Class Song

The end of Normal School has come
And now our work before us lies,
O classmates, let us keep in mind
To seek the true and only prize.
T'is not in letters made by man,
Nor yet on pages written o'er
Tis not in monuments of art;
Tho each and every heart may soar.

Chorus

We find it not upon this earth,
That God's diploma can be given;
But on that great and mighty Day,
When gathered round His throne in Heav'n.

May we be true to this, our school,
Show faithful effort to the last,
Press forward in the daily task
To overcome, and to surpass.
And when we meet in realms above
To tell of all our victories won,
May we receive the honored prize,
Our Father's word to us, "Well done."
