. The candidates tried out in groups of five or six before the W.A.A. who chose individuals from the groups for their ability in leading cheers. The final test was for those dozen or more girls chosen to lead the student body with cheers. Since many of the girls showed good leadership, the Board was faced with a close decision. The alternates were to replace regular cheerleaders in emergencies.

At the first Farmington game the cheerleaders coveted the unity of the appearance of the rival squad. Our Gorham girls besieged Dr. Bailey and the W.A.A. Board for permission to buy wool and to make uniforms. Permission was granted and each cheerleader made her own forest green uniform with a kick pleat skirt and a matching blazer jacket bound with white cord. All organizations face handicaps. The cheerleaders had been chosen late in the basketball season and had inherited very few cheers. With Bea Heal as manager they worked as a cooperative unit. Practicing faithfully, they were able to introduce one or two original cheers for each game and to lead the student body in supporting the basketball team.

HORSES LOST DURING MEAT SHORTAGE

MEN'S ATHLETICS

Gorham was proud of its 1947 basketball team. After having been discontinued for the duration of the war, basketball was re-organized in spite of many remaining handicaps. The men showed individual skill, great school loyalty and a fine spirit of teamwork. They continued enthusiastic fighters throughout the season, and this in spite of the fact that they lacked the encouragement that comes with the long end of the score. At a time when amateur athletics was receiving a great deal of blame for poor sportsmanship, Gorham's fine team spirit and clean playing won much favorable comment.

BACK AGAIN

OF COURSE! BREAKFASTS OF CHAMPIONS!

The baseball season saw the Gorham slingers out-score many of their opponents. "Ed Hadlock Day" inaugurated the development of a perpetual fund for medical care for injured athletes.

ties. In the fall they sponsored a Sports Afternoon. Tennis, archery, horseshoes, and croquet were greatly enjoyed. ## Basketball

With Alice Adams as counselor, girls' basketball got under way in late November. Because of the men's basketball schedule the girls were able to use the gym only two nights a week. About forty girls turned out. After a few practices, Green and White teams were organized. Interclass games were also held.

Softball

Just as soon as the field gets dry enough in the spring, we dig out the bats and softballs. Many girls play and many others like to watch.

We organized Green and White teams, but the best games of softball were played against the boys. The girls usually lost but never went down without a good fight. It was great fun for those who didn't play as well as for those on the team.

Ann Cummings served as counselor.

THE MIGHTY CHRIS HAS NOT STRUCK OUT!

Field Hockey

For the first time in three years field hockey was back on the list of activities. About a dozen girls played, and learned many of the fundamentals of the game.

Each night sides were chosen and new techniques were practiced. It was great fun and plenty of exercise.

Christine Knowlton was our counselor.

ARCHERY

Archery was one of the many fall sports that opened the season this year. Estella Pederson served as counselor.

The outstanding moment of archery was the one when an enthusiastic archer, in the excitement of aiming, overshot the target and almost deprived Gorham of a couple of students.

Tennis

The social life of the college was centered at the tennis courts during the warm afternoons of Indian summer. The spectators, who found shade near a young pine tree, watched the heated matches of enthusiastic tennis players. The skill of the returned veterans, who offered instructive opposition to the girls, was especially worthy of the attention of the on-lookers. Tournaments for beginners and experienced players in singles and mixed doubles were held. Eleanor Nelson was counselor.

In the Grove

The smell of that cooking sure does issue an invitation to hunger. How do you want your dogs, smothered in butter—or do you prefer lots of goo? Do I get hungry when I'm eating out of doors! Jiminy Crickets, Mr. Goodwin, you don't have to advertise those left over pups. We'll take 'em and a couple cups of hot coffee. Gee, they're opening a box over there. What—chocolate cake! Let me at it.

C'mon Kids, let's help carry the left over dishes to the kitchen. Then we're off to the field for baseball. Men are playing the field for baseball. Men are playing the women's A.A. and do you know who I think is going to win—?

Commuters determined to make their club one of the "bigger" clubs in the school this year. Before many weeks of the fall had gone by this determination was realized under the guidance of Miss Wood, who continued as faculty advisor.

A balloting day was set aside for formal voting. This resulted in the election of Francis Lucey, President, Virginia Martin, Vice-president, Margaret Lindsey, Secretary and Paul Dorr, Treasurer.

The first extra activity of the year was the Record Party at Ginny Martin's house. This added 28 new records to our collection. An informal party was held in Corthell Rec Room early in December to work on the Christmas Project, which was to send clothes and toys to a needy rural school at Eagle Lake.

Weekly free coffees were held and ice cream was sold once a week.

A buffet supper preceded the home Farmington game, which commuters attended en masse.

The splash parties at the "Y" met with great success and the Songo Boat trip climaxed a year of grand fellowship.

Our newest organization on the campus this year was the Canterbury Club, composed of Episcopal students.

A formal service, an informal service, and a Communion service are held once a month.

The highlight of the club's activities was the Lenten Services held once a week under the leadership of visiting clergy. These services were concluded by Bishop Loring of Portland who spoke in chapel.

Orchestra

When Miss Andrews called us together for the first meeting in the fall of 1946 there was a question as to whether Gorham State Teachers College would have a band or an orchestra. In spite of the fact that we were very weak in the string section we formed an orchestra. We made our first appearance at the Christmas program and have played several times since. It is the hope of everyone in the orchestra that we may become a larger and more active group.

Living Sculpture

One of the joys of a country campus is tennis and badminton under the murmuring pines and the windows of Robie, come those brisk, sunny fall and spring days. Some like to play and some like to watch but one way or another there is quite a steady patronage of the outdoor sports even when the snow and ice are gone.

Of course come spring not all the love games are played on those asphalt courts.

During the year discussions were led by the members of the association and several outside speakers helped add interest to the program. Frederick Dingley, president of the Maine Teachers' Association, addressed the group. A film, "Assignment: Tomorrow," was shown. An extensive program was given in chapel during National Education Week.

Socials were held at Miss Upton's home and in Robie Recreation Room at special occasions during the year.

Our social life ranges from the Ballet Russe, soirées in the rec room, to outings at Mrs. Trapp's summer home. Our club, founded two years ago, is this year accomplishing its goals.

DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION

With last year's members, new freshmen and returning seniors the Dramatic Club got off to a flying start. The revised constitution recognized the diversity of interests of the members by providing for an association of dramatic groups, Writers, Players and Technicians. We decided to take Doctor Bailey's suggestion and work under the allocation fee, thus giving the students a chance to see all the plays through their activity fee.

Curtain up—George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion—setting a successful precedent with a two night run. Did you ever wonder about the excited groups from time to time in Mrs. King's room? Just planning for the new play. Our second offering was another successful innovation—an evening of famous one-act plays. These were Morton's hilarious farce Box and Cox, Steele's suspense play The Giant's Stair, and Synge's stirring Riders to the Sea. The third innovation came with the third major offering—Director Richard S. Thoman retired to the background position of advisor, and Rose Franken's Claudia was successfully produced by student director Robert Hogan and assistant director Phyllis Foster, with the efficient support of student technicians, publicity crew and aides.

In addition to the major presentations, Dramatic Associations presented a number of one act plays and condensations to their own members and guests, to enrich the experience of the club members.

RICHARD S. THOMAN
A.B., The University of Colorado
Technicians

Membership in the Technicians group shifted from play to play, but many club members enjoyed the fun of working backstage during the season. New sound effects and equipment, wardrobe collections and refurbishing of permanent properties were part of the activities of this group, which must be credited with much of the success of any dramatic production.

Writers

The Writers' Club, which began as a part of the Dramatic Club for those interested in writing plays, soon found that many members were interested in beginning their study with fundamentals. Members brought stories, poems and essays as well as dramatic scripts to the monthly evening meeting. Each author read his composition, listened to the vigorous analysis and criticism of the others, and usually discovered that he came away with a new urge to write.

As an experimental venture Writers' Club sponsored a two-week project of a mimeographed daily paper, "The Hilltopper," and received many favorable comments. Members hope that next year financial arrangements can be made to support a paper throughout the year. By their second year the Writers also hope to be ready to offer some original scripts for the Players that will be worthy of the traditions of Dramatic Association.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

Each Wednesday night the House Committee members amble into the Robie Reception room for their meeting.

The Secretary assigns the weekly duties—mail, lights, and bells. Current business is then taken up—it may be a sale, fire drill, party, or misdemeanor of some student. The House Committee is the student government of the dorm and can only work efficiently when they have the cooperation of all girls.

The two members chosen from each floor in the dormitories by vote of the students, work with the Deans in maintaining a happy life and a sense of consideration for others.

The Iota chapter of the National Kappa Delta assembled this fall and after the lean war years we found ourselves faced with a difficult task of rebuilding and strengthening ourselves. The end of the year found us looking back on a very successful year. Our membership increased by more than 100% and our social functions were successful.

The fraternity held two tea dances in center, an outing at Salmon Falls and a banquet of Roast Turkey a la Goodwin at East Hall dinner hall, for new brothers admitted this year.

Flint Taylor, a member of the faculty and an active brother—is our advisor.

BABIES MUST PLAY!

President: JACK BROWN
Vice-president: ROBERT HOGAN
Secretary: RAY SMITH
Treasurer: RONALD MURPHY

This year Alpha Lambda Beta really got started with its initiation (remember the maroon and gold display?) The next event was the annual banquet that was held at the Graymore Hotel. New members were given their certificates and pins and we certainly did enjoy those little "loose ends" of initiation that were settled.

Various other activities have been undertaken by the fraternity and we are happy over their success. The year ended with the annual outing which was held at the camp of Wally Roberts.

Members in addition to officers are:

Alton Benson	Edson Hadlock
Neil Ward	Waldron Roberts
Richard MacDonald	Donald Cameron
Earl Young	Howard Kimball
Donald Pierce	William Hancock
Vernon Lucas	Albert Barlow

OUR PITCH!

We looked forward to our first teaching with trepidation. Yes, our prestige had risen. We were now "student teachers"—but we couldn't forget that we were also in for a new period of orientation. However, the following two weeks banished our fears. We became experts at lesson plans and by the way—had we thought that we were getting away from our own lessons?

WHAT? NEVER?
WELL-L-L, HARDLY EVER!

If we had we certainly must admit our naivete. At the campus school we found that we learned more in a week about teaching situations than we would from years of study of it. Down here we got a chance to apply some of that "psychology" we had heard about. We had fun, too, directing, participating, and helping the children in their activities.

We came away from the Campus School with a feeling of a gain—and a loss.

In former years the Green and White presented the Gorham Faculty in a separate section. But we have not found it characteristic of the members of the faculty to be apart from the students. This year we have taken the faculty where we have been accustomed to find them—working and playing with all the college people.

The Hill, the Office and the Campus School, group together to make up the memories cherished by every Gorhamite.

"Dot" Willey turning out mimeographed exam sheets and course outlines, selling books and bus tickets, taking messages and answering questions, all at once and in her own calm, efficient way, is an unforgettable part of Gorham 1947.

SKI FEVER

O, I must go down o'er the hill again, o'er the slippery slope and the rise
And all I feel is wind-blown hair, and snow gets in my eyes
I lose a pole, and my cap comes off and a ski starts making
A drive to cross the other one, and my heart starts quaking.

Oh I must go back o'er the hill again, for I'm called by the thrill of a ride.
I forget the loss of a bamboo pole, and then I start a slide.
Backward I go, till a mound of snow braces me to a stop
And then I remember the herring bone, and wend my way to the top.

Oh I must glide o'er the hill again, for it only takes a minute
So I note the steel of the glossy crust and the next thing I know I'm in it,
Covered from head to foot with face all cut and raw
And I watch the others twirling down, in a melancholy awe.
All I ask is an ambulance, and a stretcher to come quickly,
But I crawl back up o'er the hill again, and won't admit I'm sickly.

M. (ASEFIELD) SHEILS

FRIENDS

One of our most treasured Gorham experiences was our first taste of the real thrill of teaching—At the campus school, as student teachers, we guided the activities of the children, encouraged their efforts to tackle ever new and bigger goals, thrilled over their growth, all at their own levels. From the sub-primaries learning to take off their own snow suits to the eighth graders painting their own set for Pinafore. They were “our” children—at last we were real teachers.

As we approach our next big venture down from the Hill and into the World, we realize that our preparation for teaching has included more than the accumulation of information and of techniques. Important as these are, we value quite as much our background of friendships with those others—fellow students and instructors—who have committed themselves to the trials and triumphs of the profession of teaching. As we scatter to our new places, we are glad to know that all across the state we can be sure of finding Old Friends From Gorham.
