send it along.

It is ten o'clock and I must go to bed

My dear Herman:-

You
said you would not
write to me again
until I wrote to you
so I shall have to try and think of
something to write about.

I suppose you have had a fine time
skating and sliding
lately. The grammar
school children slide
out on the hills most
of the time when they are not in school.

Your vacation is nearly half gone and you have been having a grand time. You must write and tell me all the news.

The boys and girls in my History class are about your age I guess and they are fond of having a good time.

There are three girls and six boys. I guess I have made a mistake about their ages they are about fourteen or fifteen years old.

I should think it would be pretty good "skating" on this coast. Have you tried it any. I have not had a slide this year.

Here is a picture that we had taken in our old fashioned dresses. Can you tell me? It is not a very good picture

I wrote to you Saturday so there is not much
for me to write about
now.

Helen & I have done
some drawing this afternoon. We drew
some of Gibsons pictures. Its lots of fun. Only two more Sundays this winter
and I would like to have some one of the girls over to spend
Sunday with me
before vacation if I know of one who would come.
Well must close
with love to all Harrist.

My dear Mamma:-

Here
it is Sunday night
& I have just returned from meeting. Helen has been out she came on the seven
o'clock train Saturday night & is going
back to-morrow morning. I have been to meeting three times to-day and
Charles & I have been to walk twice.

It is snowing now so I shall not be surprised if to-morrow is a stormy day. I am teaching as you know & it is awful hard work. I have got to go over to the school building to-morrow and put some work on the board.
History is awful hard for me anyway and so it makes it awful hard to teach.
I am scared to death of Miss Walker the critic teacher and she sits there & watches me most of the time so you can imagine how
much fun there is to it.
Charles is in here with me now and she stays with me while Helen is here.

Of course you know that Annie went home Saturday night.
She plans to stay at home
the rest of this term.
