A College of Opportunity

WHEREIN we find the means to cultivate our ambitions, the association with fellow students and educators who will work with us in our striving for knowledge, and the ideals which will guide us as future teachers to a deeper understanding of life and of ourselves.

In this edition of the G.S.T.C. Hillcrest we wish to let you see how we, as college students, try to make the most of every advantage available to us. Our college is a growing one, dedicated to preparing and sending forth students who will face with eagerness and capability the challenge of educating the young citizens of our country. Here cooperation in work and fun makes the college years memorable and satisfying.

We of the Hillcrest staff hope you will read and reread this 1960 edition with pleasure. It is a good record of a good year.

Is Warmth of Faculty-Student Friendship

It is often the numerous little things a person does and says that endear him to his fellow man. With this thought in mind, we, the Senior class of 1960, respectfully dedicate this yearbook to Mr. James Whitten.

As the class advisor for the past four years, Mr. Whitten has guided us skillfully through many difficult situations. From those of us whom he has helped to help ourselves, comes a tribute to his understanding and thoughtfulness. From others whose only contact with him has been in the classroom, comes a deep respect for his progressive ideas and his constructive philosophy. His readiness to advise, combined with his ability to devise, characterizes a distinctive personality.

We thank you, Mr. Whitten, both for ourselves and for the many others who share our esteem for you.

Mrs. D. Dunton

Mr. T. Lunt

To Mr. Theodore Lunt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, the class of 1960 extends its appreciation for immeasurable services.

We shall remember you as the man with a hundred-and-one duties by whose punctuality one could set a watch.

The class of 1960 appreciates, more than words can express, the privilege of sharing the past four years with Mrs. Dorothea Dunton, housemother of Woodward Hall.

She is loved by both men and women on campus, and to many she is a mother away from home. If one is only as old as one's heart, she is but a youngster.

Mrs. L. Paltsits

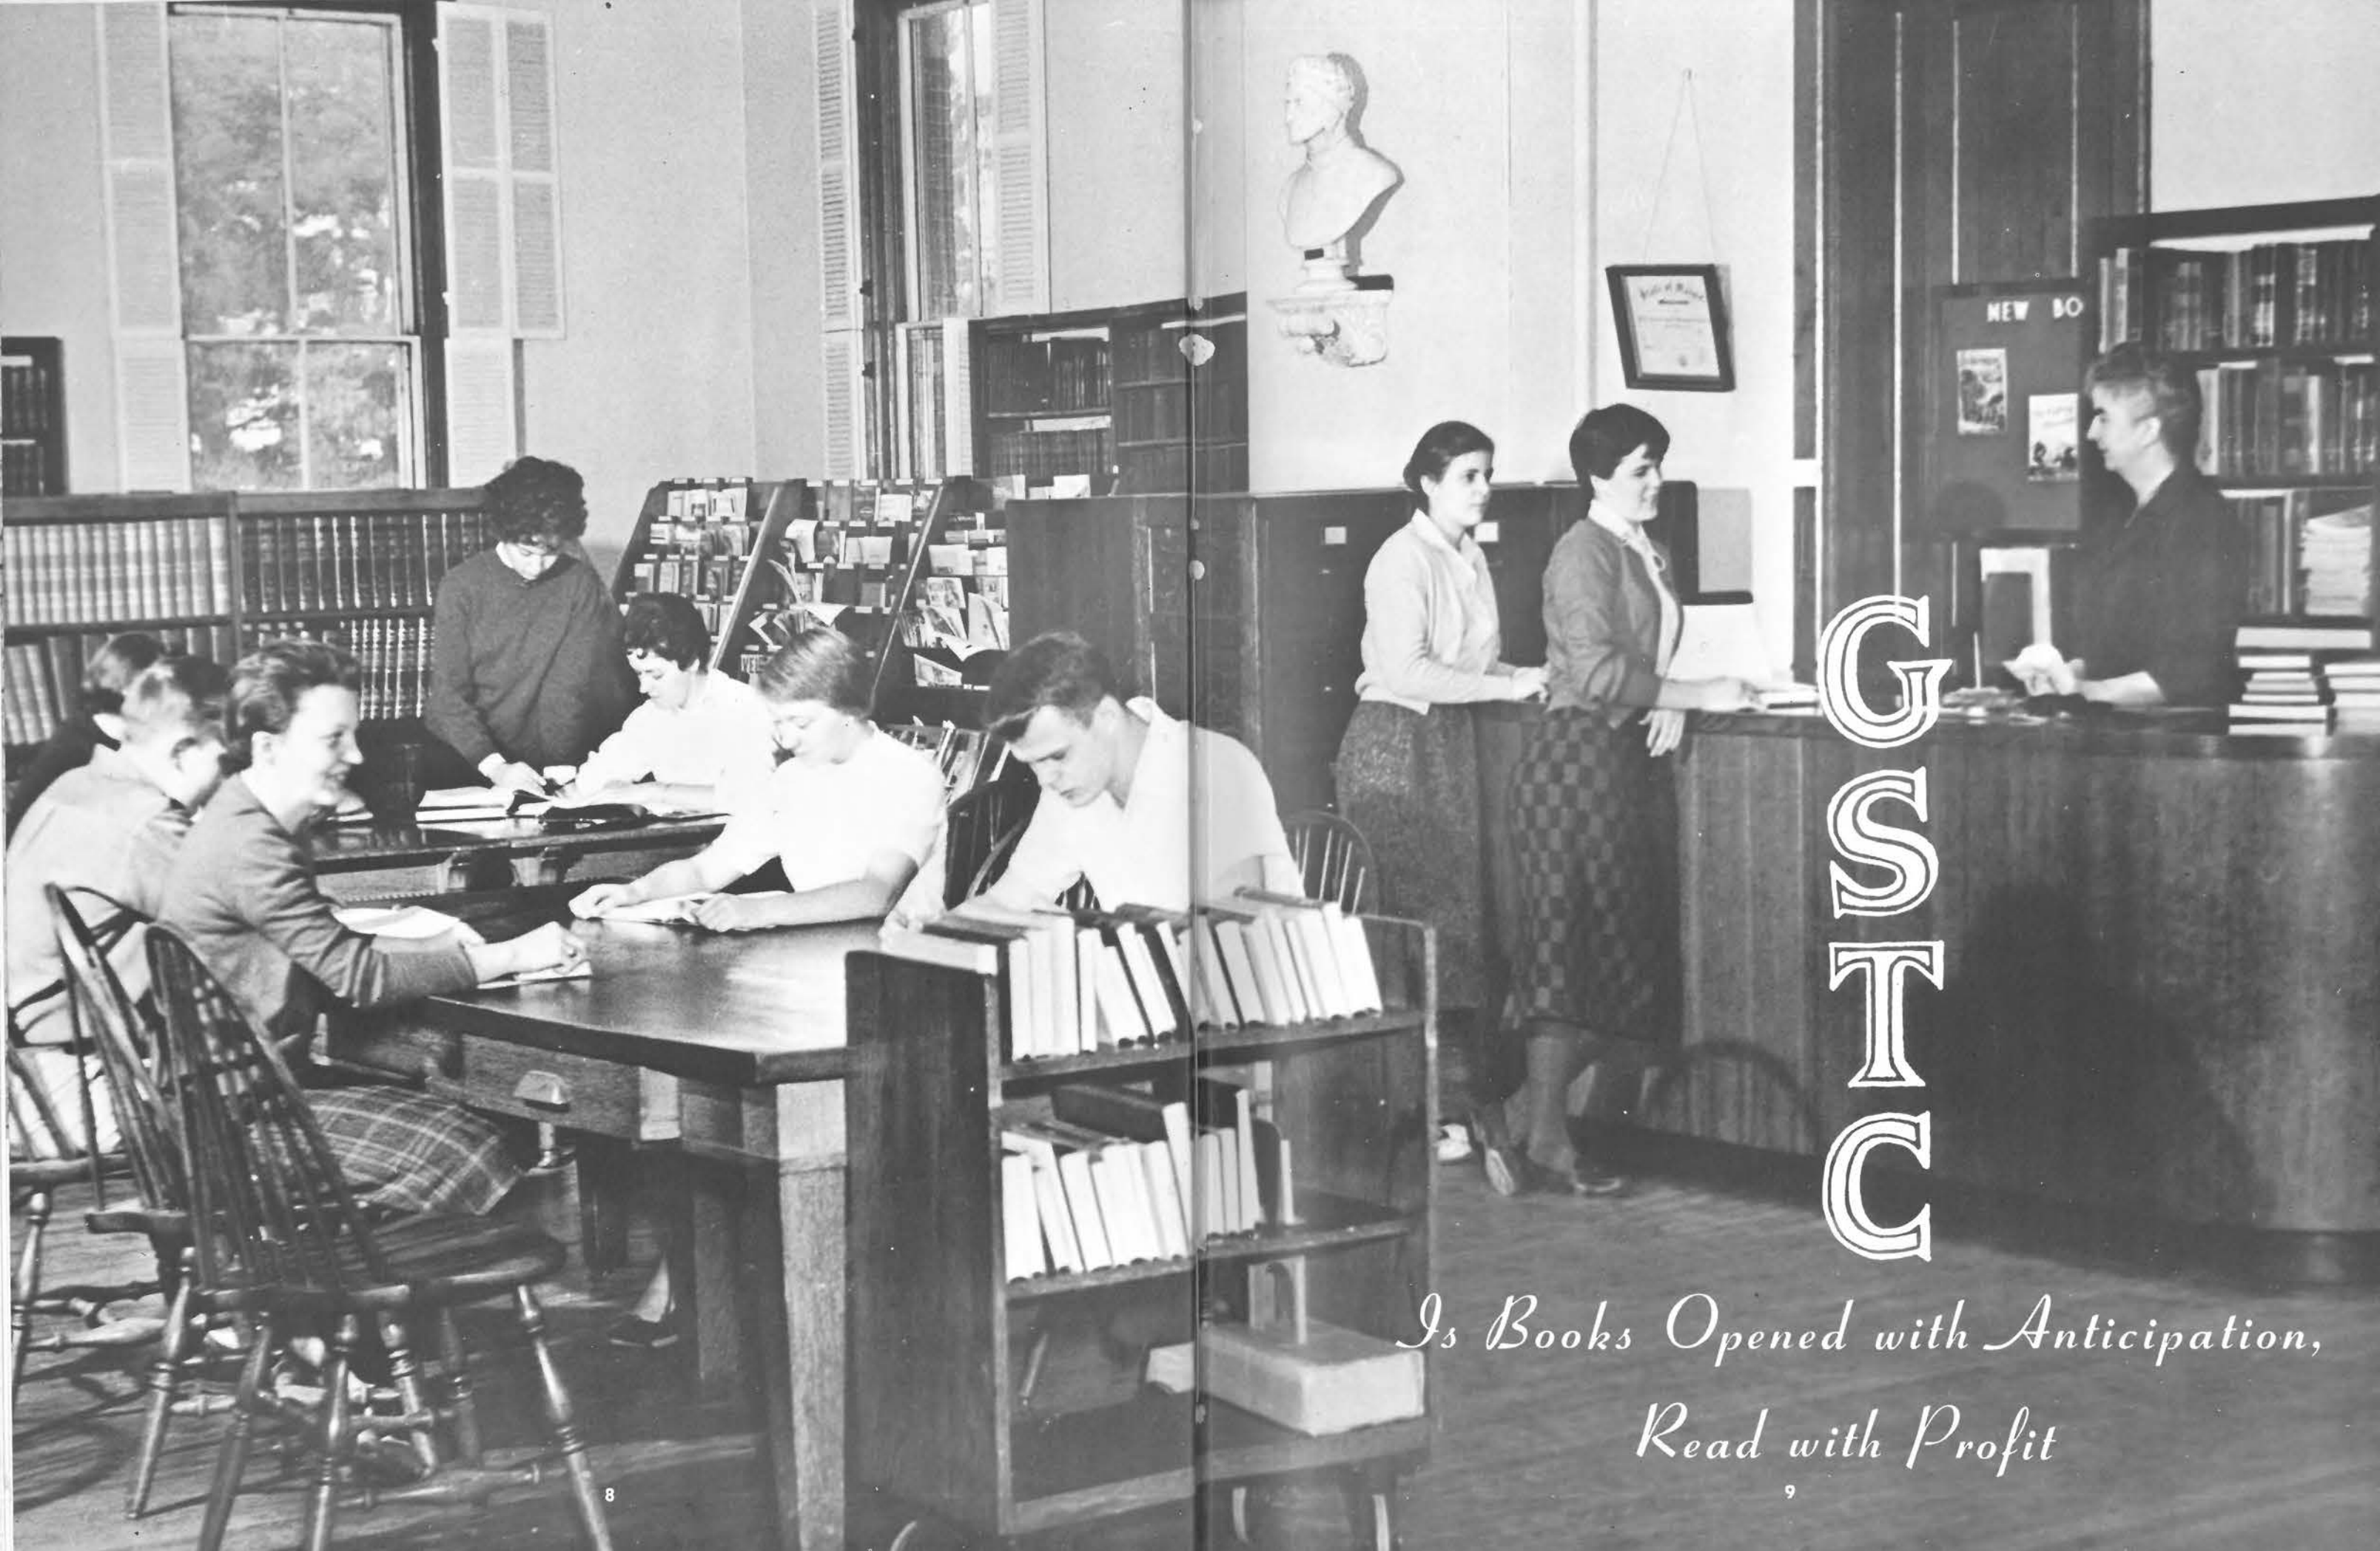

Mrs. Lydia Paltsits, housemother of Andrews Hall, in two short years has gained the appreciation of the class of 1960 through her gift of understanding.

We shall remember her for her generous heart and active mind.

Stimulators of the Inquiring Mind

ONE of the most imperative requirements of an up-and-coming college is an efficient and forward-thinking administrative staff. Gorham State Teachers College is most fortunate in having administrators who within ten years plan to make this campus one of the most modern in the state. Always they put the welfare and happiness of the student body first and the result is the admiration and appreciation of the students for their administrators.

Heading the executive department is our President, Dr. Francis L. Bailey, who is never too busy for the students' problems. He is actively interested in student activities and willing at any time to give his personal attention to each individual. Fairness and utmost consideration characterize all his dealings with the students and faculty.

Assisting Dr. Bailey is Mr. Ralph E. Duso, the business and plant manager. His duties include the supervision of all maintenance, repairs, and new construction. In addition to his regular duties, he makes it a point to become friends with the students and is always available for any needed help.

MR. ALLSTON SMITH

Serving as registrar for our growing college is Mr. Alston Smith. His work involves three areas of the academic community: faculty, students, and administration. Though constantly busy, he can find time to be personally interested in all the college affairs.

A new administrative position was introduced at Gorham this fall, that of dean of faculty, and it is a pleasure to have Dr. Kenneth Brooks capably filling it.

It is to our leaders that Gorham State Teachers College owes a large debt, for their combined ingenuity has given us many of the privileges now enjoyed and will give us in the future an even better school of which we can be increasingly proud.

Curriculum Offers Experience Through Student Teaching

STUDENT teaching is generally considered to be the most exciting phase of the entire teacher-education program. It is the culmination of three years of study and preparation for the teaching profession. The purpose of student teaching is to provide each senior with an opportunity to experience all the requisites of teaching: preparing, planning, demonstrating, discussing, evaluating, guiding, counseling, reacting to the needs of girls and boys as well as those of the community, and associating with fellow teachers and administrators.

For one-half year, student teaching is conducted in the Campus School and cooperating schools throughout the state. The grade levels and the supervising teachers are carefully selected to meet the needs of the program. The principal, supervisors and superintendents of schools, in addition to the college faculty, provide encouragement and assistance along the way. Frequent visitations provide the link between the college and the student in terms of accomplishment and evaluation.

Closely related to student teaching is the role played by the placement office. Its director notifies all eligible candidates for teaching positions of available openings and arranges for interviews where necessary. Through its efforts, students who have successfully completed their college requirements are introduced to their first positions.

The success of this program has been insured by many dedicated and professionally-minded teachers and administrators who give their time and effort to make the teachers of tomorrow worthy members of the profession.

Adjustment Through Health

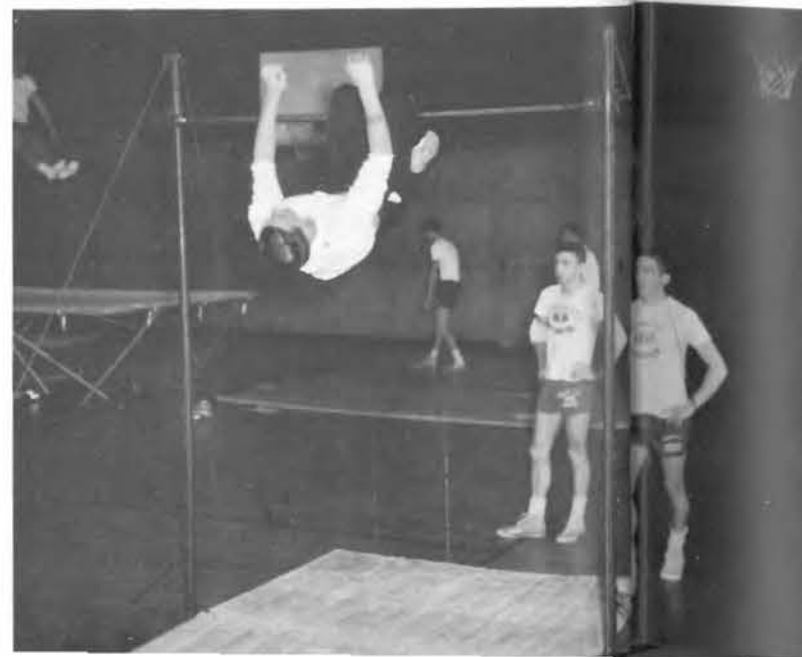

THE men's Physical Education Department at Gorham State Teachers College has a program of physical instruction which consists of an introduction to the fundamental skills of gymnastics, soccer, volleyball, football, and basketball.

Likewise, our women's physical education is based on the same pattern as the men's department. Our advisors strive to promote physical growth and development through a variety of activities.

In addition, the department offers health instruction which correlates very closely with the physical activities.

In recent years the department has added courses in coaching and elementary physical education. Aims are directed toward the administration, management, and coaching of team sports. Children from the Campus School often participate in many of the activities planned and carried out by members of these courses.

Programs of both freshmen and sophomores include a health course which deals primarily with the basic health problems which any teacher may expect to meet in any classroom.

Industrial Arts

The oldest of the specialized programs here on the Hill is the strong program in Industrial Arts Education which benefits many men each year.

The Industrial Arts course here is a complete and thorough one, including the fields of electricity and electronics, transportation and general shops organization, woodworking, mechanical drawing, metals, arts and design, and others of equal value and importance.

Excellent courses in arts and crafts are offered to upperclassmen as electives. These courses are most valuable and are enjoyed by all students taking them.

With a well-qualified staff, it is little wonder that our Industrial Arts course is so popular among the men. Students in this course are given the best possible training to make them assets to the state in this practical field.

Developing

Appreciation

Understanding

THE music department is now in its fourth year of the new program for music majors. The program is designed to prepare music supervisors who will have the necessary skills and experience to teach all phases of music from the elementary grades through high school. The curriculum includes courses in music history, theory, vocal and instrumental conducting, methods, and instrumental classes, as well as liberal arts and education courses.

In addition to the specialized program, the music department also offers music appreciation, fundamentals, elementary and junior high methods, which are required courses for the general student body. Aesthetics and instrumental classes are offered as electives.

In the Spring of 1958 the State Board of Education approved Art Education to be instituted at Gorham State Teachers College as a major course. Graduates of this course are certified by the State Department of Education to teach and supervise art in the elementary and high schools of the state. Certain basic talents and minimum requirements are necessary for enrollment in the course to insure the best possible product at the end of the four-year plan.

We are proud of our Music and Art Departments for, they are fine examples of the varied opportunities offered in the teaching profession.

Broadening Our Views

A broad and varied program of social studies is offered by most interesting faculty members, each of whom aims to give Gorham's prospective teachers a broad knowledge of the past and to alert them to the problems of the present.

The required courses lay a strong framework for basic understanding of other courses. The freshmen are given a two-semester course in the history of civilization. The sophomores are required to take sociology, geography, and a two-semester course in United States history. The junior required courses are economics and Maine history.

Correlating with the required subjects are varied electives from which to choose. Some of the electives are political, economic, and regional geography, criminology, marriage, anthropology, colonial history, and others of equal interest and values.

The members of the department feel that wide reading and travel are essential to an understanding of the world today. Mr. Moberg and the N.A.T.A. take the lead in promoting the latter. All members of the department take pride in the wide use made of magazines and books by the students of the college.

Training Minds

OUR college library, centrally located on the second floor of Corthell Hall, consists of three rooms — the reading room, the periodical room, and the librarian's office, which also serves as the cataloging room. The main reading room houses the general collection of approximately twenty thousand books, microfilm reader, and card catalog. It has a seating capacity of ninety. Open shelves provide free access to all materials — books, current periodicals, bound periodicals, and the vertical file of pamphlets, pictures, and clippings. The college student who learns to use the library intelligently has acquired a skill which will be useful throughout his life. What is even more important, through books he may grow not only in knowledge but in wisdom and understanding.

Psychology is a vital factor in the working knowledge of a teacher so we are fortunate to have such good courses in this subject at Gorham State Teachers College. Through the various phases of psychology the students learn how to better understand and deal with the classes and individuals who will be their future pupils. The value of college psychology courses will prove to be limitless in a teaching career.

Comprehending and Applying

The members of the English department at Gorham believe that an educated person, especially a teacher, should be articulate, acquainted with his cultural heritage, and appreciative of the insights and esthetic pleasures to be found in literature. The English program is, accordingly, designed to help the potential teacher to use language effectively and to form the habit of reading widely and discriminatingly.

Freshman English combines composition and the critical study of basic types of literature. It is followed in the sophomore year by a semester of English literature and one of American literature. A course in speech is required of seniors. In addition, electives in literature, composition, and the teaching of English are offered.

The mathematics department offers three types of courses: for general education, for elective specialization, and for teaching procedures and concepts. The freshman class is sectioned according to previous mathematical instruction so that each student may acquire a background of the nature and significance of mathematics, geared to his highest level of learning. Electives are offered in college algebra, trigonometry, and analytic geometry, differential and integral calculus, and statistics. The necessity for developing ability to think with numbers is recognized as an important objective of all teachers.

Discovery

Through

AN important component in the education of any person in the twentieth century is science. It might even be said that any person who is ignorant of science can never claim to be truly educated. In an attempt to insure that our future teachers will be scientifically literate, this college requires that all freshmen have a year of biological science and that all sophomores have a year of physical science.

The department is operating in a beautiful new building with excellent facilities. The courses now being taught offer superior advantages to the students because of more adequate space, smaller classes, improved facilities, and a more specialized faculty.

Through the selected content of the courses an attempt is made to familiarize the student with the fundamental concepts of science, the scientific method, and laboratory techniques. In addition to the required courses, students may choose electives from the many offered. The science department hopes to expand its offering of electives in the near future to include other valuable courses included in the many fields of science.

Experience Makes the Teacher

THE Campus School is an integral part of the college. The members of the faculty not only have the responsibility of the development of their pupils but must also guide the college students who teach with them so that each will develop his teaching potential to the highest degree.

In the Campus School, the student teachers have the opportunity to put into practice the theories and methods they have learned in college classes. They work with the regular teachers for a semester of the senior year, first observing and then actually carrying some of the teaching load. Gradually they assume greater responsibility, make necessary decisions, and take part in all types of activities suitable for the children with whom they are working. The task is not easy. It is a real challenge, but most of the student teachers accept it willingly and have an interesting and profitable experience.

The Campus School children enjoy their contacts with the college. Great enthusiasm is expressed when groups are invited to go to the gymnasium for organized physical activity or to the science building to view exhibits. The college students are "trying out their wings," and the children are appreciative of their efforts.

The Campus School faculty is conscious of a great responsibility — the fruitful guidance of both children and college students — but is happy to accept the challenge and hopes to meet it effectively.

Aid From Our Students

Life at Gorham College wouldn't be complete without the presence of our competent staff members. In the main office in Corthell Hall, the office personnel work constantly for the benefit of the students.

The staff members in the respective dormitories, including the patient and helpful housemothers and matron, our efficient nurse, and the chefs, who keep us well fed, are greatly appreciated by each and every student, for their invaluable service and assistance to all is limitless.

The lounge, a favorite haunt of all students for studying or socializing, is capably operated for our comfort by the lounge staff and their student assistants.

The task of supervising and maintaining the operation of the physical facilities at Gorham so that we may be warm, comfortable, and safe is a responsible and never-ending one. Deserving our appreciation for the way in which they perform this task on the Hill are our hard-working custodians.

On September 7, 1956, our class of two-hundred and twenty-six, the largest ever to enter Gorham State Teachers College, began our life on the Hill. Soon, with Orientation and Freshman Reception behind us, we held our first class meeting and elected officers for the year: president, Michael Dean; vice president, Harold Ware; secretary, Rebecca Hodgkins; and treasurer, Alan MacDougall. Our representatives for Student Council were Gail Armstrong and Bruce Thomas. Later in the year, Linda Johnson and Rebecca Hodgkins represented us as queen candidates for the March of Dimes and Winter Carnival.

Returning as sophomores, we found freshmen whose puzzled expressions reminded us of how we must have looked the year before. Though it seemed as if it had been only yesterday that we, too, were becoming oriented to college life, we accepted our new role as upper classmen quite naturally. This year our class officers were president, Alan MacDougall; vice president, Wendell McCollor; secretary, Margaret Morrill; and treasurer, Elizabeth Largay. Elected to the Student Council were Bruce Carlson and Harold Ware. Patrick Michaud directed our very successful Sophomore Show.

In September, 1958, we of the class of 1960 returned and elected as our officers: Wendell McCollor, president; Harold Ware, vice president; Sylvia Hamilton, secretary; Patrick Michaud, treasurer. Chosen to be our representatives on Student Council were Christina Fletcher and Frank Benson. Arnold Harrison won the honor of serving as mayor of the campus, and Anne Williams and Carolyn Whitcomb represented our class in the Queen Pageant.

Now this year our pathways separate into the world. We are no longer students, but teachers ready to go out to use the priceless gifts of knowledge and skill which devoted faculty members have helped us to acquire. Not one of us will forget Miss Edna Dickey and Mr. James Whitten, our class advisers. Words cannot sufficiently express our gratitude for the time and help they have given the Class of 1960.

We are proud that every year our class members have been active in all organizations on the Hill and we hope we have made a worthwhile contribution to Gorham campus life. Leading us in the activities of this, our last year, are president, Bruce Thomas; vice president, Bruce Thurlow; secretary, Constance Tuck; and treasurer, Rebecca Hodgkins. Elected to Student Council were Philip Butterfield, Marjorie Wiggin, and Arnold Harrison.

These have been four good years which we will long remember.

Respectfully submitted,

Juniors - 1961

When September 1959 rolled around, we of the class of 1961 began to turn our thoughts from summer employment to prospects of returning to the "Hill". It hardly seemed possible that we were entering our junior year for time had flown by so quickly.

Some of our members were chosen to return to the campus early as upper-class advisers for Freshman Orientation. Even though we were exhausted at the end of the three days, we were very happy to have had the opportunity to serve in this capacity. On September 16, however, an air of expectancy arose over the campus as we waited for the other members of our class to arrive. After many hello's, much unpacking, and hurried stories of the summer, we began to notice that our class had again decreased in number, chiefly because of marriage or transferring to other colleges. Thus the prophecy of orientation week-end our freshman year appears to be coming true.

Early in the fall our first class meeting was held for the purpose of electing officers. Those elected were Donald Duplissie, president; Gerard Asselin, vice president; Priscilla Jenkins, secretary; and Sylvia Erickson, treasurer. Chosen as representatives to the Student Council were Elizabeth Costa and Jerry Fillmore. Alternates were Judy Fuller and Richard Langlois.

The members of the class of 1961 are very active in the various organizations on campus. Not only are we well represented, but we hold many executive positions in them. Members of our class hold offices in the three religious organizations, thus showing our spiritual interests. In the governing bodies on campus we have members on the Student Council, Women's House Committee, and Men's Government. We also appear to be literary-minded in that the editors of both college publications are members of the class of '61. Professionally, we are represented by leaders in both S.E.A.M. and in I.A.P.O. Male students in our class show their interest in brotherhood by the large memberships in fraternities. Major executive positions in each fraternity are held by junior members. Other organizations in which we are well represented by many of our members holding positions as officers are Outing Club, A Cappella Chorus, N.A.T.A., Women's Athletic Association, Varsity "G" Club, Amicitia Club, Men's Glee Club, Industrial Arts Development Council, and the Art Club.

We have enjoyed the year even though it was an extremely busy one, and it is certain that in the years to come we will have many fond memories of the friends we have made and the experiences we have had. At the present time we are gazing longingly at the caps and gowns of the seniors, yet we are looking forward to next year when we will get practical experience in our chosen profession.

Respectfully submitted,

Sophomores

The Class of 1962, under its new name of Sophomores, arrived on the Hill full of ambition, enthusiasm and talent. Immediately our class took its part in making the Freshman class feel more at home.

At our first class meeting, Louis Lahar, president, conducted the election of class officers. This year's class officers are president, David McCullough; vice president, Jay Bernard; secretary, Cynthia Williams; and treasurer, Donna Skillings.

Our new Student Council representatives were George Stevenson, to serve a one-year term; and Lincoln Brown, a two-year term. Two members in our class, Charles Douglas and James Skoglund, were chosen by their respective fraternities to run as mayor candidates. Esther Lowell and Louis Lahar were chosen as co-chairmen for the Harvest Ball. The highlight of the ball was having a member of the sophomore class, James Skoglund, honored with the title of "Campus Mayor".

We are very proud to have a large representation from our class in all groups on the campus. In the Modern Dance Club, Linda Hussey is serving as president; Virginan Munroe, vice president; Joan Nelson, secretary; and Donna Skillings as treasurer. David Bois is president of the Commuters' Club. Sally Blaisdell is co-editor-in-chief of the Hillcrest. In Amicitia, Cynthia Williams is vice president, and Mary Tiner holds the office of secretary.

Our class also serves in the religious life of the campus. Jay Bernard is president of the Newman Club and Julie Poulin secretary. In the Student Christian Association, David McCullough is serving as president, with Lincoln Brown as vice president.

Linda Hussey and Mary Marsh cheered our boys on to victory during basketball season. Several sophomore boys took an active interest in the sports events on the Hill.

The sophomore class combined its efforts and talents and as a result, produced a most admirable sophomore show.

We find our time at GSTC moving quite rapidly as we look back over the many wonderful memories our first two years have brought us here. This gives us even more reason to look forward to our final two years at GSTC.

Freshmen

The campus of Gorham State Teachers College is especially beautiful in the fall. When we as freshmen came here in September to begin our college education, we were greeted by an impressive sight. The contrast of the stately, old, ivy-leaguish buildings with the new Woodward and Bailey Halls and the newly begun women's dormitory caused us to admire the progress of this, our future alma mater.

Upon entering our dormitories, we were greeted by representatives of the college faculty, staff, and upper-class student body. After being assigned our rooms, we were led on an orientation and friend-making tour of the campus by teams of congenial, capable upperclassmen. This week of orientation was to remain a fond memory in the minds of everyone associated with it. Among our activities were the taking of standardized diagnostic tests, becoming familiar with the various clubs and activities, dancing and playing games in Corthell Lounge and Robie Center, and finally enjoying an evening of entertainment by our own classmates. Remarkable talent was exhibited by the freshmen that evening. During that week, many acquaintances and strong friends were made.

One thing which impressed us was the unusual relationship between students and faculty. The warm friendliness existing between them is truly a fine and advantageous attribute.

This relationship may be due to the limited size of the college or possibly to the fact that there is no age or education barrier between those of common interest and ambitions. Whatever the cause of this spirit, certainly it is something to be praised, held in high esteem, and perpetuated for many years to come.

Many freshmen have already taken advantage of and enjoy Gorham State's many extra-curricular activities. The freshman class is well represented in several athletic, musical, religious, literary, and professional organizations. College is the place for possible self-improvement, depending upon one's own interest and personal application. The combined enjoyment of the academic courses, extra-curricular activities, and atmosphere conducive to social and personal improvement is very important to everyone.

Our first class meeting was held for the purpose of electing class officers. Those elected were Don Donnelly, president; Max Brandt, vice president; Gail Fish, secretary; Judy Ashe, treasurer. Later we elected Mr. George Barker our class advisor.

So far at Gorham, many things have influenced the members of the freshman class and many more events will influence us further in our four years here. Yet, the freshmen experiences are ones really to be remembered and loved, for, in a sense, throughout our lives we'll always be "freshmen"!

Acting as a representative governing body for the students is the Student Council. This group is composed of eleven members: three officers elected each spring by the entire student body and eight representatives of the four classes.

The council has many annual duties consisting of allocating student activity money to the various organizations, being in charge of the Mayor Campaign and Harvest Ball, and sponsoring the Winter Carnival and Coronation Ball. Added to the social calendar this year was the conducting of an official Miss America local pageant to choose Miss G.S.T.C. to represent Gorham in the Miss Maine Pageant.

During the year many problems are put before the council by the students and faculty. At weekly meetings the members of the Council do their very best to see that a democratic solution for such problems is reached.

Mayor Campaign

When the sun came up on one particular November Monday morning last fall, something unusual was in the air. Various groups of students at Gorham State Teachers College were to be seen busily working in trees, on the fire escapes, in windows, and in other strange places. And what's more, this had already been going on for several hours before daylight. The purpose for all this activity was Gorham's 1959 Mayor Campaign, which seemed to gain momentum day by day as the competition became keener. And in the end it proved to be one of the most colorful and intense campaigns fought on the Hill.

Early Morning Rush

Alpha Lambda Beta's Charlie Douglas was seen frequently lurking around the campus, portraying the famous gangster, Al Capone. He was silently followed by his bodyguards and henchmen, dressed in black suits and carrying violin cases. Charles' dining room show was a tremendous success as gangland showed it could produce exciting entertainment. His entertaining lounge and assembly programs, plus his many rallies, further increased the competition.

Bill Griffin of Phi Sigma Pi, playing the part of a hard-working, rock-crushing jailbird, was easily recognized wherever he went in his striped suit. His sincere manner and friendliness, while not contributing to the role of a jailbird, couldn't help but get him votes. In the dining room his top-rate entertainment scored an instant hit with the audience. His backing at the assembly program and in the lounge further worried his opponents.

Kappa Delta Phi's own Mr. Ziegfeld, Jimmy Skoglund, brought additional color to the campus through his winning campaign. He could be seen roaming the Hill in his swallow-tailed coat, top hat, and starched shirt, and carrying his silver-headed cane. At other times he would be spotted riding in his vintage convertible. Playing the part of Mr. Ziegfeld to the hilt, he brought original entertainment into his shows. That, plus his genuine friendliness, humor, and witticisms, gained him the necessary votes to win the campaign.

Not to be overlooked are all the mayor campaign managers who did an outstanding job of backing their candidates.

The Women's House Committee serves as the governing body of the two dormitories for women. Its aims are to govern wisely and to promote good citizenship.

The committee consists of twenty-one members: four officers and representatives from each floor in both dormitories. Meetings are held every Wednesday evening, at seven o'clock. It is the responsibility of the committee to uphold the dormitory regulations and to render service whenever needed.

This year's projects included purchasing various items for use in the dormitories and planning the annual teas.

We are fortunate in having as our advisor, Miss Edna Dickey, Dean of Women, whose wisdom, understanding, and words of advice are sincerely appreciated.

The Men's Government consists of a House Committee of eight members: the president of the house, a secretary, and two representatives from each floor. Serving in a supervisory capacity are the house mother, the dean of men, and three proctors, who keep order in the dormitory.

At different times throughout the year the modern lounge of our dormitory has been open to the entire student body for such activities as dancing, watching television, and entertaining guests.

With a year's experience and a veteran staff, Gorham State's newspaper has made for itself a permanent place on the Hill. It has tried to maintain the basic functions of a good newspaper: reporting current events, interpreting news, giving service to its advertisers, and stimulating and entertaining its readers.

We are very grateful to have two able advisors this year, Mr. Stanley Vincent and Mr. Allen Pease, who have given so much of their time and thought to see that The Observer meets high standards.

This year, our staff numbers thirty-four, all of whom are trying hard to enable your newspaper to take a prominent place among college publications.

"Our lives are measured not in the length of our years, but in the deeds accomplished through faith in Christ."

Our faith, as college students, is nourished and widened through various experiences. The experiences we engage in through religious organizations and activities enrich our lives and nourish our faith. To provide such experiences is one of the primary purposes of the S.C.A.

This organization consisted of approximately 140 members this year; two-thirds of them were new members who were initiated at the second meeting, a most impressive candlelight service in Russell Hall. We were fortunate this year in having many excellent guest speakers at our regular Thursday night meetings. The topics discussed ranged in subject matter from Marriage to Voodooism. There were also student-conducted meetings in order to provide variety.

The S.C.A. sponsors a number of outside activities for the entire campus to enjoy. The Green and White Way, the annual tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bailey, Open Lounge, Freshman Reception are among these social entertainments sponsored by one of the largest organizations on campus.

Our year is usually brought to an end by the annual retreat at Ocean Park.

Freshman Reception

The Freshman Reception was held on Thursday, September 24. Prior to the receiving line, the freshmen, accompanied by their big sisters and brothers, assembled in the auditorium of Russell Hall. There Margaret Chesley, the student body representative, gave the freshmen very sound, helpful advice for the four busy years ahead. From her keen observations the freshmen were reminded not only that here they have an opportunity to improve character and to obtain a broad cultural background, but that the accomplishment of these things is up to them as individuals.

Dr. Lincoln Fish of the faculty was guest speaker. Developing the topic, "On Attending College," he advised his listeners to inspire their teachers, to read voraciously, to seek a life philosophy, and to develop the art of conversation.

After the program in the auditorium, the freshmen were escorted through the receiving line by their big brothers and sisters. There they met the administrators, advisors of the Student Christian Association, and the guest speaker. The evening was concluded with refreshments and a dance.

Dr. Fish and Margaret Chesley.

Green and White Way

On March 24 this year's Green and White Way, another of the activities sponsored annually by the Student Christian Association, took place. Traditionally, this is a penny carnival, held in Russell Hall, at which each organization sponsors a booth. All proceeds go to the World University Service to aid foreign students.

The Newman Club is a national organization formed for all Catholic students in non-sectarian colleges. The purpose of the club is to provide spiritual enrichment to its members while they are in college through a balanced program of religious, intellectual, and social activities.

At Gorham the Newman Club meetings are held every Thursday night in Corthell Hall. The activities this year have included a series of discussions on pertinent topics, a workshop, outings to St. Joseph's College, visits to St. Louis' Home for Boys, and communion breakfasts.

This year marked the initial appearance of the Newman Club Choir of ten to fifteen students, directed by Patrick Michaud, who sing every Sunday at the 9:30 Mass.

Reverend Robert Roche, Chaplain, and Mr. Richard Costello serve as the advisors. The Newman Club owes them a great deal for their constant interest and effort.

The Canterbury Club is one of the three religious organizations on the Hill. It welcomes all Episcopal students and helps them grow spiritually as well as socially and intellectually while on campus.

Regular prayer meetings, held on Tuesdays, are followed by discussions or by talks from guest speakers. Special services are held at Trinity Church in Portland. These may include a Corporate Communion and supper, with a speaker, discussion, or movie. We are joined on these occasions by other members of Canterbury Clubs from surrounding colleges. One of the highlights of this year's meetings was the visitation of Regal Elisee, an Episcopalian priest from Haiti, who spoke to us on the Episcopal religion in his land.

Of great help to us have been the Rev. Shirley Goodwin, Rector of Trinity Church in Portland; Rev. James Whittaker, Curate of Trinity; and Mr. James Bowman of the Gorham faculty.

SEAM is the Student Education Association of Maine. Student members of SEAM are also members of the Maine Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

Our club, which consists of more than 200 members, meets twice a month. During the year we sponsor social activities such as dances, teas, and our annual movie-dance program during the Freshman Orientation Weekend.

Delegates from SEAM participate in various state and New England conventions. This year at the state convention Gorham's chapter of SEAM will be host to SEAM members from most of the colleges in Maine.

The purpose of our club is to impress upon the students, future teachers, the importance of upholding the moral and ethical codes of the teaching profession. With the able assistance and guidance of our advisor, Miss Mildred Peabody, we, as members of SEAM achieve this purpose.

Although we all worked hard last year, the club did not realize enough money to make our planned trip to Kentucky. This year we are working twice as hard and hope to reach our goal of one thousand dollars. Quite a number of members who have joined the group have been a great asset to the money-making detail.

Our projects are quite varied and range from putting on benefit movies and dances to selling stationery, cards, Christmas wreaths, sandwiches, cider, fudge, and even to washing cars.

Mr. Moberg and Mr. Miller help us greatly in the planning of activities and by acting as chaperons at our affairs. We greatly appreciate the support of the local merchants and of the student body, support which has given our treasury the needed boost that will put us over our quota.

The Outing Club, one of the more prominent and popular clubs at G.S.T.C., started the year off in full swing with plans to climb Mt. Washington.

The program of activities for the year included square dances, splash and bowling parties, roller skating, a clam bake, and a trip to Cinerama in Boston. A beautiful trip to the Isles of Shoals brought the year to a happy close.

The biggest campus event that the Outing Club sponsors is the Winter Carnival. Activities for this gala affair include a torch-light parade, snow sculpturing contests, the queen pageant, winter sport races, skiing, sliding, and skating. The climax of this glorious week is the Coronation Ball, with its crowning of the queen who rules over the remaining carnival events.

The Ski Club was first started in 1949 by Don Hale. A group of ski enthusiasts got together in January of 1959 to reorganize the club. They elected the club's next slate of officers: Wallace Hazleton, president; Ralph Boynton, vice president; Jean Graves, secretary; Irma Gilman, treasurer. A constitution was drawn up, the club was accepted by the school, and the skiers were on their way again.

As soon as nature's necessary product (snow) had arrived, the members were off to Pleasant Mountain in Bridgton, Maine, for a thrilling time. For the non-skiers, who were interested in learning the sport, individual or group lessons were given at a low cost on the beginners' slope. For those who had mastered the art, there were long, steep, rolling hills to glide over all the way down the side of the mountain.

Because the trips were all a great success, we're looking forward to many more. Perhaps during the coming season, we will be able to take in some trips to New Hampshire or Vermont.

Winter Carnival

Snow! Snow! Snow! That seemed to be the unintentional although the appropriate theme for Gorham State Teachers College Winter Carnival.

On Thursday, March 3, the carnival, an eagerly anticipated annual event, was officially opened with a torchlight parade, followed by a record hop.

On Friday, which brought one of our fiercest winter storms of the year, voting was held throughout the day for Winter Carnival Queen. The candidates were as follows: freshmen, Betty Gallison and Donna Cockerille; sophomores, Brenda Wilson and Cindy Packard; juniors, Helen Morse and Betty Chesley; seniors, Sylvia Hamilton and Carol Hodgkins. In the evening, basketball was on the program. The women students played the men, and the students challenged the faculty.

On Saturday the sun came out again and conditions for snow sculpturing were at their best. The theme was "Candy Land, U.S.A." Various organizations labored throughout the day in competition for the Sculpturing Trophy.

In the evening the Coronation Ball was held, with music furnished by our own dance band. The climax of the evening came with the announcement of the new queen. Quiet crept over the gym as Don Richards, master of ceremonies, opened the envelope which contained the name — Cindy Packard. Beaming radiantly amid the enthusiastic applause, she was crowned by Mary Marsh, last year's queen.

On Sunday afternoon the snow sculptures were judged. In the evening the fraternities and the faculty presented a program of entertainment in Russell Hall. Queen Cindy Packard presided and announced the snow sculpture winner, Phi Sigma Pi.

The carnival was, indeed, a wonderful success. Praise must be given to Regina Littlefield and Esther Lowell for their leadership and to the student committees who worked with them to carry through a memorable program of events.

On Monday and Wednesday afternoons the sounds of music and the cries of technique can be heard, for the thirty-two girls in Modern Dance Club are practicing.

The girls under the excellent supervision of Miss Jeanette Goodwin, practice diligently in order to display their combined talents in the form of two major productions, one during the Christmas season and another in the spring.

The dance workshop, for those who were not able to become active members of the Club itself, enables girls to become better acquainted with the regular routine and also to fill vacant places in the Dance Club.

We, the members of the Modern Dance Club and of the Workshop, would like to thank Miss Goodwin for her never-ending interest, direction, encouragement, and patience. Without her the Club could never have attained the level of achievement and success which it has now reached.

The Art Club at GSTC welcomes all students who are interested in art in its various forms. The purpose of the organization is to provide an outlet and an opportunity for creating art objects in various media. Available for use are pastels, charcoal, watercolors, tempera, oils, clay, metals and crayons. Many students develop into really fine artists through this organization. In the art club all work together and try to help one another improve.

Each year the Art Club sponsors a tea during National Art Week. Artists in the surrounding area lend their work for our exhibition, as do some members on our college faculty. To this tea, which is given in the lounge, everyone is invited. In addition to the tea other types of programs of art are sponsored by the club.

This year we have undertaken a new type of project, paying for lessons at the Portland School of Fine and Applied Arts for a very promising boy, some of whose work was exhibited at the tea last year.

This year the Commuters' Club is working hard towards a bigger and better membership than that of past years. The main purpose of the club is to bring the commuters into one organization in order to give them the opportunity to participate in campus projects and to enter into the college social life.

The club's varied program includes bowling parties, skating parties, and "get-togethers" in the lounge.

The club feels itself fortunate in having Dr. Fish as its faculty advisor.

The Entertainment Committee is composed of both students and faculty. The main function of this committee is to bring to our campus cultural and educational programs. Through the efforts of this organization, students have had the opportunity to see performers whom they could not have readily seen otherwise.

Entertainment and Assembly Committee

The committee on Assemblies, consisting of two students and three faculty members, has the responsibility of providing programs for the college assemblies. The Tuesday programs, secular in nature, are varied to include talks by outside speakers, movies, demonstrations, and faculty and student presentations. The Thursday programs, stressing the spiritual and ethical, bring speakers from the Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant clergy. Recently, with the reorganization of committees, the Committee for Assemblies has been merged with the Entertainment Committee.

The Industrial Arts Council, a relatively new organization on the hill, has readily proven its value to students and faculty alike. Unique in both its organization and purpose, it is composed of two elected members of each class and two faculty members. In addition to clearing up departmental problems in the Industrial Arts program, it endeavors to develop a closer understanding and relationship on campus between the Industrial Arts and the academic departments.

Besides its two main objectives the Council anticipates a development of greater efficiency within the industrial arts program, an improvement in student-instructor relationship, and a means of providing better facilities and maintenance for the industrial arts curriculum.

During the past year the Council with the help of the Junior Class I.A. students produced a film, Interpreting Industry Through The Line Production Project.

It is the aspiration of the members of this organization that in future years it will be of increasing service to the college.

The I.A.P.O. is active for its second year in bringing professional programs to Gorham College. The membership of this organization includes all Industrial Arts students and faculty.

One of its major goals, acquiring a greater understanding of the workings of industry, is being met through such programs as those on metal-finishing by Mr. J. L. Shields and on antique tools by Mr. D. R. Parker.

The I.A.P.O. hopes that in the future the interest stimulated by the programs it has sponsored will continue to grow.

The Varsity "G" Club is an organization made up exclusively of men who have earned at least one varsity letter in an intercollegiate sport. Over the past year the club has grown considerably. Perhaps this growth can be credited to the coming of a varsity soccer team to Gorham. Prospects are also bright for adding a varsity tennis team.

The "G" Club sponsors the entire college intramural sports program. Included in this program are flag football, basketball, softball, volleyball, tennis and golf. The club awards trophies or medals to the champions of these various intramural activities.

To round out the program the "G" Club presented several stimulating assemblies: a lecture given by Mr. John Winkin, head baseball coach at Colby College, and several films on various outstanding events in the sports field.

In the spring, usually around March, the club provides a banquet for all participants in varsity sports. On this occasion varsity letters and trophies are presented to the outstanding athletes.

The Varsity "G" Club newsletter is put out at least four times a year. It has become quite successful in keeping the Varsity "G" Club alumni in contact with sports on the hill.

Under the guidance of our advisors, Mr. Richard Costello, and Mr. Richard Westcott, we hope to further improve and promote sports activities here on campus.

The W.A.A. promotes all women's athletic activity on the Hill. The organization is designed to create student enthusiasm in the areas of athletics and to provide an opportunity for a release from studies. With the guidance of the council, a program is set up that has appeal to all those interested in sports. Fall finds the girls actively engaged in softball, badminton, and archery, while the coming of winter ushers in snowshoeing, skiing, skating, volleyball, fencing, and basketball. At the first sign of spring, the tennis courts immediately come alive, and trampoline is added to the program to keep the girls busy on those muggy days!

Each girl works toward a goal. Striving first for her numeral and letter, she reaches ultimate satisfaction by earning a white blazer, monogrammed with the W.A.S. emblem, an award requiring five hundred points. All awards are presented at the annual banquet in the spring.

One of the foremost organizations on the hill is the A Cappella Chorus. Under the fine leadership of Miss Miriam Andrews, this group has done an excellent job in adding greatly to the enjoyment of college life.

Though the organization, which is made up of about one hundred students, works under the handicap of meeting only once a week, on Friday during club period, it has achieved impressive results.

Its major presentations during the year have been the Christmas and Spring concerts. Other presentations have included their excellent program at the reception honoring the Maine State Grange in Portland and various assembly programs.

We, the members of A Cappella Chorus, wish to thank Miss Andrews for all the help she has given and the patience which she has shown us throughout the year. These qualities and her proven professional ability have certainly helped make a chorus of which Gorham can well be proud.

On most Monday or Wednesday afternoons around one o'clock, a visitor to the third floor of Corthell Hall is likely to hear the Choristers diligently practicing. Twenty-five women students, especially chosen from the A Cappella Chorus for their musical ability and interest, make up this group. Although a relative newcomer to the hill, the organization, under the direction of Miss Miriam Andrews, has made a fine reputation for itself. The Choristers appear annually in both the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The band continued this year under the direction of Mr. Gerard Chamberland and provided programs throughout the year: assemblies, basketball games, and Recognition Day. Along with the other musical organizations it took part in the Christmas and Spring concerts.

Many music majors and interested freshmen have given the band a big boost this year, and we feel that the band has improved greatly with this help. A great deal of credit for the band's growth in both membership and performance over the last three years goes to Mr. Chamberland. Even though at times rehearsal has not been very promising, he has stimulated us so that we have been able to take pride in the eventually smooth performance.

The members of the Men's Glee Club, under the capable direction of Mr. Gerard Chamberland, are a carefully chosen group selected on voice qualification and interest in musical participation.

This group has made several appearances at assembly programs, on television, and in the surrounding communities. The spirit in which they take part on these occasions is always mirrored by the appreciation of their enthusiastic audience.

The glee club rehearses twice weekly, and the result of this work is a sense of achievement in a field of aesthetics and of self-expression.

In three short years the Men's Glee Club has made a considerable contribution to the good relationship between the college and the community.

The primary purpose of our organization is to promote interest in music education both on the hill and in the community. In connection with its purpose, we have sponsored several assemblies this year.

Following each of our monthly meetings there are interesting and varied programs. One of the outstanding programs of the year was at Christmas when a hundred-voice glee club from Buxton and its surrounding areas sang for our group.

The addition of this year's talented freshmen and the revisions in the music curriculum are signs of still greater progress to come.

Many thanks go to our three music faculty members who have been a constant source of help to us.

The Amicitia Club, as the name signifies, stands for friendship. Meetings are held twice a month on Monday evening. The club is composed of forty girls from all four classes, the senior girls this year being active members. Freshman girls receive their bids in early spring and become active members immediately after their week of initiation and the formal banquet. During the process of initiation the pledges are given "big sisters" within the club. At the banquet, the "big sisters" accompany their pledges. Throughout the initiation, they are on hand to help the pledges.

Our club sponsors several events including dances, teas, and fashion shows, such as the spring fashion show this year, having as its theme, "The Moon or Bust." Also during the Christmas season, donations are given to the needy families of Gorham.

We are fortunate to have as our advisor, Mrs. Dorothea Dunton, who is always on hand with her helpful advice. We wish to express our gratitude to her and hope to have her as our advisor and friend for many years.

In 1949 the fraternity called Omega Nu Epsilon was formed at Gorham, and in 1955 it became a chapter of the national Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity. Omega was adopted as the chapter name.

Phi Sigma Pi emphasizes high scholarship, close fellowship, and advancement of educational ideals.

This year we have held our regular activities, which include the smoker, a party for our little brothers, professional and business meetings, the sponsoring of a candidate in the Mayor Campaign, and pledge week to initiate new members. We also sponsored an outing for underprivileged children, a bridge tournament, two assembly speakers, and two socials.

Leadership in the fraternity is exemplified by the following: Our president, Donald Duplessie, is also president of the Junior Class and A Cappella Chorus; our vice president, Frank Chambers, is a member of the college entertainment committee; Gerard Asselin is vice president of the Junior Class, co-editor of the Hillcrest, and president of Men's Glee Club; Donald Semmes is vice president of the Art Club; Vance Keene is treasurer of the Art Club; Bertram Michaud is news editor of The Observer; John Chrissikos is sports editor for The Observer and Hillcrest; and Harold Ware is president of the Student Council.

The fraternity has maintained its spirit and principles over the past year. The future holds promise of betterment, enlargement, and a greater fostering of fraternal ideals.

Kappa Delta Phi is a national fraternity dedicated to promoting higher educational standards. Iota chapter proposes to achieve these ends by rendering concrete service to this college and to the community.

This year Kappa's activities included the sponsoring of clean-up campaigns during the fall and spring to improve the appearance of our campus and the preparation and maintenance of a skating rink for the enjoyment of both college students and townspeople. During the year Kappa prepared and distributed to the student body and faculty an informative pamphlet entitled "Our Growing Campus," which included past history, expansion program, and offerings of our college.

In the field of social activities Kappa held a smoker, a hobo dance, sponsored intra-mural teams, presented the annual Kabaret, and participated in fraternity night. In the spring the annual banquet and outing were held for both old and new members.

In April, Kappa members attended the national convention, which was held in Bangor, Maine. This year the fraternity gathered material and prepared a ten-year history for the national yearbook of Kappa Delta Phi, which is printed once every ten years.

Jerre Fillmore and Charles Sanders did a fine job of managing Kappa's part in the Mayoralty Campaign, and after a closely fought contest Kappa's candidate, James Skoglund, was elected Mayor of the Campus.

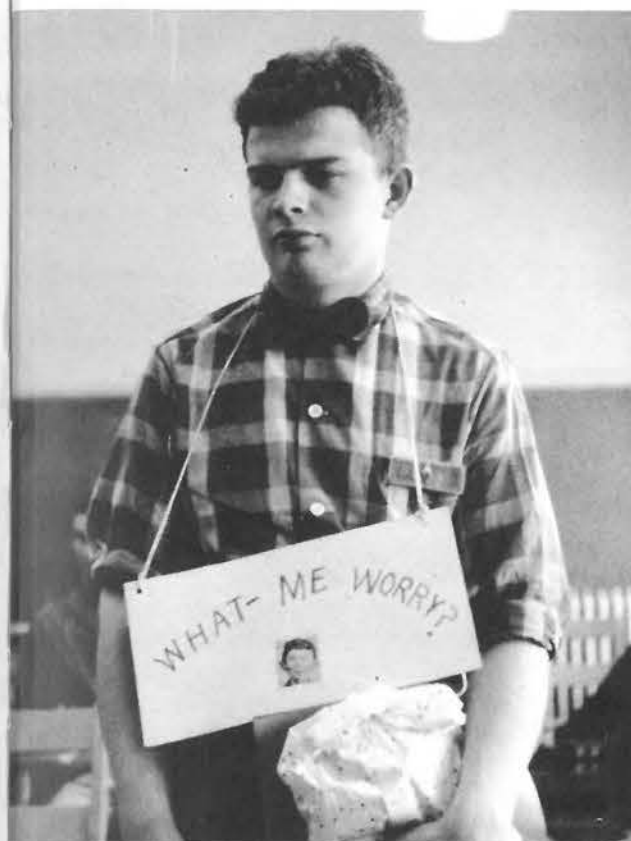

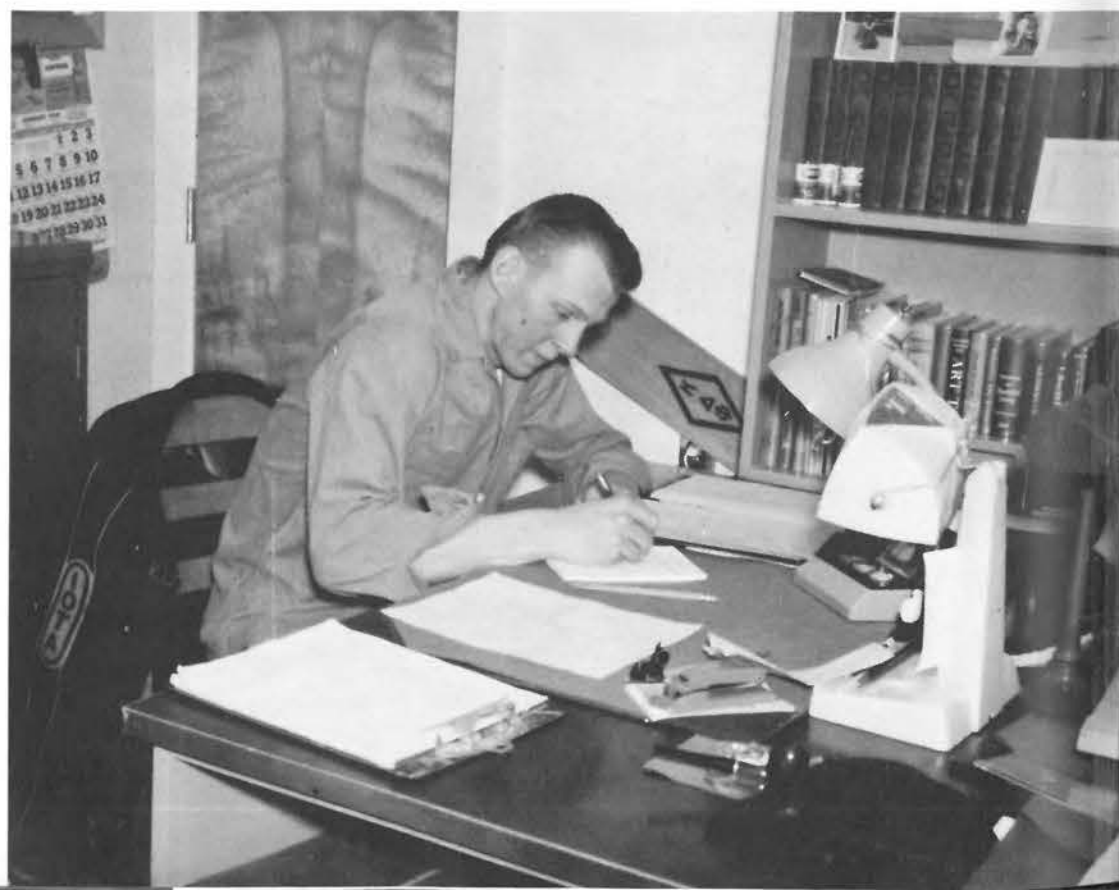

It is the belief of Kappa Delta Phi that participation in extra-curricular activities develops both leadership and cooperation and promotes a feeling of brotherhood — qualities which will aid the student in adapting himself to college life and which will contribute to his preparation for the teaching profession.

Kappa sincerely desires to continue to be of service in the years to come.

The purpose of this organization is to promote a more brotherly relationship among its members, who shall be banded together in a brotherhood of loyalty, friendship, and good will.

Since the fraternity was organized, it has shown continued success. Alpha's men this year, as in the past, have been active leaders and participants in campus programs.

The fraternity was well represented in executive positions in various organizations. Those holding leadership posts were Cliff MacWhinnie, who was elected president of the Varsity "G" Club and of the men's government in Woodward Hall; Rob Powers, secretary-treasurer of the Varsity "G" Club and secretary of men's government in Woodward Hall; Everett Davis, vice president of Varsity "G" Club; Fred Bartlett, secretary of the Student Council; and Dave Bois, president of the Commuters' Club.

In an exciting mayor campaign, Alpha's candidate, Charlie Douglas, was strongly supported by the fraternity.

In the world of sports "Beta Men" excelled. Participating in soccer were Cliff MacWhinnie, Ed Beaudoin, Rob Powers, Dan Mulherin, Phil Withee, Ken Roberts, Arnold Harrison, Roger Goodson, Everett Davis, George Hilton, and George Odencrantz. Members of the basketball team were Phil Butterfield, Cliff MacWhinnie, Jim Pouravelis, Roger Goodson, Ken Roberts, and managers Rob Powers and Dan Mulherin. Baseball veterans expecting to see action this year are Charlie Clair, Phil Withee, Dan Mulherin, and Jim Pouravelis. In addition, Alpha teams may always be found on the intramural rosters.

Social activities promoted by the fraternity include the Alpha Weekends and many other campus functions. The Alpha weekends have proved beneficial to the interests of both the fraternity and the student body in general.

The Maroon and Gold hopes that it will be able to continue its high standards as a social organization promoting good will and understanding.

True and whittled
From the white pine
Of his soul.

Horeb's farm was rocky soil
Between the hills.
He tilled the earth
Silently. And well.
No schooling; yet
His mind and corn stood tall.

TANAHTA

Tanahta played an accordion under dark trees . . .
A haunting melody of moon-song and tall white fire.
Tanahta played an accordion
Where sumac grew and straight grasses
Reflected in the pool . . .
And sometimes it seemed as if she held
The very wind between her swaying hands,
So soft it cried and breathed its tapered sob
As if it knew Tanahta held it captive
Beside a still, dark pond.
Tanahta played a gypsy song . . .
She stretched the plaintive voices
Of far ocean and pine trees between her moving hands
And wood creatures stopped in moonlight
To hear the mingled song . . .
Star songs are what Tanahta played
And slow long laughter from crystal waterfalls.
And Tanahta played under dark trees . . .
Until one forgot there were such things
As clocks and trains . . .
One was made up
From tatters of moonlight . . .
Patches of black velvet . . .
When Tanahta played.

Glimpses of Gorham

ORDEAL BY DISHES

Working in the dishroom calls for speed, stamina, and steady nerves. With the first influx of dirty dishes from the dining room, you spring from your seat on the counter to begin your job, realizing that you must not slacken your pace until your fifteen-to-twenty-minute task is completed. As the dishes are snatched from the counter in front of the window, where the waitresses have deposited them, they are dropped into large metal trays having dividers to hold the dishes upright. The plates seem to roll into place without any effort from the skilled hands of the stacker. Now the trays of dishes are pushed around the corner of the counter, and all stuck-on food is detached by means of a forceful spray. Into the machine they go, emerging scalding hot to slide around the counter in front of an open window. As the cold air hits the hot dishes, steam, super-saturated with food molecules, threatens to dominate your senses.

The sweat is standing out in beads on your forehead, as you transfer the dishes to a large rolling service tray by grasping two or three dishes between the fingers of each hand and slinging them onto the stack. Your fingers smart from the intense heat of the newly-washed dishes until you think you cannot possibly touch any more. The dishes clashing as they strike against each other; the tension mounting by the minute; the spraying, surging action of George and Holbert, the two dish machines; the feeling that, if you don't hurry, the dishes will pile up on your counter and you'll be so far behind you'll never catch up — all these bring momentary frustration.

Then, suddenly, it's over, and you can once again see across the room. Now you must roll the tray into the "old room," where the dishes are stored. You are filled with anxiety as you hear the rumbling, clinking sound of the towering plates, stacked from two and a half to three feet high, when the tray is pushed over the threshold. As you lift the dishes onto the counter, you wish you hadn't taken the whole stack, and your pulse quickens until they are safely supported by the wooden structure.

At last your work for the meal is over. As you hurry up the stairs, to get ready for the next class, your quivering nerves relax and you can breathe naturally again, satisfied with a job well-done.

THE HILL

Chilly early morning blackness shrouds the Hill. One by one a multitude of alarms buzz, rattle, and clang. Highlights appear in the East where rose-gold clouds herald the coming dawn. The sound of clattering dishes shatters the brisk morning air.

Punctually, the ponderous caravan arrives and labors up the drive, gears grinding, wheels whining, gravel spitting. Following the winding road around the campus, the cars finally come to a stop, all perfectly aligned like well-drilled platoons.

The early sun sets the new snow agleam as muffled students scurry to their classes in classic, time-worn Corthell Hall or modern, fresh Bailey Hall. Stragglers make their usual last-minute dash from the dormitories.

A gust of icy wind whips and tears at the harried students as they go from class to class. Tatters of white clouds sail along in the deep basin of azure as the sun slowly declines. The final buzzer rasps and students, freed from the routine of classes, retrace their steps. Scattering to the four winds, cars rattle down the Hill; friends saunter down the snowy walk toward the village. Shrill voices pierce the air as children storm the slopes with their sleds; graceful and colorfully clad figures glide and race over a measured square of frosty glass.

The sun sets, touching the clouds with soft caress. Tall pines cast long, cool blue shadows over the pure, clean snow. Black trees are etched against the sky; mellow street lights glimmer against the blue-shadowed slopes. In the dormitories lights blink on to chase the night's settling darkness. A raucous laugh rings out against the icy stillness as a jovial group descends the Hill.

Shadowy figures stroll by, hand in hand, enclosed in a world apart. The moon floods the Hill with a pale ivory light. The glittering stars, seemingly near enough to touch, are brittle and delicate. Distant lights, twinkling and shimmering, promise excitement, adventure. An ancient clock ticks off the hours and the darkness deepens. One by one, lights wink out until finally only the solitary street lamps stand against the gloom that envelops the silent, peaceful Hill.

LIFE SAVING INSTRUCTIONS

Many women students find it an advantage to participate in a variety of sports throughout the year. In doing so, they expand their circle of friends, learn new sports, and gain ideas and methods of teaching them. This diversion twice a week is both beneficial and enjoyable. Experience in a variety of sports makes for versatility, a quality valuable for any teacher.

Cheerleaders

"You make the baskets; we'll make the noise!" was a cheer frequently heard during the successful 1959-1960 basketball season.

There were many changes in the squad this year: new girls were added, new uniforms were worn, and new cheers were yelled — all in an attempt to lead the faithful basketball fans into cheering for the Hilltoppers.

Freshmen were well represented on the squad with Laurel Barker, Barbara Clark, Donna Cockerille, Carol Hooker, and substitute Evelyn Talarico. Sophomores were Linda Hussey and Mary Marsh. Juniors were Linda Brown and head cheerleader Judy Shaw.

The cheerleaders are grateful to Alpha Lambda Beta for sponsoring the "Tap Off", which aroused interest and enthusiasm for the Farmington-Gorham home game.

Soccer

Enthusiasm for the sport of soccer was high on the Hill this season. With many veterans returning from last year's squad, the feeling was that Gorham was to have its first winning season since the sport was introduced here three years ago. As it turned out, our GSTC booters compiled an 8-5-1 record in a schedule which included many hard-fought games. Furthermore, they were selected to play in the NAIA Eastern Tourney, which was held at New Bedford, Massachusetts. Here, even though they lost to Bridgewater, they represented Gorham College very well and received praise from the attending coaches and sports writers. The prospects for next year appear to be very good. Although the team will lose Bruce Thomas, Bruce Thurlow, and Ed Beaudoin through graduation, the versatility of the team as a whole will not be hurt. We wish the 1960 GSTC soccer team much luck in their coming season.

Soccer Roundup of Exciting Games

GSTC 1 — St. Francis 0

On September 15, GSTC opened its 1959 soccer season with an encouraging 1-0 win over St. Francis College of Biddeford. The game-winning boot was scored at the 21:45 mark of the third period with Bruce Thomas doing the scoring.

The game was featured with aggressive play from both sides and some good passing on the part of Gorham. Arnie Harrison, GSTC goalie, turned in 26 saves; he was playing in the first soccer game of his career. Other outstanding players for Gorham were Capt. Cliff MacWhinnie, Ken Roberts, Link Brown, and Dan Mulherin.

R.I.C.E. 1 — GSTC 0

At Providence, on September 23, host Rhode Island College of Education gained its first win of the season as it nipped GSTC by a 1-0 margin. With about five minutes remaining in the second period, Tony Mancini of Rhode Island toed home the winning goal. Some truly great saves by Gorham goalie Harrison prevented the score from going any higher. This loss left Gorham with a 2-1 record for the season.

GSTC 1 — Lyndon Vt. Teachers 0

At home, the Hilltoppers of GSTC continued their winning ways again as they nosed out a fairly strong Lyndon Teachers College team by the slim score of 1-0. The win gave Gorham a 3-1 record for the young season. The winning goal was kicked in by wingman Rob Powers with the assist going to Capt. Cliff MacWhinnie. Dan Mulherin, Ed Beaudoin, Bruce Thomas and goalie Arnie Harrison turned in outstanding performances for the home team.

GSTC 3 — Keene 3

Keene — October 5 — Gorham State Teachers College and Keene Teachers battled to a 3-3 stand-still in a double overtime game. Keene scored all its goals in a four minute barrage during the fourth period. Scoring for Keene were Bill Springfield with two goals, and one by Bob Jepson. Gorham scored on goals by Ken Roberts, with two, and Bob Powers chipped in with a singleton.

Bridgewater TC 3 — GSTC 1 (NAIA EASTERN TOURNEY)

New Bedford — October 9 — Tourney favorite Bridgewater eliminated Gorham from the NAIA Eastern Tourney by a score of three to one. This put the Bay State team into the finals on October 10 with the New Bedford team. The victors scored on a goal by Bill Gardula in period two, and also a goal in period four again by Gardula. The other goal for the Bay Staters was toed in by Bob Nagle. Gorham's lone point was scored by Bob Stewart.

GSTC 2 — Johnson Vt. TC 1

Gorham — October 16 — With three minutes left in the second overtime, Bruce Thomas kicked in the deciding goal which gave Gorham a 2-1 win over Johnson. Seconds earlier Everett Davis launched a corner kick toward the goal area. Thomas headed it toward the goal but it was blocked. He then followed in the rebound and scored. MacWhinnie scored the other Hilltopper goal. Bruce Thurlow and Everett Davis starred for the winners. Gorham upped its record to 5-3-1 for the season.

Varsity Basketball

Under the capable direction of Coach Dick Costello, the varsity Hilltoppers added the record of another winning season to the basketball archives of Gorham State Teachers College. The Green and White ended the 1959-60 basketball wars with a record of 13-8 overall and 12-7 in conference play. They were in contention for a play-off berth up until the last week of the season. The final standings gave Gorham fifth place in the nineteen team league. This was a marked improvement over last year.

Among the outstanding games that Gorham played were the two with Salem. For the first time in some years, the Hilltoppers came up with double wins over the Witches. Gorham also beat Plymouth in both games. However, a sad touch must be added to the otherwise rosy picture. The Farmington Teachers managed to split the season's series and killed the final chance GSTC had for post-season play-off action.

A pleasant surprise to our team was the play and the scoring of freshman Don Donnelly. Don led the team in total points, highest per game average, and highest foul shooting percentage. John Griffin again sparkled with his great all-around play and his consistency. Red Butterfield was great as a rebounder and playmaker, while Jimmy Pouravelis handled himself well as an able sixth man. Roger Goodson showed that he has the potential to develop into an outstanding star in the future contests. The varsity bench was quite strong with Ken Roberts, Red Fleurant, Cliff MacWhinnie and Dick Vail giving their valuable talent to help make Gorham a winner. Gene Pecoraro came off the bench in the early part of the season and added his long-range shooting to Gorham's attack.

Junior Varsity

The major objective of every junior varsity basketball team is to prepare its players for future varsity berths. Under the able direction of Coach Richard Wescott, this year's team gained much experience in its many close and hard-fought games. Their record was not a winning one, but their play was unmistakably that of men out to win.

Throughout the season, the team benefited from the dependability and team work of Dick Vail, Pop Legere, and Art Calkin. At midseason, Cliff MacWhinnie and Joe Connolly joined the club and injected more spirit into the line-up. The junior varsity split the season series with Farmington, beat Cheverus and Biddeford High Schools, and lost very close ones to the Plymouth J.V.'s, M.V.T.I., and University of Maine at Portland.

Season's Highlights

One of Gorham's outstanding games was played with Salem in Russell Gym, with Gorham winning by a score of 91-87.

The game was most interesting to watch and was featured by outstanding plays from both sides. Here are a few highlights worth mentioning.

The top scorers in the game were all freshmen. Don Donnelly and Phil Washburn led the Hilltoppers with 31 and 21 points respectively. Bob Caruso was Salem's big gun with 30 points to his credit.

The win was Gorham's first over the Witches on Russell Gym's floor since the 1954-55 season.

In another key game played on Keene's "band-box" floor, the team from the Granite State pulled an upset win over the invading Gorhamites. Coach Costello's Hilltoppers led at the half, but cold shooting for a few minutes of the second half enabled Keene to pull ahead and win.

On the 8th of January, the Hilltoppers nipped the New Bedford Whalers by a score of 90-88. The game was one of the roughest to be played here for some time. Freshman Dick Vail's last second bucket from underneath was the clincher. John Griffin and Gene Pecoraro led the Gorham attack with 21 and 20 points respectively.

In Gorham's 96-77 win over Castleton, Gene Pecoraro continued his torrid shooting as he racked up 28 points. This total was his highest output since he donned the Green and White of the Hilltoppers.

After two years of waiting, Gorham finally was on the long end of the scoring against Plymouth. The final score was 85-67 in favor of the Green and White of Gorham. The secret of Gorham's success was a tight 1-3-1 defense, and a red-hot shooting exhibition. The Hilltoppers ruffled the nets for a torrid 60% shooting average in the first half, and a cool 45% average in the second canto. Leading the scoring parade for Gorham were John Griffin with 25 points, and freshman sensation Don Donnelly with 20 tallies.

Conference leader Worcester State Teachers rallied in the final five minutes to defeat Gorham by a score of 77-70. Don Donnelly led the Pine Tree Staters with a total of 31 points. This was the second time this season he has reached that number. Other double digit scorers for Gorham were Gene Pecoraro with 16 points and John Griffin with ten points. Gorham led with some five minutes left. Worcester profited by some Gorham mistakes and went on to win the game.

On January the 16th, Gorham gained sweet revenge as they topped Keene State Teachers by the score of 88-78. This was Gorham's ninth straight win at home this season. Gorham made frequent mistakes, but always recovered when their margin started to decline. John Griffin and Gene Pecoraro each had 19 points to lead the Gorham attack.

Some great second half shooting enabled Gorham to coast to a 70-59 victory over the Farmington Beavers at Farmington. Gorham crashed the nets for a hot 47% shooting average during the final canto. The game's top scorer was Don Donnelly with 27 points, seventeen of them in the telling 2nd half. The teams were tied at 29-all at the close of the first canto.

The Hilltoppers more or less had to play good all-around ball, for John Griffin did not see action. Not only Donnelly but Roberts, Pouravelis, and playmaker Butterfield did outstanding jobs for Gorham.

Gorham lost a close game on February 5th, as they were beaten in a double overtime game by Castleton. The score was 89-87, with the underdog Vermonters winning the game in the last few seconds on Mike Daley's jump shot from the foul line. The score at the half read Castleton 32 - Gorham 27. The second half proved to be one of the highest scoring halves a Gorham team has ever played. They piled up 60 points to Castleton's 57. The Hilltoppers offset their first half deficit and had a one point lead with a few seconds left in regulation time. Daley pumped in a foul shot that tied the score and sent the game into the overtime. The loss severely hurt the chances Gorham had of gaining a post-season tourney spot. The loss was the fourth by a close margin this year.

Gorham's Vermont trip was not a complete failure as they did manage to beat Lyndon on the night following the Castleton disaster. By use of a constant guard on Ray Brooks of Lyndon, the Hilltoppers were able to hold the Negro forward to 24 points. This may seem like a lot of points, but it must be remembered that Brooks scored 45 against us here at Gorham. Phil Butterfield kept a constant press on the Lyndon flash. Other outstanding feats turned in were Roger Goodson's 24 rebounds and the scoring of Don Donnelly and John Griffin. By winning, Gorham still had an outside shot at a post-season spot in the NETCC tourney.

An encouraging 89-65 win over the Boston Teachers gave Gorham State a shot in the arm toward a position in the post-season playoffs. The game started out rather sloppily, with the lead changing hands several times during the early minutes of play. Then the Hilltoppers, aided by the long-range bombing of Gene Pecoraro, pulled ahead to a 40-29 lead at the half. Gorham scoring was well-balanced with six men hitting double figures. Gene Pecoraro and Don Donnelly paced the attack with a total of 33 points scored between them.

An unbelievable rally in the second half gave Gorham an 82-77 win over the Salem Witches. Trailing 43-36 at the conclusion of the first half, the Hilltoppers found themselves down 54-40 with about five minute gone in the second canto. At this point the rejuvenated Pine Tree Staters surprised everybody in the gym as they outscored the host Witches 42-23 in the last fifteen minutes of the contest. Butterfield, Donnelly, Griffin and Pouravelis were mainly responsible for Gorham's explosive spurt during the last five minutes as they all drew important fouls and converged on their free throw attempts. Tall tower Roger Goodson played an important part as he hauled down some key rebounds and scored nicely from underneath. The other men who saw action all contributed as Gorham displayed its best team play of the season.

The student body of GSTC was well represented as some thirty souls made the trip down from the campus of Gorham. This helped our team to gain victory over our number one nemesis of past years. The double wins over Salem this year marked the first time in many moons that the Hilltoppers have swept the season's series over the Witches.

"BETA BEARS — INTRAMURAL KINGS"

The title of intramural kings can proudly be claimed by the "Beta Bears," representing Alpha Lambda Beta fraternity. The "Bears" have won nearly every intramural championship in the last three semesters here at G.S.T.C. In May of 1959, the "Bears" captured the intramural softball championship by overpowering their opponents. In an exciting game they beat the "Carlings' Kids" by a score of 13-12. The team was distinguished by the heavy hitting of Arnie Harrison and Phil Butterfield and the stout pitching of Don Richards.

In the fall semester, the "Bears," benefiting from the quarterbacking of Dick Fleurant and the running of Everett Davis, won the flag football title. Following the football play-offs came the volleyball tourney. Here the "Beta Bears" captured top honors for the third straight year.

Basketball Intramurals

"Wildcats"

The intramural basketball champions this year were the "Wildcats," a team made up of commuters and dormitory students.

The intramural program was set up with two leagues, the American League and the National League. The top three teams in each league were eligible to enter the play-offs for the championship. This year's representatives were the "Wildcats," the "Beta Bears," "Kappa Kittens," "I.A.'s" "Faculty," "Trotters." Competition was keen, and some of the outstanding games were:

"Kappa Kittens" vs. "Beta Bears"

"Faculty" vs. "Wildcats"

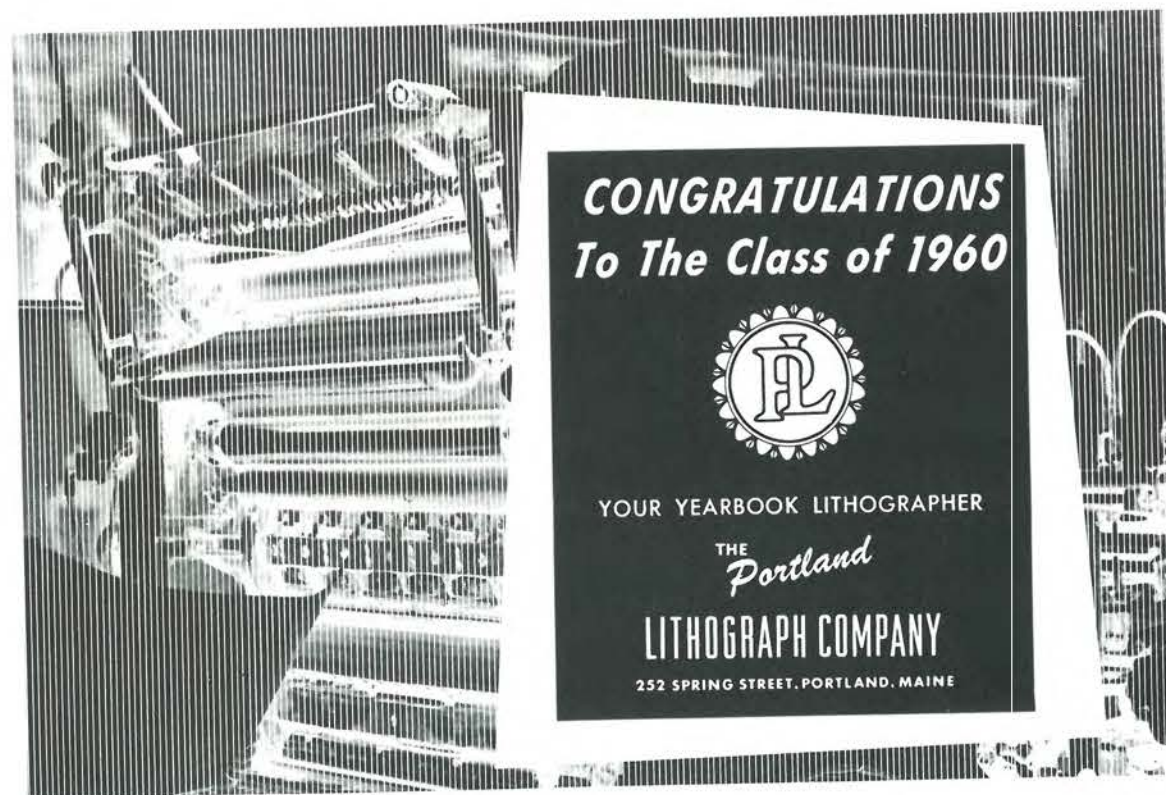

"Wildcats" vs. "Beta Bears"

The "Wildcats" played the "Bears" twice and won both games to gain the championship.
