DEAN LUTHER I. BONNEY

A Message from the Dean

"One ship sails East, another West,
By the selfsame winds that blow;
'Tis the set of the sails and not the gales
That point them the way they go.

Like the waves of the sea are the ways of fate
As we journey along through life;
'Tis the set of the soul decides the goal
And not the calm or the strife."

Basketball 1951-52

The 1951-52 edition of the P. J. C. basketball team played a sterling brand of basketball, but were unfortunate enough to run into some 'loaded' opposition and finished the season with an 8-13 record.

The record, however, does not tell the whole story, as several of the losses were by a few points, and the games could easily have swung the other way with a little more luck.

Eddie Hilton led the Stag scorers with a total of 364 points, an average of 17.5 points per game. He was pushed hard by Al Grassi, who racked up 330 points. Greg St. Angelo and Bob Martin also joined the 'Deadeye' Club, with 216 and 174 points respectively.

Joe Harper, Charlie Bickford, and Bob Bean also chipped in with some timely scoring tosses, while Bob Gelinas, Leo May, Irv Levine, and Dave Johnson held the opposition to a minimum.

One of the highlights of the season was the win over Ricker Junior College, 82-74, to avenge an opening game defeat by the same team. Among the tough losses were the setbacks by Merrimack, 104-120, and Bridgton Academy, 103-112.

The Stags finished strong with a good record in the Portland Y.M.C.A. Basketball Tournament, reaching the semi-finals before being eliminated.

Coach Ray Bicknell did a fine job in trying to mold a fighting team from a group of individual stars.

Manager Doug Gulliver was very faithful in performing the routine tasks which do not bring much glory, but are indispensable to the smooth functioning of a team.

Dean Bonney Officially Opens New Field

Intramural Softball

The P. J. C. Intramural Softball League, an innovation, got off to a fast start with Dean Bonney throwing out the first ball. The Dean proved to have more on the ball than the hurler for the Double Troubles (DT's) as the Stenchy Stags walked off with a 19-8 decision.

The first few games of the season were played at 'Peterson's Paladium' until the annual Work Day brought forth our own softball field behind the parking lot. The new field proved to be treacherous in spots with a rash of minor and major injuries in the double-header which christened the field.

The league has produced some exciting ball games; the Stenchy Stags came back to trim the Hot Shots, 19-13, after being shaded in the first encounter, 11-10; and the DT's also came up with a close decision over the Hot Shots in the second game of the double-header inaugurating the new field after the Stenchy Stags had eked out a one-run over the Ping-Pong Papas in the first game.

Dean Bonney has been a one-man cheering section, while Ray Bicknell has been a jack-of-all-trades for short-handed teams.

The trophy which will be donated to the winning team has been sufficient incentive for the members of the four teams to play each game to the hilt in an effort to grab the cup.

The league has proved to be a great success and it might well become an annual affair in lieu of fielding a school baseball team.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club was one of the first clubs to begin activities during the past year, and has continued through the year to be one of the most active and interested groups at the school.

The I. R. C., like all activities, was not started until the middle of the first semester, when Francis Maguire was elected President and Robert Bean Secretary-Treasurer.

The meetings of this group have included discussions with Raymond Gailey, a representative of the Progressive Party of Maine; Reverend Harold C. Bonell, a representative of the Displaced Persons Committee, and Wendall Bromhall, an Olympic Ski champion. Club meetings have featured a number of movies covering subjects from hunting in India to Nazi Germany.

One of the Club's most interesting series of meetings was put on in the winter when the I. R. C. showed movies on Norway, Sweden and Denmark, and accompanied the films with a talk by Mr. Carl Becker, a native of Sweden.

The I. R. C. has had a membership roster of about fifteen names this year, and it has remained alive and active, thanks to the unfailing aid given to the group by Mr. John Jaques, Faculty Advisor.

The Club's only disappointment was the fact that, after Robert Bean and Brian Barnard had made plans to attend the New England Conference of I. R. C., that conference was called off because of insufficient registrations.

We hope that the club will go on next year to continue its place among the established groups at the Junior College.

The Long Hair Club

"There is no music without beauty; no beauty without music." At the Junior College there have been organized for many years groups of students seriously interested in "longhair" music who realize that appreciation of such music comes from hearing it.

Last November James Huff was elected President of the Longhair Club; Robert Olesen, Vice-President; and William Becker, Secretary-Treasurer.

With a membership list of nearly twenty-five students, the Longhair Club sponsored the first dance of the school year, "Harold's Club," and co-sponsored the "Balloon Room" with the International Relations Club. Faculty advisors to the group are Mr. Robert Goff, Mr. E. B. Fred Clark, Mrs. Charlotte McCormick, and Mr. Harold Lawrence, all of whom will attest to the popularity of this organization.

Using their allotment of the student activity fund, the Club has established a record library of classical music, and already have a representative group of selections which includes Sibelius' "Finlandia," Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor," and Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

The group has met bi-monthly, either in the student lounge or in members' homes, and each meeting featured the playing of two or three classical selections, either borrowed or owned by the club.

When Huff resigned as President of the group in April, Robert Olesen took over and brought the club to a successful close in early June.

This worthwhile club has long flourished at the school, and we feel certain that it will always be a popular organization at P. J. C.

Portland Junior College News

This year, for the fourteenth year, Portland Junior College has published the News. This is a student paper, written, composed, and published by the students of P. J. C., guided by Mr. Richard Woodbury, Editor of the Portland Sunday Telegram.

The News published six regular issues this year, with a copy coming out each month through the winter and spring months. After the first two issues had been produced, the Student Council, which had volunteered to back the paper, held staff elections, and chose the following News staff:

Martin Burke, Editor; James Huff, Associate Editor; Francis Maguire and James Kellam, Assistant Editors; Carlton Holmes, Feature Editor; J. Bradford Seabury, Assistant Feature Editor; Joseph Curran, Sports Editor; Lee A. Moore, Business Manager; Harold Tibbetts and Robert Fantelli, Assistant Business Managers; Henri Jean, Circulation Manager; Conrad Beaudoin, Assistant Circulation Manager; and Arthur Ohlsten, Malcolm Philbrook, Richard Evans, Kenneth Starrett, William Becker, and Sumner Flash, Reporters.

The staff this year has endeavored to put out an interesting, timely paper, which would keep the students informed on what is going on around the school, and keep a record of all significant activities.

The Student Council

The Student Council is composed of the officers of the Freshmen and Senior classes, together with elected Council representatives. Lee A. Moore was elected President of the Student Council after being elected Senior Class President. Other Council officers were Vice-President, David F. Hibbard; Treasurer, Carlton W. Holmes; Corresponding Secretary, James Walsh; and Recording Secretary, Donald Thorne. Council meetings were held weekly in the faculty room at the Junior College.

At the half-year, since the Council had lost three of its Freshman members, elections were held to fill the vacancies. Francis J. Maguire, Jr. was elected Freshman Class President, replacing James Walsh who was called into the Navy, and Robert Levy and James Stewart were elected to the Student Council.

The Council was co-sponsor of the "April Frolic," staged with the Maine General School of Nursing.

This year the Student Council installed a suggestion box in West Hall, through which students can express their wants, likes and dislikes to the Council.

A number of assemblies were backed by the Student Council, and all the students seemed to benefit from them.

The Student Council of the past year has worked hard to make the school what the students want it to be, and its members hope that they have to some extent accomplished that end. They have scrupulously attended to work in the hope that they could help to raise the school to glorious heights.

The STAG

Plans for organizing a yearbook at the Junior College were not made until late in the year, since many students did not want to work on it, or could make no definite plans.

In the spring, however, Anton Freeman of the Senior Class, volunteered to head the yearbook staff, so with the cooperation of the Student Council, the STAG staff was organized.

Freeman received the assistance of Russell Biette in making his plans, which moved fast under their able supervision.

David Hibbard took the responsibility of giving members of the public speaking class the project of selling ads for the book, and was very successful in his work.

Writeup work for the book was begun under the following staff: Seniors—Conrad Beaudoin; Clubs—Frank Maguire; Sports—John Emery; Faculty—Carlton Holmes.

Senior pictures and those of the school clubs and activities were taken by the team of Joseph Curran and Harold Tibbetts. After a number of technical delays and a long stretch of rainy weather, the pictures were not finished until the middle of May, when Freeman began the task of putting the book together.

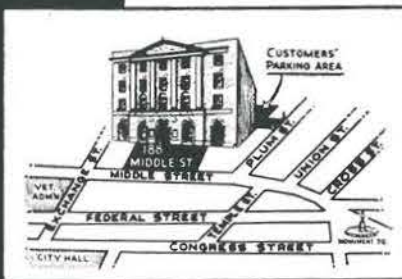

Orders for the books were taken by the Business Managers of the STAG, Robert Burt and Robert McCarthy.

The STAG this year may not be as large as some of former years, but the reader must consider that school enrollment has dropped and that workers on the book were comparatively few. All considered, the staff feels that their work has not been in vain, and that the STAG, 1952, will be appreciated and enjoyed by all who read it.
