Joan & I have got to preside over the tea and coffee service at the reception & Grace is to be head usher. Of course I always have something to do.

My express bundle came yesterday all O.K. but I had to pay the express on it. Didn't you pay it?

I had to get me a new pair of rubbers this week. I thought I could get along until I got home but

My dear Mamma:-

I have just been down stairs with some of the girls to find out what we have got to do at the reception. It is 8.15 P.M. Mr. Corthell got back from August tonight and is as cranky & ugly as he can possibly be. Miss White told me that we are going to get off

Friday noon so if nothing hinders I shall come then. I am not going to Portland because I have not got any money to get any presents with so I might as well go home. The other girls are going to Portland.

We are having quite an exciting time just now as some of the girls have sent invitations to the reception to some of the young men in town and that is rather funny for Graham. Some of the teachers have found it out and are going to send them some little notes telling them not to come. If Mr. Cuthell knew that the girls had done it I am afraid he not be very agreeable for a while.

I haven't the slightest idea where or where the graduation is going to be or anything about it.

Mr. C— has been away for the last two days and I had to take charge of our Pedagogy again before that time.

If anything should happen that I did not get home then do not worry for
I would come at night. We can never tell what Mr.
C - will do. He may keep us until night
in spite of what the other teachers say.

When that rain storm came I found I needed a pair that would not leak.

I haven't many presents but I guess people will have to get along without anything
from me.

The travelling is - something awful here
as it has rained
for the past two days
but cleared off last night.

Well examinations
some thing between now and Friday

now so I guess I had better get ready for some of them.
They let us sit up until eleven o'clock this morn so we have a little more time to study.
My dress is all right, I guess only the sleeves are not as F Larris said she would fix them so I was disappointed in that. I tried it on last night and the first thing I did was to tear the lining of the waist, but I have fixed it so that I think it will be all right.

Well as I have said before I must not write any more so will close with love to all Harriet.

You will see me Friday noon if the plans are not changed
