The University of Maine, Portland-Gorham
Portland Campus
1971-1972
final edition
What is a campus community? The University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, like any university, is a lot of things. Campus life here is at a minimum, but that seems to be a necessary sacrifice on a commuter based campus. Meeting people and learning names is a formality we seldom have time for. In our daily routines we do meet faces, faces of feeling and thought. On the next few pages are a few of the faces and feelings we have been able to capture this year. It is our hope that in these faces you will find something you have known; an up time or a downer, a rough time or an easy ride; something that will remind you of your days and nights at UMPG.
There is feeling on this campus; a campus has as many feelings as there are types of students. Once in a while there is the inevitable conflict, but conflict is necessary for change and changes are what life is all about. UMPG, a merged university system, is undergoing many changes and conflicts. Each member of the community has to make the adjustment. The future direction and success of the system requires everyone's concern and an ability to guide and be guided through the pragmatic process of trial and error.
The success of the University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, as the southern Maine institution of higher learning is emerging. Let us not congratulate ourselves too soon, we still have much to learn and many conflicts to resolve, and it is for time, and faces, to decide whether the changes have been beneficial.
The UMPG Business Club has consistently been an active group on this campus. From supplying basketball game programs to sponsoring field trips and speakers, the members have obtained satisfaction from both their projects and social gatherings. Disagreements may have risen, but a commitment to the group has seen the club through changes both internal and those of a general social nature. The graduating members can always feel that they have in some way tried to present their views and priorities to the university community.

THE KEG PARTY
The lack of snow didn't stop PoGo students from having a great Winter weekend. Jamie Brockett began the weekend on perhaps its highest note — with friendly rap, and effortless music. Saturday the hockey game was cancelled due to bad ice, but the Deering Oaks skaters found the ice rather nice. Greasers gathered at Portland's gym for a trip back to the 50's courtesy of Smokey Joe. Sunday's concert found spirits dampened by a deluge which soaked the crowd before it had a chance to take cover. That and a 1 1/2 hour delay in the concert made for an unruly crowd. Geils was short and strong, keeping the crowd on its feet during his concert. All in all, there was no lack except for snow.

REMEMBER?
IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT "RUSTY" VENNELL
1948-1971

He served as Chancellor of Tau Epsilon Phi for two years. Rusty was the person who brought me into the fraternity and served as my "Big Brother". After joining TEP, Rusty and I enjoyed a close personal relationship, a friendship that I have shared with few others. He enjoyed life, not letting his studies get in the way of having a good time. He was dedicated to helping others and I was not the sole beneficiary. It need not even be said of him that his deeds will live after him. The future achievements of many will be attributed to Rusty's influence. My Brother, friend, and fellow Psychology student is now dead after a critical operation during intercession. What better tribute to him than to remember forever that which he stood for in life. His brothers, his family, and his many friends will miss him dearly. May they only achieve in their lives the understanding, love and laughter which he did in his.

Season Results

In its first and last season, the UMPG hockey club team ended with a very respectable record. Disregarding two scrimmages with the Portland Merchants, a semi-pro team, the Pogoans finished with a 3 win, 4 losses, and 1 tie record. Wins were against Orono 8-6, North Yarmouth Academy 3-0, St. Francis College 5-3, and the losses were to New Hampshire Vocational College, 6-3, and 7-1; Bridgton Academy 7-0 and Thomas College 7-1. The line tie was against Thomas College 7-7.

This year Harold Lawrence retired after many years of service at the University of Maine. His record is outstanding. He served as Registrar, Bursar, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, and Department Head and Instructor in Accounting for Portland Junior College and the University of Maine in Portland until 1963. He served as Registrar and Bursar for UMP until 1967, and as Bursar to 1970. After the merger, he served as Business Manager for the University of Maine, Portland-Gorham, until this Spring. He will be greatly missed and remembered by those who have worked and studied with him. On behalf of the campus community, we wish him health and happiness in his retirement.
This year many outstanding student leaders will graduate. These students have built the foundation necessary for successful student participation in University affairs. This is not to say that the rest of the class has not participated, but the few faces we've singled out here are some of the exceptional ones. I'm sure the entire community extends their thanks and best wishes for their dedication and a job well done, we do. These are the faces of leaders:
