ANNUAL REPORT
OF
THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

For the Year Ending June 30, 1945

Your Excellency, as one of Maine's World War II Governors, you came to office during a most trying period. This present period following V-E Day and approaching V-J Day, plus the inevitable postwar problems, place tremendous responsibilities on your shoulders as Maine's Chief Executive, and Commander-in-Chief of the state's military forces.

Maine's State Guard and State Guard Reserve, formed during the trying prewar days, following the induction of the state's National Guard units into Federal service, has since early 1941 rendered patriotic and efficient service. And this they will continue to do as long as they are needed. This force from its inception has been stabilized by the patriotic service of many World War I veterans; also many substantial citizens who were of the group just too young for service during that period. And of course the largest age group were those that have currently been called for the Armed Forces by Selective Service calls. In fact, the Maine State Guard, like that of other states, has acted as a prep school for a very large number of the men who have gone into the Army and Navy. Because of training received in the Guard, they have had the edge over other recruits, resulting in rapid promotion in both noncommissioned and commissioned branches. Many of these men have written their local headquarters, as well as this office, confirming the fact that their elementary instruction as Guardsmen, favored them during basic training and later in officer candidate school.

Thanks to the splendid cooperation enjoyed from Major General Sherman Miles, Commanding General of the First Service Command in Boston, and his entire staff; also from the National Guard Bureau, the Maine State Guard is at its highest state of efficiency in training and equipment. No small amount of credit for this condition of Maine's Guard is due to Colonel Charles L. Stephenson, F. A., Senior Guard Instructor, and his staff of assistants. Colonel Stephenson has given generously of his time, night and day, as have the officers and men of the Guard, to insure a state of training and efficiency for the State Guard that could cope with any emergency.

It is the hope of this office that many servicemen, currently being released from the Federal Armed Forces, will soon be offering the benefit of their war service to their state, thru enlistment in the

STATE OF MAINE

Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, June 30, 1945

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Augusta, Maine:

Sir: In accordance with the provisions of Section 15 of the Military Laws of the State of Maine, I have the honor to submit the annual report of The Adjutant General for the year ending June 30, 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE M. CARTER
Brigadier General
The Adjutant General

State Guard. Our present force, augmented by substantial numbers of returned servicemen, of both enlisted and commissioned grades, would give the state the proper background on which to reorganize the postwar National Guard.

This report includes the usual annual reports of members of State and State Guard Staff, also short report from the senior federal army instructor assigned for duty with the State's military forces. All are recommended for reading and consideration.

"ARMY SERVICE FORCES
OFFICE OF THE SENIOR STATE GUARD INSTRUCTOR
PO Box 666, Camp Keyes
Augusta, Maine

30 June 1945

Brigadier General George M. Carter
Adjutant General State of Maine
Augusta, Maine

Dear General Carter:

Pursuant to your verbal request there is submitted herewith a report of the training of the Maine State Guard during the period 1 July 1944 to 1 July 1945.

On 10 July 1944 the Commanding General of the First Service Command transferred the 704th MP Battalion from Camp Keyes to Fort Devens. All mobile forces had been sent overseas previous to this time, thus leaving the security of the State of Maine practically entirely to State Guard troops. It was more apparent than ever that the efficiency of the State Guard must be maintained.

During the summer months, weekend training exercises were held for all Battalions with emphasis on domestic disturbances. The problems for these exercises were conducted by the District Officer with the assistance of Colonel Howard W. Nester, Chief of the Emergency Staff, First Service Command, together with other officers from First Service Command Headquarters. The Maine State Police through the splendid cooperation of Captain Laurence W. Upton and under the direct command of Lt. Merle Cole rendered valuable assistance with radio communication. At the conclusion of the several training exercises it was apparent to all of us that there was need for closer coordination between the State Police and the State Guard particularly for emergency duty in domestic disturbances. Plans were originated at this time so that the necessary training with the State Police could be effected at the earliest possible date. It was also apparent that there was a very definite need for staff training of both the Region and Battalion Staffs. With the approval of the Commanding General of the First Service Command, the District Officer conducted Battalion schools beginning in September 1944 and continuing throughout the winter.

Command post exercises were conducted for all Battalions with emphasis on emergency duty in rendering aid for alleviating distress in case of natural disasters of major proportions. In all of these command post exercises the training was coordinated with the State Police and the State Department of Forestry. In February 1945 a command post exercise was held in the Lewiston Armory for all Battalions of the State Guard. The problem afforded the opportunity for Region and Battalion Headquarters to function in a combined natural disaster and domestic disturbance. In this exercise a complete wire net was established so that the training was carried out on the same basis as though the several Battalions were in their own Headquarters.

On 1 January 1945 the District Headquarters was inactivated and the Commanding General reassigned me as Senior State Guard Instructor with Captain Marvin B. Robinson and Captain Ernest H. Grant as instructors, and M/Sgt. Theodore J. Cool and 1st Sgt. Armand H. Soucy as assistant instructors. With this staff of instructors it has been possible to arrange schedules so that all battalions have had the benefit of the full time services of all of us. The instruction continued to emphasize training for emergencies preparing the State Guard for their primary missions which are: (1) Maintenance of Internal Security in the event of domestic disturbances; (2) Rendering aid and alleviating distress in the case of natural disaster of major proportion.

Definite plans together with standing operating procedures were either prepared or revised so that the State Guard would be ready for any emergency.

During the months of May and June training exercises were held for all Battalions with the special gas squad of the Maine State Police for emergency duty for domestic disturbances. The coordination of these two state forces that is the State Guard and State Police, progressed to a very satisfactory degree of efficiency through the whole hearted cooperation of all concerned. As a result of this training, it is my opinion that the State of Maine is well prepared to meet any emergency.

The present plan for the seven-day encampments for all troops provide for very efficient field training with emphasis on basic infantry training including rifle marksmanship, interior guard duty, ceremonies, camp sanitation, motor vehicle maintenance and communications. It is hoped that these encampments will provide the necessary training to round out the work of the previous year and give the necessary incentive to build up the morale of the guard for their fall and winter training.

Now that the war is practically over and the period of transition is almost upon us, there are a few recommendations that I would like to make at this time relative to the post war organization and training. (1) I very strongly recommend that the guard be reorganized in 2 Regiments of 3 Battalions each. (2) In order to maintain the strength and efficiency of units located in rural communities, it would seem advisable to plan for the use of transportation facilities such as school busses to pick up the men and bring them in to the Armory on drill nights. This, I believe, would solve one of the problems of maintaining efficient units in the rural communities of the State.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you personally and to express to all the officers and men of the Maine State Guard my thanks for their splendid cooperation during the period I have been on duty in the State of Maine.

With the reorganization of the State Guard on a Regimental basis and the splendid morale of all troops, I am sure that should the emergency ever come the State Guard is ready.

Cordially yours,

CHARLES L. STEPHENSON,

Colonel, FA"

TRAINING OF THE MAINE STATE GUARD

No State Guard in the country has gone through more rigorous training than the officers and men of the Maine State Guard. Conscientious, hard-working, thorough, they have devoted regular periods and special time to perfecting their various organizations that all might have a better understanding of the duties that would be theirs in the case of an emergency, and the manner in which these duties have been carried out.

Of immeasurable assistance has been the whole-hearted interest shown in the training program by Colonel Charles L. Stephenson, FA, USA, his assistants, Capt. Marvin B. Robinson and Captain Ernest H. Grant, and the noncommissioned officers attached to his headquarters.

Up to 31 December 1944, Colonel Stephenson was commanding officer of District No. 1 of the First Service Command. Notwithstanding the exacting demands made upon him by the duties of that office, he was always planning and supervising instruction programs for the State Guard and personally attending to their being carried out.

With the then apparent victory of the United Nations in Europe, it was deemed that the emergency facing the whole Atlantic seaboard had passed. As a result, the First District was inactivated on 31 December 1944. Fortunately, however, Colonel Stephenson at the request of The Adjutant General was permitted by the commanding general First Service Command to remain as senior instructor of the Maine State Guard with his office in the administration building of The Adjutant General at Camp Keyes, Augusta. The relations between him and his assistants on the one hand and the whole military force of the State on the other have been most helpful and cordial. It is not saying too much to emphasize the fact that the high state of efficiency attained by the Maine State Guard has been due in great measure to the interest, devotion and untiring efforts of Colonel Stephenson and his staff.

MAINE SHOWED THE WAY

Selected to "show how it's done" two groups of Maine State Guardsmen made two special over-the-road trips to Fort Devens, Massachusetts. Their presence was especially desired in connection with the tactical school in progress at that government station during the summer and early fall of 1944. All Guardsmen taking part in the exercises volunteered for the duty and served without pay. All expenses were paid.

The first of the troops to make the trip over the road was a provisional battalion made up of members of the 2d Battalion, MSG. The contingent was organized by Lt. Col. Henry A. Emery of South Paris, commanding officer of the 2d Battalion and his staff, and the whole movement was carried out under his direction. Over 100 officers and men participated.

By the use of patrol cars and radio operators at the head and rear of the column, the movement from home stations of the various increments to the assembly point and from the assembly point to Fort Devens was admirably performed and won the hearty commendation of the umpires from First Service Command Headquarters who accompanied the column.

At Fort Devens where the column arrived on Saturday afternoon 16 September, and remained until the afternoon of Sunday 17 September, the Maine troops were called upon to give a demonstration of field duty, riot formations and other activities for the information and training of the students at the State Guard School there in session.

On Saturday 28 October 1944, another provisional battalion made up of more than 100 officers and men from the 1st Battalion, MSG, duplicated the work of the 2d Battalion movement. This second road march was under the personal control of Lt. Col. Ellis F. Hight, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, and his staff.

The field work performed at Devens by the 1st Battalion was similar to that by the 2d Battalion. The whole movement was executed with precision and enthusiastic praise was accorded the officers and men by the Federal umpires for the excellent road discipline and control during the trip.

Both of these demonstrations at Devens proved immensely valuable as training for the members of the Guard and for the observers. For the participants more instruction was gained by moving over the road than could have been obtained through a dozen classroom lectures or drills.

WEEK-END MANEUVERS

Probably one of the most valuable means of training the State Guard was through the medium of week-end maneuvers which were held in various parts of the State. These maneuvers involved the moving of troops from home stations to the site of the camp, making camp, establishing a guard, providing mess and various tactical exercises. In every case, the Guard went into camp on a Saturday night and remained on duty until Sunday afternoon. Four of the maneuvers were held in August and September of 1944 and four more during May and June, 1945.

The place of holding these exercises and the units which participated were:

August 12 and 13 at Camp Keyes, Augusta, all units of the 1st and 3d Battalions with reserve organizations attached.

August 19 and 20 at Camp Keyes, Augusta, all units of the 2d and 4th Battalions with reserve organizations attached.

September 9 and 10 at the Arctic Training Area of the Houlton Airport, all units of Region 2 comprising the 5th and 6th Battalions with reserve organizations attached.

September 23 and 24 in Lewiston all organizations in Region 1, which included the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th Battalions and reserve units. The climax of this big assembly was a parade through the streets of Lewiston which was witnessed by a crowd conservatively estimated at 15,000. Over 1000 men marched.

May 19 and 20 at Camp Keyes, Augusta. All units of the 1st and 3d Battalions.

May 26 and 27 at Camp Keyes, Augusta. All units of the 2d and 4th Battalions.

June 9 and 10 at the fairgrounds in Blue Hill, all units of the 5th Battalion.

June 23 and 24 at the Arctic Training Area at the Houlton Airport, all units of the 6th Battalion, with the exception of Co. E of Madawaska.

The tactical work at all of these maneuvers involved movement over the roads, convoy duty, handling of civil disturbances and co-related subjects.

The members of the State Guard gave their time at the maneuvers in 1944, but they received the base pay of their rank or grade at the exercises in 1945.

These week-end maneuvers proved valuable, not so much from what was learned tactically as along the line of preparation and organization. It is anticipated that two seven-day camps to be held at Camp Keyes in Augusta during the last of July and early part of August will add immensely to the proficiency and efficiency of the State Guard.

SCHOOLS OF INSTRUCTION

That every effort be directed toward making the training of the Maine State Guard as thorough as possible, numerous schools of instruction have been held during the past year not only within but also outside the State. All phases of activities so necessary to the carrying out of the missions assigned to the State Guard have been emphasized at these schools. The instruction has been thorough. Much good has resulted so that it can truly be said that the Maine Guard stands high in the rating of all states of the country.

FORT DEVENS SCHOOL

By far the most comprehensive in scope and most valuable in the results obtained was the State Guard School at Fort Devens which opened in May 1944 and continued, with a slight recess during the holidays, until the middle of October. While this was primarily intended for commissioned officers, some noncommissioned officers of the higher grades were permitted to attend. All of these when they came home proved able instructors for the members of their commands.

As in the case of those who attended the school at Concord and Sturbridge the previous years, the officers and men who went to Fort Devens did so on their own time. The State allowed them only their actual expenses. Officers and men who attended this school and received certificates upon completing the course were the following; listed according to rank and organization at the time they attended the school:

Lieutenant Colonel

William E. Southard, C. O., Region 2, Bangor

Arthur H. Piper, Co. D, 3d Bn., MSG, Unity

ANOTHER SCHOOL AT FORT DEVENS

So successful had been the school at Fort Devens in 1944 that this was re-activated in 1945 and opened its sessions on June 3 with each session to run three and a half days. As a recognition for past services and in order to have as large an enrollment as possible, the State allowed base pay and actual expenses to all students to this school. The quota for each of the 15 sessions of the school was set at five commissioned officers and noncommissioned officers, sergeants or higher.

This quota was afterwards increased to six for each session.

Up to the end of June, the following students had completed the course at this school and had received certificates to that effect:

Lieutenant Colonel

Elliott R. Miles, Region 2, Calais

Captains

David Y. Alkazin, Co. B, 3rd Bn., Bath
Louis D. Annis, Co. E, 3rd Bn., Bath
Stephen E. Beckett, Co. D, 5th Bn., Calais
Peter P. Beaker, Co. C, 2nd Bn., Rumford
Herbert L. Betts, Hq. Co., 1st Bn., Portland
Carroll P. Boyd, Co. C, 6th Bn., Fort Fairfield
Rosario R. Caruso, Co. A, 6th Bn., Millinocket
Edmund C. Darey, Co. C, 4th Bn., Livermore Falls
Edward S. Farwell, Co. D, 3rd Bn., Unity

First Lieutenants

Philip N. Beckett, Co. D, 5th Bn., Calais
Harold J. Carter, Co. B, 3rd Bn., Bath
Louis N. Charron, Hqrs. Staff, 1st Bn., Portland
Edward R. Nickerson, Co. C, 6th Bn., Fort Fairfield
Roland E. Rhoades, Co. C, 3rd Bn., Gardiner
John H. Waugh, Co. C, 2nd Bn., Rumford

Harold Welch, Co. C, 6th Bn., Fort Fairfield
John F. Wheeler, Co. A, 6th Bn., Millinocket

While not nearly as extensive in curricula as the course at Fort Devens, numerous other schools of instruction were held within the State of Maine for officers and enlisted personnel of the Maine State Guard.

Under the direction and control of Colonel Charles L. Stephenson, FA, senior instructor for the Maine State Guard, the following school for Region and Battalion Staffs were held.

July 24—1st Battalion at Portland

July 28—Headquarters Region 1 and 2d Battalion at Lewiston

Aug. 1—4th Battalion at Farmington

Aug. 2—6th Battalion at the Arctic Training Area at the Houlton Air Base

Aug. 7—3d Battalion at Augusta

Aug. 8—Headquarters Region 2 and 5th Battalion at Bangor

The sessions of these schools proved so valuable that another series was at once scheduled and these were held as follows:

Oct. 25—6th Battalion at Houlton

Nov. 8—State Headquarters and 3d Battalion at Augusta

Nov. 17—Headquarters Region 1 and 2d Battalion at Lewiston

Dec. 5—Headquarters Region 2 and 5th Battalion at Bangor

Dec. 18—1st Battalion at Portland

Jan. 5—4th Battalion at Farmington

Equally valuable with these instruction courses on tactics and administration was a school held at Cambridge, Massachusetts, for the State Guard Chaplains of New England. Two days were occupied: January 16 and 17, 1945. Lt. Col. John F. Conoley of Hebron, Chief of Chaplains, Maine State Guard, and Major Tom G. Akeley of Gardiner, assistant chief of chaplains, attended this school and were greatly benefited. It may be said, too, that the chaplains from the other states received profitable instruction from the Maine representatives.

School for Motor Vehicle Drivers

Another very valuable course of instruction was given to drivers of motor vehicles at schools held especially for them. The first of these was under the direction and control of Col. John F. Choate, State Ordnance Officer, and was designed wholly for instructors who after completing the course would be able to go home and teach the members of their command. This instructors' school was held at Augusta on 10 and 11 February, 1945.

Following the instructors schools, schools for drivers were held as follows:

Feb. 18—1st Battalion at Portland

Feb. 28—Headquarters Detachment, Region 1, 2d and 4th Battalions at Lewiston

Mar. 4—State Medical Detachment and 3d Battalion at Augusta

Mar. 11—Headquarters Detachment, Region 2 and 5th Battalion at Bangor

Mar. 19—6th Battalion at Caribou

The alignment of students was: four per battalion headquarters company and two per rifle company or detachment.

Colonel Choate gave his personal attention to these sessions. The instruction embraced checking, proper driving, minor repairs, and proper maintenance.

Fighting Forest Fires

Another school that proved of immense value to the State Guardsmen was that held under the personal direction of Mr. Austin Wilkins, Supervisor of the State Forestry Department. Fighting of forest fires was the main subject. It had proved so valuable in 1944 that the school was repeated in the spring of 1945 but embraced more territory. The following sessions were held:

April 8—3d Battalion at Augusta

April 15—1st Battalion at Portland

April 22—2d Battalion at Norway

April 22—5th Battalion at Bangor

April 29—4th Battalion at Farmington

It should be borne in mind that the various schools mentioned above are but a small part of the actual schools of instruction that have been held. In some organizations, company commanders have held classes for the noncommissioned officers weekly and even semi-weekly. These have been of the greatest help because the noncommissioned officers have been able to acquire just the right angle to use when instructing their men. To supplement this class work they have devoted many hours to studying training and technical manuals.

In addition to all these there have been battalion and regional conferences where both commissioned and noncommissioned officers have received instruction in policies to be followed, in tactics and instruction in the legal aspect of the State Guard in its relation to the public in times of disorder and natural disaster.

COMMAND POST EXERCISES

Simulating every activity of actual duty in an emergency the officers and especially selected enlisted men of the Maine State Guard participated in a series of Command Post Exercises in a way that won the unstinted commendation of high officials from First Service Command Headquarters in Boston and distinguished officers from Washington, the First Defense Command and even farther away.

The first of these CPX's was held in the big armory at Lewiston on 3 and 4 February 1945. It was participated in by all members of the State Staff, and State Guard Staff, Region commanders and their staffs and the commanding officers of all battalions and their staffs.

In the play of this game, all emergencies such as might be met under actual conditions were simulated. The communication system set up, the handling of messages, maintaining of situation maps and other details were admirably carried out. The decisions and solutions were sound.

Following this State-wide CPX, others were held for the separate battalions as follows:

- 17-18 February—State and State Guard Staff and 3d Battalion at Augusta
- 24-25 March—State and State Guard Staff and 4th Battalion at Farmington
- 7- 8 April—State and State Guard Staff and 2d Battalion at Norway
- 14-15 April—State and State Guard Staff and 5th Battalion at Bangor
- 28-29 April—State and State Guard Staff and 1st Battalion at Saco
- 14 May—2d Battalion at Norway

A combined CPX and week-end maneuver was to have been held at Houlton on 12 and 13 May 1945, but the terrific and unseasonable blizzard which descended upon Maine at that time tied up transportation and made the cancellation of the exercise necessary. However, this was most successfully held on 23 and 24 June.

DISBANDED AND NEW ORGANIZATIONS

Because of lack of interest two regular companies of the Maine State Guard were removed from the roster during the past year. Col. E, 2d Battalion of Mechanic Falls was mustered out of service. Some of the men transferred to Co. D, 2d Battalion of Auburn. Co. C, 5th Battalion of Belfast was inactivated and the personnel placed on the inactive list subject to recall.

Of the State Guard Reserve Companies, the 21st of Lisbon Falls and the 31st of Kennebunkport were mustered out of service because of inability to maintain strength and lack of interest.

The 3d Reserve Company of Bryant Pond, 4th of Bethel, 6th of West Paris, 27th of West Gardiner, 32d of Yarmouth and 35th of Gray were also mustered out of service, but this action was taken to give the personnel assignments in the regular State Guard. The 3d and 4th Companies with headquarters at Bethel have become Co. E, 2d Battalion. The 27th Company has been changed to Headquarters Company 3d Battalion with headquarters at Litchfield. The majority of the members of the 6th company signed up with Headquarters Company, 2d Battalion, South Paris.

The 32d Company of Yarmouth is now Co. G, 1st Battalion, and is the heavy weapons organization of that group.

The 35th Company of Gray has become Co. F, 2d Battalion.

The interest in all these re-organized units is very keen. In fact, it is no exaggeration to say that the morale of the whole State Guard is, on the whole, higher than at the time the emergency was the keenest.

HEAVY WEAPONS COMPANIES

While not strictly heavy weapons in the nomenclature of the army, certain materiel received by Maine from the United States Government has been placed in that category. This materiel includes .30 calibre water-cooled machine guns with carts and other equipment.

With all this new and added fire power it was deemed advisable by The Adjutant General to organize or rather to designate, certain units of the State Guard as "heavy weapons companies". These have been selected and they are equipped with two Browning machine guns each, four Thompson sub-machine guns and twenty-five rifles. The number and variety of these heavy weapons will be augmented as they are received from the Federal Government.

The following organizations have been placed in the heavy weapons category:

1st Battalion	Co. G	Yarmouth
2d Battalion	Co. D	Auburn
3d Battalion	Co. C	Gardiner
4th Battalion	Co. D	Farmington
5th Battalion	Co. A	Bangor
6th Battalion	Co. A	Millinocket

FEDERAL INSPECTIONS

During the past year, Federal inspections of two types were held. The first concerned only ordnance rifles, exclusively, as issued by the U. S. Government for the use of Maine State Guard troops. In the great majority of cases, the rifles were found to be in good condition. Broken ones or those with missing parts were repaired in so far as possible by the crew making the inspections. This ordnance crew came from Headquarters, First Service Command, of Boston and they were busy from 14 August to 31 August 1944.

The other inspections were much more comprehensive. They concerned the efficiency of the units, the housing facilities for equipment, the adequacy of the armories and other allied angles. These inspections were conducted by Col. Charles L. Stephenson, FA, senior instructor of the Maine State Guard; Captain William F. Sullivan, Inf. and Captain Charles F. Kuch, the latter two from the Training Division, First Service Command. All inspections were made during March and April, 1945.

With the exception of seven units, all organizations were given a rating of "satisfactory". Those who did not receive this rating were given an opportunity to be re-inspected and this will be done later this summer or this fall.

In the comments on the inspections, in the case of those units that were rated "satisfactory", the inspecting officers were for the most part very enthusiastic. In the case of one company in particular the report read: "This company may well be called a model State Guard organization".

For weeks ahead of the dates scheduled, the units were pointed toward the inspections. Every possible phase of instruction was given and the men were imbued with the spirit of making their outfits "tops". While it was disappointing to have some of the units labelled "unsatisfactory", it is very gratifying to know that with approximately 50 companies and detachments in the State, so many received—and deserved—the report of "satisfactory".

V-E DAY

Maine almost universally observed V-E Day marking the termination of the European war in a most sane manner. So quiet was the observance that there was no interruption in the normal activities of business and social life.

In some sections services of thanksgiving were held. These were attended by both State Guardsmen and the civilian population. Chaplains of the State Guard were in charge of the exercises in some communities. Particularly notable was the program conducted by the officers and men of Companies B and E, 3d Battalion, Maine State Guard at Bath.

Although no violence in the observance of V-E Day was anticipated, plans for handling civil disorders were made and a limited detail from local State Guard companies was on duty in many of the larger sections. Had the celebration got beyond bounds, the State Guard could have been summoned immediately to support the civil authorities.

MEMORIAL DAY

State Guardsmen in every section of the State participated in the Memorial Day program, in so far as the rainy weather of that day would permit. Details of Co. B, 4th Battalion, with headquarters at Strong actually took part in four separate memorial exercises in that section of Franklin county. State Guard companies furnished details in size from a firing squad to a whole company, depending upon the requirements of the local program.

STATE GUARD RECRUITING WEEK

The week of 29 April to 5 May was officially proclaimed State Guard Recruiting Week by Governor Horace A. Hildreth. Attractive posters advertising this event were displayed in all sections of the State. In some cities and towns special recruiting booths were erected in the stores, theatre lobbies and on the street. The results of recruiting week were very satisfactory and the State Guard was brought up to above its authorized strength of 2000 officers and men.

SPECIAL ACTIVE DUTY

There were several occasions when the services of State Guard troops were needed for the maintenance of law and order. The big Stevens Avenue State Armory in Portland was destroyed by fire on 24 February 1945 and a special detail of officers and men from Headquarters Company and Company A, both 1st Battalion, did fine guard duty until salvage operations could be started.

At a big mid-winter fire in Bangor representatives of the three units in that city helped in patrolling and guarding the fire area.

There were many other cases where State Guardsmen, volunteering their services, assisted in the hunt for lost persons.

THE STATE DETACHMENT

As has been mentioned in previous reports, the State Detachment of National Guard troops which was inducted into Federal service on October 10, 1940 was released less personnel in October 1941. As men and officers were released from active duty and returned to State control on an inactive status they were attached to this State Detachment.

This organization has fluctuated in size from a few to over 300 depending upon changes in status of the individuals either by recall to active duty or by discharge. On June 30, 1945, there were in this detachment 22 officers and 19 enlisted men who have no duties to perform and may yet be recalled to active duty if necessary. New regulations issued in May will result in the formal discharge of all enlisted personnel attached to the State Detachment. This will leave only the officers.

Another category has been set up known as the inactive list and four officers have been returned to this status without being attached to the State Detachment. These cases have involved some form of physical disability.

DISCHARGE OF NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Before the end of the year it is expected that hundreds of men who were inducted into Federal service as members of the Maine National Guard will be discharged "At the convenience of the Government—demobilization". These are men who according to War Department regulations and computations have received the necessary 85 points or for some other cause. Since there have been no enlistments in the National Guard within the past three years, discharges of men released from the Army of the United States operate automatically to release them from the National Guard of the United States and the National Guard of the various states.

ARMORIES

One of the early moves of the State Military Defense Commission, created by legislature enactment on June 27, 1940, (Chapter 308, P. L. 1940), was in the direction of improvement of the armory situation in the State of Maine. The state's facilities for the storage of military property, and armory training of troops were deplorable. As a result of the Commission's efforts the state has made a good start toward correcting a bad situation.

Nine armories have been completed since 1940. Plans and specifications have been prepared and approved for three others, to be constructed when stabilized price levels of labor and materials permit, in the post-war period.

A survey of armory needs in Maine was completed by the Commission in 1942. This plan calls for the construction of some sixteen additional armories, in as many communities throughout the state. It is anticipated that this construction program could be carried out on a cooperative basis by the Commission and interested communities. Therefore, it is hoped that at the next session of the Maine Legislature, additional funds will be made available to the Commission for the continuing of its armory construction program. It will then be possible for the Commission to work out its building program on a practical basis, in cooperation with the Federal Government's post war military planning, which is currently being given consideration by the War Department planning boards; their recommendations are to be forwarded to Congress at an early date.

The National Guard, it is already agreed, will hold a prominent place as a civilian component in America's post war army, and the National Guard of the several states, to be organized by and under the control of the states as an emergency force in peace time, will be an efficiently trained component, ready for induction into federal service in case of national emergency.

The actual strength of the State Guard units as of June 30, 1945 was as follows:

PROMOTIONS OF MAINE NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Maine may well be proud of the wonderful accomplishments of the members of the Maine National Guard during World War II. Almost without exception, their record has been outstanding.

The value of the National Guard training has been convincingly demonstrated by these Maine men. This training during peace days supplemented by attendance at special schools and other instruction has resulted in wholesale promotions. Although complete official records have not as yet been received by The Adjutant General, the records on hand are nearly complete. In the list given below, the present rank of the officer concerned may not be correct, simply because the last official notice of change had not been received at this headquarters at the time the compilation was made. The data compiled are from official sources, newspaper articles, private correspondence and other avenues of information.

The following list, therefore, shows the rank or grade of Maine National Guardsmen upon entering Federal service and the rank they held on 30 June 1945 in so far as information had been received:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL AND G-3, MSG

There were no requests for investigations made to this department during the year July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1945.

The inspections of the Maine State Guard units were made by Federal officers.

As G-3 participated in the following conferences, schools of instructions, command post exercises and maneuvers:

7 August	Conference at Augusta
12-13 August	Weekend Maneuver—Augusta
19-20 August	Weekend Maneuver—Augusta
23-24 Sept.	Maneuver—Lewiston

1 Feb.	Conference—Augusta
3- 4 Feb.	C.P.X.—Lewiston
17-18 Feb.	C.P.X.—Augusta
3 March	Conference—Augusta
24-25 March	C.P.X.—Farmington
14-15 April	C.P.X.—Bangor
28-29 April	C.P.X.—Saco
19-20 May	Weekend Encampment—Augusta

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE GUARD QUARTERMASTER

During the past fiscal year since the invasion of the continent culminating in the final defeat of Germany, it has been necessary to change the Internal Defense plans. Since it is now contemplated that the State Guard might be called into active duty for more than one day, there is a subsistence problem involved. Consequently the following training program and maneuvers were held throughout the year for which menus were planned and supplies obtained by the State Guard Quartermaster.

Date	Place	Organization	Approximate Attendance
12-13 August 1944	Camp Keyes	1st & 3rd Bns.	850
19-20 August 1944	Camp Keyes	2nd & 4th Bns.	750
9-10 Sept. 1944	Houlton Air Base	5th & 6th Bns.	600
19-20 May 1945	Camp Keyes	1st & 3rd Bns.	750
26-27 May 1945	Camp Keyes	2nd & 4th Bns.	750
9-10 June 1945	Blue Hill	5th Bn.	300
23-24 June 1945	Houlton Air Base	6th Bn.	250

One maneuver scheduled at Houlton for 12-13 of May was cancelled because of an unusually heavy snow storm which made the roads in some sections impassable for several hours.

Most of the subsistence supplies were obtained from the U. S. Commissary Sales Officers at Portland, Dow Field, and Houlton Air Base whose splendid cooperation is much appreciated.

It is suggested that personnel for a supply section be selected, organized and trained to facilitate the distribution of subsistence supplies at all maneuvers and encampments.

Due to the pressure of duties in my regular vocation it has been necessary to ask for a transfer to the inactive list. It is with considerable regret that I sever my connections with the Active State Guard. The associations have been most pleasant and I wish to extend my thanks for the cooperation received from the Adjutant General and State Staff as well as from the Region and Battalion Staffs.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF MAINTENANCE

During the past fiscal year numerous repairs and improvements have been made to the Armories located throughout the State as well as to the buildings located at Camp Keyes. Extensive repairs were necessary in some cases to bring the condition of the buildings up to a high standard. The following detailed report gives the repairs for each armory, the date the work was done and by whom:

Bangor Armory

- July 1944 Repairs to ceiling in boiler room. Andrew S. Keenan authorized to do the work.
- Aug. 1944 Repairs to hardwood floor. William A. McDonald did the work of taking up, cleaning, re-laying and finishing.
- Jan. 1945 Freeze up in unit heater in drill hall. Shea-Pritchard made the repairs and at the same time installed an extra toilet and wash stand in the head house.
- Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Bath Armory

- Nov. 1944 Recommended waterproofing.
- Dec. 1944 Robert C. Ford inspected this armory and made recommendations for wiring, roofing, and parking area repairs. Recommended Ford be authorized to go ahead with this work.
- Dec. 1944 Acme Supply Co. furnished and installed new cabinet and regulator.
- Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Belfast Armory

- July 1944 Installation of new septic tank and sewage disposal field. The U. S. Coast Guard had this work done, but supervision was required and several trips to Belfast were necessary. J. R. Partidge of Augusta did the work.
- Nov. 1944 Waterproofing recommended.
- Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Brewer Armory

- July 1944 Crowell & Lancaster, architects for this armory, inspected the roof for reported leaks and made several recommendations. They had the Bangor Roofing and Sheet Metal Co. give an estimate of cost of this work. Estimate was $1194.93. There were no funds available from the regular appropriation so the State Military Defense Commission gave authorization for this work to be done. The work was completed in May, 1945.
- Dec. 1944 L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc. through their Boston office recommended waterproofing to stop seepage and paint peeling on interior.
- Dec. 1944 Shea-Pritchard Co. of Bangor did some plumbing repair work.

Jan. 1945 Made an inspection of this Armory with a representative of the Education Dept. who have been using this building as a training school. Several recommendations made for restoring interior to same condition as when it was turned over to that department. This was all taken care of by that department.

Apr. 1944 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Brunswick Armory

Oct. 1944 Replaced several shingles on the roof.

Nov. 1944 Investigated conditions on drill shed floor and made several recommendations. Gave an estimate of $900.00 to do necessary work.

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Camp Keyes

June 1945 Work done by Robert C. Ford of Auburn getting ready for Guard encampment.

Gardiner Armory

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Milk Street Armory

Nov. 1944 Peter P. Carey authorized to repair granite steps. The U. S. Navy finally did the work.

Mar. 1945 Insurance Department recommended fire escapes. Contacted two concerns and both reported nothing could be done at this time. U. S. Navy did this work later.

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Newport Armory

Nov. 1944 Waterproofing recommended.

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Norway Armory

Nov. 1944 Waterproofing recommended.

Nov. 1944 Overhead Door Company of Lewiston authorized to repair five overhead doors in garage.

Jan. 1945 Hahnel Bros. of Lewiston contacted about reported leaks in the roofing installed by them. This was a 20-year guaranteed roof. They reported an investigation made by them in March revealed no leaks but that should any appear they would take care of them.

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. No recommendations. Armory in very good condition.

Rumford Armory

Nov. 1944 Recommended waterproofing.

Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Armory in good condition.

Apr. 1945 Hahnel Bros. of Lewiston authorized to make necessary repairs to roof.

Saco Armory

- July 1944 Maheney's Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company of Biddeford installed a sump in the Rifle Range and a sump pump in the boiler room of this armory.
- Aug. 1944 Inspection trip made with Major Fellows of the Adjutant General's Dept. and Lawrence Murphy of the Highway Dept. to determine boundary lines. Recommended that the War Department be requested to restore the grounds to the same condition as when the Army took over this armory.
- Aug. 1944 I. H. Fenderson repaired the lawns damaged by the Army.
- Nov. 1944 Waterproofing recommended.
- Jan. 1945 C. M. & H. T. Plummer furnished a new pump. Original pump not large enough.
- Feb. 1945 C. M. & H. T. Plummer furnished an auxiliary pump for this armory.
- Mar. 1945 Maheney's Hardware & Plumbing Supply Co., of Biddeford installed the new auxiliary pump.
- Apr. 1945 Inspection and revaluation of armory for insurance purposes. Several recommendations made.

Skowhegan Armory

- Aug. 1944 J. R. Partridge of Augusta gave an estimate of $2395.00 for renovating this building. Authorization was given and the alterations and repairs were made.

South Portland Armory

- July 1944 Mathews Fuel Company of Portland repaired and replaced various parts of the motor at this armory.
- Oct. 1944 Peter P. Carey of Waterville was authorized to apply waterproofing to this building.
- Apr. 1944 Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Minor recommendations only.

Stevens Avenue Armory

- Oct. 1944 Peter P. Carey of Waterville was authorized to apply waterproofing to this building.
- Nov. 1944 J. E. McBrady & Son authorized to repair roof.
- Nov. 1944 Mathews Fuel Co. repairs the automatic air volumeter and installed new diaphragm.
- Feb. 1945 Portion of the armory burned. I went down immediately. This was early Saturday morning. On Monday conferences were held with General Carter and Guy Whitten. The Fels Co. was authorized to do whatever necessary to save plumbing not damaged by the fire. Burnham-McLellan Co. was authorized to do immediate work necessary and so were J. E. McBrady & Co., Robert A. Verrier Cons. Co., Kerr Electric Co., and the Portland Water District furnished floodlighting facilities during the fire. On March 18 the State Military Defense Commission, General Carter, Guy Whitten and Mr. Russell met with the Governor. Robert A. Verrier was authorized to prepare an estimate of the fire loss and John Howard Stevens was authorized to draw plans for rebuilding the portion destroyed. A contract was drawn up and signed accordingly.

May 1945 Insurance revaluation.

May 1945 Robert A. Verrier Cons. Co. made extensive repairs to the Guard House.

Adjutant General's Buildings

Apr. 1945

Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes. Buildings are in fine condition. No recommendations made.

It will be noted that extensive re-building was necessary at the Stevens Avenue Armory at Portland due to the fire which destroyed a large part of the building on 24 February 1945. This fire was most regrettable as the building was the "home" of two State Guard companies. The repairs were started immediately and the building was remodeled in the burned area. A complete investigation of this fire was made in conjunction with the State Insurance Department.

The armory at South Portland, which has been leased to the U. S. Coast Guard since May, 1942 as a receiving and distributing base, has been returned to State control, as of 30 June 1945. The following articles were given to the Adjutant General's Department by the U. S. Coast Guard upon the termination of the lease:

Article	Unit Price
3 GRIDDLES	$ 9.97
1 DISHWASHER WITH HOOD AND FAN	575.00
2 FRY KETTLES	125.00
1 POTATO PEELER	300.00
1 MIXER	730.00
1 ATTACHMENT, 20 quart	47.50
1 MEAT ATTACHMENT	50.00
1 COFFEE URN	600.00
1 POT SINK	80.00
1 2 BAKERS TABLES	25.00
1 COOK'S TABLE	25.00

1 STOCK KETTLE	885.00
1 STOCK KETTLE	885.00
1 ROASTING OVEN	870.00
1 BAKE OVEN	1,250.00

This equipment will prove invaluable in future encampments of the State Guard and part of it has already been installed in the Officers' Mess at Camp Keyes.

Several encampments and weekend maneuvers have been held or planned for during the past year. It is anticipated that during July and August, 1945 all the State Guard troops will come to Camp Keyes for a week's encampment. It has been my duty to see that the hutments and other buildings located at the camp are in A-1 condition for their use. This made numerous repairs necessary and during the month of June under a contract awarded to Stewart and Williams of Augusta, the following buildings were re-painted: kitchens, dining rooms, latrines, showers, officers' mess, infirmary, garage, for fire engines and personnel, and garage and truck shed. Most of these buildings were painted one coat outside and two coats inside, which will protect the surfaces as well as improve the appearance. Under the same contract ten chimneys were constructed on various buildings at the camp.

The officers' mess at the camp has been extensively remodeled and new equipment installed including an electric refrigerator, mixer, and coffee urn which were given to The Adjutant General's Department by the U. S. Coast Guard and trucked here from Portland. A new sink was also installed and cupboards built by the post carpenters. This installation of new equipment and rebuilding provides facilities for the convenient messing of officers at the coming encampments.

The doors in each of the fifty-seven hutments were repaired to make them usable for the coming troops. Other minor repairs to the buildings at the camp included replacing of glass where necessary, building of new partitions in the store room, and the thorough cleaning of sixteen stoves used for heating and cooking purposes during encampments.

The roads and highways about the camp have also been maintained and are in good condition at the present time.

The Adjutant General's building has been partially repainted inside and will be finished early next year. The boiler room has been extensively repaired and converted to coal.

Inspection of all the armories in the State and checking of their equipment as well as for needed repairs has been a part of my duties as Supt. of Maintenance. This has made it necessary for me to travel somewhat throughout the State and spend considerable time outside of Augusta, particularly in Portland where extensive repairs were necessary on account of the Stevens Avenue Armory fire as mentioned in a previous paragraph. Inspection and revaluation for insurance purposes was required. This entailed additional trips to each of the armories.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE ORDNANCE OFFICER

The duties of the State Ordnance Officer consist of the following:

The requisition, storage, issue and repair of small arms, automatic and semi-automatic weapons and all larger caliber weapons when issued to the State by the Federal Government.

The requisition, storage and issue of ammunition of all categories.

The care and supervision of all rifle and machine gun ranges throughout the State and the requisition and issue of range supplies.

The supervision and promotion of marksmanship training of all arms with which State troops are equipped.

The requisition, storage, issue, maintenance and repair of motor vehicles under control of the Adjutant General's Department.

The requisition, storage, and issue of signal equipment.

The requisition, storage, issue and repair of Chemical Warfare equipment and supplies.

During the past fiscal year, the duties of the Ordnance Officer have been tremendously augmented by the receipt from the Federal Government of much equipment and supplies. Heretofore, since the National Guard was inducted into Federal Service in 1940 and 1941, the State provided many ordnance items. The need for such State assistance has now been practically eliminated. With World War II drawing to a close, the State will have all such equipment it will need from Federal sources.

The following is a detailed report of the various duties of the Ordnance Officer:

Small Arms, Automatic and Semi-Automatic Arms

At the beginning of the fiscal year the Department had 1727 M1917 (Enfield) Caliber .30 rifles with accessories for issue to units. Since that time, 90 were destroyed by fire in the Stevens Avenue Armory and 50 were received from the Government, making a balance on hand of 1687. This number permits the issue of about 40 rifles per rifle company. The rifle itself, while not the latest type, has fair training value to the troops. It can be expected that these will be exchanged eventually for M1 (Garand) and the new Carbine. No spare parts for repair purposes have been issued to the State but there is an ordnance team which makes a yearly inspection of all the rifles, repairing them at that time.

Twelve M1917A1 Browning machine guns, Caliber .30 have been received. This permitted the organization of a heavy weapons company in each of the six battalions of the State Guard. With these guns, we have issued Caliber .22 barrels for indoor machine gun practice throughout the winter months.

To the 94 Thompson sub-machine guns, have this year been added 60 more, making a total of 154. These weapons, using the regular caliber .45 pistol cartridge are excellent weapons for State troops in domestic disturbances, not so much for their recognized lethal power, but for the wholesome respect they inspire in mobs. They have been distributed so that all units in the State Guard have some.

We had no side arms for officers and noncommissioned officers from Federal sources until this year. There have been issued 179 revolvers, Smith and Wesson, Caliber .45 M1917 with holsters. These, with the caliber .38 State-owned revolvers on hand, enable us to equip all officers and key noncommissioned officers.

Ammunition

The Federal Government has been very liberal in its training allowance of ammunition for the present calendar year:

- Cartridge, ball, caliber .22 LR—200 rounds per man, 1800 rounds per machine gun.

Cartridge, ball, caliber .30 M2—100 rounds per man, 800 rounds per machine gun.

Cartridge, blank, caliber .30—50 rounds per man.

Cartridge, ball, caliber .45—50 rounds per man for sub-machine gun practice, 100 rounds per man equipped with revolver.

With this amount of ammunition, modified courses of rifle, revolver and sub-machine gun marksmanship have been authorized and marksmanship badges will be issued when and if we are able to procure them. Our storage facilities for ammunition are excellent. We have three modern, underground magazines in which there is maximum safety for the ammunition in accordance with the Army Regulations.

Rifle and Machine Gun Ranges

Suitable and convenient ranges for small arms practice will always be a problem in Maine. The present State Guard units are all equipped with a rifle. Hence, at present these units require convenient ranges for rifle practice. Rifle marksmanship is one of the greatest elements of training and every effort must be made to make it easy for men to practice whenever they have the opportunity.

We have the following ranges:

Auburn—Owned by the U. S. Government with the caretaker provided for the summer months.

Augusta—Owned by the State. This range has been condemned for rifle fire. Being swamp land, it is of little value for any purpose.

Norway—Leased by the U. S. Government. In good state of repair and in constant use by two local units.

Waterville—Provided by the City. This was once an excellent range but the city dump has encroached on it until the maximum range possible has been reduced from 1000 yards to 200 yards. Firing conditions are bad on account of entrance through the city dump and the constant odors present. Eventually, this range must be relocated.

Skowhegan—Leased by the U. S. Government. Completely satisfactory in location and repair.

Dexter—Leased by the U. S. Government. In excellent condition.

Rumford—Leased by the U. S. Government. In good condition.

In addition to these ranges, units have used their time and ingenuity to construct temporary ranges in their own communities. The U. S. Range at Auburn is the focal center for most of the marksmanship training. With the vehicles now available to move troops, many units of Region 1 use it on week-ends. While the range is not ideal, it is the best we have in the State with its facilities for troop bivouacing. During the fiscal year, $500 was received from Federal funds which was used for the purchase of materials for range repairs. This material is on hand and will be used as Department labor is available. Other range supplies such as targets, target cloth, frames and stickers from Federal sources have been received in adequate quantities for all ranges.

Motor Vehicles

The greatest change during the past year has been the acquisition of motor vehicles from the Federal Government. At the beginning of the year, we had the following State-owned vehicles:

- 1 Sedan (Adjutant General's use)
- 7 Station Wagons
- 11 1½ ton Cargo Trucks (Stake body)
- 2 Dodge pick-up Trucks
- 1 Dodge dump Truck
- 1 Dodge Ambulance
- 2 Harley-Davidson Motorcycles with side car
- 1 Chevrolet Fire Truck, 1928
- 1 Walters Armored Car
- 1 GMC Tractor, 1918
- 1 three-ton Crane, Liberty, 1918
- 1 Kitchen Trailer
- 1 Ambulance Trailer
- 2 two-wheel Trailers

In addition to these State-owned vehicles, we have one fire truck, property of the U. S. Government. The Walters Armored Car has been returned to the Highway Department to whom it belonged.

During the year the following vehicles have been received from the U. S. Government:

- 20 1½ ton, 4x4 Chevrolet Cargo Trucks
- 16 ½ ton, 4x4 Dodge Trucks, Command and Reconnaissance
- 12 Motorcycles, Harley-Davidson solo
- 3 Scout Cars, M3A1, White
- 90 Bicycles

To give limited mobility and to assist in training and command, vehicles have been issued to organizations on the following basis:

To Region 1 Headquarters Detachment:

- 1 Truck, C & R
- 2 Motorcycles, solo

To Region 2 Headquarters Detachment:

- 1 Truck, C & R
- 1 Station Wagon

To Battalions:

- 2 Trucks, C & R
- 2 Trucks, 1½ ton Chevrolet

Co. C, 1st Bn. (Sanford), Co. B, 3d Bn. (Bath), and Co. D, 5th Bn. (Calais) each have one 1½ ton Chevrolet truck for special missions. The balance of the motor vehicles have been retained in the State Arsenal Motor Pool, Augusta, both for the purposes of maintenance and for emergency use. The vehicles in this pool permit the transportation of one complete battalion of the State Guard, at short notice, to any part of the State.

Maintenance of these motor vehicles is a very serious problem. We now have a total of seventy-nine of all classes that must not only be given daily care but must be repaired and given periodic overhaul. For this important and extensive function, the Department has just one mechanic. Over any long period of time, it is obviously impossible for him to do more than the most pressing maintenance. Based on our present use of vehicles, they should have a 6000-mile maintenance check once each year. This alone would consume 350-400 man/days. To help obviate this condition and to aid in training the troops, week-end motor schools were held during the past winter by the Ordnance Officer for all battalions of the Guard. Prospective drivers, four per headquarters company and two per rifle and heavy weapons company were authorized to attend. Besides lectures on theoretical subjects, the school emphasized driving and first echelon maintenance of vehicles by the drivers so that the vehicles assigned to units would be given proper care. At present, according to the policy of the Federal Government, the State must pay for all repairs for these vehicles. It is expected eventually that the policy that was in vogue when the National Guard was in the State will become effective and parts worn out through fair wear and tear may be replaced without charge by the Government.

Signal Equipment

Starting the year, we had no Federal equipment. Units worked solely with short-wave radios furnished by the State and licensed under the War Emergency by the Federal Communications Commission. These sets operate on 2½ meters, 112-116 megacycles and are of great value for training and for combat use. In addition to these, we now have this equipment from the Government:

- 8 six-drop switchboards (BD71)
- 24 Field Telephones (EE8A)
- 5 tons of salvaged telephone wire
- 24 Radios SCR 511-C

The last item of SCR 511-C Radios (Walkie-Talkie type) was recently received and as soon as authority is granted by the F. C. C. by modification of our present license, will be issued to battalions. These sets transmit on a frequency of 3825 KC's, to a channel recently made available to State Guard units by the F. C. C. They are built for tactical purposes and have a useable range of about five miles. Most units have made tremendous progress in the development of radio operators. This field is unlimited and the training offered can be one of the strongest inducements for young men to enter Guard Service.

Chemical Warfare Equipment

The Federal Government has been very liberal in providing everything needed for training and combat use. We have gas masks for our troops of two types—one, the light, pendant-canister type training mask and the other, the M2 service mask. In addition, there has been an ample supply of tear gas (CN) and smoke (HC) in both hand grenades and pots. Units are trained with this material so that present personnel should be able to use it in any emergency.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE GUARD SURGEON

During the past fiscal year, the Maine Medical detachment has been called upon twice to perform active duty. Both of these occasions were in connection with week-end maneuvers held at Camp Keyes in Augusta, on May 19 and 20 and May 26 and 27. Similar duty was performed on September 9 and 10 at Houlton.

A fully equipped infirmary was set up at both places. Many cases were handled, but all of these were of a minor nature and could be cured without the necessity of confinement to quarters or of hospitalization.

So thorough has been the training of the Maine State Guard Medical detachment that the enlisted personnel is able to care for nearly every contingency where the services of a physician or surgeon may not be needed.

Programs of instruction for the medical detachments of battalions have been coordinated with those of the State Detachment so that all training has been along the same lines.

H

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE GUARD CHAPLAIN

Since the inception of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps in March-April 1942, the entire personnel have taken their duties seriously and have as conscientiously discharged them. They were all given to understand by The Adjutant General, Brigadier General George M. Carter, that no less than the very best they could possibly do is expected of them as individuals and as a group; that having been commissioned and charged with the spiritual instincting and formation of its military personnel, the State justifiably expects and is entitled to the fullest possible reciprocal participation by the clergy chosen, commissioned and assigned, for this work. And this same challenge has been given to the entire chaplain personnel, time and again, by the Assistant Adjutant General, Colonel L. M. Hart, AGD (Ret.).

As a result of our General Staff's determined efforts to provide Maine's security troops with the best possible spiritual leadership, competent, zealous, and devoted to their work, the State of Maine now has one of the best organized and most effective chaplains groups in the entire national set-up of State Guard establishments.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that the Adjutant General's original decision to appoint chaplains not by denominational proportions but by popular choice, i. e., by suffrage to the officers and men of the Regions and Battalions concerned, has had the happiest possible result. For we now have, in the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps, a representative cross-section of the religious denominations actively at work in Maine, including Baptist, Congregational, Jewish, Methodist, Protestant, Episcopalian, Roman Catholic, and Swedenborgian chaplains. And it should and must be here recorded that this truly "mixed" body of clergymen are as truly united in one common effort; to deserve their commissions and as faithfully to discharge their several duties as the spiritual directors of the commands to which they are assigned.

The monthly reports of the several Staff and Battalion chaplains are to date most encouraging and promising for the future. The chaplains, one and all, are keenly aware of their responsibility for the maintenance of a high tone of morale among the personnel of their several commands, and are, without exception, doing a fine job. They are all making weekly visits to the several units of their respective commands; attending Battalion and Regional CPXs and holding scheduled religious services thereat; in not a few instances they are serving Federal as well as State Guard installations of troops; they are conducting military weddings and funerals, and filing records of both with the AGO; and they are all making themselves generally useful to their Regional and Battalion commanders as staff "specialists" charged with responsibility for the promotion of "character building and contentment . . . by precept and example, and thus add greater efficiency to those engaged in the (State Guard) military defense of the country"—(TM 16-205).

Changes of Personnel, Title, Rank, and Assignment

Since the State of Maine was re-divided into two Regions by GO No. 6, 17 May 1944, with four battalions of State Guard troops in Region 1 and two battalions in Region 2, several changes have been made in the set-up of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps.

As of 12 October 1944, GO No. 15, the titles of Senior and Junior Chaplains were abolished and the following promotions and assignments made:

Chaplain John F. Conoley to be Chief of Chaplains;

Chaplain Tom G. Akeley to be Assistant Chief of Chaplains;

To be battalion chaplains, MSG, with the rank of Captain:

Chaplain D. H. E. Fox, 1st Battalion, Region 1

Chaplain R. W. Colby, 2nd Battalion, Region 1

Chaplain Louis A. Dole, 3rd Battalion, Region 1

Chaplain Roy A. Clark, 4th Battalion, Region 1

Chaplain W. L. Cook, 5th Battalion, Region 2

Chaplain Jos. F. Allard, 6th Battalion, Region 2

Promoted to the rank of Captain and retained as Maine State Guard Reserve chaplains:

Chaplain P. J. Barrett, Augusta, Maine

Chaplain Geo. G. Chiera, Wiscasset, Maine

Chaplain A. G. Davis, Portland, Maine

As of 1 December 1944 Chaplain P. J. Barrett MSGR resigned his commission in order to accept a chaplaincy in the Army of the United States, leaving a total Maine State Guard Reserve chaplain personnel of two. At the request of the Chief of Chaplains, and in order to consolidate the corps, the Adjutant General (8 February 1945, SO 18) transferred the two remaining State Guard Reserve chaplains to the Maine State Guard in rank and with the following assignments:

Chaplain A. G. Davis, Portland, Maine, assigned to special duty with the office of the Chief of Chaplains; Chaplain George G. Chiera, Wiscasset, Maine assigned to Headquarters Staff, 3rd Battalion.

By GO No. 18, 6 December 1944, the Chief of Chaplains was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, and the assistant Chief of Chaplains to the rank of Major, effective 1 January 1945.

As of 21 March 1945, GO No. 9, Rabbi David Berent of Lewiston, Maine, Veterans Administration Chaplain at Togus, was appointed Jewish chaplain-at-large for entire Maine State Guard.

Having applied for a chaplaincy in the Army of the United States, Chaplain D. H. E. Fox, Battalion No. 1, resigned his commission as of 31 May 1945, announced in SO 75, 4 June 1945. By the same special order No. 75 Chaplain A. G. Davis, Portland, Maine, was transferred from his previous assignment to the Office of the Chief of Chaplains to Staff, 1st Battalion, Maine State Guard, as of 1 June 1945.

The present strength of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps is now fixed, therefore, at ten all told:

Maine State Guard Regulations for Chaplains

By order of the Adjutant General, Maine State Guard chaplains, including State Staff and Battalion chaplains, are governed by the general provisions set forth in AR 60-5. As adapted to the Maine State Guard in its present set-up, the following general provisions are now in force:

Chief of Chaplains

The Chief of Chaplains coordinates and supervises all religious work within the State Guard; and, from time to time, he makes recommendations to the Adjutant General for such action as he deems advisable and necessary for the promotion of the moral and spiritual welfare of the entire State Guard personnel.

He recommended to the Adjutant General the appointment and assignment of chaplains and such replacements as may be necessary for the good of the service.

He suggests to the Adjutant General the necessary equipment and supplies required for the chaplain's work.

He maintains correspondence with the chaplains in matter related to their professional activities as ministers of religion assigned to duty with State Guard troops.

He prepared circular letters to all chaplains having to do with their religious, moral or other work, which after his approval, are distributed to the chaplain personnel by the Adjutant General.

He promotes cooperation between the chaplains of the Maine State Guard and civil religious organizations, for the mutual advantage of both.

He keeps official records which include:

- A file of correspondence originating in or referring to his office;
- A document file for such correspondence and other matters as pertain to the study, research, and development of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps;

- A record of personnel—a carefully edited account of the chaplains' work, including efficiency reports made by their staff and battalion commanders as regards their activities.

Assistant Chief of Chaplains

Responsibility to the Adjutant General for the efficient performance of the administrative and supervisory duties hereinbefore described is shared by the Assistant Chief of Chaplains, who, in the exercises of his office, has and exercises the authority of the Chief of Chaplains as his Deputy Chief.

Battalion Chaplains

By virtue of his commission and assignment, the Battalion Chaplain is a member of the staff of his Battalion Commander.

As such he has the following duties:

- to advise the Battalion Commander and his staff in all that pertains to the religious and moral activities of the command;
- to supervise and contribute to the spiritual welfare of the command to which he is attached as Battalion Chaplain;
- to act as liaison officer between the Battalion Commander and civil religious and welfare groups;
- all of which duties are to be performed with the knowledge and consent of the Battalion Commander.

General Duties

The general duties of all Maine State Guard chaplains are chiefly four—Military, Religious, Pastoral, Communal.

Military

As members of the State Guard Staff, the Chief of Chaplains and the Assistant Chief of Chaplains are directly responsible to the Adjutant General, through the Assistant Adjutant General, for the proper performance of their several duties. The Battalions' Chaplains are directly responsible to their Battalion Commanders and, through them, to the Adjutant General.

While these commanding officers do not intrude upon the ecclesiastical functions of the chaplains performed in their own right as ministers of religion, they are invariably consulted beforehand as regards the chaplains' programs of "spiritual instruction, schedules of religious services, and pastoral ministrations" (TM 16-205). And since the State Staff, Regional and Battalion commanders are themselves responsible for the efficient discharge of these spiritual functions in and for their commands, they are always informed of their chaplains' activities before they are undertaken, and authorize and supervise all that the chaplains do.

The strictly military duties of the Maine State Guard chaplains include also this deference to their several commanding officers: attendance as staff officers, when invited to do so, at all military formations, functions, CPXs, maneuvers, public ceremonies, patriotic celebrations, and other such affairs of military importance; visiting the several units of their battalion commands regularly; and, as occasion and opportunity may offer, interviewing, indoctrinating and instilling new recruits and candidates for enlistment in the Maine State Guard, and acquainting them with the ethical and social aspects of military life and their responsibility to their organizations, the State, and the Nation.

Religious

The Maine State Guard chaplains arrange for denominations, interdenominational, and general religious services, as occasion requires, making use of the State armories as "Post churches", holding field services at maneuvers and CPXs, enlisting the interest and cooperation of the local churches and clergy.

Attendance at all religious services is by invitation and never by compulsion of any kind, whether of personal appeal or official directive.

Pastoral

Convinced that they owe this important duty to the Nation, the State and the several organizations and communities they serve as commissioned officers of the State's military establishment and ministers of religion, the Maine State Guard chaplains, notwithstanding their religious differences, regard the entire personnel of their commands as their military parishioners. They strive to be to all, without distinction, their spiritual fathers, leaders, guides, confidants, and directors, and have their every interest at heart, whatever their religious affiliation.

The chaplains are, moreover, interviewing the men leaving their neighborhoods for the armed service of the nation, and are carefully shepherding and instructing all those, who for whatever reason are leaving the service are returning to the quieter ways of civilian life on "the duties of the true citizen and whatever else may be an aid toward their re-orientation in civilian life".

Communal

This is also a part of the Maine State Guard chaplains' duty: "the establishment of amicable and mutually advantageous relations between the military personnel and local communities". And this includes the sponsoring and support of social programs, not only for State Guard personnel but also for soldiers and sailors and marines and men of the maritime and merchant-marine services on furlough and leave, and the inspiration and direction of the youth of the State as they are inducted into the armed services of the Nation.

CHAPLAINS' REPORTS

Chaplain John F. Conoley, Chief of Chaplains:

Maneuvers participated in by all State Guard and Reserve units of Battalions Nos. 1 and 3, Region 1, were held at Camp Keyes last 12-13 August 1944. Chaplain Fox (1st Bn.) and Chaplain Dole (3rd Bn.) conducted a general religious service, and Chaplain Barrett (Staff) said Mass for the Roman Catholic personnel.

State Guard and Reserve units of Battalions Nos. 2 and 4, Region 1, participated in like field maneuvers held at Camp Keyes last 19-20 August 1944. Chaplains Colby (2d Bn.) and Clark (4th Bn.) were present and conducted a joint religious service; and Chaplain Barrett (Staff) had a "field service" for Roman Catholic personnel present.

Like maneuvers for Battalions Nos. 5 and 6, Region 2, were held at Air Port City, Houlton Air Base, Houlton, Maine, last 9-10 September. Chaplain Allard (6th Bn.) arranged for both Protestant and Roman Catholic religious services, which were well attended.

The Chief of Chaplains, the Assistant Chief of Chaplains, and Chaplain A. G. Davis of Portland, Maine, attended the CPX (Regions 1 and 2) held at Lewiston Armory, Lewiston, Maine, last 3-4 February 1945. Two religious services were held in a "post church" set up for the occasion in the lower assembly hall—one for the Roman Catholic personnel at 0600, and a general religious service for the entire Protestant personnel at 0730. These services were well attended by both commissioned and enlisted personnel and appreciated by all concerned.

Week-end maneuvers scheduled for 12-13 May at Air Port City, Houlton, Battalions Nos. 5 and 6, Region 2, were postponed until June, due to an unseasonable and heavy snowstorm. But a program of religious services had been prepared by Chaplains Cook (5th Bn.) and Chaplain Allard (6th Bn.) afterwards carried out at Blue Hill (June 9-10) and Houlton (June 23-24).

Battalions Nos. 1 and 3, Region 1, held week-end maneuvers at Camp Keyes, 19-20 May 1945. The Chief of Chaplains and Chaplain Louis A. Dole (Bn. No. 3) were present and conducted religious services for the Protestant and Roman Catholic personnel. Battalions Nos. 2 and 4 were assembled at Camp Keyes for maneuvers over the week-end of 26-27 May. In the absence of other chaplains, the Chief of Chaplains took over this duty and provided religious services for both Protestant and Roman Catholic personnel.

At the request of Colonel William E. Southard, Commanding Officer, Region 2, this office assigned Chaplain Allard (6th Bn.) to duty during the week-end of 9-10 June with the 5th Battalion at Blue Hill. He provided a religious service for Roman Catholic personnel, and in the absence of Chaplain Walter L. Cook, (5th Bn.) arranged with a local civilian clergyman for a general Protestant service. Both services were well attended.

The entire personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps have had ample opportunity for active duty in connection with each of these maneuvers and CPXs, and those who were able to attend these several exercises profited much by their experience of field duty with troops and the occasion offered them for intimate and helpful contacts with the officers and men of their own and other units and commands.

Chaplain Tom G. Akeley, Assistant Chief of Chaplains:

"For another year, Maine's Assistant to the Chief of Chaplains has been carrying on. The frequent chances to do small and apparently unimportant personal things has been his greatest privilege. Maneuvers in the sweltering heat of summer, and attendance at CPX sessions in the shivery times of winter are among our regulation duties.

"The Veterans' Hospital offers special chances to see returning veterans and give a hand at encouraging these men whose mental and spiritual vitality has often slipped as low as their physical strength. Their courage and good cheer can only be matched by that of the young and old of our State Guard members who do our work in addition to their regular jobs.

"An enthusiastic and devoted 'God bless you all'".

The Chief of Chaplains takes this occasion to cite the Assistant Chief of Chaplains for his untiring zeal and loyal cooperation in the work of administration and supervision of the Chaplain Corps, and the unselfish and generous use of his time and energy in all that contributes to the foundation and maintenance of a healthy esprit de corps and his conscientious efforts to bring the religious program of the Maine State Guard vividly to their notice and to assure their full participation therein.

Chaplain D. H. E. Fox, 1st Bn. MSG (Resigned 31 May 1945)

"I have attended an average of four weekly drills monthly in Sanford and three monthly elsewhere in the Battalion, making brief addresses on these occasions . . . I have held four religious services . . . had one funeral, preached three sermons (to military personnel) . . . held two Military Masses in my parish church; have given special spiritual counsel to individual men, and have taken part in weekend maneuvers at Camp Keyes . . . I have entertained at the Rectory the entire Company C of Sanford and groups of men from the Company after drills . . . I have represented the Chaplains Corps at a Rotary luncheon in Sanford, where I was the guest speaker . . . I gave three addresses on Memorial Day, and took part in parades on Columbus Day and Armistice Day."

With the resignation of Chaplain Fox, the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps lost one of its most competent, zealous, and active members. This office here cites Chaplain Fox for his untiring zeal in all that concerns the spiritual welfare of his command, his energetic preaching and personal ministry of his military flock, and his devoted regularity in visiting the several units of the Battalion assigned to his spiritual charge and care.

Chaplain Alfred G. Davis, 1st Bn. MSG (appointed 1 June 1945)

"Through the early months of this year, 1945, I found myself with very little to do as a State Guard chaplain. Nevertheless, as assistant to the Chief of Chaplains I was always ready at the call of duty and was much gratified to be called to conduct Divine Services at Lewiston Armory for the CPX of 3-4 February 1945. A goodly number of officers and men attended my service, enjoyed to the profit of all present, and, we hope, to the glory of God.

"On presenting myself at the Stevens Avenue Armory in Portland, I was received by officers and men, from the Colonel commanding to the last private in the ranks, with utmost kindness and the invitation to come often; and I have succeeded in getting to know the personnel at this post well.

"Since my appointment to succeed Chaplain Fox, resigned as Chaplain of 1st Battalion, I have been continually busy, visiting Headquarters, Sanford, Scarborough, Westbrook and Yarmouth; also made six hospital calls, and stood the Federal inspection at Headquarters 9 July, where I received the colors and the chaplains' flag into my charge and keeping.

"I also took part in the Flag Day parade held in Portland, in which the State Guard took part; and my last activity in public was to give the address at the dedication of the honor roll of the boys and girls who have gone from East Deering into the armed service of the nation."

Chaplain Rensel W. Colby, 2nd Bn., South Paris, Maine

"During the year it has been my privilege to visit with each unit of the Battalion at least once and speak to the officers and men. Several of the units I have visited a number of times. I have also attended a number of staff meetings with Colonel Emery and his staff and have been of some assistance in the change-over of some of the Reserve companies to State Guard companies.

"With other officers of the State Guard, I have assisted at the dedication of three community Honor Rolls—South Paris, Norway, and Bryant Pond and was the speaker at the dedication of a stand of flags in the Norway Church. I was also the Memorial Day speaker at Bryant Pond.

"As a (State Guard) chaplain, I have officiated at the funerals of three service men and one ex-service man, being assisted by representatives of the American Legion in three cases and by the Norway and South Paris companies, MSG, in the other.

"I have officiated, with the assistance of American Legionnaires, at memorial services for three men who have lost their lives in this war. And I have officiated at the wedding of four service men and one State Guardsman during the year.

"Other duties have included the arrangement of V-E Day services in the district—South Paris, Norway, West Paris, Bethel—which were attended by State Guard units. At two of these services I spoke.

"Once a month, at least, I am present to give 'God-Speed' to the groups of inductees as they leave this induction center.

"Beside this I have written a number of articles for the local papers in the interest of enlistment in the State Guard.

"I attended the week-end encampment of the 2nd and 4th Battalions, MSG, last 26-27 August and, with Chaplain Clark of the 4th Battalion, conducted Protestant religious service on Sunday morning."

Chaplain Louis A. Dole, 3rd Bn., MSG, Bath, Maine

"Since 1 January 1945 I have attended twenty-six weekly drills, visiting the units at Unity, Waterville, Augusta, Gardiner, Bath and Wiscasset. I have received a cordial welcome at all the companies, and the talks on religious subjects seem to be appreciated. To my mind, one of the great uses of the chaplain's work is the opportunity to reach a large number of young boys before they enter the service.

"In addition to attendance at drills, I attended the Officers' School in the State Armory in Lewiston as a guest, and on 10 May the Federal Inspection of Companies B and E, 3rd Battalion, at the State Armory in Bath.

"On 8 May a V-E Day service was conducted at the State Armory in Bath. On 27 May companies B and E, 3rd Battalion, were invited to a Memorial service at my church in Bath.

"During the winter months I conducted some classes in wrestling at the high school gymnasium. On account of inconvenient hours, with other duties, this work was limited."

Chaplain Roy A. Clark, 4th Bn., Phillips, Maine

According to his reports, Chaplain Clark has hung up a record of 108 regular drills and formations attended since last May 1944 to date, including Memorial Day Services, dedications of service flags, special Prayer Services for D-Day, etc., and attendance at State Guard maneuvers at Camp Keyes 19-20 August 1944.

As of 17 July 1945, Chaplain Clark reports: "I have attended 7 Federal Inspections in the Battalion, and was present at the same inspections at Augusta and Bangor as an invited guest. I took part in special V-E Day services in the American Legion building and attended special Memorial Day services held there (in Farmington). I also took part in Memorial Day services held in the Community Building, Phillips, Maine.

"Am now in the midst of visiting the companies of the Battalion with Colonel Hunt, Captain Masterman and Sergeant Foster, for the formal Guard inspection. I am still following the plan I did at the beginning of speaking as occasion offers, at other times filling in where I can be of the most use . . . sometimes I help drill a platoon in close order drill (Chaplain Clark is a veteran of World War I), give a talk on military courtesy and customs, or read the articles of war.

"I am still enjoying the work as much as I did at the beginning, and am looking forward to seeing many of the boys and chaplains at Camp Keyes."

Chaplain Walter L. Cook, 5th Bn., Calais, Maine

"As chaplain I have attended many weekly drills of Company D of the 5th Bn., MSG. I have made it a practice, whenever possible to contact men leaving the Guard for service in the armed forces. These men have been presented with Testaments and later remembered by letters.

"During the summer of 1944 I was privileged to listen to several lectures on the returning service man given by a chaplain from Washington, D. C. Although the practical application of the principles he laid down is problematical, I did gain a new appreciation of the psychological and physical handicaps of the returning man. The course also gave me a clearer vision of the problems of the younger man now in the Guard, who will soon leave us for more active service."

Chaplain Joseph F. Allard, 6th Bn., Caribou, Maine

"I have visited each of the seven companies in my Battalion at least twice during the period extending between May and December 1944, covering the State from Millinocket to Fort Kent, a total mileage of some 3000 to 4000 miles. I attended the CPX at Air Port City, Houlton, providing spiritual exercises for the officers and men. I also planned—and carried out the plan—for a Military Mass at Caribou, attended by the Maine State Guard, the American Legion, and a detachment from the Presque Isle Air Base, 28 May. There was also an hour of Prayer For Peace conducted for the same units on the last Sunday of October 1944.

"I have also substituted for the Army chaplains at Presque Isle as often as they had need of my services, on an average of once each month, conducting Holy Hour devotions, saying Mass for the RC personnel, helping the Base Chaplain in investigations when he was busy with other work.

"On V-E Day, since there were no other community plans for such services, I invited the school children of Caribou to attend church in a body, and prayers were offered in thanksgiving. In the evening the same services were held for adults.

"I have attended two weekend maneuvers—June 9-10 at Blue Hill with the 5th Battalion, and on June 23-24 at Houlton with the 6th Battalion. This last was postponed from May 9-10, when an unseasonable snowstorm blocked all traffic south of Houlton."

Chaplain George G. Chiera, Attached to 3rd Bn., Wiscasset, Maine

"I have been giving all my time lately to our local troop and am doing all I can to help them. Since last May we have had two great services which the Guard attended in a body, one on Memorial Day and the other on Armistice Day. On D-Day we had a service of intercession and prayer and many of the boys were in attendance.

"I visit regularly any of the boys who should happen to be sick at home or in the hospital. I also keep in touch with the boys who have "joined" and are waiting to become of age. As you perhaps already know, I print a little paper which I mail to all the boys who have gone into the armed forces, from this town. Last month, I mailed about one hundred and fifty copies. We mail them all over the world, and many of them we send by airmail so they will reach them a little sooner. We received letters from the boys in return and it is part of my duty to answer them and very often to contact their parents.

"In our local Armory we have occasional parties and, from time to time, motion pictures of the war. I am trying my best to discharge my duties, and wish at times that my duties were greater and would demand even more of my time.

"I have little to report to you at this time as things here in Wiscasset are rolling along routine lines. Nothing exceptional has taken place. But the thing which I would like to mention is the faithfulness our boys are showing in the discharge of their duties. They have been very faithful in their attendance at the weekly drills and have been as willing to help whenever their help was needed.

"We have lost a few of our very best soldiers to the Army, but we hope to enlist a few more of the returned boys.

"Since my last report to you, Sir, two Memorial Services were held for two of our boys who have made the supreme sacrifice on the altar of their country. Your chaplain was in attendance together with a goodly number of the Guard. Their presence at these services was greatly appreciated by both their relatives and the townspeople.

"We are holding our own and look forward to greater achievements in the future."

Chaplain David Berent, Staff, Lewiston, Maine

"I regret that my activities as a chaplain in the Maine State Guard have been very limited. However, I have been serving the regular DVAS at Togus (Regular Army Detachment) and have visited there at least once every week.

"I have made an effort to solve some of the problems of these men, making personal contacts with their families, telephone calls, letters, etc. Services, in which I helped some of the men (three) in domestic disturbances all successfully are conducted each week.

"Since being appointed to a chaplaincy in the Maine State Guard, I have spoken (in that capacity) at three American Legion meetings in Lewiston; once at the Lions' Club, Lewiston; once at Kiwanis, Lewiston; once to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Bangor; twice to the Community Center, Portland; V-E Day Service, Lewiston Synagogue; Portland Chamber of Commerce; Portland, YMCA. Several radio addresses were given over station WCOU, Lewiston, Maine."

SUMMARY

The content and tenor of this report clearly indicate, or so we think, the fact that the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps is composed of a body of clergymen, representative of the several Christian denominations and Jewry, worthy beyond any possible question of their commissions as officers of the State's military establishment and as representative of their Churches and the Synagogue. Their annual report to the Chief of Chaplains make this plain: that without pre-conceived notions, prejudice or discrimination of any kind, they have all found and made common cause in any and every good work done for the glory of God and the welfare of souls as the spiritual fathers, leaders, guides and directors of the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard: "to provide the facilities of public worship to the (State) military personnel"; "to give spiritual ministrations, moral counsel, and religious guidance, to those under (State) military jurisdiction"; "to be the exponents, in the (State) military establishments, of the religious motive as an incentive to right thinking and acting"; "to promote character building and contentment . . . by precept and example, and thus add greater efficiency to those engaged (on the home front) in the military defense of the country" . . . (TM 16-205, Page 6, Section II, Par. 12).

And it is the opinion of this office that by his creation and maintenance of a competent Chaplain Corps for the Maine State Guard, General Carter, The Adjutant General of Maine, ably seconded and supported in this stance by Colonel Hart, The Assistant Adjutant General, has made an effective and far-reaching contribution toward the permanent establishment in our midst of a powerful agency for mutual understanding, tolerance and unity, the ultimate beneficial results of which are presently incalculable.

The success to date of the work of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps is due, therefore, not only to the enthusiasm and devotion of the Maine State Guard chaplains individually and as a group, but also and principally to the interest taken in their appointments, formation, assignments and work by the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General of Maine. They have done their best to pick and choose among many candidates the best available chaplains; they have offered the chaplains commissioned to date every possible opportunity for training by conferences, by actual field experience with troops, CPXs, maneuvers, etc.; by contacts maintained by State expense with State Guard Chaplains in the other several New England States; making every possible effort to assist the chaplains in the discharge of their duties by the uniformly generous support to their authority, cooperation and appreciation.

It should be noted, moreover, that the Regional and Battalion Commanders of the Maine State Guard have closely followed the lead of the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General in their appreciation and use of the chaplains accredited to their commands, and have lent the weight of their authority and all possible assistance to their chaplains' every approved and authorized activity.

This report would be incomplete without mention of the fact that the State Guard chaplains groups in Maine and throughout New England have had the approval, the appreciation, and the whole-hearted support of Major General Sherman Miles, Commanding General of the First Service Command. He has urged the formation of State Guard chaplains groups in the several New England States; with his knowledge and consent the New England State Guard chaplains have been invited by the First Service Command Chaplain, Col. Walter J. Donoghue, to attend the conference of Army chaplains held at 808 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass.; he sponsored the State Guard Chaplains School held at Harvard University in April 1943; and, when the New England State Guard Chaplains' Association was founded and organized with his approval, General Miles thus expressed his interest in and appreciation of the State Guard Chaplain group in a letter to the Chairman of the Association:

"In my opinion, a strong (State Guard) Chaplain Corps can render invaluable service to the Nation and the State through its guidance of the citizen soldiers of the Guard."

This same interest in the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps has been shown by Colonel Charles L. Stephenson, State Guard Instructor of the Maine State Guard, and by Lieutenant Colonel Ross Whistler, General Staff Corps, Chief, State Guard Training Branch, First Service Command, for whose interest in their activities the Maine State Guard chaplains corps is most grateful.

With such authorization, approval, appreciation and support, the Maine State Guard Chaplains Corps now enters upon the fourth year of its existence and activity, more than ever aware of the chaplains' collective and individual responsibility for the promotion of the mental and spiritual welfare and contentment of the entire personnel of the State's military establishment.

Maine State Guard

ANNUAL REPORT OF STATE PROPERTY OFFICER

Under the provisions of paragraph 1b, General Order #17, dated 13 November 1944, the undersigned assumed the duties of State Property Officer, this office being held previously by Lt. Col. George T. Marchildon.

After surveying all conditions of storage and distribution of State and Federal property, and the availability of personnel, it was indicated that it would be impossible to follow the procedure of having a complete inventory taken of the property on hand at the State Arsenal and in the hands of the units prior to signing for the property. As a result of this survey it was determined that a spot inventory of several items be made and that I would sign for the property as indicated on the stock record accounts of my predecessor. A copy of the balances on the State of Maine record account and the stock record account covering federal property loaned to the State of Maine for military purposes as of 11 December 1944 is attached. Items followed by an asterisk indicates articles actually inventoried.

An audit of the federal property loaned the State of Maine was accomplished on 7 November 1944 by Mr. R. L. Landers, Property Auditor, First Service Command, at which time a certificate of audit was issued showing no shortages. This certificate of audit is on file in the stock record accounts of the State Property Officer. The shortage of personnel to properly segregate and store supplies on hand at the State Arsenal; the wide distribution of the property on hand in the forty-five units in the Maine State Guard; and the rapid movement of this property has precluded a property audit by a representative of the State Auditor's Office.

The Federal stock record account had not been transferred to the new accounting system of federal property as prescribed in Army Service Forces Manual M-403, dated 1 September 1943. The necessary forms have been procured and the federal property accounts are now kept as prescribed in the above manual. A conference was held with the State Auditor to find out what procedures would meet with his requirements. The federal procedure was outlined to him and he agreed that a system similar to that prescribed for federal property would meet his requirements. As a result of this a stock record account of state property similar to that used in federal property accounting is now in the process of installation.

As time permitted an inventory of property in the hands of the several units was instituted for the purpose of determining by actual physical inventory the exact status of the federal and state property. At the date of this report there still remain all units of the First, Second, Third Battalions and most of the units of the Fourth Battalion to be inventoried. Again a shortage of personnel has prevented the rapid completion of a complete inventory of all State and Federal military property. It is hoped that this work can be completed before the end of the present calendar year.

In addition to the appointment as State Property Officer for the military department I was appointed State Property Officer for Civilian Defense of Maine, on 24 November 1944, succeeding Mr. George O. Griffin. This appointment was made to meet the desires of the Governor to consolidate similar duties and for the purpose of reducing the expenses of the Civilian Defense pending closing out of the property responsibilities.

As a result of the successful conclusion of military operations in Europe more federal property has been made available for use of the Maine State Guard. Also because of Lease-Lend activities all property loaned to the State and known as CCC excess property has been withdrawn and returned to the federal government.

The redistribution of troops from the European theatre of operations to the Pacific theatre of operations caused the federal government to withdraw all cotton clothing not actually issued to an individual of the State Guard. Fortunately, the cotton season had arrived prior to receipt of this order and all members of the State Guard had been issued one complete cotton uniform. This withdrawal of cottons, however, will effect the State Guard adversely during the coming summer encampments if there is much change in personnel, as cotton uniforms will not be available for the new members. Steps have been taken, however, to promptly return to this arsenal all articles of cotton uniform clothing from the several organizations so that it may be made available to these new members and it is hoped that no serious shortages will result.

In your letter of 22 June 1945 you ask for a statement covering both federal and state property on hand at the State Arsenal or issued to the various units of the Maine State Guard. It is hoped that I may be excused from rendering this report inasmuch as the rapid movement of the property would make this report valueless within twenty-four hours after it had been submitted. The status of the state property is substantially that as mentioned in the transfer with the only additions being the purchase of uniforms and insignia for the purpose of equipping the several new officers of the Maine State Guard. Each officer and man of the State Guard is now equipped with the following clothing: 1 each cap, shirt, coat, trousers, woolen; 1 each cap, shirt, trousers, cotton; with the necessary arms and accouterment.

A review of the property inventories taken to-date indicates that in all probability there will be a substantial shortage. This property shortage covers an accumulation over a period of years. It is believed that these shortages occurred mainly because of the manner in which the property, in many instances, was permitted to be retained in the hands of the members of the Maine State Guard at their homes. There are numerous instances where it had been assumed that the property was in the hands of an individual, or that it had been turned in without an adequate record being kept of the transaction. Adequate lockers were not provided in a great many cases which made it necessary for the individual to keep his clothing at home in accordance with recommendations of the First Service Command pertaining to the mission of the State Guard. These recommendations, outlined in letter, Headquarters First Service Command, dated 18 September 1942, are quoted as follows:

"2. f. It is particularly desirable that State Guard weapons, ammunition and uniforms be readily available so that no time will be lost in the accomplishment of the particular mission. It is believed that in rural districts the weapons, ammunition and uniforms should be kept by the individuals, while in urban districts they should be assembled in various locations which should be in the immediate vicinity of the personnel using the weapons, etc."

This memorandum was rescinded 16 March 1945, as the particular emergency regarding which this recommendation was made, appeared no longer imminent, and it was recognized that the condition jeopardized adequate safeguarding of the property against loss or theft. Numerous other conditions prevailed whereby an individual was suddenly called into service and left his property at home, later to be recovered. This left the return of the property to persons who had no definite knowledge of its status.

Most of these losses as to the individual item were minor, however, the accumulation of all units and the number of years involved indicates a substantial shortage. The property in most instances has been properly charged out to the unit, but owing to the rapid change of personnel and the absence of a transfer from one responsible officer to another, it is practically impossible to hold any one individual responsible. In the main, most of the personnel have been very conscientious in the handling and safeguarding of the property. However, these losses must be considered with a view toward future state legislation to relieve all personnel concerned of responsibility. A list of these losses is being prepared and should be ready before the next legislative assembly.

As rapidly as possible all property which the state has purchased is being segregated from that loaned by the federal government for military purposes, and a recommendation will be made toward the future disposal of this property.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your cooperation in the handling of the affairs for which I am responsible.

General Orders?
No. 165

(G. O. 16)
STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 23 October 1944

1. This department with great sorrow announces the death of LIEUTENANT COLONEL ELSON A. HOSFORD of Houlton—distinguished soldier and citizen at the Veterans' Administration Facility at Togus, Maine on Thursday 19 October 1944.

Lieutenant Colonel Hosford had been ill for many years. Only a short time before his death had his condition become critical. He entered the hospital at Togus ten days before his passing.

Lieutenant Colonel Hosford had devoted the better part of a very busy life to the military affairs of his native State and the Nation. He served with distinction in the National Guard of Maine and in the Army of the United States during World War I.

Funeral services for this patriotic citizen were held at the Dunn Funeral Parlor in Houlton on Saturday afternoon 21 October 1944. This department and the Maine State Guard were represented by Brigadier General George M. Carter, The Adjutant General; Lieutenant Colonel William E. Southard of Bangor, Commanding Officer of Region 2, Maine State Guard and Major William A. McDonald of Bangor, Commanding Officer, 5th Battalion, Maine State Guard. Full military honors were accorded by a detachment from Headquarters Company, 6th Battalion, Maine State Guard of Houlton. Complete arrangements for the funeral were under the direction of Major Algernon E. Holden of Houlton, Commanding Officer, 6th Battalion, Maine State Guard of Houlton. Representatives from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars also participated in the services.

A most fitting and sympathetic eulogy on the life and achievements of Lieutenant Colonel Hosford was given by Roy M. Hayes, Principal of Ricker Classical Institute of Houlton, who had been a life-long friend of the deceased.

The military record of Lieutenant Colonel Hosford is as follows:

National Guard Service—

Enlisted in Company L, Second Maine Infantry, April 10, 1898 for three years. Promoted Corporal March 15, 1900. Honorably discharged for expiration term of service April 9, 1901. Reenlisted April 10, 1901, April 10, 1904. Promoted Sergeant May 29, 1901. Reduced to Private June 28, 1902. Appointed First Sergeant May 21, 1903.

Commissioned Second Lieutenant, Second Infantry, National Guard of the State of Maine March 6, 1906, to rank from December 12, 1905; date of qualification April 14, 1906. Commissioned Captain June 1, 1909, to rank from May 18, 1909; date of qualification June 2, 1909.

Federal Service—

Mexican-Border, Captain, Commanding Office, Company L, Second Maine Infantry, June 19, 1916 to October 25, 1916.

Reported for Federal service—World War I, April 13, 1917 as Captain from the Maine National Guard.

Major, August 17, 1918.

Honorably discharged from Casual Officers' Detachment at Camp Dix, New Jersey, January 25, 1919.

Engagements: Aisne-Marne; St. Mihiel; Meuse-Argonne.

General Orders?
No. 185

1. During the past few months The Adjutant General has been making a thorough and exhaustive inquiry relative to the organization of State Guard Troops in other states. It has been found that, while the tables of organization as formulated by the respective states, provide for personnel far less than the war strength of an infantry battalion as set forth for the Army of the United States and the United States Army, there are many states that follow the Federal tables of organization in so far as the battalion staffs are concerned. It is evident, too, in the State of Maine, that, while battalions numerically may not equal the Federal forces, from an organizational point of view they have more units. It has, therefore, been decided that increased rank should be given State Staff, Battalion and Region Commanding and Executive officers.

2. All previous tables of organization as pertain to the officers noted above are hereby rescinded and new tables adopted as follows:

Region Commanders to be full Colonels

Battalion and State Guard Staff officers to be Lieutenant Colonels

3. The following promotions of State Guard Officers are therefore announced:
Effective 12 November 1944:

To be LIEUTENANT COLONEL:

Major GEORGE T. MARCHILDON, Ordnance Department Augusta
Effective 1 January 1945:

To be COLONELS:

5. Every effort will be made by Commanding Officers to secure the largest possible attendance of personnel.

6. Unless notified to the contrary, the Federal inspector will arrive on the date scheduled in time to inspect the property and records by daylight. The Commanding Officer of the unit to be inspected or a commissioned officer designated by him will be present at the armory on the afternoon of the date scheduled for inspection.

7. In those cases where the date of inspection is not the same as that of the regular drill, the assembly date will be changed to conform with the Federal inspection date as given in Par. 1 above.

8. The inspection by the Federal inspector will be a formal unit inspection and unless otherwise directed by the inspector will be held at 1930 hours. Uniform, unless changed by subsequent orders from this Headquarters will be: Shirts, wool, OD, (without neckties), trousers, leggings, russet shoes, garrison cap, rifle, cartridge belt, bayonet, scabbard and rifle, substituting pistol and holster for those not armed with the rifle. All other individual equipment will be inspected during the afternoon inspection.

General Orders?
No. 35Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 6 February 1945CHANGE OF STATUS—STATE GUARD AND STATE GUARD RESERVE COMPANIES*SECTION I

1. Because of lack of interest and inability to maintain strength due to various contributory causes, Company E, 2d Battalion, Maine State Guard, is hereby ordered disbanded and mustered out of service, effective 28 February 1945.

2. The Commanding Officer, Company E, 2d Bn., MSG, will turn in to the State Property Officer at such time as he and the State Property Officer may mutually agree all State and Federal property that has been issued to this organization.

3. The following changes in status of the commissioned officers of Company E, 2d Bn., MSG, are hereby authorized:

- a. Captain Walter S. Chase will stand relieved of the command of Company E, 2d Bn., MSG, at such time as the transfer of property has been completed and the State Property officer has certified that the Commanding Officer, is relieved of property accountability. He will then be transferred to the inactive list, Maine State Guard, pending further assignment.
- b. 1st Lt. Fred G. Chase is ordered transferred to the inactive list, Maine State Guard, effective 28 February 1945, pending further assignment.
- c. 2d Lt. Gerald L. Saunders is assigned to Company D, 2d Bn., MSG, for training.

4. Lt. Saunders is hereby directed to canvass the enlisted personnel of Company E, 2d Bn., MSG, as it now exists, and ascertain which members desire to be transferred in grade to Company D, 2d Bn., MSG of Auburn. This canvass will be completed and a full report of the names of those soldiers who desire to be transferred rendered to the Adjutant General not later than 26 February 1945.

- a. All personnel of Company E, 2d Bn., MSG, who do not desire to be transferred to Company D, 2d Bn., MSG, will be honorably discharged. The proper discharge papers will be completed by the Commanding Officer, Company E, 2nd Bn., MSG, and forwarded to the Adjutant General who will issue the necessary Special Orders and sign the face of the Certificate of Discharge. The character of the personnel discharged will be indicated in the proper place in the hand-writing of the commanding officer.

SECTION II

1. To provide a better organization of the 2d Battalion, Maine State Guard, the 6th Company, Maine State Guard Reserve, is hereby ordered disbanded, effective 28 February 1945.

2. The commanding officer, 6th Co., MSGR, will complete the final entry on the enlistment blanks of 6th Co. personnel now held in his files, issue an honorable discharge certificate as of 28 February 1945 to each member of the organization and forward the completed enlistment papers to The Adjutant General, Augusta.

3. The commanding officer will turn in to the State Property Officer at such time as he and the State Property Officer may mutually agree, all State property issued to the 6th Co., MSGR.

4. All personnel of the 6th Co., MSGR, are hereby authorized to enlist in Headquarters Company, 2d Bn., MSG, without further physical examination. The commanding officer, 6th Co., MSGR, is authorized to enter "physical examination waived" in the proper place on the enlistment blank after he has satisfied himself that the soldier concerned has suffered no material change in his physical condition in the preceding six months.

5. The commissioned officers, 6th Co., MSGR, are hereby given the following assignments:

- a. CAPT. VERNER R. SMITH of West Paris is transferred in rank to the Maine State Guard and assigned to the 2d Bn. Staff as Supply and Evacuation Officer (S-4) effective 1 March 1945.
- b. 1st Lt. JOSEPH I. PENLEY of West Paris is transferred in rank to the Maine State Guard and assigned to the 2d Bn. Staff, MSG, as commanding officer, Heavy Weapons Platoon.
- c. 2d Lt. ROY W. BYMENT of West Paris is transferred in rank to the MSG and assigned to the 2d Bn. Medical Section, MSG, as supervisor and instructor in first aid.

STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 7 March 1945

1. From the success that has been met by the Allied Armies in Europe, many people have come to the conclusion that "V Day" on the Western Front cannot long be delayed. Victory over Germany is a certainty; when it will finally come is uncertain. It may be soon; it may be later in the year. It may even be delayed longer than that.

2. Already some communities are planning for celebrations on "V Day". Those making these plans have ignored the fact that victory over Germany is but one step toward final success. Japan must still be defeated and this is a task that all admit will take a long time, even though gratifying results have been achieved in the campaign in the Pacific.

3. Victory over Germany must not be attended by any letting down in the training and strength of the Maine State Guard. This military force has been doing a marvelous job. There is still a lot to do and there will be so long as the National Guard of Maine remains in the Federal service.

4. Victory over Germany should not be a cause for celebration. It should be an occasion of thanksgiving. This spirit has been manifested in many communities. Exercises of thanksgiving will be held in churches and other places of assembly. These will be communal rather than sectarian.

5. Commanding officers of all Maine State Guard units are directed to co-operate in every way possible with efforts of local authorities in holding appropriate exercises on the termination of the war with Germany. Units of the Guard should mobilize at their home armories. They should proceed to the place of public service. They, too, should be ready to assist local authorities should there be disorders due to over-exuberance.

6. But above all officers and men alike of the Maine State Guard should realize that only with the defeat of ALL OF OUR enemies may the global war be said to be over. Until that long-looked for and long-fought for day, the State Guard must carry on. It has manifold duties to perform. All training must be directed to the end that these duties will be satisfactorily, and completely performed.

7. It is anticipated that the Governor will issue a proclamation relative to the observance of "V Day" with certain restrictions and suggestions as to the proper nature of this observance. As soon as this proclamation is published, further orders governing the activities of the State Guard on "V Day" will be promulgated by this headquarters.

Augusta, 28 March 1945

1. It is with deep regret that this department announces the death of LIEUTENANT COLONEL ARTHUR L. THAYER, JAG, RET., former Judge Advocate General of the Maine National Guard. Colonel Thayer died Monday, 26 March 1945, at Thompsonville, Connecticut, at the home of his brother-in-law.

2. Colonel Thayer had long been identified with the civic activities of Bangor where he spent the greater part of his life. Born in Sheldonville, Massachusetts on 5 December 1875, he received his preliminary education in Higgins Classical Institute at Charleston, Maine, graduated from Harvard University and Harvard Law School and practiced law for many years in Bangor.

3. He was appointed sheriff of Penobscot county by Governor Carl E. Milliken after the former sheriff had been removed. He also was for seven years chairman of the Maine Industrial Accident Commission.

4. The military record of Colonel Thayer was as follows:

Maine National Guard—

Enlisted in the Machine Gun Company, 2d Maine Infantry, 13 January 1916; promoted to corporal 12 June 1916 and sergeant 1 July 1916 to 25 August 1916, when he was discharged because of dependent relatives. Appointed Judge Advocate General of the Maine State Staff on 9 October 1917 with the rank of Major and held this position until he was retired because of age on 6 December 1939 with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, Judge Advocate General of the Department, Maine National Guard.

No. 115

1. The Honorable Horace A. Hildreth, Governor of Maine and Commander-in-Chief of all the Military Forces of the State, has designated 6 April 1945 as ARMY DAY.

2. It is the desire of the Chief Executive that the people of Maine on this day "pay full homage to our soldiers by proper observance of this day through the display of our flag".

3. It is also hereby ordered that the National Flag be displayed on all Armories of the State on that day and that all personnel of the Maine State Guard who have facilities for doing so display the Colors at their homes.

4. In addition to this, it is urged that all personnel of the State Guard comply with the following request of the Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

"At the same time let us rededicate ourselves to the task of making certain that we shall not lose the future of our fighting men while they are dying to save our present for us.

"May God protect them and hasten the end of this war and give us courage, strength and wisdom to meet our responsibilities in the same spirit with which our soldiers are meeting their responsibilities on the battlefield."

General Orders?
No. 125

Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 5 April 1945

1. WEEK-END MANEUVERS and SEVEN-DAY ENCAMPMENTS—The following dates for week-end maneuvers and seven-day encampments for the Maine State Guard during the 1945 outdoor training season are hereby announced:

a. Week-End Maneuvers

- (1) 12 and 13 May—6th Battalion, MSG, at Houlton
19 and 20 May—1st and 3d Battalion, MSG, at Augusta
26 and 27 May—2d and 4th Battalions, MSG, at Augusta
Announcement of the dates of the maneuvers for the 5th Battalion, MSG, will be made later.

- (2) The following organizations will furnish adequate details not to exceed 50 per cent of their strength for each of the maneuvers to be held in Augusta:

State Headquarters and Service Company
State Medical Unit

b. Seven-Day Encampments

- (1) 29 July—4 August—Region No. 2 at Camp Keyes, Augusta 12—18 August—Region No. 1 at Augusta
- (2) Each Encampment will be under the control of the Region Commander concerned.

2. PAYMENT—Payment of troops for the maneuvers and encampments will be as follows:

- a. Week-end maneuvers—Two days' base pay for each officer and enlisted man attending.
- b. Seven-day encampments—Seven days' base pay for each officer and enlisted man attending.

3. ATTENDANCE—All Commanding Officers are urged to inform the members of their organizations as to the dates of the week-end maneuvers and seven-day encampments so that vacations may be arranged by the men. The largest possible attendance of personnel is urged.

- a. In order that adequate preparation may be made for quartering and messing the troops, it is imperative that each battalion commander notify The Adjutant General not later than FIFTEEN DAYS PREVIOUS TO THE MANEUVER OR ENCAMPMENT, the number of officers and men from his battalion who will be in attendance.
- b. Region Commanders will furnish the information mentioned in b above relative to their headquarters and headquarters detachments.

4. Since Reserve units are not a regular component of the authorized State Guard, according to War Department regulations, it is not possible to include these organizations in the above-outlined pay maneuvers and encampments. This, however, does not preclude the inclusion of certain units that may become a part of the authorized State Guard strength under current plans.

5. ADVANCE DETAILS—Each battalion will furnish an advance detail consisting of a battalion mess officer and all supply and mess sergeants, cooks, and such additional personnel as may be required for preliminary arrangements. The advance detail will not exceed an average of 12 per battalion.

6. FINAL DETAILS—Additional information dealing with maneuvers and encampments will be issued in subsequent orders and memorandums from this headquarters.

STATE OF MAINE

General Orders
No. 155

Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 12 April 1945

1. Many organizations of the Maine State Guard in some sections of the State are below the authorized strength of personnel. With the increased activities of the Guard as planned for the coming months and the postwar period, it is necessary that these units be brought up to the required strength and that those units which are fortunate enough to have the required personnel be maintained at this high level.

2. In an Official Proclamation issued by the Governor of Maine
The Week of 29 April-May 5, 1945 has been designated as

STATE GUARD RECRUITING WEEK

3. All members of the State Guard and the State Guard Reserve are urged and directed to secure all the enlistments possible.

4. The following suggestions as to the conduct of a regular recruiting campaign are among those that will be helpful:

- a. Suitable posters (if available) placed at convenient locations throughout the community served by a particular unit.
- b. A recruiting office situated in the center of activity that will be kept open in the daytime and evenings.
- c. Window displays featuring the State Guard and cards emphasizing the need for recruits.
- d. Personal solicitation of desirable individuals.
- e. Open house by organizations with an invitation being sent to prospective recruits.
- f. Articles in local newspapers relative to aims, activities and personnel of the State Guard.
- g. Short news items or bulletins over local radio stations whenever possible.

5. In presenting the case of the Maine State Guard to prospective recruits these facts should be emphasized:

- a. That the State Guard is now the only military force in Maine available in case of disaster, disturbance, violence or sabotage.
- b. That the time when the National Guard will return to the State is very uncertain and that it will be many months before any regulations are published as to what will be the composition of the new National Guard.

6. Week-end maneuvers and a regular seven-day camp in the field are planned for this summer. State Guardsmen will be paid the base pay of their rank or grade when attending these exercises.

7. This headquarters urges that the most energetic efforts be made to secure at least 300 recruits. This is an average of less than seven to a company.

8. Region and Battalion commanders are authorized and directed to issue such orders and adopt such plans as will best co-ordinate the efforts of their subordinate units and insure the success of the campaign.

MEMORIAL DAY

1. Memorial Day, 1945, will have a greater significance than ever before in the history of this country.

2. The War in Europe is practically ended. The War in the Orient has yet to be won. The greatest efforts possible are needed to bring the global conflict to a speedy and successful conclusion. This can only be done by the combined efforts of the United States and our allied powers.

3. Tyranny must be swept from the earth. No victory can be partial; it must be complete. There must be no situation left that will make possible another and even worse war than that now being concluded.

4. But while all thoughts and energies are directed to the successful consummation of our efforts for nearly five years, the terrific toll of the war to date must not be forgotten. Thousands of American youth have given their lives. Thousands of others have been maimed for life. Their sacrifices must not have been in vain.

5. In accordance with a custom that has existed for many years, it is ordered that the National Flag be flown at half-mast on all armories of the State from sunrise to midday Wednesday 30 May 1945. At noon, the colors will be hoisted to the top of the staff and there remain until retreat or sunset.

6. This department urges that every member of the military establishment of the State of Maine observe Memorial Day, 1945, with the deep solemnity that it deserves. Members of the State, State Guard, Regional and Battalion Staffs and commanding officers of all organizations are hereby authorized to offer their services to local patriotic and other organizations that the observance of the day may be fitting.

7. While our thoughts truly are always on those who have paid the supreme sacrifice for their country, Memorial Day—the Day of Memories—brings to mind more poignantly these sacrifices—sacrifices that have been made not only in this war, but in all wars in which this country has been engaged. Let us honor their memory. Let us, too, rededicate our lives to the completion of the great task that lies before us, to the establishment of a real freedom for all liberty-loving peoples and to the consummation of a peace that will be just and enduring.

OF

For the Year Ending June 30, 1946

During the past year, the greatest war in all history, insofar as actual armed conflict was concerned, came to an end. Peace, though only in name, had its effect upon the military establishment of the State of Maine.

A Nation that had been keyed to the highest stage of efficiency for war purposes suddenly found itself no longer compelled to put forth its greatest effort for the defeat of Naziism and Fascism. The coming of V-E Day and V-J Day marking the termination of hostilities in Europe and the Far East resulted in a general letting-down all along the line.

It could not be expected that Maine would be any less responsive to this feeling than other parts of the country. The transition from war to peace had its re-action in the gradual falling off in attendance at assemblies of the Maine State Guard. This became very marked after V-J Day in September 1945 and from then on it was found necessary to disband and muster out of service certain units of the Guard who were unable to maintain numbers and interest.

Similar to the situation that developed back in 1918 when a false announcement told of the termination of hostilities in Europe in World War I, a premature announcement of the end of the war against Japan came in August 1945, even though the official V-J Day was set as 2 September 1945. But this announcement was quasi-official and observances of the end of the Far Eastern war were general in all parts of the country.

At the time this first announcement was made, the troops of the First Region of the Maine State Guard were on a seven-days' tour of duty at Camp Keyes in Augusta. They were here from 12 to 18 August and in the midst of their encampment came word of the collapse of Japan.

Immediately Governor Horace A. Hildreth and other State officials prepared for a formal observance of the end of the war. Plans were hurriedly made, but they were excellent ones. The troops of the Maine State Guard cancelled their camp duties, nearly a thousand strong participated in the Parade through the streets of Augusta and took part in the exercises held in Capitol Park in front of the State House. The program was brief, dignified and appropriate. It was not a celebration of the coming peace; it was generally felt that this was not a time of celebration, but rather an occasion for rendering thanks that the war was over and for memorializing those who had so gallantly, and in many cases, so fatally contributed to the final successful conclusion of the world's greatest conflict.

THE STATE GUARD

The summer of 1945 saw the culmination of many weeks of hard, conscientious training in the holding of two seven-day tours of duty at Camp Keyes, Augusta. The first body of troops to participate in this seven-day encampment were those of Region 2 under the command of Col. William E. Southard of Bangor. Sixty-one officers and 344 enlisted men received the benefit of the training during the period 29 July to 4 August 1945.

The troops of Region 1, under the command of Col. Ralph B. Skinner, numbering 127 officers and 866 enlisted men were at Camp Keyes for the period 12 to 18 August 1945.

In the case of both of these encampments, the most thorough training was given. Instruction was not only in the usual infantry exercises, but handling of situations developing from civil disturbances, the arrest of criminals when the use of gas was necessary, rifle practice on the Federal Range at Auburn, instruction in the handling of motor vehicles and many other subjects were on the program of instruction. The evenings, for the most part were free, and the men had the time to themselves. Under the direction of Lt. Col. John F. Conoley, Chief of Chaplains of the State Guard, a comprehensive recreation program was featured at both camps, not the least important of which was the staging of boxing matches.

The past year saw the final change in the organization of the State Guard. The change was made from regions to infantry regiments. By doing this, a better balance between the western and eastern parts of the State was secured. It was also thought that a regimental organization would carry more weight and have more meaning with the civil authorities than the regional set-up.

In creating the regimental organization, which became effective 1 September 1945, a radical change in the assignment of battalions was made. What had been the 4th Battalion of Region 1 composed of troops from Farmington, Strong, Wilton, Livermore Falls, Newport and Skowhegan was re-designated as the 3rd Battalion, 2nd Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard. Both regiments were thus made equal as to the number of battalions, three in each, although the 1st Regiment continued to be numerically stronger.

During the year ending 30 June 1946, the following organizations of the State Guard and State Guard Reserve were disbanded and mustered out of service:

Headquarters and Service Co.	June 30, 1946	GO 11	Augusta
Medical Detachment	March 1, 1946	SO 27	Augusta

RECORDS OF WORLD WAR II VETERANS

Although Maine sent into the armed services in 1940 and 1941, some 3400 members of the National Guard, final official reports of these soldiers as received by The Adjutant General total only about 1500. These have been complete reports and the information given by the War Department has been properly recorded on the service records of the men concerned. Every effort is being made to secure the balance of the National Guardsmen for whom no report has been received. In this number, ultimately, will be a record of casualties.

When the War and Navy Departments will furnish a complete record of Maine participants in World War II is problematical. It is estimated that approximately 93,000 men and women from Maine participated in the war. A card record of these has been started by The Adjutant General. The entries on the individual cards of each person from Maine have been compiled from records at State Headquarters, Selective Service, and other sources. The date of entry into service and the date of discharge have been secured. Other details as to assignment to organizations, battles in which engaged, decorations and the like cannot be compiled until complete official information is received from Washington. It is reported from the National Capital that a special appropriation for this may be necessary. As a result, it may be years before a complete record is obtained.

THE NEW NATIONAL GUARD

The past year saw very active steps taken for the re-organization of the post-war National Guard in the State of Maine. Rumors and unofficial reports from Washington relative to the formation of a new Guard had been prevalent for months. But it was only after the collapse of Japan that any concrete plans were announced.

Policies upon which the reorganization of the National Guard was based were completed by the Joint General Staff Committee and approved by the Secretary of War on October 13, 1945. The first step to implement these National Guard policies was taken by the Bureau in establishing the troop basis for the entire country, a step which was ready for Chief of Staff approval on December 15, 1945, after which allotments to states were made.

It should be noted in passing that the strength of the new National Guard was fixed on the basic assumption that Congress would enact legislation providing for Universal Military Training of able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 20 and the elimination of Selective Service. Units excepting Air are to be maintained at 100% officer and 80% enlisted strength and the National Guard is to be a modern Minute Man, M-Day force, fully equipped with latest ordnance and manned sufficiently to take the field immediately on call.

The total National strength when fully organized is expected to exceed 600,000.

On February 12, 1946, Maine received its tentative quota of troops from the Bureau which is as follows:

The Air National Guard units were not included in the foregoing list. This was due to the fact that the base for them had not been determined. A survey of air bases within the State by the Adjutant General had shown that only one of the several bases met the specifications of the War Department and of population requirements to sustain the air units. This was Dow Field, Bangor. Up to June 30 authority had not been received to use these facilities and organization of the Air units was postponed until a suitable base could be secured.

The problem of armory facilities is an acute one. Before 1941 for 51 units of the Maine National Guard we had 5 State-owned armories and one municipally owned (Lewiston) armory. The vast majority of the units were quartered in rented buildings so small that training suffered seriously, and so inadequate for storage of expensive equipment that Army inspectors consistently rated them as "unsatisfactory". After the National Guard had entered Federal service in the fall of 1940 and the spring of 1941, 9 new armories were built under the supervision of the State Military Defense Commission. This made a real start toward solving the armory problem. But the communities without armories are now in a much more serious situation than they were before. Units before World War II had the maintenance strength of 60 men and 3 or 4 officers. Today the maintenance strength of infantry units is 188 men and 7 officers. While the strength of the artillery units is not as great as that of the infantry, it is much greater than before.

The acceptance of the increased strength of the National Guard for Maine, was done with the understanding that Federal funds would be made available for housing and storage and the Federal Government would contribute its equitable share of the expense of constructing and maintaining the required facilities. While this policy has not yet been implemented by Congress, it has been submitted in the so-called May Bill, (House Resolve 5762, March 13, 1946), a bill "To provide for the construction of armories, warehouses and other storage facilities and the maintenance of same upon an equitable basis."

On June 14th, authority was received from the National Guard Bureau to initiate organization of the following units on June 15, 1946 with three months allowed from that date for Federal recognition:

State Headquarters & Headquarters Detachment, MNG
Headquarters & Headquarters Company, 103d Infantry
Headquarters & Headquarters Battery, 152d FA Battalion
Headquarters & Headquarters Battery, 219th AAA Group
Headquarters & Headquarters Battery, 703d AAA Battalion
Headquarters & Headquarters Battery, 314th AAA Battalion
3620th Ordnance Maintenance Company (AA)
195th Army Ground Forces Band

Immediate action has been taken to organize the State Headquarters & Headquarters Detachment and the Ordnance Maintenance Company. Lt. Col. Theodore Lewin, although still on terminal leave from active service is undertaking organization of the latter. The date of July 15, 1946 has been set to have these two units ready for Federal recognition.

U.S.P. AND D.O. OFFICE AGAIN FUNCTIONS

Under current War Department regulations, the Office of the United States Property and Disbursing Officer may be filled only by the former U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer on active duty in the Army of the United States or, in lieu thereof, by some other National Guard officer acceptable to the State authorities and on duty in the Army of the United States. Such officers are detailed for duty in the Office of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau with station at the State capital or other station designated by the State authorities. This officer is detailed for the purpose of taking over the normal duties of a U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer, involving fiscal and property accountability, and any additional or specific duties which may be directed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau. His legal status is that of an officer of the Army of the United States assigned to the National Guard Bureau, under the command of the Chief, National Guard Bureau, in charge of a field office of that Bureau. He does not disburse federal funds.

Due to a physical disability incurred while on active duty in World War II, the former U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer, Colonel Charles W. Savage, was not eligible to fill this office. Consequently, by request of the Governor of Maine, Colonel Elliott C. Goodwin, then on duty in the Office of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C., was detailed on 29 December 1945, as Acting United States Property and Disbursing Officer for Maine, with station at Augusta, Maine. (Par. 10, Special Orders 307, War Department 1945). Colonel Goodwin reported for duty at his permanent station on 21 March 1946, after completion of a tour of temporary duty in the Office of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

The mission of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer is to:

(1) Provide the Maine National Guard with all equipment and supplies authorized by the War Department and prescribed by the State;

(2) Procure, store and distribute such equipment and supplies in such quantities, in such manner, at such times, and by such means as may be required to insure that programs and schedules are properly balanced, coordinated and fulfilled;

(3) Represent the Commander-in-Chief, Maine National Guard, in coordinating logistical operational plans with the War Department (National Guard Bureau);

(4) Secure from the War Department (National Guard Bureau) such firm and timely data with respect to troop bases, training plans, rates of troop activations, and specific supply operational plans as will enable the preparation and revision of programs of the Maine National Guard and will accurately reflect military needs;

(5) Prepare logistical studies and formulate logistical supply plans for projected employment of the Maine National Guard in aid of the State or Federal power;

(6) Maintain close liaison with the War Department (National Guard Bureau) for the purpose of furnishing logistical information, data, plans and advice on all current or contemplated operations;

(7) Forecast special military operational supply needs of the Maine National Guard from the standpoint of operational plans and interim requirements for troop activities;

(8) Review major supply projects recommended by unit commanders;

(9) Maintain in serviceable condition all military equipment and supplies entrusted to the custody of the State of Maine when the responsibility for such maintenance has not been delegated otherwise;

(10) Establish and maintain stock record accounts, memorandum receipt accounts, warehouse records, and shipping records in conformity with prescribed doctrine, law and regulations;

(11) Prescribe methods of supply accounting in units of the Maine National Guard and at State Headquarters, and insure by inspection that such methods are used.

(12) Audit property accounts of individuals, unit commanders and of the State for the purpose of effecting adjustments and settlements prescribed by law and regulations;

(13) Train commissioned and enlisted personnel assigned to the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer from the State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment Tables of Organization;

(14) Supervise the employment of accounting and property custodial clerks at State Headquarters, including employment of caretakers for the State Caretaker Pool;

(15) Coordinate all supply activities between the State of Maine and the War Department;

(16) Advise the Adjutant General of Maine in the formulation and promulgation of supply policy when such policy relates to the War Department;

(17) Act as the Office of Staff Coordination in the Office of the Adjutant General, Maine National Guard, on all matters pertaining to Federal supply of the Maine National Guard;

(18) As Movement Coordinating Center for the Maine National Guard, to coordinate all matters concerning troop and supply movements.

With respect to War Department policy, implementation of Section 90, the National Defense Act, now includes authority to employ custodial and accounting clerks in the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer at Federal expense. Such clerks are classified as State employees. They enjoy all perquisites of the Military Law, State of Maine, including State retirement privileges.

Prior to World War II, office supplies and equipment for the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer were furnished by the State. This is no longer true; War Department policy now recognizes Federal responsibility in this connection and such policy has been implemented by the establishment of a suitable Table of Basic Allowances. Indeed, the policy goes much further, in that allowances include materiel handling equipment and packing room supplies for use in storing and distributing clothing and equipment received for the Maine National Guard.

The Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer is the focal point for the operational direction of all supply activity of the Maine National Guard, and consists of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer, the Chief Clerk, the Requirements and Procurement Branch, the Property Accounts Branch, the Storage Branch, the Issue Branch, and the Mail and Records Branch.

The United States Property and Disbursing Officer performs the following staff functions for the Commander-in-Chief, Maine National Guard:

- (1) Determines policies and procedures for the operation of the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer;
- (2) Determines all requirements of items of supply with respect to quantities needed and timing of deliveries from the War Department to the State of Maine, and translates such requirements into action when directed by higher authority;
- (3) Acts in coordination and collaborates with other staff agencies of the Office of the Adjutant General, State of Maine, on problems of procurement, requirements and conservation of Federal property loaned to the State of Maine for use of the Maine National Guard;
- (4) Participates in the preparation and implementation of current plans for the activation of units of the Maine National Guard with respect to activities of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer;
- (5) Plans and supervises the obligation of Federal funds allotted to the State of Maine by the War Department for the supply support of the Maine National Guard;
- (6) Plans and supervises the procurement, inspection, acceptance, receipt, storage, distribution and issue of all equipment and supplies loaned to the State of Maine by the Federal Government;
- (7) Prescribes policies and procedures for the establishment, maintenance and operation of all supply accounting prescribed by law, regulations, or other War Department directives, including supervision of the employment of accounting and property custodial clerks for such purposes;
- (8) Prepares and recommends procedures for the information, guidance and compliance of State of Maine civilian employees with respect to the receipt, movement, storage, distribution, issue, use, and maintenance of Federal property, and by means of inspection determines that such authorized and established procedures are properly followed;
- (9) Supervises the procurement, storage, distribution, issue and use of all maintenance supplies provided by the Federal Government for the upkeep of State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment and, by means of inspection, determines that such supplies are used to the best interest of the War Department and the State of Maine;
- (10) Supervises the establishment and operation of the State Motor and/or Maintenance Pool (s) at State Headquarters, including the employment of caretakers;
- (11) Insures by proper inspection that caretaker pools administered by the State of Maine are operated efficiently and in conformity with law, regulations and War Department directives;

(12) Edits and reviews all requests of the Commander-in-Chief, Maine National Guard for the loan of Federal property of the State of Maine;

(13) Edits and reviews all requests of individuals and units of the Maine National Guard for the loan of Federal property on memorandum receipt;

(14) Represents the War Department and the Commander-in-Chief, Maine National Guard, on all State Military Committees concerned with the procurement, receipt, acceptance, movement, storage, distribution, use, and maintenance of Federal property loaned to the State of Maine for support of the Maine National Guard;

(15) Acts for the Commander-in-Chief, Maine National Guard, in negotiating allotments of Federal funds for the support of supply activities of the Maine National Guard, including supply training;

(16) Supervises the training of commissioned and enlisted personnel assigned to the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer from State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment Tables of Organization; prepares curricula, training courses, technical instructions, texts and other publications necessary for the training of such personnel; selects, assigns, promotes, demotes, and relieves such personnel, subject to the consent of the Adjutant General of Maine;

(17) Operates the Movement Coordinating Center for the Maine National Guard. The Chief Clerk acts for the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer in the direction and coordination of standard organization and administrative procedures for State Headquarters activities concerning requirements, procurement, receipt, acceptance, distribution, storage, issue, and use of Federal property loaned to the State of Maine by the Federal Government; acts as Federal Motor Transportation Officer; coordinates supply functions of the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer with other staff agencies in the Office of the Adjutant General; coordinates clerical procedures between Branches of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer's Office; inspects and analyzes clerical activities connected with supply functions at State Headquarters and recommends remedial action to correct deficiencies and unsatisfactory practices.

The Requirements and Procurement Branch collects from all appropriate agencies such firm and timely data as will enable the preparation and revision of all requirements for which the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer has responsibility, and evaluates and disseminates this information to interested agencies of the Office of The Adjutant General, State of Maine; supervises the determination, use and publication of State replacement factors; develops information concerning supply status of the State of Maine as follows: from local procurement, from assembly of components, from returned stocks previously issued to troops, from stocks made available by use of substitute items, and stocks available from all other sources; recommends action necessary to insure that the fullest possible utilization is made of all military equipment and supplies not in the hands of troops, toward the end that additional procurement may be curtailed; consolidates and summarizes requirements obtained from the War Department and keeps the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer informed as to existing deficiencies; subject to policies established by higher authority, recommends the priority of issue of items based on the relative urgency of military needs; analyzes the condition of balance between supply and demand, and prepares statistical and management data as may be required; prescribes criteria for inventory control; formulates and recommends policies, plans, and procedures concerning, and supervises the local purchase, inspection and acceptance of authorized supplies and services and the making of purchase orders and/or contracts connected therewith; compiles requisitions for replenishing authorized allowances.

The Property Accounts Branch establishes and operates the Stock Record Account and the Register of Vouchers to the Stock Record Account of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer, the Property Serial Number Files, and the Individual and Unit Memorandum Receipt Accounts; recommends policy respecting supply accounting methods; tabulates, summarizes and analyzes stock record statistics for all Adjutant General's Staff Agencies and Branches of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer's Office; coordinates totals of authorized items with the Requirements and Procurement Branch; supervises the preparation of consolidated memorandum receipts for the purpose of inventories, transfer, and settlements; provides units initially with a Unit Property Record Book and thereafter furnishes Unit Property Cards for items not previously issued; edits and approves, within limits of established criteria, unit requisitions; establishes and maintains a Unit Clothing Size Requirement File and Consolidated Tariff File; compiles experience tables and computes, tabulates and analyzes essential consumption data, coordinating this activity with the Requirements and Procurement Branch to insure timely availability of authorized replenishment; establishes and maintains the Unit Property Serial Number File.

The Storage Branch controls and operates all warehouse space allotted to the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer by the State of Maine; establishes and maintains the Warehouse Locator Record; receives all incoming shipments and accounts therefor to the Requirements and Procurement Branch, and the Property Accounts Branch, as appropriate; accomplishes all incoming Government Bills of Lading and receipts for all commercial carrier-borne shipments; supervises all procedures respecting the storage of equipment and supplies at State Headquarters, including methods of checking, blocking, bracing, and tiering; recommends methods and procedures for the perpetual preservation and security of property stored at State Headquarters except for retail stock rooms; establishes and maintains separate and consolidated warehouse records of quantities on hand, serviceable, unserviceable, and condition undetermined, including the preparation and maintenance of stock and bin cards; coordinates with the Issue Branch in the establishment of automatic replenishment factors for the purpose of maintaining appropriate stock levels of items stored in retail stock rooms; assists in the taking of routine and special inventories.

The Issue Branch operates the retail stock rooms; controls all issues from bulk stocks; prepares all outgoing shipments, including packing, crating, marking, and documentation; prepares and issues Government and Commercial Bills of Lading and obtains receipts for outgoing shipments; establishes and maintains stock and bin cards for all items stored in retail stock rooms.

The Mail and Records Branch performs the following functions under the direction of the Chief Clerk; controls all office management responsibilities; coordinates and directs all procedures concerning supply administration; lays out, directs, and supervises the work of typists, clerks, and other assistants; directs the keeping of personnel and time records; circulates memoranda to other branches and departments; keeps records of and issues clerical supplies; prepares pay rolls; compiles and files reports and statistics; tabulates and posts data in record books; sorts and distributes office mail; duplicates orders, memoranda and bulletins; supervises the filing of military correspondence.

Upon activation of the National Guard Air Units allotted to Maine, the Office of the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer will be augmented by an Air Corps Property Branch. At that time, additional key personnel will be employed at Federal expense, for duty in that office.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE PROPERTY OFFICER

During the period 1 July 1945 to 30 June 1946, the undersigned continued to act as State Property Officer for the State Military Department and the Office of Civilian Defense.

As State Property Officer for Civilian Defense the duties consisted mainly of safeguarding such federal property as has been loaned to the State of Maine for Civilian Defense purposes pending action by the federal government for its return. This action has been in a status quo for almost a year. There also remains in my possession correspondence and records which pertain to the Office of Civilian Defense pending further disposition by the State of Maine.

During the past year many changes occurred in the State Guard and State Guard Reserve which resulted in the withdrawal of the property from 15 State Guard units which were inactivated, 4 State Guard Reserve units inactivated, and the withdrawal of 2 State Guard Reserve units which were converted to a State Guard Unit. In the closing out of these units shortages did exist for which no individual appears to be responsible and these articles are included in a list of property to be submitted to the next legislature for the proper relief of the commanding officers concerned.

With the cessation of hostilities and the reactivation of the National Guard numerous changes of warehousing and office facilities are being made and these quarters will be ready for occupancy when the reorganization of the National Guard is completed.

All federal and state property has been segregated and is now so stored. It must be retained, however, until a complete inactivation of the State Guard has been accomplished. A list of the balances of federal property loaned to the State of Maine is attached. There is also attached a list of state property showing balances on hand as of this date.

From time to time during the ensuing year recommendations will be made for the disposal of state property which in all probability will not be used. Any federal property loaned to the State of Maine for military purposes which appears to meet federal requirements for use of the National Guard will be turned over to the Acting U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer. Any balance of federal property not found desirable for use by the National Guard will be turned over to the federal government when complete inactivation of the State Guard has been accomplished. Frequent requisitions from the State Guard has thus far precluded such action.

I thank you for your fine cooperation in the handling of the affairs for which I am responsible.

CHARLES W. SAVAGE

Colonel, Inf. (I)

State Property Officer

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

During the year 1 July 1945 to 30 June 1946, my duties as Inspector General, Maine State Guard included the following and Reports covering same were filed with the Office of The Adjutant General.

Attended the last three (3) days of each Encampment of both Region No. 2 in July 1945 and Region No. 1 in August 1945. Among the duties assigned were those of Umpiring a Field Maneuver in which all available troops participated. Critique held at the close of the exercises.

Made final inspection of all Quarters, Kitchens, Mess Halls and Grounds at both Encampments. Conditions reported to Camp Commander and all deficiencies corrected before troops were released to return to Home Stations.

Made Pre-Federal Inspection of Headquarters and Service Company at Augusta, 4 April 1946.

It has been the duty of the Superintendent of Maintenance to see that all Armories have been at all times properly taken care of by the Janitors-Caretakers and all emergency and necessary repairs made with the least expense possible.

Inspection at regular intervals and emergency visits when required have been made during the year requiring much travel.

The Administration Building at Camp Keyes is in excellent condition at the present time. Much improvement in office room has been necessitated by change of storage space to offices. This required much labor and material made necessary by reactivation of the National Guard and plans for its future development. Two new toilets have also been installed.

All hutments, latrines and other buildings at Camp Keyes have been kept in proper condition for any emergency or encampment period. Much glass has to be replaced each year and general clean up of buildings and grounds after State Guard activities.

A Chapel for religious services of all creeds was made during the winter months by remodeling an officers' hutment at Camp Keyes with materials on hand.

Roads and highways about the Camp have been resurfaced and tarred making them in good condition.

ANNUAL REPORT OF STATE GUARD COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER

In making my report for the fiscal year ending 30 June 1946, I would like to state that in my opinion the State Guard Communication troops have improved very much in their ability to operate and set up the various radio equipment used by the Guard.

The start of the year found the State Guard equipped with the Abbott TR4 transmitter and receiver. This type of equipment has been used very successfully both as fixed station and as portable equipment, they were found especially valuable as means of communications between units during movements of troops within the State. The Abbott TR4 was also used during several of the maneuvers, and gave excellent communications between the various units.

The War Department has now issued the State Guard units of the Signal Corps SCR 511 Type transmitter and receiver. This equipment is more compact, and more easily portable, than is the Abbott TR4. It also has the advantage of being more efficient, on account of the fact that the frequency upon which it operates, (3625 kilocycles) is not confined to (line of sight) operation, that being one of the disadvantages of the Abbott TR4, which operated on a frequency of 112.5 to 115.5 megacycles. The SCR 511 is dependable for one hundred percent operation at any point within its transmitting range which is approximately five miles.

This new equipment was issued the Guard at its summer tour of field instruction, and with only four days instruction and drill, troops were able to give a very satisfactory demonstration of Radio Communication. This was especially true during the Regimental maneuvers of the First Regiment.

Instruction and training in the nomenclature and upkeep of the various radio units, and instruction in correct radio procedure, along with instruction in setting up and operating land line telephones and switchboards, have been carried out by Regimental, Battalion, and Company Communications Officers during the weekly drill periods of the State Guard. I expect exceptionally good results from this training at the next camp of instruction.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE GUARD SURGEON

After a service covering four years lacking only one month, the State Medical Detachment of the Maine State Guard was formally disbanded and mustered out of service on 1 March 1946. It had been in existence since 2 April 1942.

It is not too much to say and it is not in any sense self-glorification to emphasize the fact that this service by the members of the Medical Detachment was a most commendable one. Made up principally of men from Augusta, Hallowell and Winthrop, weekly drills were held and very thorough instruction was given not only in first aid but in treatment of injuries and illnesses that might well be classified as outside normal first aid limitations.

This training proved of great value to the troops of the Maine State Guard. At the two seven-day encampments held in 1945 in Augusta, at week-end maneuvers at the Federal Rifle Range in Auburn, Bangor and other places, details from the Medical Detachment were in attendance and cared for innumerable cases. At the two seven-day encampments fully 200 patients were treated. Those guardsmen who could not be cared for at the camp infirmary, were sent to a commercial hospital. Cases of this kind were very few and involved principally patients who might have a threatened attack of appendicitis, pneumonia or some other illness that would need hospitalization.

I feel that the members of this Medical Detachment are entitled to much praise for the excellent way in which they carried out their duties and the faithfulness they showed in attending drills. These assemblies were held at Camp Keyes on Thursday nights and during the winter when travel was difficult, these men strained every effort to be present, even those who came from Winthrop and Readfield.

With the general letting-down that followed V-E and V-J days, interest began to sag in the detachment as it did with other State Guard organizations. On top of this, enlistments were expiring. There seemed little prospect of recruiting and restoring interest, so at the suggestion of the State Guard Surgeon the unit was mustered out of service. But I am sure that all those connected with the State Guard are unanimous in saying that the State Medical Detachment put in four efficient worth-while years of service.

CHANGES OF ASSIGNMENT, RESIGNATIONS, ETC.

. When, as of 24 August 1945, GO No. 33, the two Regional organizations were discontinued and the Maine State Guard converted into two Regiments of Infantry, the former 4th Battalion of Region 1, with Headquarters at Farmington, became the 3rd Battalion of the 2nd Regiment of Infantry, and Chaplain Roy A. Clark was assigned to that organization.

As of 1 December 1945, Chaplain Clark was transferred by his ecclesiastical superiors from Phillips to Hallowell, Maine and Chaplain Walter L. Cook removed from Calais to a pastorate in Farmington, Maine. In order to hold the Chaplain Corps at its present strength, the Adjutant General then assigned Chaplain Clark to duty with the Office of the Chief of Chaplains, and appointed Chaplain Cook to the chaplaincy of the 3rd Battalion, 2d Regiment, with headquarters at Farmington.

Chaplain George G. Chiera accepted a pastoral charge in Massachusetts as of 1 December 1945 and resigned his commission as a State Guard chaplain as of 3 December 1945.

As of 1 April 1946, Chaplain Walter L. Cook, 3rd Battalion, 2nd Regiment, resigned his commission as a State Guard chaplain, whereupon the Adjutant General reassigned Chaplain Roy A. Clark to the chaplaincy of the 3rd Battalion, 2nd Regiment, with headquarters at Hallowell, Maine.

ACTIVITIES

The entire personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps (as of 1 July 1945) attended the seven-day encampments of 29 July-4 August and 12-18 August 1945 at Camp Keyes, Augusta.

Chaplains Akeley, Allard and Conoley, attended the encampment of 29 July-4 August and with the consent and hearty cooperation of Colonel William E. Southard, Commanding Officer of the then Region 2, the assistance of Colonel Charles L. Stephenson of the First Service Command and the aid of Lt. Col. George T. Marchildon and Lieutenants Louis H. White of Bangor and Bertrand Daigle of Fort Kent, inaugurated the Special Services program of athletic and recreational activities.

The seven-day encampment of the then Region 1, 12-18 August 1945, brought into camp the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps for their Second Annual Conference. In addition to their routine duties as Staff and Battalion chaplains and Special Services officers, the chaplains met in conference every day, held religious services, and attended classes of instruction in Military Courtesy and Discipline, Drill, Practical Duties, Map Reading, Military Sanitation and First Aid and Military Law.

Further impetus was given the Special Services program by daily and supervised schedules of soft-ball, push-ball, boxing, swimming and amateur theatrical entertainment. This program was so successful that the enlisted personnel preferred to remain in camp during the evening hours for the clean fun and enjoyment to be had in camp. For the success of this program during both seven-day encampments, thanks are due Chaplains Akeley, Allard, Davis and Clark, Lieutenants White and Daigle and Lieutenant Foster of the then 4th Battalion, Region 1 of Farmington; and a vote of thanks is due the management of the Augusta Country Club for allowing the use of their private beach on Lake Cobbosseecontee for swimming. Chaplain Dole, unwell at the time, remained on duty during the entire encampment, attended all the exercises and took over the management of the Guest House. Chaplain Clark deserves a very special mention for his fine services as Camp Post Officer.

V-J Day occurred during the 12-18 August encampment and Chaplains Akeley, Dole, Conoley and Berent were privileged to have a part in the splendid ceremony—Victory Memorial Program—held in Capital Park, 15 August 1945, presided over and addressed by His Excellency, Horace A. Hildreth, Governor of Maine.

On Friday afternoon, 17 August 1945, an impressive Memorial Service, conducted by Chaplains Akeley, Allard, Berent, Chiera, Colby, Conoley, Davis and Dole was held on the parade ground at Camp Keyes in the presence of the entire personnel of Region 1, MSG, His Excellency, the Governor, General Carter, Colonel Hart and the entire State Staff, representatives of the several Veterans' Organizations and the general public.

During the months of September-October 1945, the chaplains conducted religious services at the Auburn Rifle Range, at Dow Field and at several armories throughout the State for State Guard troops. Appreciation of the chaplains' services was thus expressed by Colonel Ralph B. Skinner, Commanding Officer of the 1st Regiment, MSG:

"I cannot say how grateful I am for the good work done by yourself and your associate chaplains during the weekend encampments at the Auburn Rifle Range . . . All ranks and grades in our regiment now look forward to religious services and prove their appreciation by excellent attendance."

SPECIAL SERVICES

By command of the Adjutant General, Brigadier General George M. Carter, Chaplains Allard and Conoley made a tour of visits to the several MSG units in Aroostook County, 11-18 November 1945. With this happy experience behind them, bulwarked by their observations during the 29 July-4 August and 12-18 August seven-day encampments, the chaplains made recommendations regarding the Special Services program which were afterward embodied in Memorandum 129, 29 November 1945.

The program of athletic and recreational activities therein set forth has since been put into effect by all Maine State Guard units, culminating in the basketball tournament held in Lewiston last April 1946. Regimental, Battalion and Company Special Services officers have since been appointed and the program has proved its worth as an agency for the building and maintenance of morale and as effective plea for recruits.

These Special Service officers were:

1st Lt. Everett K. Foster
2nd Lt. Louis H. White
2nd Lt. Clifford E. Gove
2nd Lt. Richard E. Boothby
Major Edward E. Jameson
2nd Lt. Dwight A. Moody
2nd Lt. Edward C. Flaherty
2nd Lt. Leonard J. Parker
Pvt. Lawrence Cook
2nd Lt. Warren Wood
2nd Lt. Carleton A. Landry
2nd Lt. Claude L. Keesler

1st Lt. Alfred Whitham
1st Lt. Joseph I. Penley
1st Lt. Harold A. Hatch
2nd Lt. Edward J. Parent
1st Lt. Philip N. Beckett
1st Lt. Alton D. Bridgham
2nd Lt. Raymond A. Creamer
Sgt. Clarence Boone
1st Sgt. Albert Judd
1st Lt. Varland Green
2nd Lt. Leroy W. Dymont

CONFERENCES, SPECIAL SERVICES, ETC.

The First and Second Annual Conferences of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps were held at Camp Keyes 15-16 February 1944 and 12-18 August 1945. At the invitation of the Adjutant General, the Third Annual Conference of the Corps was held at Camp Keyes 21-22 May 1946. With the exception of Chaplain Alfred G. Davis, 1st Battalion, 1st Regiment Infantry, then attending the Methodist Church Conference in session at Bangor, Maine, the entire personnel of the Corps were present:

Chaplain Tom G. Akeley
Chaplain Joseph F. Allard
Chaplain David Berent
Chaplain Roy A. Clark

Chaplain Rensel H. Colby
Chaplain John F. Conoley
Chaplain Louis A. Dole

The conference entertained as its guests Chaplain Raymond G. Lafontaine of the Connecticut State Guard and Chaplain A. R. E. Green of the Vermont State Guard, both of whom addressed the Conference.

The chaplains were quartered at Camp Keyes and the Conference convened immediately after mess Tuesday night 21 May 1946, addressed by Chaplains Conoley, Akeley and Clark, MSG and Chaplain Green, VSG.

Religious services were held in the new Camp Chapel on Wednesday morning, 22 May 1946, followed by conferences given by Chaplains Colby, Dole, Berent, MSG and Chaplain Lafontaine, CSG. An account of the Conference and Chaplain Colby's talk in its entirety were published in "ALERT" for June 1946.

At 2.00 P. M., Wednesday 22 May 1946, the chaplains dedicated the new Camp Chapel in the presence of General Carter and members of his staff, Chaplain (Colonel) Corwin Olds, AUS and others.

Noteworthy features of the new Camp Chapel are its "common altar", at which the chaplains of all faiths officiate. It is so designed and arranged that, with few changes of ornamentation, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains may officiate thereat; and the stand of church flags or banners which flank the National and State flags and the altar adds much to the beauty and spiritual atmosphere of the chapel. These flags—National and State, Evangelical Protestant, Protestant Episcopalian, Papal, Zion, and Christian and Jewish (Army) Chaplain flags, were the gift to the new Camp Chapel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps as a memorial of their service during the past several years. The Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps entertains the hope that this chapel and these flags, which they bequeath to the chaplains of the Maine National Guard, will, in the years to come, be an earnest of their common endeavor "to prepare unto the Lord a perfect people", without distinction of race, color or creed.

CITATIONS

This office cites the following-named chaplains for special notice and commendation:

- (a) Chaplain Tom G. Akeley, Assistant Chief of Chaplains, for the faithful discharge of his several duties as the "right wing" of the Chief of Chaplains; for his loyalty; and for his generous use of time and energy in all that concerns the spiritual and temporal interests of the Maine State Guard and the Chaplain Corps.
- (b) Chaplains Alfred G. Davis, Rensel H. Colby, Louis A. Dole, Roy A. Clark and Joseph F. Allard for their devoted zeal in the performance of their routine duties as State Guard chaplains—visitations of the units of their commands at whatever cost to themselves of time and effort; their outstanding services in holding the morale of their commands at high point and level by their own efforts and examples; and their support and encouragement of the Special Services program.
- (c) Chaplain David Berent for the prestige given the Corps by his radio-talks, given over WCOU, on topics of State-wide and National interest and as a special pleader tolerance, mutual understanding and closer contacts between the several racial, religious and social elements of the body politic.

SUMMARY

Since this is, perhaps, the last such Annual Report to be rendered by the State Guard Chaplain, this office takes this occasion to thank the Adjutant General for having called the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps into being as of 30 March 1942; for his pains taken in the choice of personnel and their formation for the unique and challenging service to which they were called; for the many opportunities for service given; and for his understanding and unconditioned support of the chaplains' every effort in the field of spiritual endeavor in behalf of the Maine State Guard.

This office is charged, moreover, with the grateful task of expressing the Corps' gratitude to Colonel L. M. Hart, the Assistant Adjutant General, the entire State Staff and the Regimental Battalion and Company commanders for the many proofs given of their confidence in and appreciation of the chaplains and their services during the past several years.

The Corps desires to record here their gratitude to Major General Sherman Miles, Ret., for his interest in the work of the State Guard Chaplains of the New England area during his term of office as Commanding General of the First Service Command; and to Colonel Charles L. Stephenson and Lieutenant Colonel Ross Whistler of the same Command, for their hearty cooperation with the chaplains in the discharge of their several duties as the spiritual directors of "home-front" troops.

The Chief of Chaplains takes this opportunity to thank the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General for the opportunity given him for a unique and challenging service during a period of stress and crisis without parallel in the history of the nation. Without their unconditioned support, so uniformly and generously given, there would have been no Chaplain Corps; nor would it have reached nor enjoyed that peak of usefulness for which it has been noted for the past four years and more, with credit to all concerned and to the State of Maine.

The Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps is now commonly admitted to be a group of apostles of a new era of tolerance, mutual understanding, unity of purpose and endeavor as prophets of "Better things to come". For this "rating", their thanks are due to the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General, their fore-vision and their determination of what the Corps could and should be.

General Orders?
No. 295

1. Revised Tables of Organization for all units of the Maine State Guard, exclusive of State Guard Staff, Region Headquarters Staffs and Battalion Headquarters Staffs, are published herewith for the information, guidance and compliance of all concerned.
2. These Revised Tables of Organization are effective as of 15 July 1945.
3. All organizations will at once revise the ratings of their personnel in accordance with these tables.
 - a. In those cases where promotions of enlisted personnel are required to conform to these new tables the necessary orders effecting the change will be issued upon recommendation of the proper authorities.
 - (1) The Adjutant General will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers in the Headquarters and Service Company and the State Medical Detachment upon recommendation of the respective commanders of these units.
 - (2) Region Commanders will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers of the Region Headquarters Detachment upon recommendation of the acting commanding officer of these detachments.
 - (3) Battalion Commanders will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers of Battalion Headquarters Companies, Rifle Companies, and Heavy Weapons Companies upon recommendation of the respective commanding officers of these units.
 - b. In those organizations where the ratings of enlisted men are higher than authorized in these tables or where there are more enlisted men of a grade than authorized no reductions in grade will be made. Enlisted men will continue in the grade they occupy until relieved from duty by discharge or some other cause. No vacancy due to causes of this nature will be filled.
 - c. Private First Class will be appointed by unit commanders. The number of Privates First Class will be in the ratio of one (1) for every two (2) privates.
4. The Table of Organization for Heavy Weapons Companies as published in memorandum No. 65 AGO Me dated 16 May 1945 remains unchanged.

STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 24 July 1945

General Orders?
No. 305

1. While it is the sincere hope of all concerned that there will be no accidents or cases of sickness during the forthcoming tours of duty at Camp Keyes—29 July to 4 August and 12 to 18 August 1945, it is absolutely essential that every case where there is injury or sickness be reported to the proper authorities.

2. Since National Guard Regulations, insofar as applicable, govern the Maine State Guard. Chapter 62 of these regulations deals with situations such as are mentioned in Par. 1 above.

3. In accordance with the provisions of NGR 62 Par. 7, the following Boards of Inquiry are hereby appointed for the above-named tours of duty:

- a. 29 July to 4 August 1945
LT. COL. CARL F. FELLOWS
LT. COL. ELLIOTT R. MILES
CAPT. HAROLD L. GERRISH
- b. 12 to 18 August 1945
LT. COL. CARL F. FELLOWS
MAJOR THOMAS P. MADDOCKS
CAPT. HAROLD L. GERRISH

4. Every accident or case of sickness no matter how minor, will be reported to this board and a complete report will be furnished by the board to The Adjutant General. Individual reports of sickness or accident will be reported by unit commanders through channels to the State Board.

5. Sufficient blanks for the making of reports are available at the office of The Adjutant General and these printed forms will be used by the Boards mentioned in Paragraph 3 above.

General Orders?
No. 325

1. Much disappointment and considerable misunderstanding have arisen among both commissioned officers and enlisted men regarding the tax withholding certificates received with their pay checks for active field duty.

2. The withholding of this tax has been required by the Federal Government even though some of those receiving pay for active duty may not come within the classification of those required to make returns.

3. The position of the State and the action taken and to be taken by the State together with the action to be taken by every member of the State Guard who has received a check are outlined in the following communication from the State Controller, Mr. J. J. Allen:

"The Government compels us to deduct a withholding tax from your pay. In February of 1946, we will give you a receipt for all we have deducted.

KEEP THE RECEIPT IT'S IMPORTANT. Here's why:

If your income is less than $500, the Government will send you a check for all we have deducted. To get a check, all you do is fill in the blanks on the receipt and send it to the nearest office of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

If your income is $500 or more, you have to file an income tax return in 1946 by March 15th. The receipt will serve this purpose. Just proceed as above. The tax we have withheld will be subtracted from any tax you might otherwise owe the Government.

Therefore, don't think you are losing money because we are deducting a tax. On the contrary, you are saving money. You will either get back what we have deducted, or you will have less tax to pay in 1946 out of your other income or savings."

s/ J. J. Allen Controller

4. It is therefore hereby ordered that this General Order be read by the Commanding Officers of all units at the next formation of their organizations and that a copy of this General Order be posted on the bulletin board of every organization.

General Orders?
No. 33

1. Effective 1 September 1945 the Regional organization of the Maine State Guard will be discontinued. In its place will be a regimental organization.
2. The Maine State Guard will consist of two infantry regiments plus such State Headquarters troops as now exist. These latter comprise the State Headquarters and Service Company and the State Medical Detachment both with headquarters at Augusta and under the direct command of The Adjutant General.
3.
 - a. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment Region 1 will be known as Headquarters and Headquarters Company 1st Regiment Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - b. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Region 2, will be known as Headquarters and Headquarters Company 2d Regiment Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - c. All personnel of at-present regional headquarters organizations are transferred to regimental status without change of rank or grade, effective 1 September 1945.
4. The 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will be transferred from control of Region 1 to Region 2 and will become a component of 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
5. The 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, and the 5th and 6th Battalions, Maine State Guard, will be re-designated as follows:
 - 5th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 1st Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - 6th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 2d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
6. The 1st, 2d and 3d Battalions, Maine State Guard, will be designated respectively as follows:
 - 1st Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 1st Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - 2d Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 2d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
 - 3d Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 3d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
7. All rifle and weapons companies will retain their letter designation as at present. Reference to all companies, both headquarters and lettered, will give the name of the company, the battalion and the regiment. The following are examples:
 - Headquarters Company, 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, MSG
 - Co. A, 2d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, MSG
 - Co. A, 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, MSG
 - Co. A, 3d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, MSG
8. Region Headquarters Detachments which became Regimental Headquarters Companies will retain and continue their present organization pending further orders.
9. In accordance with National Guard procedure, all warrants for non-commissioned officers will be issued by regimental commanders for their respective regiments upon recommendation of company commanders through channels.
10. All discharges for whatever cause will continue to be issued by The Adjutant General until further orders.
11. All transfers of personnel between units will be ordered by The Adjutant General upon proper application through channels.

12. Monthly strength reports will be submitted by companies through channels to regimental headquarters and regimental headquarters will render a consolidated report to The Adjutant General so that this report will be received by The Adjutant General not later than the 15th of the month following the month for which the report is rendered.

13. Requisitions for equipment and supplies will be made directly by units to The Adjutant General attention State Property Officer or State Ordnance Officer according to the class of supplies or equipment needed, except when on active duty in connection with field training.

14. Immediate action will be taken by all staff and commanding officers concerned to put into effect provisions of the foregoing paragraphs.

STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 29 August 1945

General Orders?
 No. 345

1. Because of the termination of the war in Europe and the cessation of active hostilities in Asia, the impression has gone forth that there is no longer any need for a State Guard force and that this group will be disbanded.

2. Nothing could be farther from the truth than this. The Maine State Guard is still an active organization. It was originally authorized by the Congress of the United States in October 1940. The Maine Legislature at its session in 1941 authorized the raising of such a force in Maine. On 21 April 1941, the War Department published Army Regulations No. 850-250. This has since been amended so that among the most important provisions are the following:

2. Statutory Authority— Provided further, That, under such regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe for the organization, standards of training, instruction and discipline, the organization by and within any State, Territory or Puerto Rico or the Canal Zone of such military forces other than a National Guard as may be provided by the laws of the State or Territory or Puerto Rico or the Canal Zone concerned is hereby authorized while any part of the National Guard of the State or Territory or Puerto Rico or the Canal Zone is in Active Federal service:  Provided further, that such forces shall not be called, ordered, or in any manner drafted, as such, into the Military Service of the United States; however, no person shall, by reason of his membership in any such unit, be exempted from Military Service under any Federal law; And provided further, that the Secretary of War in his discretion and under regulations determined by him, is authorized to issue, from time to time, for the use of such military units, to any State or Territory or Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands or the Canal Zone, upon requisition of the Governor thereof, such arms, ammunition, clothing and equipment as he deems necessary. *****
3. Status of State Guard—The State military force (State Guard) contemplated by these regulations, organized under the provisions of the foregoing statutory authority and of the constitution and laws of the State concerned, is solely a State military organization. It is not subject to call, order, or draft, as such force, into the military service of the United States; nor is it subject to Federal regulation or control other than as provided expressly, or by reasonable implication, by the statute above quoted.
4. Membership in the State Guard does not constitute individual exemption from military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

- b. Federal Military Officers—Reserve officers and Regular Army retired officers may be enrolled or commissioned in a State Guard force organized under section 61 of the National Defense Act as amended, without jeopardy to their Reserve or retired status. *****
- c. National Guard Personnel—Enlisted and commissioned personnel of the National Guard who, after release from active military service of the United States  have reverted to State control, may be enlisted or commissioned in the State Guard without jeopardy to their federally recognized National Guard Status. *****

3. The mission of the State Guard as set forth in AR 850-250 is well summarized in these words: "Maintain law, suppress disorders and protect life and property within the State."

4. It is universally agreed that when peace officially comes there will be a new and bigger National Guard. Before this force can be authorized, allocated and organized, the State of Maine needs a military force for the purposes mentioned in Par. 3 above. The State Guard is that force. There is always the danger of natural disasters. There is grave danger, too, that with the demobilization of millions of men and the conversion to a peace time basis of those industries that were engaged in war work civil disorders may arise. The State Guard must assist local and State police authorities should these civil disturbances occur.

5. It is evident, therefore, that the State Guard, being the only adequate force equipped and trained for the purpose is needed now, in the days of reconversion and re-construction more than ever.

6. Just what will be the composition of the new National Guard it is not as yet possible to say. Certain it is that those men who now form the backbone of the State Guard will be the nucleus, the framework, around which the new National Guard will be built. There will be opportunity in the New National Guard for practically every member of the present State Guard.

7. The Maine State Guard has to date acquitted itself with credit to its personnel and the State as a whole. It is fitting, therefore, that the Governor of the State who is the Commander-in-Chief of all State military forces should make a statement on this subject. This he has done as follows:

"With active hostilities over I wish to extend on behalf of a grateful citizenry their deep appreciation for the loyalty and devotion of the members of the Maine State Guard through the recent difficult years.

"As your Commander-in-Chief, I commend you for the excellence of your work and urge you continued loyalty and devotion until such time as the State is no longer completely dependent upon you for military protection.

"As Governor of Maine I should like to take advantage of this Order to express my appreciation for the invaluable assistance rendered by the Maine State Guard in connection with the patriotic exercises in the State Park on August 15, 1945, celebrating the news of Japan's surrender. Your excellent performance has been highly commended by all who saw it and it was only through your leadership and aid that such inspiring exercises were possible.

General Orders?
No. 45

1. Sunday 24 February 1946 marks the fifth anniversary of the induction into Federal service of the units of the 43d Division belonging to the Maine National Guard. These organizations were:

86th Infantry Brigade Headquarters Company
68th Field Artillery Brigade Headquarters Battery
103d Infantry
152d Field Artillery
2nd Battalion Headquarters and Co. C, 118th Quartermaster Regiment

2. With the triangulation of the 43d Division, brigades were broken up and the brigade headquarters units mentioned above were disbanded and the personnel assigned elsewhere. The 152d Field Artillery became the 152d Battalion and the 203d Battalion of Field Artillery. The 118th Quartermaster Regiment was mustered out as an organization and Company C was given another designation.

3. To Europe went the new 203d F.A. Battalion. Into the Southwest Pacific went the 103d Infantry and the 152d F.A. Battalion. No matter where these Maine troops served they acquitted themselves with distinction. In the South Pacific the artillery had much to do with the success of the "island hopping" maneuver that was climaxed with the capture of the Philippines. The 103d Infantry proved to be the organization that finally brought the Japs to their knees on Luzon.

4. February 24 will always live in the annals of Maine's Military achievements. It is a day that should be noted with solemnity and reverence. Members of the Maine State Guard who in 1941 took over the duties of the Maine National Guard and especially those duties of the 43d Division units have a particularly strong bond of union with the former National Guardsmen.

5. It is fitting, therefore, that on this fifth anniversary of their induction into Federal Service, these units of the 43d Division be honored by State Guardsmen in all those communities from which a unit of the 43d Division left for training in the South and subsequent participation in crucial campaigns. It is suggested that these State Guard units observe this notable day in Maine's military history and on some date as near as possible to 24 February 1946 a fitting commemorative program be presented. Public exercises of this nature will help to demonstrate the deep affection and grateful appreciation that all feel for Maine's citizen soldiers and the great part they took in bringing to a successful conclusion the world's most terrible war.

2. Battalion Commanders and members of their staffs will report for inspection at the armory and on the date scheduled for inspection of an organization at or nearest to their place of residence.

3. State Guard Staff Officers will report for inspection at the armory and on the date scheduled for inspection of an organization at or nearest to their place of residence, except those staff officers resident in Augusta who will stand inspection at the Adjutant General's Building, Camp Keyes at 1500.

4. The object of the Federal inspection is to determine whether the State Guard is organized, armed and equipped as prescribed by law, whether it is being trained and disciplined and whether records are kept in accordance with regulations. Commanding Officers will make certain that all Federal and State property for which they are accountable is in the armory properly prepared for inspection and that all records are up to date in the armory.

5. Every effort will be made by Commanding Officers to secure the largest possible attendance of personnel.

6. Unless notified to the contrary, the Federal inspector will arrive on the date scheduled in time to inspect the property and records by daylight. The Commanding Officer of the unit to be inspected or a commissioned officer designated by him will be present at the armory on the afternoon of the date scheduled for inspection.

7. In those cases where the date of inspection is not the same as that of the regular drill, the assembly date will be changed to conform with the Federal inspection date as given in Par. 1, above.

8. The Federal Inspection will be a formal unit inspection and unless otherwise directed by the inspector, will be held at 1930. Inspection routine will follow the instructions given in letter from Headquarters First Service Command, dated 31 December 1945, Subject: Federal Inspections of State Guards (enclosed herewith), except that the pack will not be made up or carried. Woolen uniform will be worn as directed in letter referred to above.

M E M O R I A L D A Y

It is obvious in the minds of thousands who have watched developments that the United States is enjoying a specious peace—that the country has been lulled to a false sense of security because armed conflict both in Europe and the Orient has ended.

World War II is truly over in that huge armies no longer oppose armies. But on every other front where major hostilities ceased less than a year ago there is still strife. True peace has not come to the world as was hoped. International misunderstandings need to be clarified. Concessions must be mutually granted. Even the United States must put its own house in order and bring peace between factions that threaten the civic and economic life of the Nation.

Three hundred thousand men in the armed forces of the United States laid down their lives in this terrific conflict. Over 600,000 more were wounded—some so seriously that they are maimed for life. It is not yet conclusively demonstrated that the real purpose for which these men made such sacrifices has been achieved. It is devoutly hoped that developments will soon indicate that these sacrifices have not been without the freedom-giving result for which they were made.

Memorial Day is at hand—the one time of the year when we all pay tribute to those who have given their lives in all wars in which this country has been engaged. Let their memory be cherished. Let them feel not dishonored. Let us all pay tribute to them. And in recognition of this honor, it is hereby ordered that the National Flag be flown at half-mast on all armories of the State from sunrise until midday, Thursday May 30, 1946. At noon the colors will be hoisted to the top of the staff and there remain until retreat or sunset.

Every member of the military department of the State of Maine is not only requested but urged to observe Memorial Day with the solemnity that it deserves. Commanding Officers of all State Guard organizations are authorized to offer their services to local patriotic and other organizations that the observance of the day may be appropriate and adequate.

To all of us there is an additional duty to perform. We must not let the exercises on Memorial Day be merely lip tribute. Let us not forget those men of all wars whose memory we honor on this great day. Let us root out those things that are bad that may be cankerously ruining our national life and supplant them with those which are good. Let us still further pay homage to those men of World War II and all other wars by resolving that the United States must and will continue to be the world-leading nation that it is and rightfully should be.

General Orders?
No. 115

1. Since it is considered difficult for the communities in which they are located to support new organizations of the Maine National Guard, the following units of the Maine State Guard and State Guard Reserve are hereby ordered disbanded and mustered out of service as of 30 June 1946 and all Federal and State property issued to them will be transferred to the State Property Officer on the date and at the time mentioned below:

Unit	Station	Mustered out and Property Transfer
Co. D, 1st Bn., 1st Regt.	Scarboro	1100 hours 10 June 1946
Co. G, 1st Bn., 1st Regt.	Yarmouth	1000 hours 11 June 1946

23d Co., Reserve	Spruce Head	1100 hours 21 June 1946
33d Co., Reserve	Oakfield	0900 hours 27 June 1946

2. Because of the imminent formation of a new National Guard unit in Augusta and vicinity, the following organization is ordered disbanded and mustered out of service as of 30 June 1946 and all Federal and State property issued to it will be transferred to the State Property Officer on the date mentioned below:

Hq. & Serv. Co.	Augusta	0900 hours 14 June 1946

3. Commanding Officers of all the units above mentioned will issue honorable discharge certificates to all enlisted personnel of their respective commands as of 30 June 1946.

4. Formal discharges to commissioned officers, effective 30 June 1946, will be issued by The Adjutant General.

5. The State Property Officer will make such plans for the transfer of Federal and State Property to the State as may be necessary.

6. The travel directed is necessary in the military service.

7. All officers of the disbanded units will make every effort to interest the members of their organizations in the new National Guard companies that may be formed and located within reasonable distance of their present home stations.

1. It is with deep regret that this office announces the death by drowning on 10 May 1946 of 2d Lt. Romeo J. Thibodeau of Company E, 2d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard. Lt. Thibodeau was with companions on Eagle Lake in Aroostook county fishing from a canoe at the time of the fatal accident. In a severe wind storm and drift ice the frail craft was over-turned and this officer lost his life.

2. Lt. Thibodeau was one of the most faithful and conscientious officers of the Maine State Guard. He first became identified with the defense force of the State when on 6 January 1943 he enlisted in the State Guard Reserve at Fort Kent. He rose to the grade of sergeant. When this unit became Company E of the Maine State Guard he enlisted in the new organization advanced to the grade of staff sergeant and was appointed a Second Lieutenant of Infantry, assigned to this company and continued with it until the time of his death.

General Orders?
No. 145

1. Because of business commitments that require his change of residence without the State and at his own request, the following officer is relieved from duty with the 3rd Bn 2nd Regt Inf MSG, and honorably discharged, effective 30 June 1946:

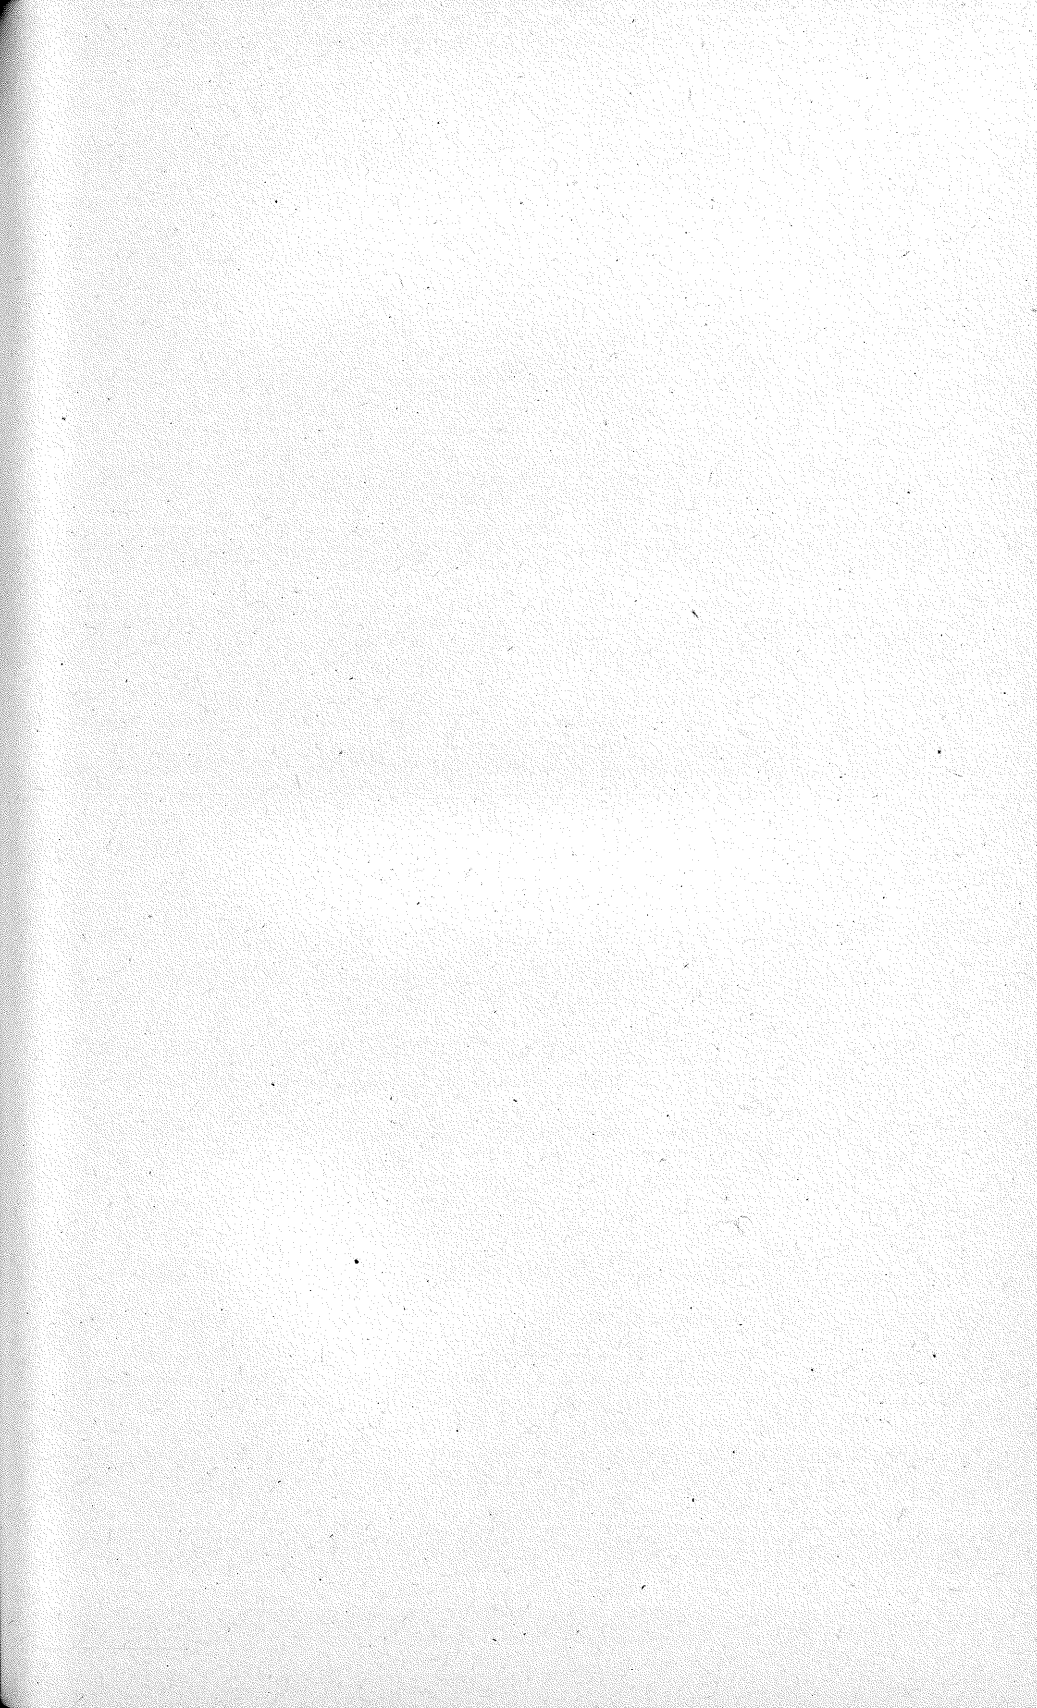

LT. COL. ERNEST P. HUNT of Farmington

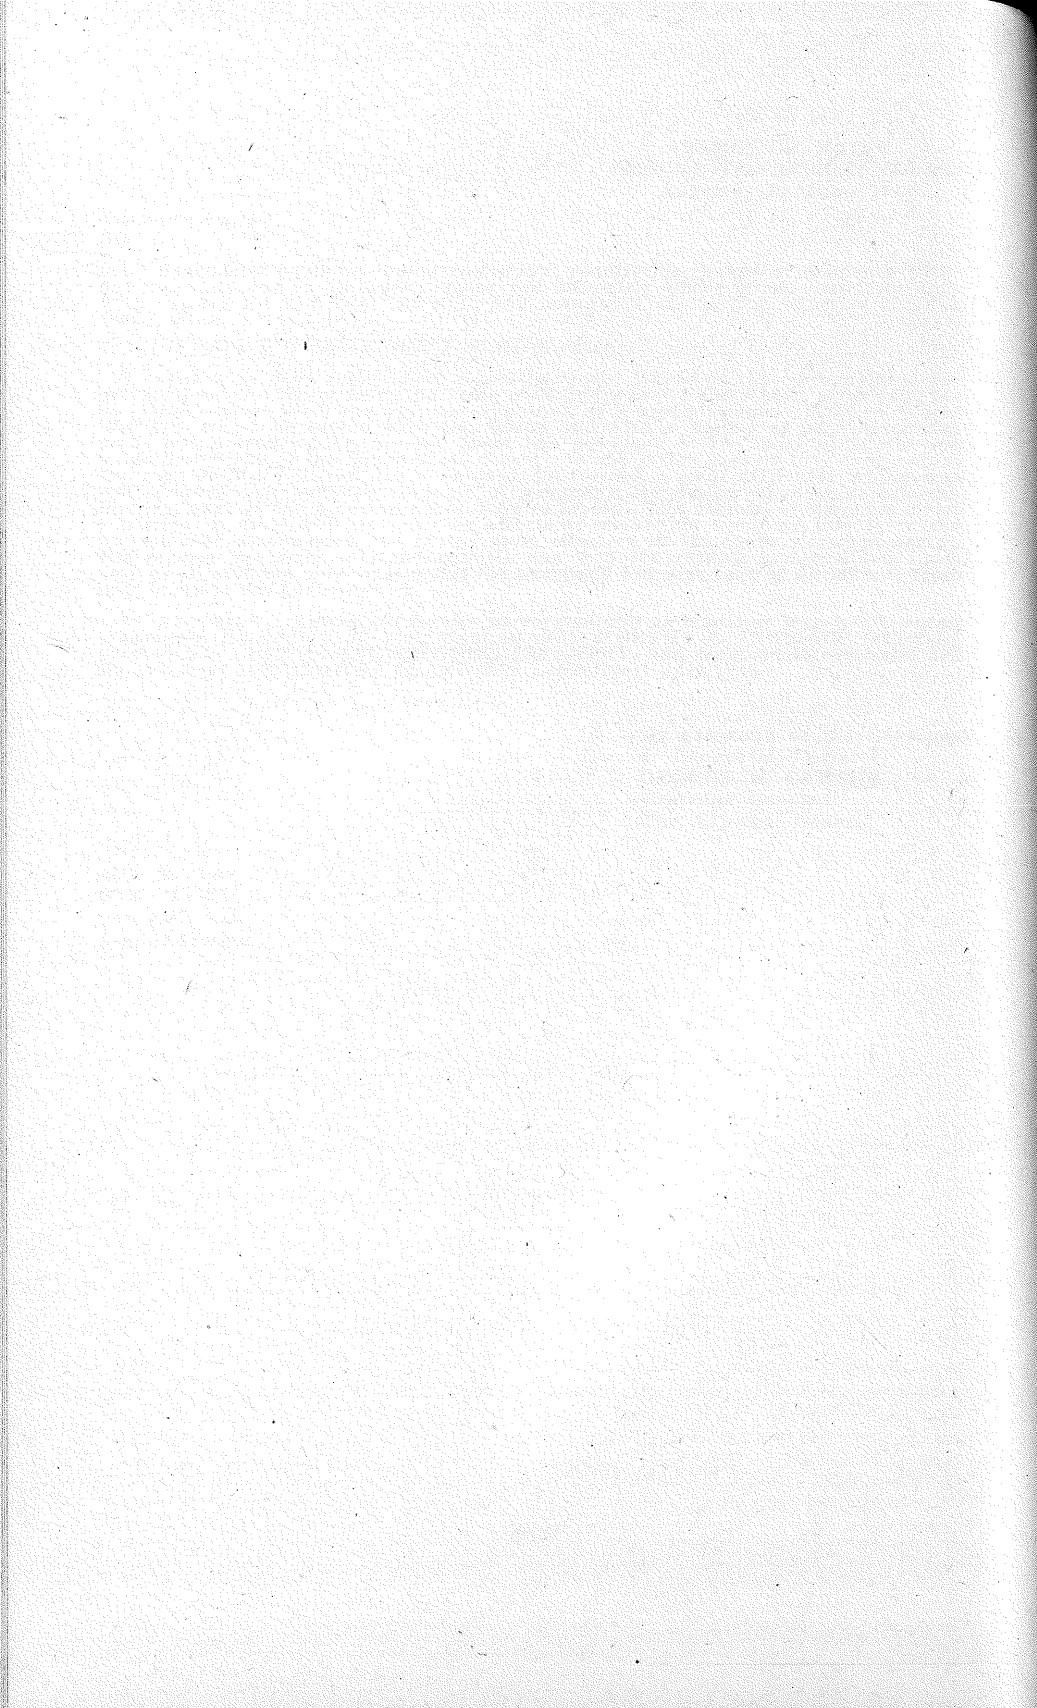

2. It is with deep regret that this department learns of the contemplated removal of Lt. Col. Hunt from the State of Maine where he has been a resident for so many years. With the experience gained as a commissioned officer in World War I in which he served with distinction and with a display of patriotism that made him a true leader, Lt. Col. Hunt has been one of the most energetic and valuable officers of the Maine State Guard. In the latter part of 1940 even before the regular State Guard was organized, he formed a local drill unit which was well trained and perfectly capable of assuming its duties when it became an integral part of the accepted State defense forces. His natural energy, his strict attention to duty and his untiring efforts to make his company and later the battalion he commanded one of the most effective in the State were successful. His service has been outstanding. He has won the respect and confidence not only of all enlisted personnel under his command but also that of all officers from unit to State Headquarters.

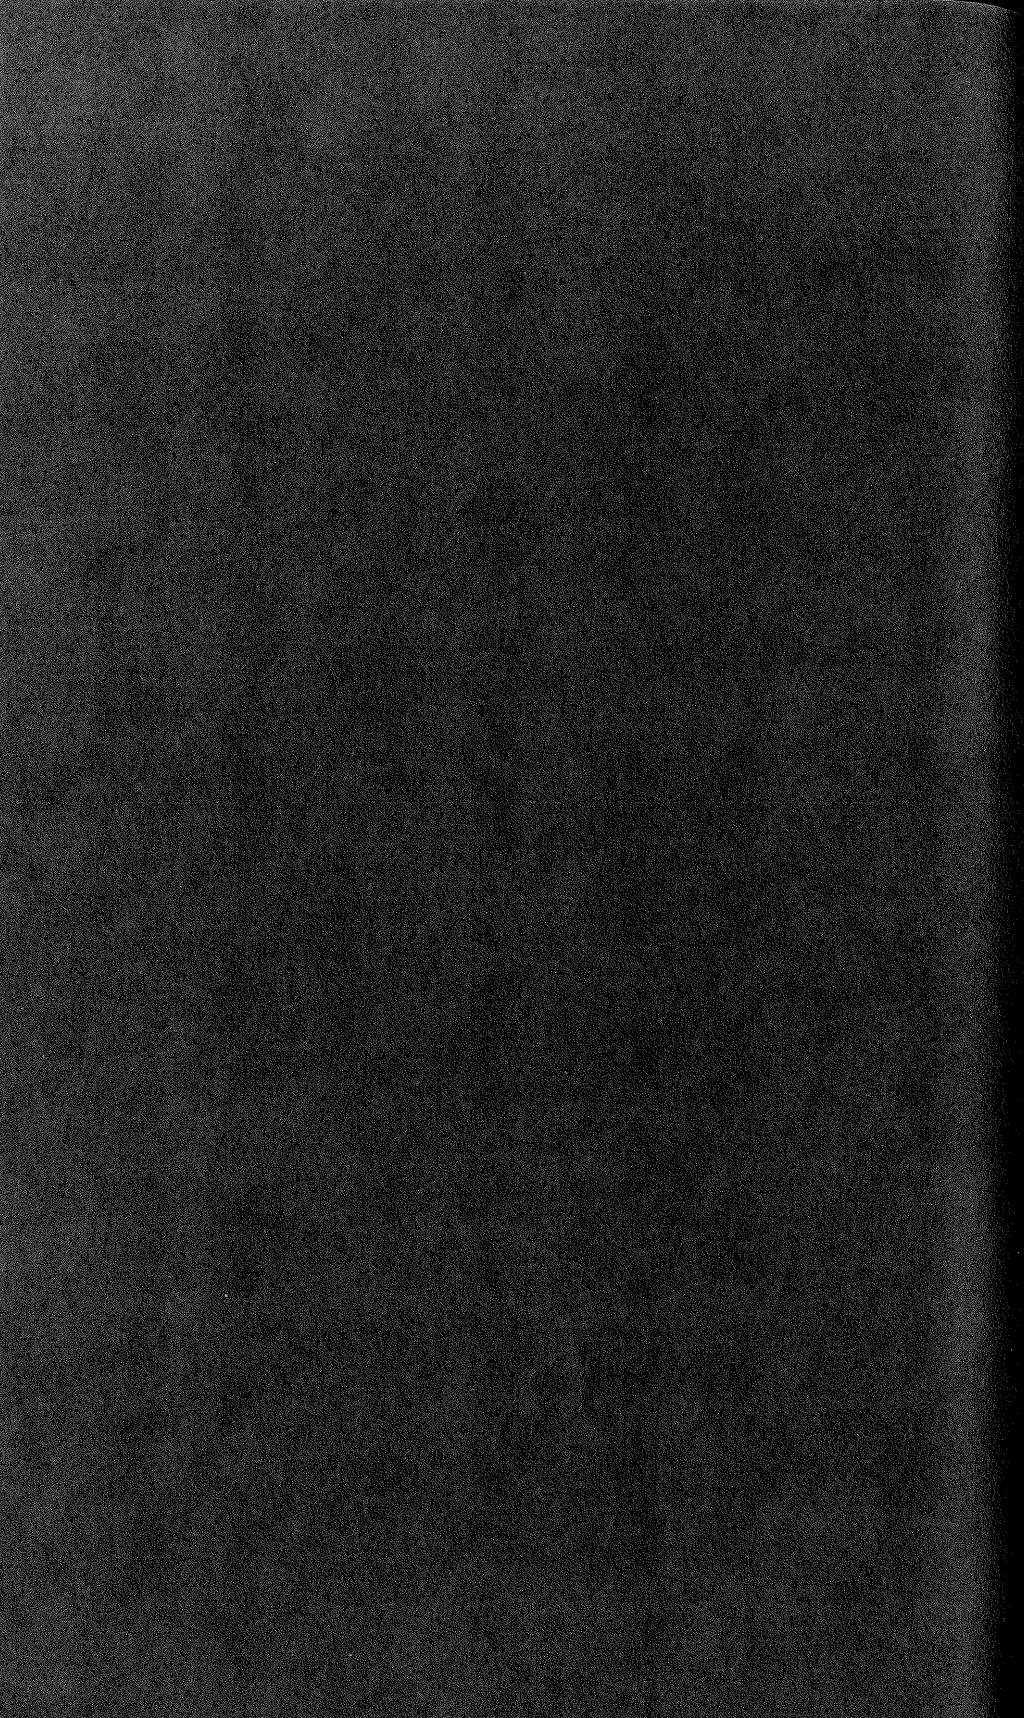

3. As a fitting reward for service performed and as a soldier who has been an invaluable assistant to Lt. Col. Hunt, MAJOR HERVEY B. JENNINGS is hereby promoted to LIEUTENANT COLONEL, INFANTRY, and assigned to command 3rd Bn 2nd Regt Inf, MSG, vice Lt. Col. Hunt, effective 1 July 1946.

HISTORY—MAINE STATE GUARD

From Its Inception to 30 June 1946

The Maine State Guard had an enviable record of achievement during World War II. Organized by authority of Congress and under a special act of the Maine Legislature, this body of men did what they were supposed to do: provided a real defense force to protect the State against invasion, insurrection and the activities of fifth columnists and saboteurs. It was also prepared for service should there be local disturbances or natural disasters.

Fortunately the State Guard was never called upon to fight an invasionary force. But the fact that there WAS a State Guard, that it was highly trained and efficient, did in the opinion of many prevent any invasion. But there were numerous occasions when this force did perform active duty, in the quelling of forest fires, in protecting property in conflagrations, in the search for lost persons.

Supported initially by the State, the Guard afterwards was given quasi recognition by the War Department and uniforms and equipment were federally provided. With this co-operation on the part of the War Department, the Maine State Guard became to all intents and purposes the Maine National Guard but without the name or the pay formerly given National Guardsmen. Then, too, no organization of the State Guard as such could be ordered into Federal service, but individuals were not exempt from the draft.

Except for the few occasions when they were called out on active duty, officers and men of the Maine State Guard served wholly without pay or compensation of any kind. Spending long hours at drills, participating in field maneuvers and over-night encampments, attending command post exercises and special schools conducted by the Federal Government, these officers and men exhibited a devotion and patriotism that were only less than that of the active armed forces.

It is estimated that the over-all membership in the Maine State Guard was in the neighborhood of 4000 men. The turn-over of personnel right from the very beginning of organization in the spring of 1941 was greater than any one dared to predict. Many men, instead of waiting to be drafted, voluntarily enlisted in the Federal Armed Forces. Hundreds of others were called through the operation of Selective Service. Practically every man or youth who gained his first military experience as a member of the Maine State Guard was glad to acknowledge his debt to the State Guard for the instruction received. The fact that preliminary training had been given in the State organization resulted in greater advancement in the Federal forces.

Up to the advent of V-E day on 6 May 1945, the State Guard maintained its strength of 2000 officers and men in a most admirable manner. Interest in the work at hand was also high. But, as was the case with industry and society in general, there was a letting-down of activity after V-E day. This was still further augmented when V-J day came on 2 September 1945.

It was felt universally that the purpose for which the State Guard had been organized had been accomplished. On top of this came announcements and regulations relative to the reorganization of the National Guard in Maine.

Some units of the Maine State Guard continued to maintain their very high degree of efficiency. If members were lost by removal of residence or some other cause, new members were secured. Officers and men alike realized that the State Guard was the only defensive force that Maine had, the only body of men who could be called upon in time of public need, disorder or natural disaster. So they decided to keep on with their training and correlated activities. "We'll stick as long as there is a State Guard," was the general comment.

In the smaller communities, however, where man-power was small, it proved impossible to maintain interest and strength. Since these places too, were for the most part communities that because of lack of population and lack of suitable armory facilities could not support a National Guard unit, it was thought best by The Adjutant General to disband these organizations and muster them out of service. The process of inactivation was leisurely carried on. The end of June 1946 found still a sizeable Maine State Guard but it was anticipated that by the end of the calendar year all of these organizations would be mustered out of service and new National Guard Units will in so far as local conditions permit be recruited for the defense of both the State and the Nation.

The impetus for the organization of the Maine State Guard was given by a law enacted by the Congress of the United States in October, 1940, which authorized the States of the Union to raise a defensive force to be known as the State Guard. No details as to the duty to be performed, the uniforms to be worn or other information were contained in this law. Many details were later set forth in Army Regulation 850-250 which was the "Bible" of all State Guard forces.

As soon as Congress had enacted this law, the military authorities under the direction of the Governor of Maine took the first steps toward the organization of the Maine State Guard. One marked limitation was as to the number of men who would form the new Guard. It was at first stipulated that the total number in Maine should not exceed 50 per cent of the total number of National Guardsmen in the State. This gave a figure of 1537 as the maximum for the new organization.

Several proposed plans were submitted for the composition of the State Guard. One of these called for the organization of an infantry brigade made up of two infantry regiments with the necessary service troops. Other plans provided for battalions as the largest tactical unit.

Under the provisions of the law enacted by Congress, each State was to plan its own tables of organization. The Maine Legislature came into regular session in January 1941 and among the first acts passed was an emergency measure creating the Maine State Guard. This was approved by Governor Sumner Sewall on February 20, 1941. In full, this measure reads as follows:

Chapter 7

AN ACT Establishing the Maine State Guard.

Emergency preamble. Whereas, a part of the National Guard of this state is in the active service of the United States and other units thereof will shortly be called into federal service and the state will be without a National Guard; and

Whereas, it is of vital importance that the state of Maine be adequately and immediately prepared for home defense and to protect its sovereignty; and

Whereas, the state of Maine must immediately provide military forces to be prepared to act in case of invasion, tumult, riot, mob, or body of men acting together by force with intent to commit a felony, or to offer violence to persons or property, or by force or violence to break and resist the laws of this state or of the United States, or of imminent danger thereof, or in the event of public disaster resulting from flood, conflagration, or tempest; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of section 16 of Article XXXI of the constitution of Maine, and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

Maine State Guard established. Chapter 18 of the revised statutes is hereby amended by adding thereto the following sections:

'Sec. 91. Authority and name. Whenever any part of the National Guard of this state is in active federal service, the governor is hereby authorized to organize and maintain within this state during such period, under such regulations as the secretary of war of the United States may prescribe for discipline in training, such military forces as the governor, as commander-in-chief, may deem necessary to defend this state and protect its sovereignty.

Such forces shall be composed of officers commissioned or assigned, and such able-bodied male citizens of the state and such other able-bodied men who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States as shall volunteer therein, who shall be more than 18 years of age and not more than 60; provided, the restriction as to citizenship shall not apply to soldiers and sailors who have previously served honestly and faithfully in the United States army, navy, marine corps, the organized militia, or the National Guard.

Such forces shall be replacements of and distinct from the National Guard and shall be known as the "Maine State Guard."

Such forces shall be uniformed, the expense thereof, exclusive of the uniform and equipment of the commissioned officers, shall be paid by the state.'

'Sec. 92. Organization; rules and regulations. The governor is hereby authorized from time to time to prescribe in rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 91 to 102 inclusive, the enlistment, designation and location of units, the organization, administration, equipment, maintenance, training and discipline of such forces; provided, that the organization shall not conflict with the laws of the United States; and further provided, such rules and regulations, insofar as he deems practicable and desirable, shall conform to existing laws governing and pertaining to the National Guard of the state and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

He shall, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the war department, appoint officers for such units and organizations of the state guard as he may establish and such officers shall, subject to removal by the commander-in-chief, exercise the same military authority over their several commands as specified by the statutes of Maine for officers of the National Guard of the state.'

'Sec. 93. Active service Maine State Guard; pay and allowances; disability compensation. All of the provisions of sections 9, 14 and 46 of this chapter not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 91 to 102 hereof inclusive, shall apply to and govern the Maine State Guard whenever such guard has been organized.

No pay will be allowed the officers and enlisted men of the Maine State Guard for drill and inspections, but nothing in this section shall be construed as to invalidate the provisions of section 46 hereof which are applicable to the Maine State Guard.

Any member of the Maine State Guard who, while in such active service as defined in section 9 of this chapter, shall receive any injury or incur or contract any disability or disease by reason of such active duty, or who shall without willful negligence on his part receive any wound, injury, or disease incident thereto while performing any lawfully ordered duty in connection therewith, which shall incapacitate him from his usual business or occupation, shall receive compensation therefor in accordance with the provisions of chapter 55, revised statutes of Maine 1930, and any amendments thereto, as an employee of the state of Maine, and the average weekly wage in such cases shall be taken to be the earning capacity of the injured in the occupation in which he is regularly engaged, and in case of death his dependents, if any, shall be entitled to compensation as provided in said chapter 55.'

'Sec. 94. Requisitions; armories; other buildings. For the use of such forces, the governor is hereby authorized to requisition from the secretary of war such arms and equipment as may be in possession of and can be spared by the war department; and to make available to such forces the facilities of state armories and their equipment and such other state premises and property as may be available.'

'Sec. 95. Use without this state. Such forces shall not be required to serve outside the boundaries of this state except:

Any organization, unit or detachment of such forces, upon order of the officer in immediate command thereof, may continue in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, enemies or enemy forces beyond the borders of this state into another state until they are apprehended or captured by such organization, unit or detachment or until the military or police forces of the other state or the forces of the United States have had a reasonable opportunity to take up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture such persons; provided, such other state shall have given authority by law for such pursuit by such forces of this state. Any such person who shall be apprehended or captured in such other state by an organization, unit or detachment of the forces of this state shall without unnecessary delay be surrendered to the military or police forces of the state in which he is taken or to the United States, but such surrender shall not constitute a waiver by this state of its right to extradite or prosecute such person for any crime committed in this state.'

'Sec. 96. Permission to forces of other states. Any military forces or organization, unit or detachment thereof, of another state who are in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, enemies, or enemy forces may continue such pursuit into this state until the military or police forces of this state or the forces of the United States have had a reasonable opportunity to take up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture such persons and are hereby authorized to arrest or capture such persons within this state while in fresh pursuit. Any such person who shall be captured or arrested by the military forces of such other state while in this state shall without unnecessary delay be surrendered to the military or police forces of this state to be dealt with according to law. This section shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this state which would otherwise be lawful.'

'Sec. 97. Federal service. Nothing in sections 91 to 102, inclusive, shall be construed as authorizing such forces, or any part thereof to be called, ordered or in any manner drafted, as such into the military service of the United States, but no person shall by reason of his enlistment or commission in any such forces be exempted from military service under any law of the United States.'

'Sec. 98. Civil groups. No civil organization, society, club, post, order, fraternity, association, brotherhood, body, union, league, or other combination of persons or civil group shall be enlisted in such force as an organization or unit.'

'Sec. 99. Disqualifications. No person shall be commissioned or enlisted in such forces who has been expelled or dishonorably discharged from any military or naval organization of this state, or of another state, or of the United States, or who has been convicted of a felony in any court of this state, or of another state, or of the United States.'

'Sec. 100. Oath of officers; enlisted men. The oath to be taken by officers commissioned and men enlisted in such forces shall be substantially in the form prescribed for officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, substituting the words Maine State Guard where necessary.'

'Sec. 101. Period of service. All officers and enlisted men shall be commissioned and/or enlisted for the period of the emergency, hereinafter defined, unless sooner discharged for the convenience of the state; provided, that such commission and/or enlistment, without the consent of such officer and/or enlisted man, shall in no event exceed 3 years.

The emergency shall be considered terminated upon the return to the state of the military units heretofore designated as the National Guard (Maine) and the resumption by such units or personnel thereof to their National Guard status at the time of induction into the federal service, whereupon the personnel of the Maine State Guard, by order of the governor, shall be discharged within 30 days after the resumption of such units of the National Guard to their status as before its induction.'

'Sec. 102. Articles of war; freedom from arrest. (a) Whenever such forces or any part thereof shall be ordered out for active service under the provisions of section 9, the articles of war of the United States applicable to members of the National Guard of this state in relation to courts-martial, their jurisdiction and the limits of punishment and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, shall be in full force and effect with respect to Maine State Guard.

(b) Every person belonging to such forces shall in all cases, except felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest while going to, remaining at, or returning from any place at which he may be required to attend for military duty.'

'Sec. 103. Severability. If any provision of sections 91 to 102 inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the said sections which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.'

'Sec. 104. Repealing clause. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.'

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this act shall take effect when approved.

Lt. Col. (later colonel) Norman E. Whitney of Bangor, who was appointed Adjutant General of Maine on February 18, 1941, compiled a table of organization for the new Guard but before this was promulgated he resigned as Adjutant General to continue with the 152d Field Artillery. Col. Lester M. Hart (Ret.), assistant Adjutant General, was appointed Acting Adjutant General and on Feb. 27, the following General Order giving the composition of the proposed State Guard was issued at the direction of Governor Sewall:

GENERAL ORDER

No. 6

STATE OF MAINE

OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

Augusta, March 13, 1941

MAINE STATE GUARD

1. The following is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

STATE OF MAINE

	Total	30	450

In addition to the above, approximately sixteen (16) officers of company grades will be selected and appointed for various other localities to aid in the training of voluntary drill units.

ELIGIBILITY

OFFICERS

In order to establish and maintain the highest possible type of commissioned officers in the Maine State Guard, all prospective officers will be appointed from the following classifications:

- (a) Active reserve officers of the United States Army not at present subject to call.
- (b) Retired officers of the regular service or the National Guard.
- (c) Officers who served as such in the World War.
- (d) Resigned, retired and inactive reserve officers subject to professional qualifications.
- (e) All others qualified under the rules of eligibility for enlistment, subject, however, to examination.

All officers under (b), (c), (d), and (e) will be subject to examination to determine their professional and physical qualifications.

ENLISTED MEN

All able-bodied male citizens of this state and such other able-bodied men who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States as have volunteered therein who shall be more than eighteen (18) years of age and not more than sixty (60); provided the restrictions as to citizenship shall not apply to soldiers and sailors who have previously served honestly and faithfully in the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, the organized Militia or the National Guard.

To be eligible for enlistment in the Maine State Guard, all men must in addition to the foregoing, have had at least one year's active service in the National Guard or three months in the regular service, i. e., Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or have served for a minimum of three months in the armed forces of the United States in time of war.

No man will be enlisted who is within the present selective service age limit except those who have been placed in Class III by the various draft boards.

SUMNER SEWALL

Governor of Maine

OFFICIAL:

L. M. HART

Col. AGD Ret.

Acting Adj. Gen.

By Order of the Governor

L. M. HART

Col. AGD Ret.

Acting Adjutant General

Within a week after the publication of this order, Col. Hart was relieved of his duty as Acting Adjutant General to resume his duties as Assistant Adjutant General and Captain George M. Carter, Field

Artillery, retired, of Caribou, was appointed The Adjutant General. General Carter immediately took steps for the organization of the various units of the new State Guard as well as for the creation of a State Guard staff. Innumerable conferences with local veterans of World War I in all sections of the State were held. As a result of these conferences the following commissioned officers were the first to be appointed to hold staff or command positions in accordance with the set-up of General Order No. 6 given above:

INITIAL RADICAL CHANGES

It is interesting to note that some radical changes in the provisions for setting up the Maine State Guard were made soon after these organization orders were published. The law as enacted by the Legislature in 1941 provided that the State should equip the members of the Guard with uniforms, EXCEPT OFFICERS.

This was manifestly unfair. On all sides it was felt that if these men who were to be officers were to give their time to the training of the State Guard and they themselves become active members of the defense forces of Maine then surely they should not be required to purchase their uniforms.

This whole matter was presented to the Maine Military Defense Commission by The Adjutant General, secretary of that organization. As a result, during the year 1941 and 1942 funds for the purchase of officers' uniforms were provided by the commission. This proved an admirable solution of an embarrassing situation.

The Legislature of 1943 had this matter presented to it and by Chapter 257 of the Public Laws of 1943, the provision as to uniforms was changed to read:

"Such forces shall be uniformed and the expense thereof shall be paid by the State."

This same chapter also made another new provision when it enacted the following:

"and further provided, that youths not less than 16 years of age, if written consent thereto is given by parents or guardian, may be enrolled in the State Guard or other authorized State Military or Naval units."

This change in requirements proved highly beneficial because there were many young men of high school age who desired to become members of the Guard. More than that, since hundreds of these would later be called into the service, of their country, by voluntary enlistment or through the selective service, an opportunity was here presented for receiving training that would be of the greatest value to them when in Federal service.

Other difficulties presented themselves in the recruiting for the new State Guard. By the provisions of GO 6 previously quoted on page 6, some rather rigid requirements were stipulated. It was found that these were too restrictive and another Order was issued on 1 May 1941 as follows:

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 14

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL
Augusta, May 1, 1941

1. So much of General Order No. 6, dated March 13, 1941, this headquarters, as pertains to the qualifications of enlisted men is hereby rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

All able-bodied male citizens of this State and such other able-bodied men who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States as have volunteered therein who shall be more than eighteen (18) years of age and not more than sixty (60); provided the restrictions as to citizenship shall not apply to soldiers and sailors who have previously served honestly and faithfully in the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps, the National Guard, R.O.T.C. or the C.M.T.C.

To be eligible for enlistment in the Maine State Guard, all men must, in lieu of the foregoing, have had at least one year's service in the National Guard or three months in the regular service, i.e., Army, Navy or Marine Corps, or have served for a minimum of three months in the armed forces of the United States in time of war, or have served at least one collegiate year in the R.O.T.C., or have performed one complete tour of duty with the C.M.T.C. Provided, however, that enlistments not exceeding twenty (20) per centum of the authorized strength of a company may be enrolled from men between the ages of eighteen (18) and twenty-one (21). Organizations are permitted to enlist additional personnel not exceeding ten per centum of the authorized strength as published in General Order No. 6.

No man will be enlisted who is within the present selective service age limits except those who have been or may be placed in Class III by the various draft boards.

The wearing of all medals, service, over-seas or wound stripes or other decorations authorized for men of the National Guard, Regular Army, Marine Corps or U. S. Navy is hereby authorized for members of the Maine State Guard.

But even this somewhat more liberal set of conditions for recruiting did not bring the results desired. On May 15, therefore, still another order was promulgated, as follows:

General Orders
No. 19

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL
Augusta, May 15, 1941

1. It had been and still is the hope of the Adjutant General that the majority of enlisted men in the Maine State Guard would be recruited from the ranks of those that had had previous military service. Directions to that effect were promulgated in General Orders No. 6 and General Orders No. 14. However, it is found that many desirable men who have not had previous military experience are applying for enlistment.

2. Owing to the fact that enlistments in some instances are not coming along as promptly as desired, and that the groups indicated in paragraph one included many men interested in offering their services; the previous service qualifications set forth in General Orders No. 6 and 14 are hereby waived until further notice from this office.

With the reduction in the minimum age to 16 for recruits and with the added liberalization through GO 19 above no further difficulty was encountered in securing recruits. In fact the response was so good that some companies actually had a waiting list.

It also became evident that the original force of 500 officers and men would be inadequate for the needs of the State. Accordingly under regulations issued by the Governor the authorized strength was increased to 1000 with new units and officers being assigned in accordance with the following orders:

OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

Augusta, March 7, 1942

1. The following additional State Guard Units are hereby authorized:

Unit	Location	Strength
		Officers	Men
Co. I	Saco	3	50
Co. K	Gardiner	3	50
Co. L	Rockland	3	50
Co. M	Belfast	3	50
Co. O	Calais	3	50
Co. R	Caribou	3	50

2. a. The status of the following additional officers is changed to that of regular State Guard Officers:

1st Lt. Frank F. Bell, Jr.	Saco, promoted to be Captain
Capt. Vernon L. Flagg	Gardiner
Capt. Laurence K. Mansfield	Rockland
Capt. Wilbur O. Colby	Belfast
Capt. Elliott R. Miles	Calais

- b. The above-named officers will recruit the organizations in their respective cities and will command the units.

3. The appointment of a suitable commanding officer in Caribou will be announced later.

* * * * *

7. Non-commissioned officers of the new companies as designated in Paragraph 1, this order, will be appointed by battalion commanders upon the recommendation of company commanders.

8. The new units, as authorized in Paragraph 1, are assigned to the following battalions and will become component parts thereof:

- a. To the 1st Battalion: Co. I, Saco; Co. K, Gardiner; Co. L, Rockland.
b. To the 2nd Battalion: Co. M, Belfast; Co. O, Calais; Co. R, Caribou.

INACTIVE STATE GUARD

Even though enlistments in the State Guard became more numerous with the liberalization of requirements, there were also losses due to change of residence because of engaging in war industries, or some other cause. The State did not like to lose the services of these men entirely so a new component the "Inactive Members" was set up as provided in G. O. No. 12, dated July 29, 1942, as follows:

General Orders
No. 12

(G. O. 12)
STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, July 29, 1942

1. Beginning 1 August 1942, a new component of the Maine State Guard will be established known as the Inactive State Guard. This will be composed of members of the Guard who because of change of residence in the State or because of business interference with their duties are unable to continue active military service, or/and original enlistments as inactive members.
2. No discharges to men of the Maine State Guard will after 31 July 1942, be given except for the following reasons:
 - a. Enlistment in regular armed forces of the United States.
 - b. Enrollment in Merchant Marine or other governmental agency not compatible with State Guard service.
 - c. Employed now in civil service position where leave may not be secured.
 - d. Change of residence out of State.
 - e. Physical disability.
 - f. Inaptness, unmilitary conduct or like offense.
 - g. Sentence of court-martial if the offense warrants it.
3. Requests for discharges for reasons other than those mentioned in Paragraph 2 above will be disregarded. Instead of discharges, members of the State Guard will be transferred to the inactive list.
4. Members on the inactive list will be honorably discharged at the expiration of their term of enlistment.
5. Organization commanders will maintain in their files a separate roll showing the inactive members and upon the expiration of a term of enlistment The Adjutant General will be notified and a discharge will be issued.
6. The total enlisted strength of a company will NOT include those on the inactive list. Inactive guardsmen will be over and above the authorized strength.
7. In those cases where a unit may be at full strength plus the ten percent overage, original enlistments in the Inactive State Guard may be made and these men may be activated when vacancies occur. Inactive guardsmen in this category may drill with their units.
8. All members of the Inactive State Guard will be subject to call, in the discretion of The Adjutant General, should an emergency develop that will warrant their return to service.
9. Inactive Guardsmen called back to active duty will be assigned to their original organization or, if not located near their original home station, to the unit nearest their new residence.
10. Copies of this order will be posted on the bulletin boards of all organizations and read to the members of each command.

By Order of the Governor
GEORGE M. CARTER
Brigadier General
The Adjutant General

Asst. Adj. Gen.

As a result of the publication of this order, a sizeable number of men were transferred to the inactive list during the succeeding months. In some cases, developments were such that a number of these men were later restored to an active status. All were available for call should an emergency arise whereby their services might be needed.

THE STATE GUARD RESERVE

During the early part of 1942 a new adjunct to the military forces of Maine came officially into being. It was the Maine State Guard Reserve. This Reserve was the outgrowth of many volunteer drill units which had no official standing.

It will be remembered that 16 September 1940, the 240th Coast Artillery was called to man the harbor defenses of Maine, primarily in and around Portland and was mobilized for a year of training.

Along about this time, in the Fall of 1940, although plans had been in progress for some time before, in the hills of Oxford County a new organization was being formed.

Who started it? Well, there were many who had a hand in it and rather than to give a partial list, it is perhaps better to say simply that because of the vision of members of the American Legion and certain other interested citizens, among them Father John F. Conoley of Hebron and Fred W. Rowell, Norway, now Commissioner of Veteran's Affairs, veterans all who sensed, perhaps more clearly than most persons what was eventually to transpire, the American Legion Brigade was formed in Oxford County.

FIRST VOLUNTEER MILITIA

This brigade, without official standing, in fact formed contrary to State Law which provides no such organization shall be formed without authority of the State, made up of men and boys of all ages from Norway, South Paris, West Paris, and Oxford armed and equipped themselves, and with uniforms furnished by the American Legion, began training themselves in the true American tradition to be ready, if the need arose, to defend their communities and their homes.

This was the first volunteer militia in the State and at about the same time or shortly after another unit of similar character was being formed in Farmington by Ernest P. Hunt, now Lieutenant Colonel Hunt.

Soon after the formation of these volunteer units others of the same nature sprang up in all sections of the State from York to Washington county and north. They were composed of earnest, patriotic men. In some cases, the optimism of the organizers matching their patriotism painted a too rosy picture of the ability of a particular community to support a drill unit of this kind.

But the spirit was there. While the official strength of the Maine State Guard had already been fixed as mentioned in General Order No. 6 in 1941, former servicemen in great measure commanded, or at least, helped organize these units. They were all earnest men and boys anxious to do all they could in the defense plans of the State.

It was decided by Governor Sumner Sewall, after consultation with Adjutant General Carter that these volunteer drill units should be officially recognized as auxiliary forces. They were accordingly given the name of "State Guard Reserve", the commanding officers of which were to be appointed by the Governor. The conditions surrounding the organization and maintenance of the Reserve units were set forth in the following:

STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 26 May 1942

MEMORANDUM NO. 18

1. The following regulations for the organization and government of the Maine State Guard Reserve have been compiled and are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

1. State Guard Reserve companies or smaller units will be organized on the request of town officials or some other responsible agency and then only after approval of and authority from The Adjutant General.
2. No organization not approved and authorized by The Adjutant General will be permitted in the State.
3. Units may be sponsored by patriotic, veterans' or other organizations or by the officials of the town where located.
4. State Guard Reserve units will be under the direct control of The Adjutant General, but for tactical, training or administrative purposes they may, upon order from The Adjutant General, be under the supervision of a State Guard officer in the immediate geographical area where the Reserve unit is located.
5.
 - a. Commanding officers will be commissioned as such in the State Guard Reserve by the Governor. They will, so far as possible, be men with some military experience.
 - b. Junior officers will be elected by members of the units.
 - c. Non-commissioned officers and privates first class will be appointed by company commanders.
6. Enlistments of all personnel will be for the duration of the war and six months thereafter unless sooner relieved for cause of the termination of the emergency so far as the need of a local unit is concerned.
7. Persons now enrolled for active duty under the Civilian Defense Commission will not be enlisted in the State Guard Reserve.
8. The following conditions will govern the active use of the State Guard Reserve:
 - a. Units will not be called to active duty except by the Governor, the sheriff of the county, the Mayor of a city or the chairman of the board of selectmen of a town.
 - b. Accidents, injuries or illness due directly to active service will be compensated for by the agency calling the units to active duty. The State will be liable only in those cases where the call has been issued by the Governor.
 - c. All service will be rendered without pay.
10. The strength of all units will be fifty men. If more than that number are needed in any community, an additional company or companies of the same strength may be formed.
11. In communities where less than a full company may be raised, a platoon will be formed. This platoon will be joined to other platoons in the vicinity to form a company. Drills in cases of this nature will be by platoons with frequent assemblies by the company if distance and transportation permit.
12. Drill halls will be provided by local sponsors.
13. All units will be equipped locally.

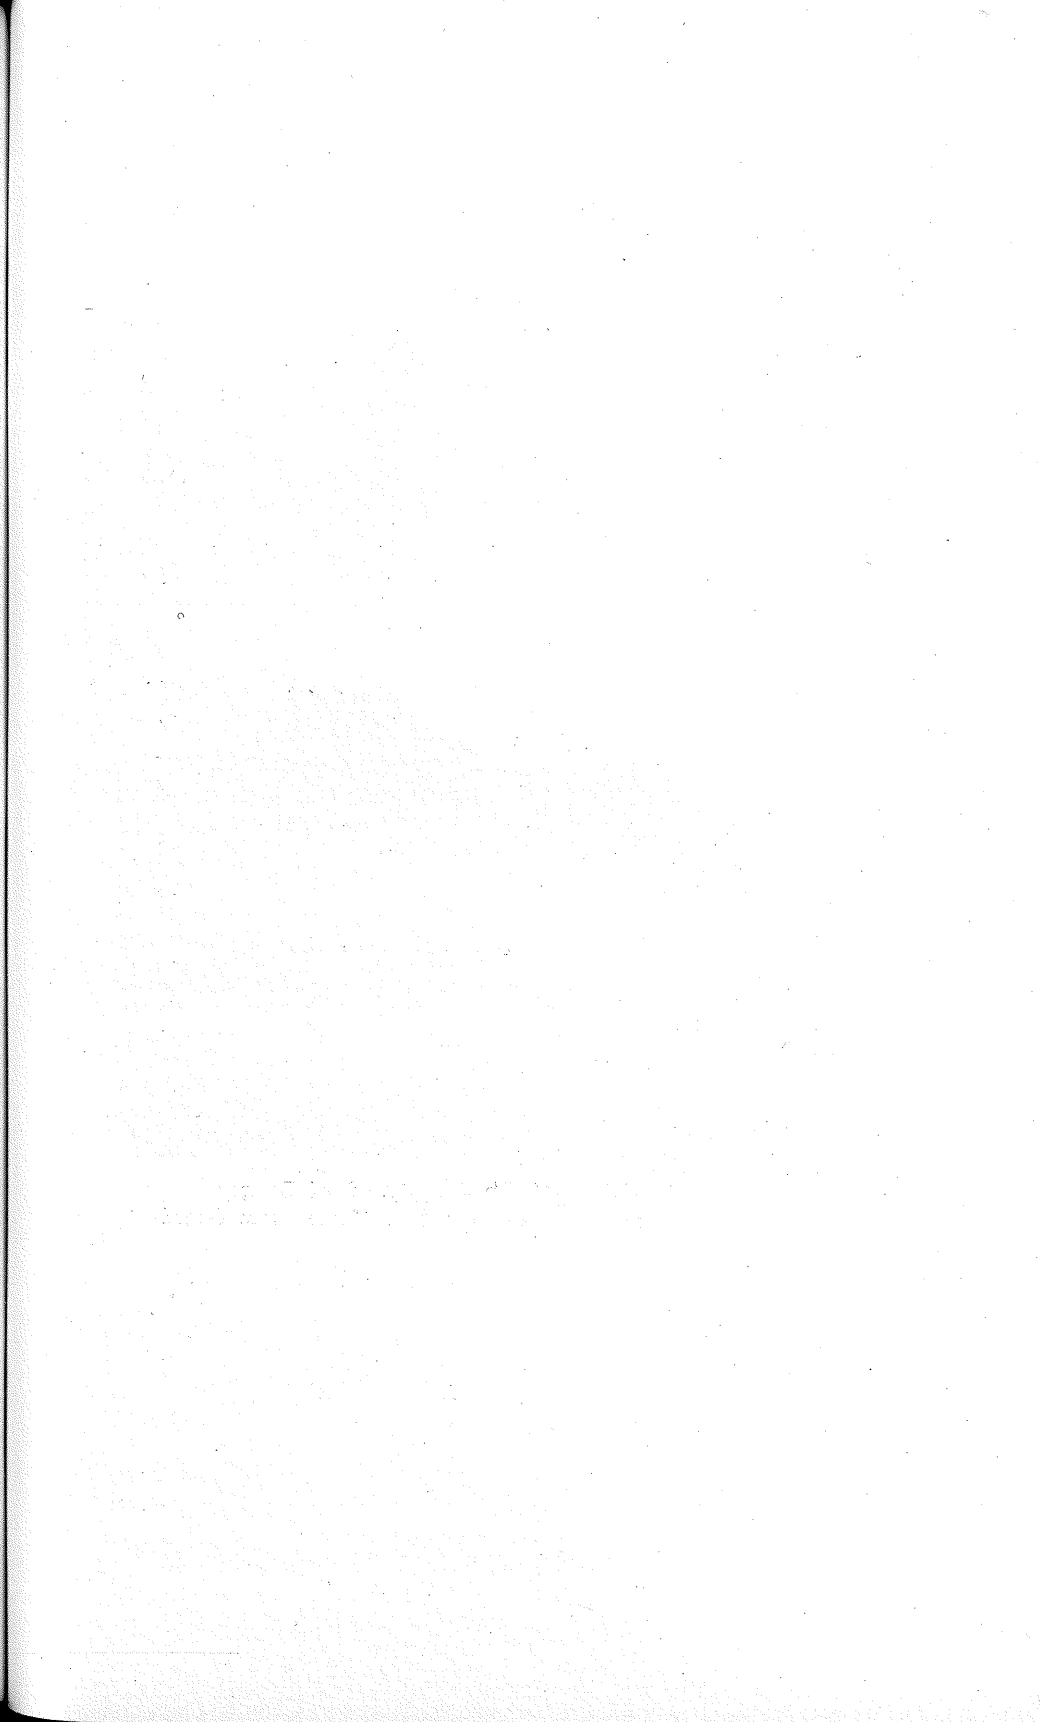

- a. Uniforms are desirable and when secured all members of each company will be attired alike.
- b. Officers will wear the same style uniform as the men but will wear their insignia of rank. Officers' uniforms must be distinct from those of the Maine State Guard or those of the officers of the armed forces of the United States.
14. The State will furnish suitable shoulder patches or other identifying insignia.
15. The minimum age for enlistment will be 18 years. There will be no maximum age.
16. Weapons for enlisted personnel will be either rifles or shotguns.
17. Upon the completion of the recruitment of any unit, the commanding officer thereof will immediately notify The Adjutant General who will, either by himself or by some officer designated by him, inspect the company and muster it into the service of the State by the administration of the proper oath.
18. A physical examination, limited in scope, will be made of each State Guard Reservist.
19. Training.
 - a. General training programs will be issued by The Adjutant General.
 - b. Close and extended order will be an essential part of this program.
 - c. Older members of the State Guard Reserve will be given no more drilling than necessary to maintain discipline and to give each member an adequate appreciation of his responsibilities, duties and obligations.
20. Reports of drills held and strength of units will be made monthly to The Adjutant General upon forms provided by the State.
21. In so far as circumstances warrant and will permit, frequent inspections of units will be made by a representative of The Adjutant General.
22. Competent officers, when available, will assist commanding officers of local State Guard Reserve units in carrying out the provisions of the training schedule.
23. On the basis of a fifty man company, the organization will be as follows:
 - a.

Captain	1
1st Lieutenant	1
2nd Lieutenant	1
1st Sergeant	1
Sgts.	6
Cpls.	7
Pvts. 1cl.	12
Pvts.	24
 - b. Squads will be from seven to twelve men in number.
 - c. Platoons will be two or three to a company.
 - d. Non-commissioned officers in separate platoons will be in the same proportion to the number of non-commissioned officers in a company as the strength of the separate platoon is to the strength of the fifty-man company.
 - e. All organizations will be permitted to enlist ten percent over the strength specified above. This ten percent will not, however, affect the number of non-commissioned officers or privates first class.
 - f. In the case of companies under a strength of fifty men, the proportion of privates first class to privates will not be greater than one to two.

By command of Brigadier General Carter

L. M. HART
Colonel, A.G.D., Retired
Assistant Adjutant General

In all 43 units of the State Guard Reserve were organized. Many of these were later taken into the regular State Guard when authority was given to increase the size of the "regular force". The Reserve units were placed directly under the control of Region Commanders for training purposes. While the uniforms and other equipment of these organizations were provided locally, the State did furnish them with ammunition and identifying shoulder patches.

CHANGES IN DEFENSE AREAS

Shortly after the mobilization of the Maine National Guard, the designation of the New England area was changed by the War Department from the First Corps Area to the First Service Command. Major General Sherman Miles, USA, was placed in command.

For the active defense of this section of the country, New England was divided into districts of which Maine was District No. 1. Lt. Col. (later Colonel) Charles L. Stephenson who had been on duty in Rhode Island in command of the district there was transferred to be the commanding officer of District No. 1 with headquarters in Augusta. Col. Stephenson opened his office during the summer of 1942.

Among the first acts performed by this officer in co-operation with The Adjutant General was to divide the State into two areas as provided in the following:

General Orders
No. 15

STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, September 11, 1942

1. The following changes of assignments of companies of the Maine State Guard are hereby announced, effective September 14, 1942:
Company F of Waterville is transferred from the 2nd Battalion to the 1st Battalion.
Company L of Rockland is transferred from the 1st Battalion to the 2nd Battalion.
2. Commanding officers of these units will make their reports and recommendations for non-commissioned officers in accordance with their new assignments.
3. For the purposes of training and tactical disposition in case of emergency the State of Maine is divided into two areas, effective September 14, 1942, each under battalion control as follows:
1st Battalion—York, Cumberland, Sagadahoc, Lincoln, Androscoggin, Oxford, Franklin, Somerset and Kennebec Counties.

2nd Battalion—Knox, Hancock, Waldo, Washington, Penobscot, Piscataquis and Aroostook Counties.

4. All State Guard Reserve Units in the counties assigned to the 1st Battalion will be under the control of the commanding officer, 1st Battalion, in event of emergency.

5. All State Guard Reserve Units in the counties assigned to the 2nd Battalion will be under the control of the commanding officer, 2nd Battalion, in event of emergency.

6. State Guard Units will be used for local service in accordance with regulations already published except in the case of grave emergency.

By Order of the Governor:

GEORGE M. CARTER
Brigadier General
The Adjutant General

OFFICIAL:

L. M. HART
Col. AGD Ret.
Asst. Adj. Gen.

The plan for areas was changed within six months and a more diversified command system was set up in the expectation that greater freedom of movement, speed in mobilization and more intensive training could be done. With this in mind, the area system was abandoned and the State was divided into ten regions. This change was authorized by the following memorandum:

STATE OF MAINE
Office of the Adjutant General
Augusta

25 February 1943

MEMORANDUM NO. 9

Subject: Creation of Regions

1. The First Service Command has approved the abolishment of the former military areas in the State of Maine and the creation in their stead of Regions.

2. The following ten regions, with the units located in each and the regional commanders assigned to command them are hereby prescribed:

Region	Counties	Units	Commander
1	York and Cumberland Counties	Hq. Co., 1st Bn., MSG, Portland Co. A, MSG, Portland Co. C, MSG, Sanford Co. I, MSG, Saco 17th Co., MSGR, Scarborough 18th Co., MSGR, Westbrook Kezar Falls Platoon, MSGR, Kezar Falls	Lt. Col. David E. Hayes Command Post—Stevens Avenue Armory, Portland

3. Those officers designated as region commanders will act in that capacity under all phases of the ABC plan unless orders to the contrary are issued by the Adjutant General. Region commanders will receive their movement or field orders from the area commander of the Adjutant General.

4. Areas consisting of one or more regions will be designated by the Commanding General, First Service Command, when deemed necessary under the operation of the ABC plan.

5. The area commander or commanders will be designated by the Commanding General, First Service Command.

6. It is expected and it is directed that, should any emergency arise in any region the seriousness of which calls for immediate action, unit commanders and region commanders will exercise their discretion in meeting the situation and immediately advise the Adjutant General of the steps taken or to be taken. Region commanders and unit commanders would at all times keep in mind the original mission assigned an organization under the provisions of Secret Field Orders No. 1, AGO Maine, dated August 12, 1942.

7. Recognizing the fact that there are many vital installations in the State of Maine necessary to the war effort, the Adjutant General will in assigning missions to organizations in Regions 6, 7, 8 and 9 make such disposition of troops as will not endanger or unduly expose to enemy attention installations in the regions mentioned.

GEORGE M. CARTER
Brigadier General
The Adjutant General

In January 1944, what had been the State Headquarters Company and the State Service Company were consolidated into the State Headquarters and Service Company with headquarters in Augusta. Captain Langdon W. Wilson was relieved of the command of the Headquarters Company and assigned to the State Guard Staff and Captain George C. Murphy at his own request and because of business reasons was relieved of command of the Service Company. Captain Perry T. Maddocks of Waterville was transferred from the inactive list to the active list and placed in command of the new consolidated unit. All other commissioned and enlisted personnel were transferred to the new Headquarters and Service Company. The following was the Tables of Organization for this unit:

	Headquarters Platoon	Weapons Platoon	Communication Platoon	Trans. & Supply Platoon	TOTAL

(a) Lieutenants are assigned by Company Commander to Command Platoons

(b) Is First Sergeant

(c) Is Supply Sergeant

(d) Includes Company Clerk

In the interest of unification of command and unity of purpose in training, another change in the formation of the State Guard took place in May 1944. The ten regions were abolished in favor of only two and authority was granted for the increase of the State Guard to 2000 officers and enlisted men. These new plans gave opportunity to activate many reserve companies and make them "regulars". These changes were set forth in the following series of General Orders:

General Orders

No. 6

(G. O. 6)

STATE OF MAINE

Office of The Adjutant General

Augusta, 17 May 1944

1. In accordance with the provisions of War Department, National Guard Bureau letter, 2nd Inf. dated 10 April 1944, to letter AGO Maine, dated 3 April 1944 as confirmed and authorized by letter from the Governor of Maine dated 31 March, 1944, the Maine State Guard is hereby increased to a strength of 2000 commissioned officers and men.

2. The present division of the State into ten regions is hereby dissolved and in place thereof two regions are created, as follows:

- a. (1) Region No. 1 with headquarters at Lewiston to consist of the counties of Androscoggin, Cumberland, Franklin, Kennebec, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, Somerset, Oxford and York.
- (2) LT. COL. RALPH B. SKINNER of Auburn is hereby appointed Commanding Officer of Region 1.

- b. (1) Region No. 2 with headquarters at Bangor to consist of the counties of Aroostook, Hancock, Knox, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Waldo and Washington.
 - (2) LT. COL. WILLIAM E. SOUTHARD of Bangor is hereby appointed Commanding Officer of Region 2.
 - c. Each Region Headquarters will consist of the following:
A Commanding Officer with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.
An Executive Officer with the rank of Major.
A Captain for general staff duty who will also command.
A Headquarters Detachment consisting of 15 enlisted men.
 - d. Authority is hereby granted Region Commanding Officers to enlist their respective headquarters detachments as authorized.
3. The Maine State Guard will in the future consist of six Battalions with headquarters as follows:
- | | |
|------------|---------------|
| Portland | 1st Battalion |
| Norway | 2nd Battalion |
| Augusta | 3rd Battalion |
| Farmington | 4th Battalion |
| Bangor | 5th Battalion |
| Houlton | 6th Battalion |
4. Each Battalion will consist of the following:
- a. Battalion Headquarters:
 - (1) Commanding Officer with the rank of Major.
 - (2) An Executive Officer with the rank of Captain.
 - (3) An Adjutant with the rank of Captain or First Lieutenant who will also act as S-1 and S-4.
 - (4) S-2 with the rank of First Lieutenant.
S-3 with the rank of First Lieutenant.
 - b. Headquarters Company of 45 men including a Medical Detachment of 12 enlisted men.
 - c. Such rifle companies consisting of 50 enlisted men each and such other combat units as may be assigned by The Adjutant General.
5. a. In so far as conditions permit, new units will be activated from State Guard Reserve companies now existing. Efficiency in training, geographical location and armory facilities will in great measure determine the basis for this activation.
- b. Officers made surplus by the consolidation or activation of Reserve units will be given staff or other assignments.
6. a. All enlisted personnel of State Guard Reserve units that are activated will be given honorable discharges from the Reserve by unit commanders.
- b. Enlisted personnel in Reserve units NOT activated will continue as members of their organizations. These companies may be attached to battalions for training.
- c. New enlistment papers for enrollment in the State Guard will be accomplished by such discharged Reserve personnel as desire to be enrolled in State Guard organizations.
- d. All enlistments in the State Guard by former members of the Reserve and all new enlistments and reenlistments by present units of the State Guard will be in accordance with Sections 91 and 101 of the Military Laws of Maine unless otherwise directed by The Adjutant General.
- e. Discharges from the State Guard previous to expiration of the term of enlistment will be given for only those reasons set forth in National Guard Regulations No. 25.
- f. Members of Reserve organizations desiring to enroll in the State Guard will not be required to take a new physical examination provided there is no change in their physical condition as reported at the time of enlistment in the Reserve. In such cases, the commanding officer or recruiting officer of the unit concerned under the heading of "Physical Examination" will report: "Physical Examination Waived." No change from report as member of State Guard Reserve.
- g. All members of the State Guard Reserve who are interested are desired for enlistment in the State Guard but they must be competent and must measure up to the high standards set for the State Guard.
7. All commissioned officers rendered surplus by the activation or consolidation of Reserve units will be given staff or other assignments. These officers will be issued State Guard Commissions.
8. a. Battalion commanders will be responsible for monthly reports of strength and training. These reports will be made out in quadruplicate by company commanders on NGB Form 101. Three copies will be forwarded to the battalion commander who, after making his own consolidation, will forward all three copies to The Adjutant General. The fourth copy will be retained in the company file.

b. Separate reports for Battalion and Battalion Headquarters Company will be compiled and submitted with unit reports to The Adjutant General.

c. Upon receipt of the company reports, Battalion Commanders will make a compilation IN TRIPLICATE of these returns to which will be added the report of Battalion Headquarters. This compilation will list all units in the Battalion with the actual strength and authorized strength of each as of midnight on the last day of the month for which the report is rendered. One copy of this compiled report will be sent to The Adjutant General with the individual reports of the companies of the battalion; one copy will be sent to the Region Commander and the third copy will be retained in the files of Battalion Headquarters.

d. All monthly reports of strength and duty performed must be submitted to Battalion Commanders not later than the 8th day of the month following the month for which the report is rendered. Battalion commanders will forward these reports to The Adjutant General so that they will be received not later than the 12th day of the month following the month for which the report is rendered.

e. State Guard Reserve organizations attached to Battalions will continue to render their monthly returns of strength directly to The Adjutant General at Augusta. These reports must be received not later than the 12th day of the month following the month for which the report is made.

9. All non-commissioned officers will be appointed by Battalion Commanders upon recommendation of Company Commanders and appropriate warrants will be issued by the Battalion Commanders.

10. The designation of the present 2nd Battalion, Maine State Guard, is hereby changed to 5th Battalion, Maine State Guard.

11. The organization of a new 2nd Battalion, Maine State Guard, with headquarters at Norway is hereby authorized and officially recognized as such to date from 15 May 1944.

12. Company B, Maine State Guard, is hereby detached from 1st Battalion, Maine State Guard and attached to 2nd Battalion, with the same designation.

13. All Reserve Units as designated below will be mustered out of service and their personnel enlisted in the new organizations, so that the new 2nd Battalion will consist of:

a. 2nd Company, MSGR, of South Paris, to be Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, Maine State Guard.

b. 1st Company, MSGR, of Norway and Headquarters Company, Oxford Battalion, to be Company A, 2nd Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Norway.

c. Company B, MSG, of Lewiston, to be Company B, 2nd Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Lewiston.

d. 5th Company, MSGR, of Rumford, to become Company C, 2nd Battalion, MSG, with Medical Detachment and Oxford Battalion Band attached.

e. 19th Company, MSGR, of Auburn, to be Company D, 2nd Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Auburn.

f. 14th Company, MSGR, of Mechanic Falls to be Company E, 2nd Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Mechanic Falls.

g. 3rd Company, MSGR, of Bryant Pond; 4th Company, MSGR, of Bethel; 6th Company, MSGR, of West Paris and 21st Company, MSGR, of Lisbon Falls, will continue as Reserve organizations but will be attached to 2nd Battalion, MSG, for training.

14. MAJOR HENRY A. EMERY, MSGR, is hereby transferred to the Maine State Guard in rank, and is designated as Commanding Officer, 2nd Battalion, MSG. He is directed to make such plans and issue such orders as may be necessary for the activation of 2nd Battalion, Maine State Guard.

15. The organization of the 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, with headquarters at Farmington is hereby authorized and officially recognized as such to date from 15 May 1944.

16. All Reserve Units as designated below will be mustered out of service and their personnel enlisted in new organizations as follows:

a. 9th Company, MSGR, of Wilton; Headquarters Company, Franklin Battalion, MSGR, of Farmington and Medical Unit, Franklin Battalion, MSGR, to be Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion, MSG, and the Androscoggin Band attached, with headquarters at Wilton.

b. 11th Company, MSGR, of Skowhegan, to be Company A, 4th Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Skowhegan.

c. 7th Company, MSGR, of Strong and 25th Company, MSGR, of Phillips, to be Company B, MSG, with headquarters at Strong.

d. 16th Company, MSGR, of Livermore Falls, to be Company C, 4th Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Livermore Falls.

e. 8th Company, MSGR, of Farmington, to be Company D, 4th Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Farmington.

f. 22nd Company, MSGR, of Hartland and Newport, to be Company E, 4th Battalion, MSG, with headquarters at Hartland.

17. MAJOR ERNEST P. HUNT, MSGR, is hereby appointed Commanding Officer, 4th Battalion, MSG, and is directed to make such plans and issue such orders as may be necessary for the activation of 4th Battalion, MSG.

18. Orders authorizing the formation and activation of other Battalions will be published later.

19. It is directed that immediate steps be taken to complete the reorganization of the Maine State Guard as set forth in preceding paragraphs in order that a complete report of the increased strength may be rendered as of 31 May 1944 and thus enable requisitions for additional equipment to be filed at the earliest possible date.

MANY PROMOTIONS

General promotions were made during the latter part of 1944 as a result of a survey made of the State Guards in other states. These changes were embodied in the following General Order:

General Orders
No. 18

(G. O. 18)
STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 6 December 1944

1. During the past few months The Adjutant General has been making a thorough and exhaustive inquiry relative to the organization of State Guard Troops in other states. It has been found that, while the tables of organization as formulated by the respective states, provide for personnel far less than the war strength of an infantry battalion as set forth for the Army of the United States and the United States Army, there are many states that follow the Federal tables of organization in so far as the battalion staffs are concerned. It is evident, too, in the State of Maine, that, while battalions numerically may not equal the Federal forces, from an organizational point of view they have more units. It has, therefore, been decided that increased rank should be given State Staff, Battalion and Region Commanding and Executive officers.

2. All previous tables of organization as pertain to the officers noted above are hereby rescinded and new tables adopted as follows:

Region Commanders to be full Colonels
Executive officers of Regions to be Lieutenant Colonels
Battalion and State Guard Staff officers to be Lieutenant Colonels

3. The following promotions of State Guard Officers are therefore announced: Effective 12 November 1944:

To be LIEUTENANT COLONEL:

MAJOR GEORGE T. MARCHILDON, Ordnance Department Augusta

Effective 1 January 1945:

To be COLONELS:

LT. COL. WILLIAM E. SOUTHARD, Infantry

Two very important changes were made during the first part of 1945. These involved new tables of organization and the abandonment entirely of the region plan. It was felt that by having region commanders become regimental commanders there would be more authority attained and relations with civil authorities would be strengthened. These changes were embodied in the following two General Orders:

General Orders
 No. 29

(G. O. 29)
 STATE OF MAINE
 Office of The Adjutant General
 Augusta 11 July 1945

1. Revised Tables of Organization for all units of the Maine State Guard, exclusive of State Guard Staff, Region Headquarters Staffs and Battalion Headquarters Staffs, are published herewith for the information, guidance and compliance of all concerned.
2. These Revised Tables of Organization are effective as of 15 July 1945.
3. All organizations will at once revise the ratings of their personnel in accordance with these tables.
 - a. In those cases where promotions of enlisted personnel are required to conform to these new tables the necessary orders effecting the change will be issued upon recommendation of the proper authorities.
 - (1) The Adjutant General will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers in the Headquarters and Service Company and the State Medical Detachment upon recommendation of the respective commanders of these units.
 - (2) Region Commanders will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers of the Region Headquarters Detachment upon recommendation of the acting commanding officer of these detachments.
 - (3) Battalion Commanders will issue warrants for non-commissioned officers of Battalion Headquarters Companies, Rifle Companies, and Heavy Weapons Companies upon recommendation of the respective commanding officers of these units.
 - b. In those organizations where the ratings of enlisted men are higher than authorized in these tables or where there are more enlisted men of a grade than authorized no reductions in grade will be made. Enlisted men will continue in the grade they occupy until relieved from duty by discharge or some other cause. No vacancy due to causes of this nature will be filled.
 - c. Privates First Class will be appointed by unit commanders. The number of Privates First Class will be in the ratio of one (1) for every two (2) privates.

4. The Table of Organization for Heavy Weapons Companies as published in Memorandum No. 65 AGO Me., dated 16 May 1945 remains unchanged.

General Orders
No. 33

(G. O. 33)
STATE OF MAINE
Office of The Adjutant General
Augusta, 24 August 1945

1. Effective 1 September 1945 the Regional organization of the Maine State Guard will be discontinued. In its place will be a regimental organization.
2. The Maine State Guard will consist of two infantry regiments plus such State Headquarters troops as now exist. These latter comprise the State Headquarters and Service Company and the State Medical Detachment both with headquarters at Augusta and under the direct command of The Adjutant General.
3. a. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment Region 1 will be known as Headquarters and Headquarters Company 1st Regiment Infantry, Maine State Guard.
b. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Region 2, will be known as Headquarters and Headquarters Company 2d Regiment Infantry, Maine State Guard.
c. All personnel of at-present regional headquarters organizations are transferred to regimental status without change of rank or grade, effective 1 September 1945.
4. The 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will be transferred from control of Region 1 to Region 2 and will become a component of 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
5. The 4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, and the 5th and 6th Battalions, Maine State Guard will be re-designated as follows:
5th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 1st Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
6th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 2d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
4th Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
6. The 1st, 2d and 3d Battalions, Maine State Guard, will be designed respectively as follows:
1st Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 1st Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
2d Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 2d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
3d Battalion, Maine State Guard, will become 3d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, Maine State Guard.
7. All rifle and weapons companies will retain their letter designation as at present. Reference to all companies, both headquarters and lettered, will give the name of the company, the battalion and the regiment. The following are examples:
Headquarters Company, 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, MSG
Co. A, 2d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, MSG
Co. A, 3d Battalion, 2d Regiment, Infantry, MSG
Co. A, 3d Battalion, 1st Regiment, Infantry, MSG
8. Region Headquarters Detachments which become Regimental Headquarters Companies will retain and continue their present organization pending further orders.
9. In accordance with National Guard procedure, all warrants for non-commissioned officers will be issued by regimental commanders for their respective regiments upon recommendation of company commanders through channels.
10. All discharges for whatever cause will continue to be issued by The Adjutant General until further orders.
11. All transfers of personnel between units will be ordered by The Adjutant General upon proper application through channels.
12. Monthly strength reports will be submitted by companies through channels to regimental headquarters and regimental headquarters will render a consolidated report to The Adjutant General so that this report will be received by The Adjutant General not later than the 15th of the month following the month for which the report is rendered.
13. Requisitions for equipment and supplies will be made directly by units to The Adjutant General, attention State Property Officer or State Ordnance Officer according to the class of supplies or equipment needed, except when on active duty in connection with field training.
14. Immediate action will be taken by all staff and commanding officers concerned to put into effect provisions of the foregoing paragraphs.

THE COMPLETION OF THE NEW ORGANIZATION

The new organization was completed by the mustering out of the 27th Co. Reserve, and the enlistment of its members into the Headquarters Company, 3d Bn., 1st Regt. Inf., MSG by the provisions of GO No. 6 AGO Me. dated 26 Feb. 1945. The new company officially became active on 15 March 1945.

RECRUITING WEEK

Because of the great inroads made in the personnel of the State Guard by inductions into the Federal Armed Forces, companies in some sections of the State were having difficulty in maintaining the required strength. It was thought that a State-wide Recruiting Week would be beneficial.

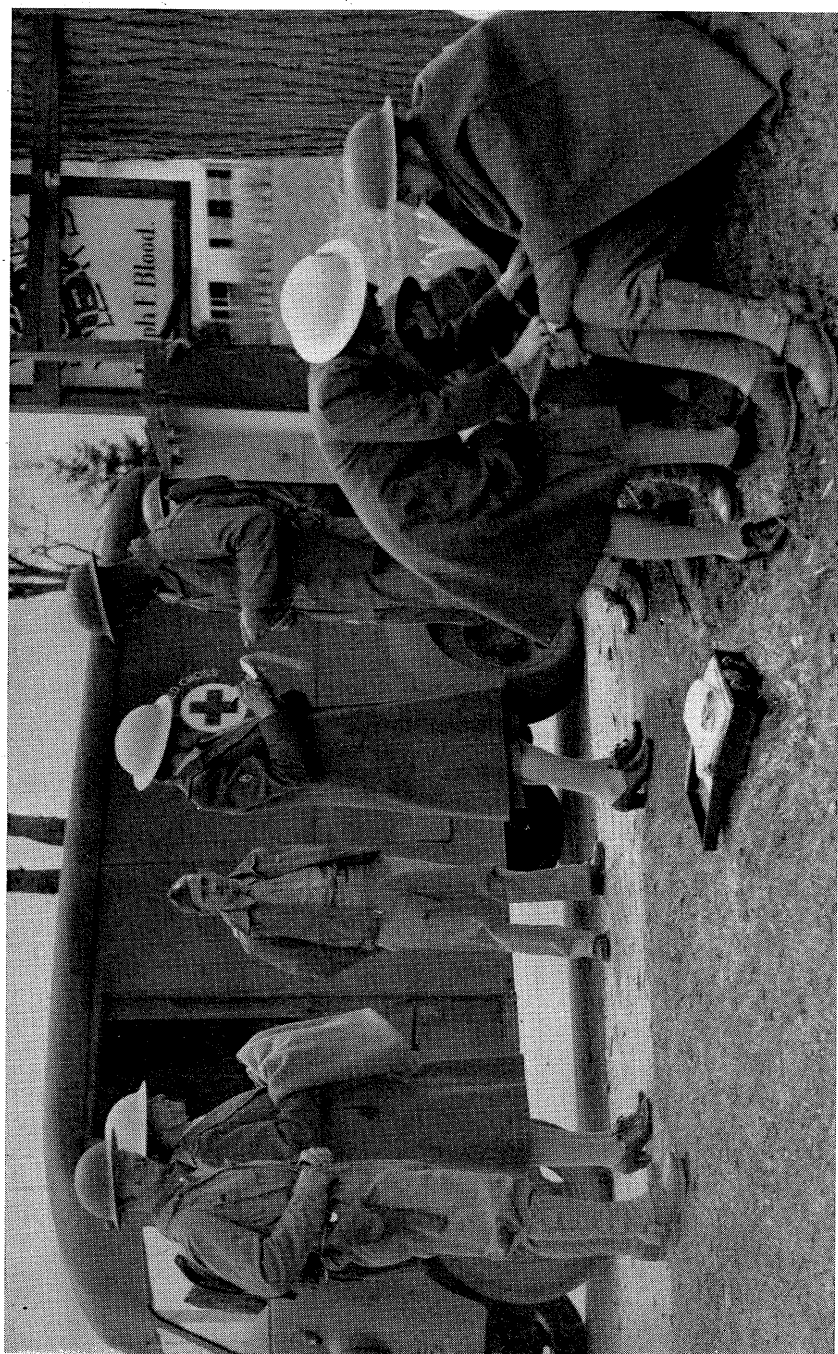

Governor Horace A. Hildreth accordingly issued a proclamation designating the week of 29 April to 5 May 1945 as Recruiting Week. GO No. 15 AGO Me. dated 12 April 1945 supported this proclamation of the Governor. Four color posters were printed for the event and these were liberally displayed in all sections of the State. The design for this poster was furnished by The Forbes Lithograph Co. and the use of it was made without charge through the generosity of Mr. H. M. Hillery of that corporation. His Company was unable, because of the press of government work, to do the actual lithographing; this was performed by a Maine concern.

In Portland a street booth was set up for the signing of recruits. Bangor had a booth in one of the big stores. Practically every community did something to sign up new men. Among the methods used to attract attention were window displays showing the equipment used by the State Guard.

The general effect of Recruiting Week was satisfactory and enough new men were enlisted to make it even worth while.

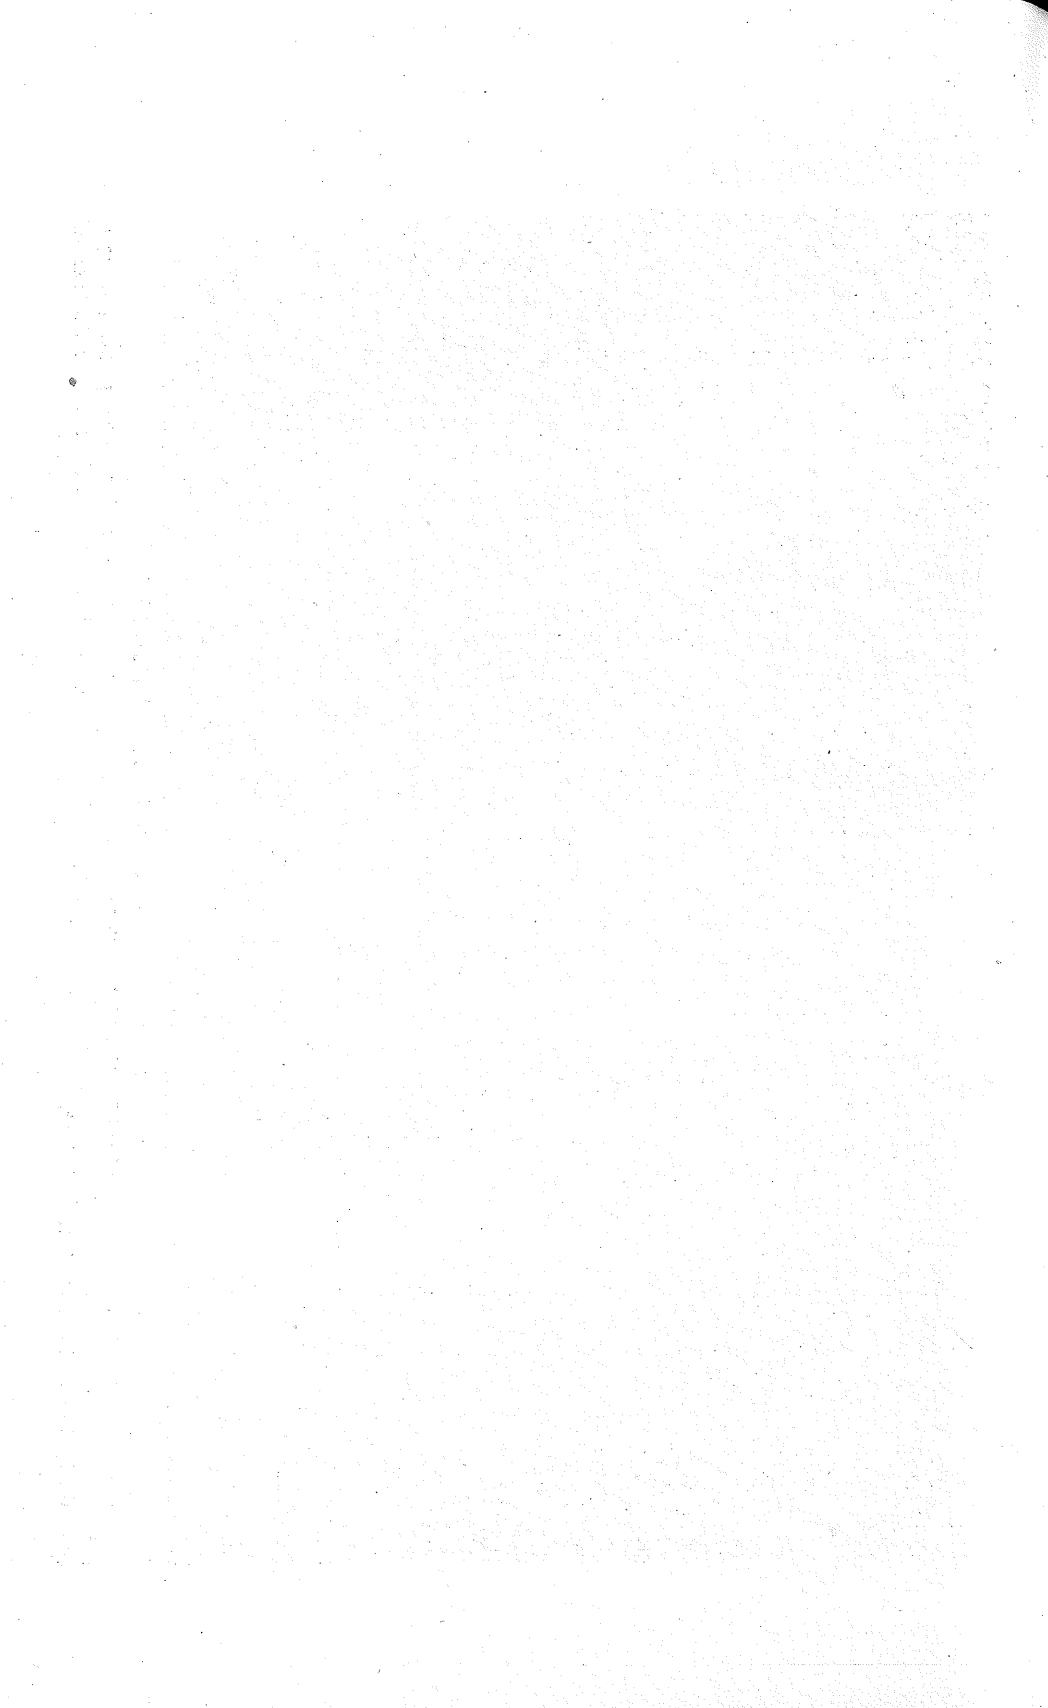

TRAINING MAINE STATE GUARD FROM INCEPTION TO JUNE 30, 1946

The development for defense of the organization of the Maine State Guard follows a logical course from its origin in March, 1941. Even previous to that time, certain public spirited citizens had not only anticipated the future necessity for such an organization but saw a real present service which they could perform. Two cases are on record. One, the American Legion Brigade, was formed in Oxford County in the fall of 1940. They armed themselves, drilled and trained to protect their homes from what was then, a very uncertain future. The other, a company, without name or designation, under the leadership of Ernest P. Hunt at Farmington set about to train men for the National Guard which was about to increase its strength and be called into Federal service. About 100 men were given fundamental training and the company furnished men to the 103d Infantry and the 152d FA, Maine National Guard.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS ON THE JOB

In many of the field maneuvers held by the Maine State Guard, local chapters of the American Red Cross participated. In some cases they furnished all the food for the troops. This picture shows a practical demonstration of first aid by the Red Cross at West Minot.

General Order No. 6, AGO Me., 13 March 1941 initiates the establishment of the Maine State Guard. Two battalions consisting of a headquarters, headquarters company and four rifle companies each were authorized. The battalion headquarters companies were authorized a strength of 3 officers and 25 men, the rifle companies 3 officers and 50 men. At the time, such a force seemed entirely adequate for all state defense purposes. The war in Europe was still remote from western hemisphere. Hitler and his Nazi horde were still to overrun Europe and threaten to wipe out every vestige of resistance between him and us. War with Japan was still eight months away.

A year later, the situation had been greatly clarified and stabilized. We were aware of what the worst could be. We knew that we could have enemy landings on our own shores. We found ourselves the most exposed state of the entire Union. The organization of the State Guard and its training kept pace with these necessities. By General Order No. 2, AGO Me., 9 February 1942, a State Headquarters Company, a State Service Company and a State Medical Detachment were authorized. Also, on 7 March 1942 by GO 5, the State Guard was further increased by six companies, giving now a total of 19 units, and an authorized strength of 1000. In addition to these units organized into the Maine State Guard there were several Volunteer Drill Units which later were authorized as a part of the State Guard or the State Guard Reserve. Those having Federal ordnance were: Rockland, Belfast, Winterport, Calais, Presque Isle, Skowhegan, Farmington, Gardiner, Mechanic Falls, Norway and Kennebunkport.

During the summer of 1942, the Federal Government based a battalion of military police in Maine for training and defensive purposes. When Federal troops were all withdrawn in the summer of 1944, it again became necessary to augment the strength of the State Guard. The request was made to the War Department with the approval of the Governor and on July 1, 1944, the regular State Guard was increased to 2000 officers and men. At the same time the defense system known as the 10-region plan was abolished and a plan set up for two regions with six battalions for their defense.

The "Regions" consisted of the following counties:

Region No. 1:

York, Cumberland, Oxford, Franklin, Androscoggin, Sagadahoc, Somerset Kennebec and Lincoln.

Region No. 2:

Knox, Piscataquis, Penobscot, Waldo, Hancock, Washington and Aroostook.

Four battalions were assigned the defense of Region No. 1 and two battalions Region No. 2. The list of the units, together with their location and strength as of June 30, 1944 is shown below:

In activating some of the Reserve companies, a few units were consolidated to make a stronger organization, others were mustered out of service entirely while others, where the members desired to do so, were continued as Reserve companies. The Activation of a Reserve unit to a regular State Guard organization was made on the basis of training, location and armory facilities. In some cases the training of the men was of the highest, but because of inadequate accommodations for the storage of Federal and State property these companies could not be activated.

At this time, there were reserve units in Kennebunkport, Lisbon Falls, Bryant Pond, Bethel, West Paris, Pittsfield, Damariscotta, Spruce Head, Oakfield, Yarmouth, Gray and West Gardiner. These Reserve companies were placed under the control of the commander of the Region in which they were located and some were attached to battalions for training purposes.

It is believed that the energy and initiative of one of the Reserve Company Commanders should be recorded here. Captain George B. Farnsworth, 1st Battery, Pack Artillery, Damariscotta, when confronted by the necessity for immediate defense measures and with no Federal aid in sight, raised a fund of $4,000 with which he equipped his unit with obsolete but usable military arms and ammunition, many sporting rifles and shotguns, machine guns, clothing and other essentials. With this material, it is believed any minor landing by an enemy would have been costly for him.

The wartime mission of the State Guard was specific and the training, both armory and outdoor, was pointed to the particular unit mission. Memorandum 28, 27 July 1942 gives those missions and was a part of the First Corps Area Plan as prepared by the Staff, First Corps Area. These are the assignments:

a. Reserve for the New England Sector Command:

Unit	Location
1st Bn.
Hq. and Hq. Co.
Co. A	Portland
1st Bn.
Co. C	Sanford
1st Bn.
Co. D	Bath
1st Bn.
Co. I	Saco
1st Bn.
Co. X	Gardiner
2nd Bn.
Co. O	Calais

(1) In case of an emergency, the units listed to assemble at their respective armories and await instructions from this headquarters through the State Adjutant General.

b. Defense of Airports:

Unit	Airport	Location
Lewiston	Auburn-Lewiston Airport	Auburn, Maine
1st Bn.
Co. B
Bangor	Dow Field, AAF Base	Bangor, Maine
2nd Bn.
Hq.
Hq. Co.
Co. E

Unit	Airport	Location
Waterville 2nd Bn. Co. F	Waterville Airport	Waterville, Maine
Rockland 1st Bn. Co. L	Rockland Airport	Rockland, Maine
Houlton 2nd Bn. Co. G	Houlton Army Air Field	Houlton, Maine
Millinocket 2nd Bn. Co. H	Millinocket Airport	Millinocket, Maine
Caribou 2nd Bn. Co. R	Caribou Airport	Caribou, Maine

(1) Routes to the airport should be reconnoitered and determined and a plan for the defense of the airport against Para-troops, airborne troops and fifth columnists should be prepared. In case of an emergency the unit concerned will proceed to the respective airport in accordance with previously prepared plan and carry out its mission. Communication with the State Adjutant General will be maintained. When Federal forces are assigned to the airport, as at Dow Field and Houlton Army Air Field, the unit commander should coordinate his plan with that of the Commanding Officer of the airfield.

c. General Reserve and Defense of their own locality:

Unit	Location
Staff	Augusta
Hq. Co.	Augusta
Serv. Co.	Augusta
Med. Det.	Augusta

(1) Plans should be prepared for the protection of vital installations and units should assemble at their respective armories in case of an emergency and await instructions from this headquarters through the State Adjutant General.

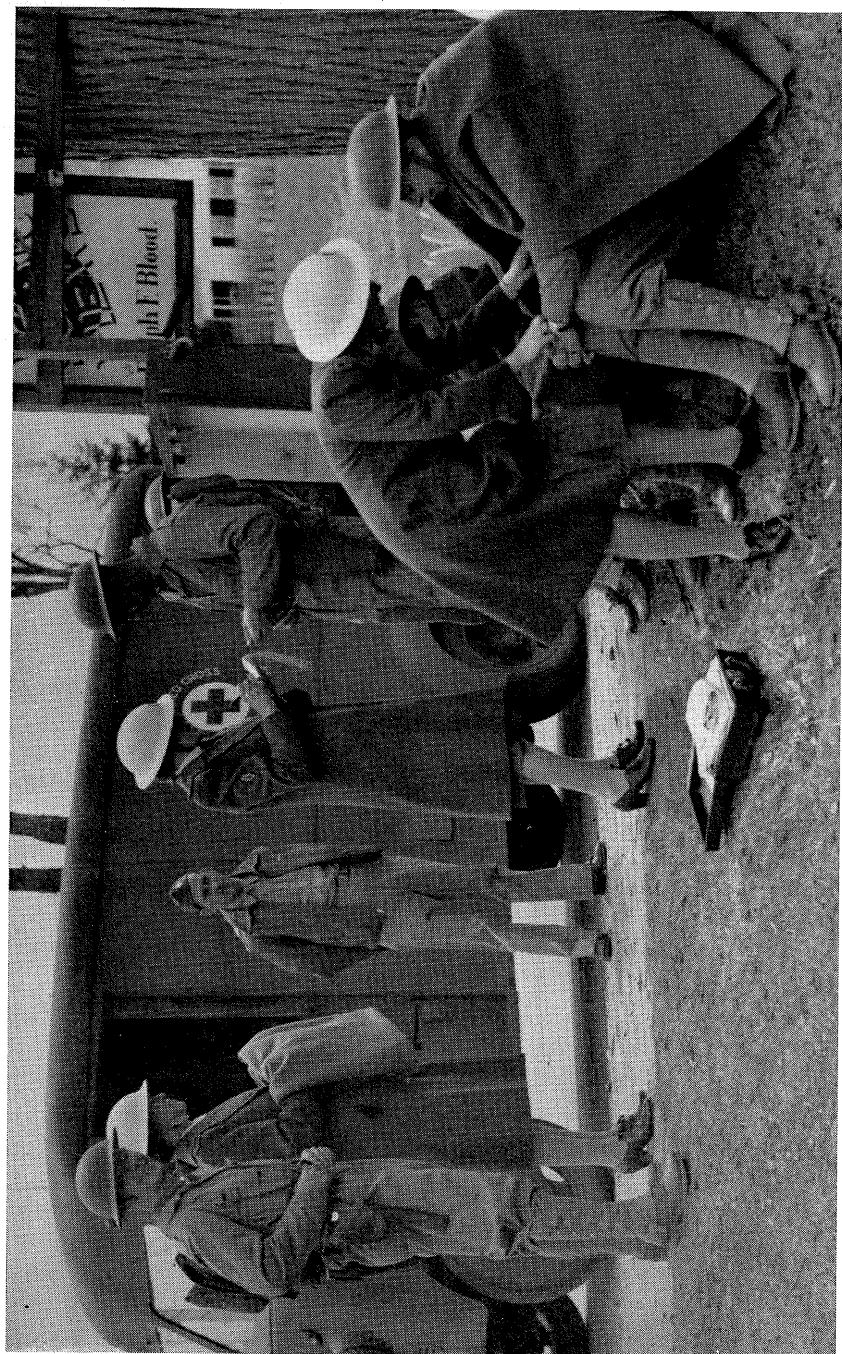

The end of the war changed the primary mission of the State Guard from one of defense against an outside enemy to one of domestic peacetime military policing. As stated in the Standing Operating Procedure for Mobilization, 24 January 1946, the post-war mission of the State Guard is "To guard against disorder, protect property and render assistance in case of (a) Civil Disturbances, (b) Public Disasters and (c) to perform such other duties as ordered by the Governor as Commander-in-Chief.

Because of this change in mission, the two-region plan for defense was abolished and the State Guard was reorganized on 24 August 1945 into two regiments of infantry, the battalions comprising them being the same as those of the two Regions. On the same date the 4th Battalion, 1st Regiment was transferred to the 2nd Regiment as the 3rd Bn., 2nd Regiment.

With all changes in units, the Maine State Guard on 30 June 1946 consists of the following:

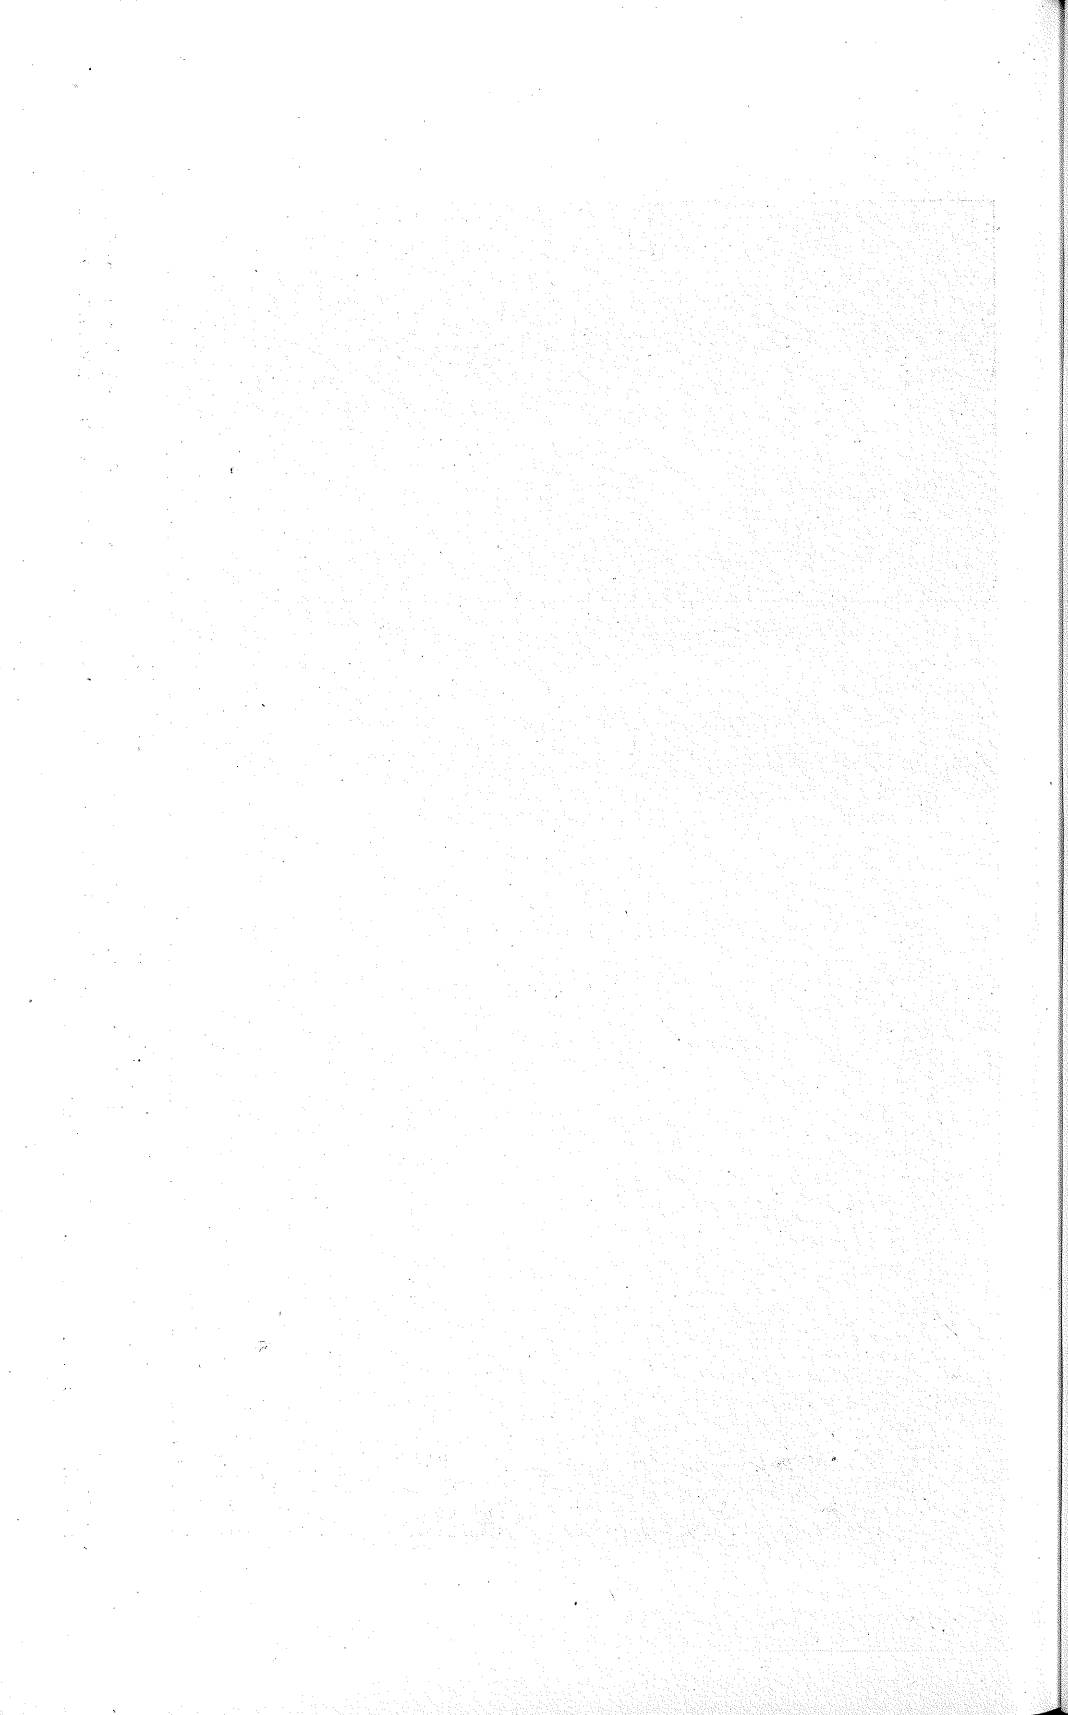

State Guard Staff

TRAINING: Camps, Maneuvers, Schools

Training Memorandum No. 2, 25 April 1941 published the suggested schedule of drill subjects for the following year, based on fifty-two drills of 1½ hours each. Because of the varying degrees of training throughout the State Guard, this schedule was not obligatory but "merely advisory".

These are the subjects and the time allowed:

Subject	Time Hours
Soldier without Arms	4½
Soldier with Arms	4½
Drill of Foot Troops	19%
Drill for Motor Units	1
Extended Order	1½
Signals	1½
Signals for Motor Vehicles	1
Rifle Marksmanship	2
Military Discipline	1
Articles of War	1
Interior Guard Duty	3
First Aid	2
Bayonet Training	3
Defense against Chemical Agencies	1
Crowds and Mobs	1
General Principles, Civil Disorders	2
Formations for Crowds (Riot Duty)	20
Physical Training	8%
Total	78 Hrs.

Members of the State Guard in Portland, Lewiston, Waterville and Bangor made their first public appearance in Memorial Day parades and created a most favorable impression, even though equipment was incomplete.

In a memorandum published June 13, Governor Sewall expressed the desire to have two battalion reviews of the Maine State Guard when all equipment has been received. The reviews were held in Portland and Bangor with some transportation furnished by the State.

The importance of first aid in public disasters is indicated by Training Memorandum No. 5, 1941:

1. Of the many vital subjects in which it is felt that members of the Maine State Guard should be proficient, First Aid stands near the top of the list. Proper instruction in this subject cannot be gained wholly from text books. Personal attention must be given.

2. In order that the best possible training may be secured, The Adjutant General has made arrangements with the Chief of the Maine State Police for two lectures to be given each unit of the Maine State Guard. It is the desire of this department that two full drill periods be devoted to this subject. The instructors will be members of the Maine State Police who have graduated from the Red Cross First Aid Schools. It is hoped that the largest possible attendance will be present on the occasion of these lectures.

3. The following schedule has been arranged:

LECTURE ON "ARTERIAL BLEEDING, WOUND BANDAGING, AND TRANSPORTATION"

July 21—Headquarters and Hdqrs. Company, 1st Battalion Company A	Portland Armory
July 22—Headquarters and Hdqrs. Company, 2nd Battalion Company B Company C Company F	Bangor Armory Lewiston Armory Sanford Armory Waterville Armory
July 23—Company G Company H	Houlton Armory Millinocket Armory
July 24—Company D Company E	Bath Armory Bangor Armory

LECTURE ON "SHOCK AND ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION"

July 28—Headquarters and Hdqrs. Company, 1st Battalion Company A	Portland Armory
July 29—Headquarters and Hdqrs. Company, 2nd Battalion Company B Company C Company F	Bangor Armory Lewiston Armory Sanford Armory Waterville Armory
July 30—Company G Company H	Houlton Armory Millinocket Armory
July 31—Company D Company E	Bath Armory Bangor Armory

All the lectures will be given at 7.30 P. M. on the dates designated.

One of the greatest media of instruction for members of the Maine State Guard and State Guard Reserve were the Tactical School conducted by the First Service Command in Massachusetts.

This was started in June, 1942, at Concord, Massachusetts, where a lease had been taken on the Essex School. It continued until September when, after a brief recess it was reopened at buildings leased in Sturbridge, Massachusetts, and has been continued there ever since.

Each session of the school was of one week's duration. It was open to commissioned and non-commissioned officers of State forces as well as to members of the Army of the United States and a few selected other agencies. Instruction was in those subjects so essential to making efficient those forces which had missions such as were assigned to State Guards.

As is the case with all enterprises, improvement is gained through experience. During the first few sessions of the Tactical School, the authorities were, to a greater or less extent, feeling their way. The sessions held at Concord were of much benefit, but at Sturbridge new courses were inaugurated which added to the efficiency of the institution. These still further altered and improved so that it became one of the finest in the country.

The curriculum of the school offered three courses: Tactical, Weapons and Demolitions and Minor Field Fortifications, Obstacles and Camouflage.

Maine commissioned and non-commissioned officers, wholly without pay, attended the sessions, even though it was in many cases, a real sacrifice for them to do so. The State paid the expenses of these students.

The time of the closing of the School, on September 26, 1943, one hundred and seventy-three officers and enlisted men had attended one or more sessions. The beneficial effect on the Guard training was very evident.

So successful was the Tactical School at Sturbridge, that the First Service Command completed arrangements for a school of an entirely different nature, one that confined its sessions wholly within doors. It was the State Guard School, at Fort Devens, Massachusetts. The sessions were of three days and began each Monday. The first session being on 22 May 1944 and continued until October 10. General staff procedure, rifle and machine gun technique, a CPX and similar subjects were taken up. A total of 44 officers and 18 enlisted men attended.

Record should be made here of the maneuver on October 10, 1943. This was a two-sided exercise which included both Canadian and U. S. troops. So far as is known, it was the first time that Canadian and American troops ever participated in a joint maneuver. Military District No. 7, New Brunswick, Canada, State Guard Units in Regions 6, 7, 8 and 9, Units of the 705th MP Battalion, New England Sector Troops, Navy Detachments, State Police, Sheriff's Department, Civilian Defense and Red Cross took part in the extended area on both sides of the International Border around Calais, St. Stephens, Vanceboro, St. Croix and Woodstock. The maneuver clearly demonstrated the coordination possible between Canadian and American forces for the protection of Eastern Maine and Western New Brunswick, also, the coast from Bar Harbor to Eastport.

The Guard has participated in many other maneuvers, CPX's, overnight marches, blackout mobilizations, air raid alarms, all of which were designed to train them and demonstrate lessons pertaining to their particular definite missions. The great number of these indicates the interest, thought, time and personal money expended by the members.

Forest Fire Fighting, too, was a real mission. Schools of instruction were planned between the Adjutant General and the State Forestry Commissioner and were held in Augusta, Farmington, Norway and Portland.

The session at Norway was scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 20 and 21, 1944. Before the school could get started, however, a fire broke out in the woods near Bethel. A high wind was blowing and the fire spread rapidly. In addition to every available man in the community, a call was sent for State Guardsmen—members of Reserve units, for only units of that type were in Oxford County at that time. The response was immediate from units in Bethel, Norway, South Paris, and other places, some hundred men responded. By nightfall, the fire had been extinguished after having caused a loss of about a quarter of a million dollars.

With the fire actually out, the session of the school was held in the evening as originally planned and the next day visual evidence and on-the-ground instruction concluded the meeting which proved most instructive.

On the same week-end as the Bethel forest fire and among eighteen reported that week-end, a fire at Lincolnville resulted in a call for Co. L, Rockland, Co. M, Belfast, the 23rd Co. Reserve, Spruce Head, Co. D, Bath, 2nd Co., Combat Engineers, Wiscasset, and the 1st Battery, Pact Artillery, Damariscotta. This fire which started on Saturday was not finally out until Monday noon and the training received by so many men and units was invaluable.

One of the highlights of training during 1942 was the visit to Maine of Lt. Col. Hugh Pollock, British Army, who addressed four meetings on four consecutive days in different parts of the State. Over 1000 officers and enlisted men attended these sessions. Col. Pollock explained the functions and duties of the British Home Guard in preparing for the defense of Britain, giving our personnel many excellent ideas for their own training. Emphasis was placed on street fighting, a method of fighting which seemed of very real necessity to the State Guard then.

One of the most interesting and instructive maneuvers held was the Region 1 Maneuver, Sunday, September 24, 1944. The training included forest fire problems at Auburn, Lisbon Falls and Livermore Falls, combatted by both State Guardsmen and State Forestry Department personnel, numerous instances of simulated sabotage around Lewiston and Auburn and damage around Gulf Island Dam. Several companies spent the day at small arms practice at the Auburn Rifle Range.

The feature of the day was the march of more than 900 of the 1200 guardsmen who were on duty. The march, Sunday afternoon, starting from the Armory moved through the principal streets of the city and attracted a crowd estimated at 10,000 people. Among distinguished persons present at the maneuvers was General Sherman Miles, Commanding General, First Service Command.

The State Guard held two week-end camps in 1944. Region 1 at Augusta and Region 2 at Houlton.

During the summer of 1945, however, in addition to battalion week-end camps, a seven-day period of field training was held, for each Region at Camp Keyes, Augusta. Region 2 was first to take the training, 29 July-4 August with a strength of 61 officers and 344 enlisted men.

Region 1 was in camp from 12 August-18 August with a strength of 127 officers and 866 enlisted men. The training was entirely under the direction and command of the respective Region commanders. Staffs were well organized, training programs and schedules which packed each seven days to the limit were drawn up well in advance. Motor marches and motor maintenance, riot duty, matches, mess management, administration and small arms practice were some of the subjects stressed. For the men of Region 2 who were transported to Augusta by special trains of the Maine Central and Bangor & Aroostook Railroads, additional training in moving by rail was obtained. The necessary orders were issued beforehand and in time for prior instruction so that the utmost was received in training during the round trip.

FEDERAL INSPECTIONS

From the beginning of the State Guard, the Federal Government has interested itself in the state of training. The first Federal Inspection of the status of training was as published in General Order No. 2, 9 February 1942 and scheduled unit inspections by inspectors from Headquarters First Corps Area, from 16 February to 25 February. Inspections of Ordnance, also by inspectors from Headquarters First Corps Area, were ordered for the following month for "the Maine State Guard and Volunteer Drill Units". These continued from 17 March to 14 April.

Each year thereafter, inspection both of training and of Federal Ordnance were held. Reports of such inspections reflected the state of training, the facilities for drill and the organization for defense of Maine in case of enemy invasion. As in most States, Maine has had strong units and weaker ones, it has struggled along mostly with armory facilities that were either hopelessly inadequate or practically non-existent. But in one thing, particularly, this state can be proud. In its military affairs, it has never permitted the slightest degree of politics to enter. In military preferment, ability and not partisan policies was the basis on which such preferment was made.

The reports of the Federal Inspection for 1946 are indicative of the state of training for the entire life of the Guard. Of 49 units and headquarters inspected, there was one rating of Excellent. This went to Company C, 2nd Bn., 1st Regiment, Infantry, Rumford, with the remark by the inspector, "This is by far the best all-around State Guard unit of approximately one hundred which this officer has inspected to date this year." Other ratings were 9 Very Satisfactory, 36 Satisfactory, 3 Unsatisfactory.

SMALL ARMS TRAINING

The training in small arms for the State Guard followed closely the various changes in arms as issued. At first, in addition to the few arms the State was able to purchase, the Federal Government issued 1 Enfield rifle for each two National Guardsmen as of July 1, 1940. Later the distribution was liberalized and enough rifles were issued to match each man in the National Guard. The next order called for the return of Enfields except one for every two State Guardsmen, leaving only 855 rifles. Later all rifles were replaced by shotguns and Thompson Submachine guns. Finally as the arms situation that confronted the country became relieved, Maine was issued Enfield Rifles, one for each man, a number of Thompson Submachine guns and 14 Browning Machine guns. When the last were received, one heavy weapons company per battalion was organized, giving each two Brownings as well as four Thompsons and twenty-five Enfields.

Small arms training was carried on at the several ranges throughout the State but the principal outdoor activity was at the Auburn Rifle Range. Here troops came especially during weekends for practice. During the seven day camps in 1945, there was a battalion at the range constantly firing on the 200 and 300 yard targets, firing the pistol and submachine courses and the "1000" machine gun course. Prescribed courses were ordered by the State in both 1945 and 1946.

The indoor 22 caliber rifle practice was carried on simultaneously with the outdoor practice. Until the summer of 1945, 22 caliber rifles were very difficult to obtain. Some companies were able to purchase a few real target rifles, others used sporting rifles and the State bought target rifles as they became available. Finally in the summer of 1945, the Federal Government issued 100 excellent 22 caliber Remington rifles with micrometer rear peep sights. Ammunition has been available in satisfactory quantities.

MOTOR TRAINING

As soon as Federal motor vehicles were issued, a campaign to train personnel in all units was initiated. Schools were held in various parts of the State on weekends at which selected personnel attended. Two things were taught: first echelon maintenance and military truck driving. Men were given drivers permits for Government vehicles after they had passed the satisfactory tests. The value of such training has been proven in the comparative lack of any serious accident involving State Guard troops.

EQUIPMENT FOR TRAINING

Knowing that equipment for the State Guard would be very difficult to obtain from Federal sources due to the heavy drain because of the unparalleled expansion of the Army, the State took the initiative in purchasing whatever was available. Blue coats, blue trousers, shirts, blue mackinaws—this was the first uniform. For small arms training, in addition to arms purchased either by the State or by individual units, the Government issued 855 obsolete caliber 30 Enfield rifles, slings, bayonets and other accessories stored since World War I, 20 rounds of ammunition per rifle, 42 Thompson Submachine guns, 110,000 rounds of 22 caliber ammunition, targets and cleaning materials.

During the year also, certain clothing, mostly obsolete, was received from the Federal Government. OD woolen coats, caps, leggings, overcoats, socks, underwear, sweaters, trousers and leather-top rubbers were received and the blue uniform was called in.

It should be noted here that the Adjutant General's Department purchased many essential items of equipment and supply. $60,000 was set aside for this purpose. It would indeed have been difficult if not impossible for the State Guard to function without such things as blankets, cots, raincoats, mess equipment, typewriters, insignia, the original blue uniforms, trucks and station wagons. The Guard would have been under serious handicap without such things as small arms, increased amounts of ammunition, coveralls, cartridge belts, gas masks, overshoes, litters and a multitude of other equipment. The liberality of the State during those difficult days was the difference between a State Guard barely existing and poorly trained and one which ranked with the best of the country.

By the end of the next fiscal year, June 30, 1943, the Federal Government was able to be more liberal in its issue to the State Guards. The State was still purchasing clothing and ordnance, but to a lesser degree. The Government was now issuing these things, mostly obsolete or reclaimed, to be sure, but usable. Clothing included green uniforms that had been used by the CCC several years ago. But the ordnance included 186,000 rounds of cal. .22 cartridges, 20,000 rounds of cal. .45 cartridges, about the same amount of shotgun shells for shotguns that had temporarily replaced the Enfield rifles, and 2 Browning, cal. .30 machine guns. There was also an ample supply of tear gas and smoke grenades for training and service.

During the following fiscal year the Guard was rearmed with the Enfield rifle instead of the shotgun.

In the summer of 1944, the first of the excess motor vehicles was released to the States. Maine received 16 C & R (Command and Reconnaissance) Cars, $\frac{3}{4}$ ton, and 21 $1\frac{1}{2}$ ton trucks. These were distributed for training and combat use and resulted in increased interest and greater mobility and training. Memory is an easy master and we forget the difficulties under which troops were moved during the first three and a half years. Then, they had little transportation other than their own. They could get no parts or new tires. Gasoline was strictly rationed to an irreducible minimum. Yet, these patriotic guardsmen found ways and means to travel, to train, and to maintain morale. It was a tremendous stimulus to training when Federal vehicles with gasoline and oil provided by the State, were made available.

Our present vehicular equipment as of 30 June 1946 consists of:

- 37 $2\frac{1}{2}$ ton GMC Trucks
- 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ ton Trucks (jeeps)
- 6 Ambulances
- 6 Scout Cars
- 12 Motor Cycles (solo)
- 1 Fire Truck

State-owned vehicles on hand are:

- 1 Sedan (Assigned to Adjutant General)
- 7 Station Wagons
- 1 Ambulance
- 6 $1\frac{1}{2}$ ton Trucks
- 2 Motor Cycles with side car
- 2 Pickup Trucks ($\frac{1}{2}$ ton)

CHAPLAINS' CORPS: MORALE

This history on State Guard training would not be complete without a report of one remarkable feature of the Maine State Guard: the activities of its Chaplains' Corps. Probably no state guard, regardless of size, and certainly none in New England has had as large and active a corps. Its effect on the morale of the troops has been most evident.

Until 2 August 1943, but two chaplains had been commissioned: Chaplain John F. Conoley, Senior Chaplain with rank of major, and Chaplain Tom G. Akeley, Junior and Staff Chaplain, with rank of captain.

On the date above referred to, a Chaplain Corps was authorized, giving a total of twelve chaplains, nine of whom were assigned to nine regions, and as of 15 January 1944, the Corps was completely filled.

Its activities have covered a wide scope: Religious services, general and special, of course: presiding at or conducting public religious services or ceremonies as requested, officiating at baptisms, marriages, memorial and funeral services for deceased members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine; developing and promoting social and athletic programs for the State Guard; visits to the units on drill nights to maintain close contact with all personnel.

THE MAINE STATE GUARD CHAPLAIN CORPS

Its Origins, Personnel, Activities and Spirit

By John F. Conoley, Chaplain Corps (Lt. Col.)

Chief of Chaplains, Maine State Guard

ORIGINS

The Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps had its inception as of 30 March 1942, when the Reverend John F. Conoley, S. T. D., Rector of the tri-county Parish of Christ the King, with headquarters at Hebron, Maine, was commissioned by His Excellency, Governor Sumner N. Sewall, and assigned to duty by Brigadier General George M. Carter, The Adjutant General, as Senior Chaplain of the Maine State Guard with the rank of Major.

Chaplain Conoley, a veteran Chaplain of World War I, a Reserve Officer of the United States Army since 1920 in the same rank, a former State Chaplain of the Reserve Officers Association, and Department Chaplain of the American Legion in Maine from 1941 to 1944, brought to this service a long and varied experience. He had served as Regimental Chaplain of the 73th and 36th Regiments of Infantry, under the command of the late Major General Henry Pinckney McCain, Commanding General of the 12th or Plymouth Division, at Camp Devens, Massachusetts. As the commanding officer of a Theatricals Division, devised and authorized for the entertainment of "single men in barracks" during the period (1918-1919) of re-deployment and demobilization of troops, Chaplain Conoley and the officers and men assigned to him were the forerunners of the present Special Services set-up. And Chaplain Conoley himself organized and was the first Director of the Camp Devens Technical Training Schools, the more notable in that they set a standard for other such institutions and included the entire range of educational activities, from ABC classes for aliens preparing for naturalization to post-graduate work in the arts and sciences.

In April 1919, Chaplain Conoley was promoted to the rank of Captain and assigned to Camp Headquarters as Camp Chaplain, charged with responsibility to the Commanding General for all religious activities in Camp Devens, to serve also as Assistant Morale Officer as an Aide-de-Camp for special services to the Commanding General. Discharged of his commission as of 1 October, 1919, Chaplain Conoley was re-commissioned in the Chaplains Reserve Corps with the rank of Major, assigned to duty with the Office of the Chief of Chaplains at Washington, D. C.

After some years of routine pastoral duty, Chaplain Conoley was sent by his ecclesiastical superiors to Europe—France, Italy and Spain—for special studies. He returned to the United States in 1926, and was appointed Rector of the Parish of Christ the King in 1929, afterward serving as Division Chaplain of the 97th Division or Organized Reserves, with headquarters at Manchester, N. H., under the late Colonel James B. Kemper, USA.

Having passed the required terminal physical examination with a recommendation for "General Service", Chaplain Conoley was called to active duty with the AUS as of 24 July 1942, but was prevented from accepting his call by a ruling of the War Department forbidding any chaplain over fifty years of age to accept such a summons. Thereinafter Chaplain Conoley devoted his time and energies to his charge as Senior Chaplain and Chief of Chaplains of the Maine State Guard.

In order to provide for the spiritual needs of the majority Protestant personnel of the Maine State Guard, General Carter, The Adjutant General, then appointed, as of 6 April 1942, the Reverend Tom G. Akeley, Rector of the historic Christ Church of Gardiner, Maine, to be Junior or Staff Chaplain of the Maine State Guard with the rank of Captain.

Chaplain Akeley brought to the Corps his long experience as a devoted pastor, the prestige of his office as the widely and generally beloved Rector of Christ Church, and the fine record of his service as the Protestant Chaplain of the Veterans Facility at Togus, Maine, to say nothing of his many gifts and talents as a tried and proved leader of men. This good "padre" at once proved himself to be a very tower of strength to the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard, to the Commanding General, to the entire State Staff, and to the Chief of Chaplains who soon learned to lean heavily upon him for advice and counsel in all that concerned the best interests of the State's military established.

For some seventeen months Chaplains Conoley and Akeley were the only chaplains commissioned and assigned to duty with the Maine State Guard. During that time they covered the entire State, visiting the several units of their far-flung command, interviewing personnel and recruits, holding religious services, making themselves useful within their reach, lending their every endeavor and talent to the building of the highest possible morale. And, when the two Military Areas were abolished and the State re-divided into ten Regions, Chaplains Conoley and Akeley recommended to The Adjutant General the appointment of a Reserve chaplain for each such Region, including State Guard and State Guard Reserve units.

In October, 1940, some fourteen months before Pearl Harbor, Chaplain Conoley together with Lieutenant-Colonel Fred W. Rowell MSG and Mr. Jack Kelly, then Commander of the William Henry Stone Post No. 82 of the American Legion, Norway, Maine, had organized volunteer drill units in Oxford County known as the American Legion Brigade. This movement, under American Legion and other organizations' sponsorship, spread rapidly throughout the State, quite literally from Kittery to Fort Kent; and, beginning in the Spring of 1942, these volunteer drill units were taken over by the State military authority and incorporated into the Maine State Guard Reserve.

When the former military Areas were abolished in February of 1943, the State was re-divided into ten military Regions, including both State Guard and State Guard Reserve units, and it was soon evident that two State Guard chaplains would not suffice for the work required of them as the spiritual directors of this ever increasing military flock. It was for this reason that Chaplains Conoley and Akeley soon recommended to the Adjutant General the appointment of Reserve chaplains.

General Carter's response to the Chaplains' plea was immediate. As of 2 August, 1943, by S. O. No. 98, he authorized and created a Chaplain Corps to consist of the two Maine State Guard chaplains previously appointed, nine Regional chaplains, and one Chaplain-At-Large, the ten additional chaplains to be commissioned and assigned to duty with the Maine State Guard Reserve in the rank of 1st Lieutenant. And, in order to assure and safeguard the complete freedom of each Region in their choice of a chaplain, General Carter issued a Memorandum as of 28 August 1943, setting forth the conditions under which the Reserve chaplains were to be appointed, to wit: That no denominational proportions were to be observed; that the candidates for the chaplaincies were to be recommended to the AGO, through the Chief of Chaplains, by the Regional commanders concerned after consultation with their several unit commanders; that each candidate-chaplain's application should be supported by a letter of recommendation from the local head of the denomination represented; and that any clergyman thus recommended to the AGO should have been the resident pastor or assistant-pastor of a church of his denomination here in Maine for at least one year prior to his application for appointment to a chaplaincy in the Maine State Guard Reserve.

These rulings by the AGO had the finest possible results. First, the creation of an integrated Chaplain Corps, the only such State Guard organization in the nation—a sub-division of G-I, under the immediate direction and supervision of a Chief of Chaplains and an Assistant Chief of Chaplains, responsible to the Assistant Chief of Staff and, through him, to The Adjutant General, Chief of Staff to His Excellency the Governor of Maine. Second, the immediate choice of a notable cross-section of the clergy of Maine, of all denominations, to serve as Maine State Guard and Maine State Guard Reserve Chaplains.

The several Regional commanders promptly recommended to the AGO their candidates for the staff chaplaincies, and their subsequent appointment and assignment to duty gave the greatest possible satisfaction to the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard and State Guard Reserve.

Under orders from General Carter, The Adjutant General, and the immediate supervision and direction of Colonel Lester M. Hart, Assistant Adjutant General, Chaplains Conoley and Akeley turned immediately to the task of forming and training the personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplains Corps to the pattern set by AR 60-5, TM 16-205, and TM 101-5, the official Army program for the indoctrination and formation of military chaplains.

The chaplains' efficiency as individuals and as a group was soon evidenced and as promptly recognized by all concerned. Their standards of duty and their completely unselfish devotion thereto were as quickly and as keenly noted, with credit to the Corps and to the State. In this connection, it can be told here that the Chief of Chaplains' extensive report of the creation, personnel, activities, and spirit of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps, made to the Federal Inspector, Captain William H. Sullivan, Inf., Training Divisions, First Service Command, as of 23 March 1945, so challenged and commanded the attention and interest of the Commanding General of the First Service Command that the report was forwarded to the National Guard Bureau at Washington with the recommendation that it be printed in its entirety and distributed to the other State Guard establishments throughout the nation.

PERSONNEL

From August 1943 to April 1945, the following, named in alphabetical order, were commissioned as Reserve chaplains, later promoted to the rank of Captain and transferred in grade to the Maine State Guard:

1. CHAPLAIN JOSEPH F. ALLARD, Caribou, Maine, Roman Catholic.

Known to his men throughout Aroostook County as "Big Joe", large of heart and mind and understanding, Chaplain Allard has been one of our finest and most exemplary chaplains, devoted to his every duty, loyal to his command, and zealous for every best interest of the Maine State Guard. He not only served the personnel of the State Guard and Reserve units of his command, but rendered a fine service to Federal troops stationed in his Regional and Battalion area, i.e. at Presque Isle and Houlton.

2. CHAPLAIN P. J. BARRETT, Augusta, Maine, Roman Catholic.

This young chaplain endeared himself to all by his earnest endeavors in behalf of the men of his command. Grave of mien and serious of intent, Chaplain Barrett won the hearts of all by his kindly bearing and approach, and was accompanied by the Corps' regrets and good wishes when he resigned his State Guard commission to accept a chaplaincy in the Army of the United States.

3. CHAPLAIN DAVID BERENT, Lewiston, Maine, Jewish.

Chaplain Berent, commissioned in March 1945, is the Rabbi of Congregational Beth Jacob of Lewiston, Maine. A man of parts and learning, Chaplain Berent has lent the prestige of his many gifts and talents to the Corps, the while he has as nobly and efficiently served as Jewish chaplain of the Veterans' Facility at Togus, Maine. His voice, now familiar to the many auditors of WCOU, is continually raised in pleas for tolerance and mutual understanding, and for peace with justice for all men of whatever color, race, or creed.

4. CHAPLAIN GEORGE G. CHIERA, Wiscasset, Maine, Protestant Episcopalian.

Chaplain Chiera was not only a fine and competent "padre", but also the life, in a sense, of the Chaplain Corps. Blessed by Almighty God, Providence and temperament, with the greatest of all gifts—a keen sense of humor, he was "sympatico" to every human ill and need, and won the respect and affection, therefore, of the entire personnel of his command. The Corps lost one of its finest when Chaplain Chiera resigned his commission to accept a pastoral charge in Massachusetts in December 1945.

5. CHAPLAIN ROY A. CLARK, Hallowell, Maine, Baptist.

Chaplain Clark, recently removed by his ecclesiastical superiors from Phillips to Hallowell, Maine, and a veteran of World War I, quickly won his spurs as a Reserve and a State Guard chaplain. Utterly devoted to his every duty, he set us all an example of what a State Guard chaplain should be and do, and gave an added prestige to the Corps when he was appointed Department Chaplain of the American Legion in Maine for the year 1945-46.

6. CHAPLAIN RENSEL H. COLBY, South Paris, Maine, Congregationalist.

Chaplain Colby, commissioned in early August of 1943, is now senior Battalion Chaplain of the entire State Guard. He brought to the Corps an extraordinary devotion to duty, unflagging zeal in his ministry to the personnel of his command, a uniformly fine exemplification of what a State Guard chaplain should be and do, and a determined resolve to be all things to all men, regardless of race or creed. Throughout World War II Chaplain Colby was present at every train and bus to greet, to bless, and to say farewell to every inductee leaving his territory for Federal service; he is to this day the first to welcome the veterans of World War II as they return; and he has as nobly discharged a sad duty laid upon him by Federal and State military authorities: to break the news of the death, "on the field of honor", to the parents and families of the men of his town and parish who have made the supreme sacrifice.

7. CHAPLAIN WALTER L. COOK, Farmington, Maine, Baptist.

Chaplain Cook, first stationed at Calais, Maine, was removed by his superiors to Farmington, Maine. He deserves a special mention for presenting at his own expense copies of the New Testament to the inductees leaving his Region for Federal service, and won honorable mention by the Adjutant General for having made a perilous way by automobile from Calais to Augusta and return in order to attend the Chaplains' Conference of February 1944.

Parochial duties preventing his continuance as a State Guard Chaplain, Chaplain Cook recently resigned his commission and was honorably discharged thereof.

8. CHAPLAIN ALFRED G. DAVIS, Kittery, Maine, Methodist.

Chaplain Davis, then Pastor of the Methodist Church at Mechanic Falls, was appointed to succeed Chaplain Harold R. Yates, Methodist, removed by his ecclesiastical superiors from Livermore Falls to Portland, Maine. Shortly thereafter, Chaplain Davis was himself removed from his pastorate in Mechanic Falls to a charge in Portland, and was appointed to succeed Chaplain D. H. E. Fox as Chaplain of Bn. No. 1, 1st Regiment, MSG.

Chaplain Davis enthused and inspired the entire personnel of his command, served them to the full extent of his ability, more especially in his ministry to the sick, the troubled and the distressed. A man's man, with four sons in the service of the nation, he not only won his spurs as a State Guard officer but also deserved them. Chaplain Davis recently resigned his commission as a State Guard officer because of far removal from his command and in order to spend some months of vacation in England.

9. CHAPLAIN LOUIS A. DOLE, Bath, Maine, Swedenborgian.

Chaplain Dole soon proved himself to be a quiet but potent and militant "padre" of troops. He quickly won for himself the esteem, respect, and affection of his command, of the AGO and of the Chief of Chaplains, for his complete devotion to duty and for his untiring zeal for the very best interest of the Maine State Guard. It can be said without exaggeration, that Chaplain Dole has rendered a notable service to his church and to the State, and that he has won—and deserves—the encomiums of both.

10. CHAPLAIN D. H. E. FOX, Sanford, Maine, Protestant Episcopalian.

Chaplain Fox was noted for his efforts in the spiritual field, for his apparently inexhaustible energy in preaching and ministering to his military flock on every possible occasion, and for the regularity with which he visited every unit in the command assigned to him. Transferred by his superiors to a pastoral charge in the State of Vermont, Chaplain Fox resigned his commission, to the regret of the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard, Chaplain Corps, and was honorably discharged of his commission.

11. CHAPLAIN EARLE B. GRUNDY, Bangor, Maine, Methodist.

Forthright and sturdy of character and faith, Chaplain Grundy was an ideal chaplain, a credit to his church and a faithful servant of the State. He had hardly received his commission as a State Guard chaplain when he was called upon to assist the Army chaplains at Dow Field, Bangor, Maine. Recognizing his great worth as a spiritual father to "single men in barracks", the Army Air Force appointed him Acting Chaplain of Dow Field as of January 1944. He did a fine job for the State and the Nation, and the Corps lost a fine Chaplain when he removed from Maine to California, for reasons of health, and resigned his commission as a chaplain of the Maine State Guard Reserve.

12. CHAPLAIN HAROLD R. YATES, Livermore Falls, Maine, Methodist.

Chaplain Yates, originally chosen by unanimous election for the chaplaincy of the old Region No. 3, was hardly commissioned and assigned to his post of duty when he was removed by his superiors from his charge in Livermore Falls to a pastorate in Portland, Maine. At his own request, Chaplain Yates was retired to the Inactive Reserve, and is still carried on its roster.

As of 30 June 1946, the present strength of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps is as follows:

STAFF:

Lt. Col. John F. Conoley, Chief of Chaplains, Hebron, Maine.
Major Tom G. Akeley, Asst. Chief of Chaplains, Gardiner, Maine.

REGIMENTAL:

1st Regiment:

Bn. No. 1	Vacant
Bn. No. 2 Chaplain R. H. Colby	South Paris, Maine
Bn. No. 3 Chaplain Louis A. Dole	Bath, Maine

2nd Regiment:

Bn. No. 1	Vacant
Bn. No. 2 Chaplain J. F. Allard	Caribou, Maine
Bn. No. 3 Chaplain R. A. Clark	Hallowell, Maine
At-Large, Chaplain David Berent	Lewiston, Maine

ACTIVITIES

During the four and one-half years of their service, from March-April 1942 to date, the personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps have considerably more than won their spurs, so to speak, as commissioned officers of the State's military establishment. Without exception, they all dutifully and as conscientiously attended weekly drills, maneuvers, CPXs and encampments, and showed their right good will in ministering to the spiritual necessities of all State Guard personnel without distinction of race, color or creed. Individually and as a group they left no stone unturned in their joint efforts to be of service to all; they were the spiritual fathers and confidants of the entire personnel of their several commands; they won the confidence and esteem of their commanding officers; and, during the past four and more years, they have won for the Corps the respect of the AGO and the commendation of the First Service Command for their generous and effective service.

Throughout the long years of World War II, the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps has devotedly served, not only State Guard units, but Federal troop installations as well, at Presque Isle, Houlton, High Pine and Alfred, Maine, and were instrumental in providing chaplains' services for the Naval Air Stations at Brunswick and Sanford, Maine.

Since November, 1943, the Chaplains made monthly reports of their activities to the AGO, including records of baptisms, marriages, burials, etc., which reports, on file at Augusta, will serve in the years to come as valuable records of their work and of such religious services rendered.

And, in their official and professional contacts and mutual services rendered, the Maine State Guard chaplains have, in the meantime, laid such a train of tolerance and understanding as between the churches and churchmen of the State as will surely fire generations to come with a common and impelling sense of this people's oneness as children of a common Father, all striving to the same goal—"to prepare unto the Lord a perfect people."

In April 1943, by order of The Adjutant General, Chaplains Conoley and Akeley attended a two-day special session of the Army Chaplains School at Harvard University, held at the instance of Major General Sherman Miles, Commanding General of the First Service Command. At this time the New England State Guard Chaplains' Association was founded and organized, and Chaplains Conoley and Akeley were unanimously appointed Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Association, General Carter gave immediate and whole-hearted approval to the Association, and offered the facilities of his office for the printing and posting of the Association's quarterly bulletin.

By order of The Adjutant General (S. O. No. 9, 27 January 1944), the entire personnel of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps met at the AGO, Augusta, Maine, February 15-16, 1944, for their First Annual Conference. The chaplains were addressed by the Reverend George V. Shedd of the Maine Methodist Conference, the Reverend Dr. Harry Trust of the Bangor Theological Seminary, the Right Reverend Monsignor George P. Johnson, Vicar General of the Diocese of Portland, Chaplain Raymond G. Lafontaine of the Connecticut State Guard, and Chaplains Akeley and Conoley of the Maine State Guard. In the opinion of all concerned, the Corps profited by this CPX designed for the chaplains' instruction and encouragement in their performance of their duties as the spiritual directors of the State's military forces. The entire proceedings of this conference were afterward published in booklet form and widely distributed.

The Second Annual Conference of the Chaplain Corps was held at Camp Keyes, Augusta, Maine, during the seven-day encampment of 12-18 August, 1945. The entire personnel of the Corps were in attendance, and were addressed by State Staff, Regional, Battalion and Company officers, on subjects related to their office and work. During this and the foregoing encampment of July 29-August 4, the chaplains were assigned to temporary duty as Special Services officers charged with providing athletic and other recreational entertainment for the entire State Guard personnel. The chaplains' efforts in this field were so successful that in November, 1945, by Memorandum No. 129, Special Services officers were chosen and appointed for each Company, Battalion, and Regiment as a proved agency for the stimulating of morale and as a potent aid in recruiting.

During this Second Annual Conference the glorious news of V-J Day rejoiced all hearts, the nation and the world. Due to the anticipation of this event by The Adjutant General, the chaplains had prepared in outline a program in celebration of this then hourly expected event, and were privileged to participate in the magnificent demonstration of the people's sense of relief, joy in triumph, and gratitude to Almighty God for the final coming of peace, held in Capitol Park, Augusta, Maine.

The following Friday, 17 August 1945, immediately after a Review of the First Regiment, Infantry, MSG, taken by His Excellency, Governor Horace Hildreth, the entire personnel of the Chaplain Corps conducted as a group a very beautiful and deeply moving Memorial Service, commemorating the youth and manhood of Maine who had made the supreme sacrifice of life itself on the field of honor.

The Third Annual Conference of the Chaplain Corps was held at Camp Keyes, 21-22 May 1946. The chaplains were addressed by the Chief of Chaplains, Chaplains Akeley, Colby, Dole, Clark and Berent, of the Maine State Guard, and by Chaplains Raymond G. Lafontaine of Connecticut and A. R. E. Green of Vermont, guest of the State for this occasion.

This Conference was brought to a happy if solemn closing with the dedication, in the presence of General Carter and his staff and guests of the new Camp Chapel. Beautifully located on the highest spot in Camp Keyes, on the very top of the hill overlooking the highway, the Chapel has a common altar at which all religious services may be held—Protestant of whatever denomination, Catholic and Jewish.

Plain and simple of construction and decoration, the Chapel's one claim to beauty is its raised and recessed sanctuary, flanked by a stand of eight large silk flags: American, State of Maine, Evangelical Protestant, Protestant Episcopalian, Zion, Papal, Christian Chaplains flag and Jewish Chaplains flag, the gift of the Maine State Guard chaplains to their successors, the incoming chaplains of the Maine National Guard.

SUMMARY

The Chaplains' Monthly Reports since November 1943 substantiate in considerably more detail all that has been briefly recorded hereinbefore, and it is the common opinion of all who are familiar with their work that these devoted clergymen have not only lent the prestige of their religious profession and clerical office to the State's military establishment, but have also contributed greatly to the maintenance at high level of the influence of religion by their preaching and example and by their utter devotion to the duties assigned to them as Maine State Guard chaplains. To that same extent they were and are instrumental in the maintenance here on the home front of a high-toned morale during a period of stress and crisis without parallel in the history of this people. It is a matter worthy of more than passing note that the work of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps, a truly mixed group composed of clergymen representing several religious denominations but united in common effort in a common cause, has done much to establish the people of this State in mutual tolerance, a closer understanding, and the will to be, to live, and to act as one for the maintenance of justice, freedom, and democracy.

But for the sympathetic understanding and whole-hearted cooperation of The Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General, but little of the recorded and now widely recognized work of the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps could or would have been accomplished. Wherefore, in thus summarizing the history of the Corps, we take this occasion to thank General Carter for authorizing the Chaplain Corps and for his wise provisions for its organization and training, and to thank the Assistant Adjutant General for his interest and cooperation in all that concerns the chaplains' work. The Chaplain Corps is now and will always be under obligation to General Carter and Colonel Hart for their uniform courtesy, consideration, and kindness, and for their exceptional zeal in providing for a safeguarding religion, morals and morale, here on the home front.

It should be noted here that the former Regional, the Regimental and Battalion Commanders of the Maine State Guard have from the beginning closely followed the lead of the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General in their appreciation and use of the chaplains assigned to their command, and have uniformly lent the weight and support of their assistance to their chaplains' every approved and authorized activity.

Finally, the chaplains would pay tribute here to that staunch friend of the State Guard groups in the New England area, Major General Sherman Miles, Commanding General of the First Service Command. From their very first beginning, the State Guard Chaplain groups had his approval, appreciation, and whole-hearted support. And this same interest in the work of the State Guard Chaplains in New England was shown by Lieutenant-Colonel Ross Whistler, former State Guard Officer of the First Service Command; and, here in Maine, more especially, by Colonel Charles L. Stephenson, State Guard Instructor, for whose interest in their activities at maneuvers, CPX's and encampments, the Maine State Guard Chaplain will always be grateful.

With such approval, authorization, support and appreciation, the Maine State Guard Chaplain Corps has now entered upon what is undoubtedly the final phase and stage of its existence and activity. The chaplains are more than ever appreciative of the privilege of service and the opportunity accorded them to labor "in season and out of season" for the promotion of the moral and spiritual welfare and contentment of the entire personnel of the State's military establishment, and will retire from this service only to continue with added zeal to preach our common obligation before God and man to dwell together in unity, charity, and understanding.

WE UNITE TO SERVE"

INVALUABLE AID FROM FEDERAL INSTRUCTORS

While the great sacrifice of time and money and energy on the part of members of the Maine State Guard accounted in great measure for the high state of efficiency attained, invaluable aid was given by Army instructors assigned to the work by Major General Sherman Miles, commanding general of the First Service Command. It might be said right here that the interest shown by General Miles in the Maine State Guard was unflagging and he was a frequent visitor at the maneuvers and command post exercises held.

A frequent visitor also to the exercises of the State Guard was Lt. Col. Ross Whistler of the First Service Command. Col. Whistler was director in charge of State Guard training during the latter days of the war. His advice was very helpful and his cooperation in assisting the State of Maine in securing equipment and training aids and in arranging for students at special schools of instruction held under the direction of the First Service Command was of the highest.

As commanding officer of District No. 1 in the defense plans of the First Service Command, Lt. Col. Charles L. Stephenson, later promoted to full Colonelcy, set up his headquarters in Augusta. Cooperation between him and his staff on the one hand and of The Adjutant General and his staff on the other was most satisfying and profitable. This cooperation laid the foundation for later developments in the appointment of officers and non-commissioned officers from the U. S. Army and the Army of the United States as instructors.

In 1944, the First District office was discontinued. Col. Stephenson immediately was designated senior instructor of the Maine State Guard by General Miles. Capt. Ernest H. Grant of Augusta and Captain Mervin B. Robinson of Vermont were named as his assistants. As non-commissioned officer-instructors Master Sergeant Theodore J. Cool, First Sergeant Armand H. Soucy and Sergeant Dalton Wein were added to the faculty.

Acting as chief umpire on many occasions and also as director of the Command Post Exercises and field maneuvers, Col. Howard W. Nestor of the First Service Command contributed immensely to the success of the Guard training.

No men could have been more untiring or more enthusiastic in the performance of their onerous duties than these officers and men. Under their guidance backed by the unfaltering and conscientious support of the officers and men of the Guard, the Maine State Guard became one of the most efficient organizations of its kind in the whole country.

Cooperation by the State Police

In the training of the Maine State Guard, some of the most valuable cooperation was furnished by the Maine State Police under the leadership of Chief Laurence C. Upton and former Chief Henry P. Weaver. Without this assistance the many regional, regimental and battalion maneuvers held would not have been so successful.

Details of plans and assignment of duties of the State Troopers were directly under the control of Lt. Merle E. Cole of the State Police. Cars with two-way radio communication were employed both as escort for moving columns and for the more detailed work of field maneuvers. Later, radio sets were secured for the State Guard, but until these instruments were available, the whole of the radio communications load was carried by the State Police. Lt. Cole spent many long hours in conferences with The Adjutant General and other officers responsible for the program of training.

Not only did the State Police assist in the communications work, but instruction given by them in the handling of civil disorders was among the most worthwhile received by the Guard. Particularly effective was the actual demonstration by State Troopers of the capture of a criminal, who had fortified himself in a house and was finally driven out by the use of tear gas.

Assistance by Forestry Department

While the fighting of forest fires may seem at first thought to be far removed from the ordinary scope of training of State Guard forces, the situation in Maine was very much tied up with this hazard. Always was there the danger of sabotage and fifth column activities. It was felt that forest fires might be started as a diversionary movement to other enemy activities.

Classes of instruction in forest fire fighting were held in several sections of the State by Austin H. Wilkins of the State Forestry Department, acting for Forest Commissioner Raymond E. Rendall. There were several occasions when the members of the Maine State Guard were called upon to apply this knowledge they had received.

Help from the Air

Although the Maine State Guard had no airplanes it was not wholly without air service for members of the Maine wing of the Civil Air Patrol participated in many of the maneuvers held.

Among those who piloted "ships" in service were:

Capt. Lamb also gave some very instructive lectures on aerial photography. Communication work so admirably performed by CAP operators was under the especial supervision of Capt. Warren A. Hamilton and 1st Lt. Winfield A. Ramsdell, both of Portland.

These aviators did a grand bit of work. In field maneuvers, they carried messages, took observation flights and made reports on movement of the "enemy". In addition to this, on road marches, they flew ahead of the columns and made reports as to the situation on the highways and in the general area through which the troops might be advancing. Training of this nature was invaluable both for the members of the CAP and for the State Guard.

But CAP members performed a still further duty. On a trip to Fort Devens over the road a provisional battalion was formed from the companies of the 1st Battalion, Maine State Guard, with a total of over one hundred officers and men. Radio operators with their instruments marched or rode at the head and rear of the column. As a result of this assignment of duty and the excellent way in which the CAP operators performed, the march by motor vehicle was admirably executed and won the unstinted praise of specially assigned observers from the Headquarters, First Service Command at Boston. Another unit, a provisional battalion made up from the 2d Battalion, MSG, did similar duty but they had their own radio operators.

That the Maine State Guard was able to receive such excellent cooperation from the CAP was due in great measure to the wholehearted support given by Col. Guy P. Gannett, commanding officer of the Maine Wing, and Major Henry S. Beverage, executive officer.

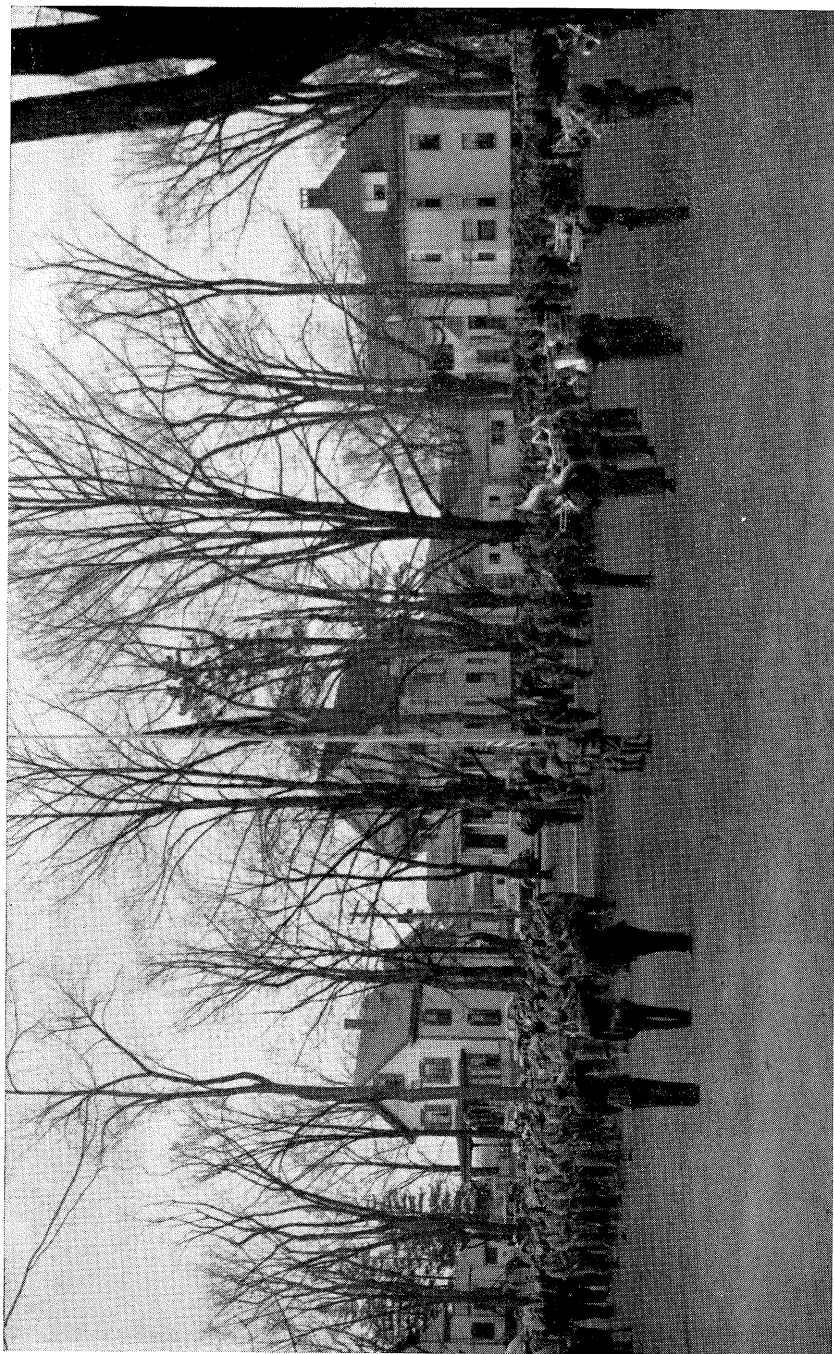

BATTERY OF PACK ARTILLERY

Unique among the organizations of the Maine State Guard Reserve was the 1st Battery, Pack Artillery, located at Damariscotta. Pack artillery usually has mules or horses for the transportation of the field pieces. In this case, however, auto trucks were employed.

The 1st Battery, Pack Artillery, was the especial pet of Major George B. Farnsworth, prominent physician of Damariscotta. He had served in World War I and was very desirous of doing all he could to help in the defense of the State.

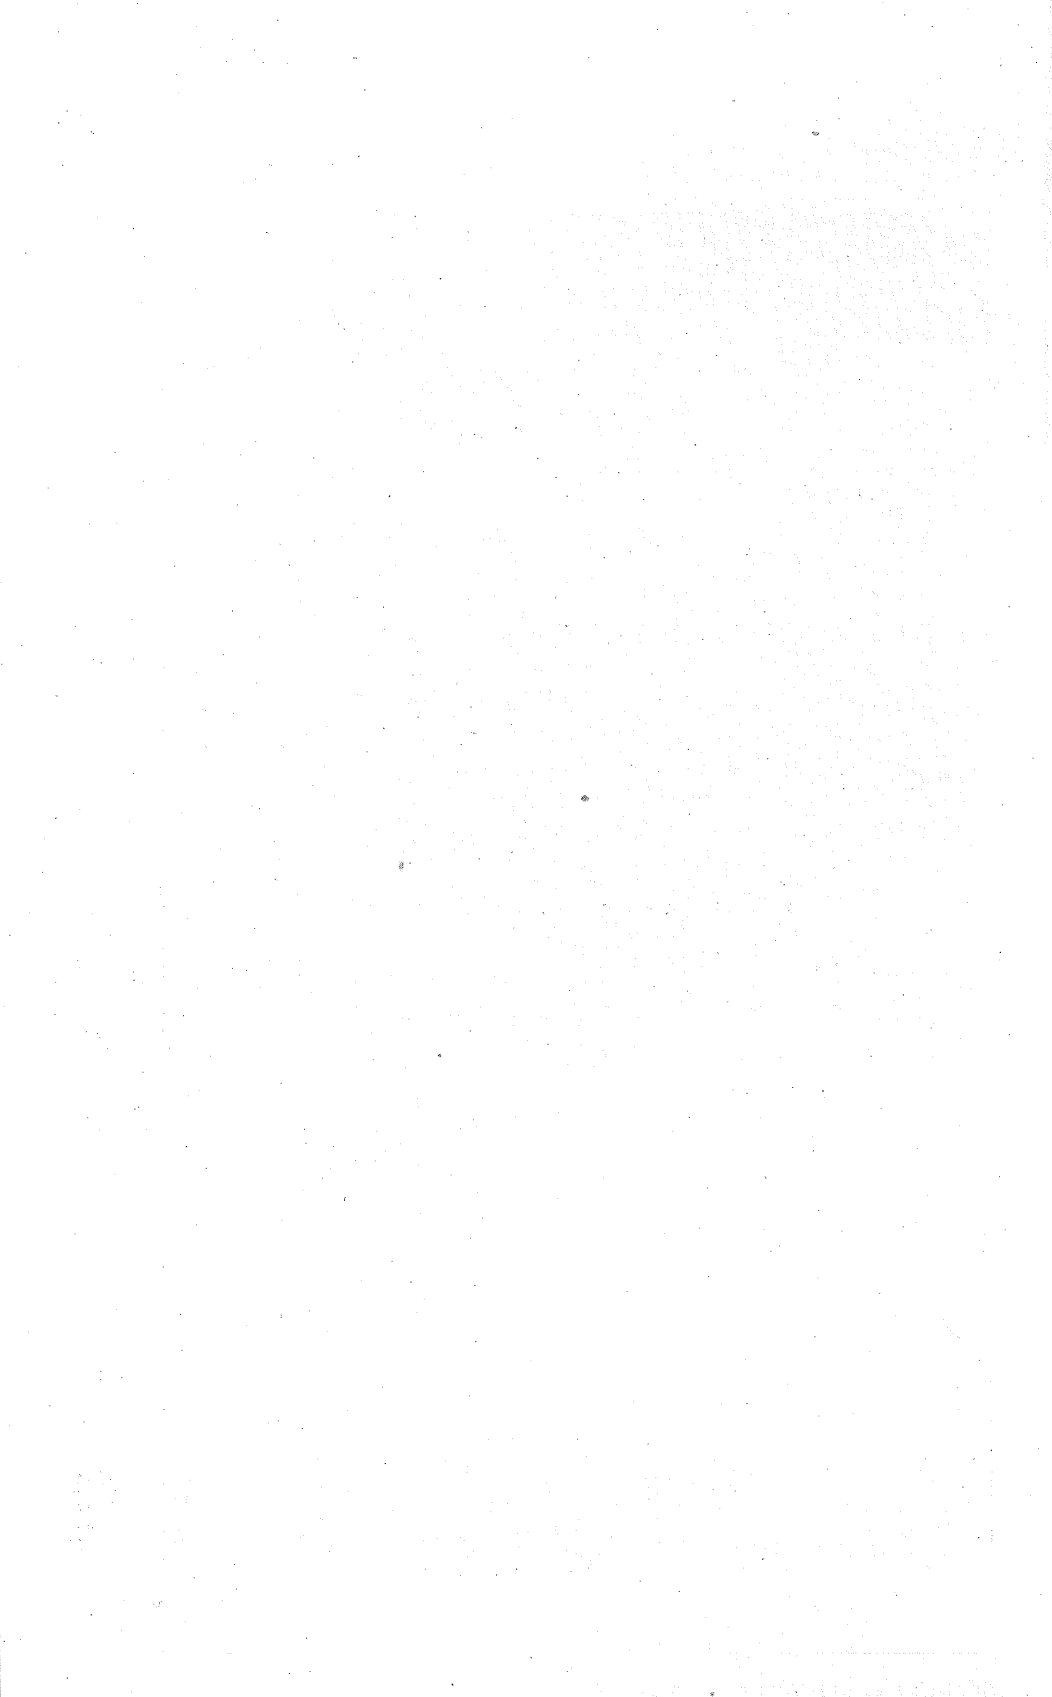

While there was not the response on the part of the townspeople that Major Farnsworth had hoped would manifest itself, he energetically went to work and with the aid of a few friends organized his battery. The majority of the enlisted personnel was made up of students at Lincoln Academy.

Major Farnsworth secured funds for completely equipping this unit. Among the ordnance purchased were two 2-pounder cannons on carriages and two 45/70 short barrel Gatling guns on tripods. These were obsolete pieces of ordnance, but they were in fine condition and could have done effective work had it been necessary. But far from obsolete were the rifles, shot guns and revolvers purchased. These were in most cases modern Remingtons, and Winchester and Savage pieces. An abundant supply of ammunition for field pieces and small arms was also purchased as well as uniforms, mess equipment and other articles. The expenditure involved more than $8,000.

1st Battery, Pack Artillery, was accepted as a State Guard Reserve organization on 30 March 1943. It continued until 24 July 1944 when because of farm duties that demanded the attention of many of the boys and a general lack of interest, the unit was disbanded. It attained a strength of over 25 men with three officers. The battery participated in maneuvers and also did a fine bit of work in fighting a forest fire at Lincolnville.

After the unit had been mustered out of service, all the equipment was presented to the State.
