DEAR NORTHERN LAMBDA NORD

This is a short thank you letter. It should be longer - there's a lot to say thanks for!

NLN is the first organization I've ever joined officially and I'm glad. I enjoy the Communiqué newsletter and love your library.

Thank you also for the chance to meet people to talk to, and dance with who don't expect anything except that you be yourself. For the first time in my life I've been accepted as just another human instead of "the odd one" in the group.

So, at 41 (yes, that's my age), I finally discovered where home is. Even if I can't get up there very often, "New Sweden" will always represent home. A lot of the welcome feeling is because of you.

I've met a lot of people there (too many to name) that I'd like to thank as well - for friendliness, tolerance, and respect (rare in our society). So, I'd like you to put this in the newsletter if you have space.

Thanks and love, Jude Vivers, of Houlton).

LETTER FROM THE WEST

Having lived in Fort Kent for the past ten years and now returning to San Francisco for a year's sabbatical, I've noticed how life in Ess Eff has radically changed, but in some ways remains the same. The panhandlers in Bezerkley now ask for a "spare twenty", but that's inflation for you.

More seriously, I see the most extreme changes in the gay community. With AIDS comes a public reaction, often of a political nature. The closing of the bathhouses is a perfect example. It appears that all the tubs were (and are) closed, not so much for health reasons, but rather because of a political trade-off. The City said, "Look, the Democratic Convention is coming to town. If you guys close the baths, we'll make sizeable sums of money available for AIDS research." We did and they did.

Like in Maine, politics and the gay/lesbian movement are closely related and make strange bedfellows. At UC Berkeley, for example, there is a Multicultural Gay and Lesbian Alliance receiving generous student senate funds. They employ several people and have a membership of 300, with monthly meetings and a dance each semester. They also sponsor university-credit courses and work hand-in-hand with the Berkeley Free Clinic. Ironically, the University's Board of Regents is arch-conservative, having been primarily appointed by ex-governor Ronald Reagan.

But the tragic, unifying element to many of these activities is obvious: AIDS. Our grief is deepened every Wednesday when the Bay Area Reporter is published. They now include an obituary column that reads like casualty lists during a war. This week, seven deaths were reported. Whenever possible, it includes a picture, often of young, strapping men: George Manierre, 37; Joe Robertson, 44; Lee Schroyer, 37; Kerry Caldwell, 27. A surprising gesture of sympathy was expressed to the gay community by the Catholic Church. Last week, the Archbishop of San Francisco celebrated a rite which goes back to the Middle Ages, during the time of the plague: a mass of blessing for those afflicted by an epidemic. Preceding the blessing, the Archbishop said some sensitive words of comfort.

But the eternal glories of the City by the Bay remain! cala lilies and lemon trees, bridges and sailboats, ethnic neighborhoods and Victorian houses. These are the happy images that brighten our night-thoughts. /s/ Walter

SYMPOSIUM XIII REPORT by Dick

I met with two members of the Office of Conferences and Special Programs at the University of Maine/Presque Isle (UMPI) Wednesday, September 25. They wanted to talk about Northern Lambda Nord's plans to use the UMPI campus for the Maine Lesbian and Gaymen's Symposium XIII over next May's Memorial Day weekend. All I could think of was that they wanted to tell us that NLN couldn't use the facilities. But, oh how I was pleasantly surprised! Both Dr. James and Bob Whitcomb (the latter is in charge of the Conferences Office, the former his boss), both men were very helpful and wanted to do anything they could to make Symposium XIII a success. Dr. James had been in touch with the Portland and Orono campuses to find out what this Symposium was all about. He said that, despite some reservations by some people at UMPI, he felt that we had requested use of the campus and we were to be treated as any other group holding a conference there. The UMPI mandate includes serving the community, and we are part of that community.

So, planning meetings will continue as scheduled (the first Sunday of October, November, and December, so far). Committees are established and the chairs need help doing the organizing. Planning meetings are open to the general membership, so feel free to attend. The following is a list of committees and chairs, so you can think about what you'd like to work on. (All Lambs are expected to help with some aspect of the Symposium).

AIDS

AIDS REPORTED IN NEW BRUNSWICK

New Brunswick has reported its first case of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, or AIDS. According to a CBC Radio report September 27, the "official" case is a resident of "Region 3" - that part of Victoria, Carleton, and York Counties from Perth-Andover to Fredericton - the region served by NLN.

The CBC reporter visited the bar in Fredericton, Dance Trax, and interviewed patrons there. Janice Jackson of the CBC noted that it was a "typical club". There was an atmosphere of "friendliness. It wasn't a sleazy bar like many straight bars." She noted that there was not much body contact; people held hands, danced, talked. Most of the people she spoke with reported that they had stable relationships, which was contrary to what most people think about gay people. One person remarked, "Sex is not a recreational thing with gays, at least not in Fredericton." Some people expressed fear of AIDS and even said they were becoming celibate. The majority, however, were being cautious, but did not see a drastic change in their lifestyles.

USE OF 'POPPERS' LINKED TO AIDS

The inhalation of isobutyl nitrite, or "poppers" has been shown to further impair the body's ability to fight off infectious disease in individuals. Sold as a "room odorizer", it is widely used among gays as a "recreational drug".

Researchers at the National Jewish Center for Immunology and Respiratory Medicine have found evidence confirming the long-held suspicion that use of poppers increases the risks associated with AIDS. Specific immune-system damage was linked with the use of isobutyl nitrite. "We believe our findings establish that inhaling isobutyl nitrite should be considered dangerous to homosexuals and others at high risk for developing AIDS," noted a spokesperson for the National Jewish Center.

The Metro Area Committee on AIDS in Halifax, MacAIDS, will sponsor a day-long workshop for health and social service professionals Saturday, October 26 at the Technical University of Nova Scotia. The eight-hour programme will include sessions on disease description and transmission, hospitalization and the return of people with AIDS to the community after treatment, sexual counselling for people with AIDS, their partners, and other members of high-risk groups, and a panel discussion on legal and social needs and problems. A registration fee has been set at $10. The event has been timed to coincide with a national conference of the Canadian Public Health Association. For more information, contact MacAIDS, POB 1013, Station M, Halifax, B3J 2X1, or call 902/429-2808.

—AIDS SUMMIT TO BE HELD IN AUGUSTA

The Maine Lesbian/Gay Political Alliance is sponsoring an "AIDS Summit" Sunday, October 20 in Jewett Hall Auditorium, University of Maine/Augusta. The day-long meeting is billed as "a comprehensive discussion on AIDS and our future." The meeting is geared to "make plans for educating both the public and gays, and for participating in government activities. And, we must protect the civil rights of gays and persons with AIDS."

Two sessions are planned. From 11am-2pm, the meeting is restricted to gaymen and lesbians. At 2pm, representatives of human rights organizations, service agencies, and health providers are invited to join the discussion. "The spread of AIDS and its equally devastating backlash require our immediate attention." Participation by as many people as possible is requested.

MAINE PUBLIC RADIO & TV REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT AROOSTOOK

This year, for the first time, Maine Public Broadcasting Network's fall "reception tours" to meet their Canadian listeners and viewers will include a visit to The County. Barbara Beers, Bernie Roscetti, Mary Lou Colbath (MPBN TV) and Les Myers and Charles Beck (MPBN Radio) will be joined by MPBN's General Manager Ed Winchester. They will be at the Kelly Commons on the University of Maine/Presque Isle campus. This is an important opportunity to make comments and ask questions.

MPBN has a history of homophobia: (1) refusing to air the play, "Men With the Pink Triangle", a WGBH/Boston production, claiming that the "quality was not up to par". The play is the story of a gayman's experiences in a Nazi concentration camp; (2) equating gays and the Ku Klux Klan, when Mary Lou Colbath refused to accept a donation of OUR PAPER on membership drive night, saying that "the next thing you know, the Ellsworth Klan will want to give away THEIR paper!"; (3) according to a conversation with Tom Post of the National Gay News Radio Network (NGN Radio), MPBN's Les Myers did not want to subscribe to NGN (numerous public radio stations do) because people in Maine are not interested in what happens outside of Maine.(!)

MPBN staff needs to be questioned in person about their blatantly homophobic attitudes. Your attendance at UMPI Thursday, October 10, 7:30pm, is urged. They'll be serving coffee, tea, and cookies!

The workshop is listed as running for two consecutive Wednesdays in October, and it is free. The instructors are Michelle Bittrich, AMHC Community Support Worker, and Mary Ellen Sartoris. When inquiring about the location of the workshop (that item was not included in the calendar), this editor was informed that the workshop had been cancelled and would be re-scheduled for another time, perhaps late October or November. LESBIANS IN COURT - A LEGAL UPDATE

Two cases involving lesbians in Maine are included in the Maine Civil Liberties Union's list of their 1985 Legal Docket.

SOLMITZ v. MSAD #59 - High School teacher David Solmitz organized a "Tolerance Day" program for students consisting of a panel of persons from diverse ethnic, social, and religious backgrounds. The purpose of the panel was to promote tolerance for all persons regardless of their background. A lesbian, Dale McCormick, was to be one member of the panel. Reacting to calls by a group of angry parents, the local school board cancelled the panel due to the inclusion of the lesbian speaker. The MCLU took the case through its cooperating attorney Jed Davis to defend important First Amendment principles. In a recent decision, the Maine Supreme Court upheld the action of the school board, citing the possibility of violence if the panel was allowed to take place and also affirming the board's control of school curriculum. The MCLU Legal Panel has decided not to appeal the decision to the US Supreme Court.

MATTHEWS v. MARSH - Diane Matthews was dismissed from the ROTC program at the University of Maine at Orono because she told her commanding officer that she is a lesbian. US Magistrate Brock Hornby ruled that the Army's policy violated Matthews' free speech right and ordered that she be reinstated. During the Army's appeal to the First Circuit, it sought to introduce new evidence relating to alleged homosexual activity by Matthews. The First Circuit then remanded the case to the Magistrate for rehearing in light of the new evidence. Discovery on the case is to be completed by January 1986 and Matthews must exhaust her administrative remedies in Washington. Attorney Michael Asen says a new trial will take place sometime next year.

Chen Pao-Chung, a fait a savoir à l'AFP que l'absence de femelle pourrait avoir incité les trois girafes, de cinq à dix ans, à adopter des comportements homosexuels. Le zoo va acquérir dix girafes femelles au début de l'année prochaine, a précisé M. Chen. (Journal du Québec)
- THREE HOMOSEXUAL GIRAFFES - Since the death of the only female giraffe in the Taipei, Taiwan zoo four years ago, three of the males, suffering from solitude, have become homosexuals. Mr. Chen Pao-Chung, the zoo's director, announced to the AFP news service that the lack of females might have caused the three giraffes, between five and ten years old, to take on homosexual behavior. Mr. Chen explained that the zoo will acquire ten female giraffes at the beginning of next year. (Journal du Québec)
- ARE YOU OVER 55? - Research in our community has indicated a preference by lesbians and gaymen for retirement housing and long-term care facilities which are homosexually-oriented. A survey nationwide is now being conducted to elicit more detailed and accurate information concerning interests. Gaymen and lesbians who will be at least 55 years old by the end of the current calendar year are needed to complete an anonymous, self-administered questionnaire which asks for demographic data as well as opinions in regard to retirement housing options and preferences. Results will be compiled and made available to gay and lesbian organizations interested in developing retirement facilities for older lesbians and gaymen. Dr. A.J.Lucco, Fellow in Geriatric Medicine, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is conducting the survey. If you qualify and are willing to participate, please contact: A.J.Lucco, M.D., The Beacham Center, 5200 Eastern Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21224.
