THE CLASS ODE

*Hear the echo of days that are over the hill,
Hark! fainter and fainter the sound.
If again we might feel what is under Time's seal
'T would be happiness past any bound.
Now we say last farewells, now the handclasp tells
We must turn from the hall and the rule,
So we take up our load, so we face down the road
While we cheer for comrades and school.*

*Though the echo grow faint as we turn from the Hill
May the cadence be stedy and strong
To recall from the past the ideals that shall last
And shall serve as the years pass along.
Let the torch ever flare of the friendship we share
And the loyalty true never wane.
With the spirit we've found let the hillsides resound
Bringing standards of Gorham to fame.*

*Words by Sara McAllister
Music by Daniel Wight*
